Ice Fishing Report
Generally, the ice cover of many central Ohio lakes is More than a Savings and Loan — a part of your life

PARK FEDERAL

unsafe. A few areas report fair ice conditions with ice thickness from 2 to 4 inches. Those areas include: Indian Lake - 4 inches of ice and safe in spots with the channel areas being much safer than the lake proper. Kiser Lake with 4 to 6 inches of ice still has areas of open water due to spring seepage and Buckeye Lake with 2 to 4 inches of ice is unsafe in many areas.

Anglers are advised to be extremely cautious when venturing onto ice.

Waxworms, Mosies and minnows fished on the bottom have resulted in some good catches of Bluegills, Crappies and an occasional Channel Catfish in the Long Pond and channel areas of Indian Lake. According to Steve Jacks, State Game Protector residing in Logan County, ice fishermen are getting good results throughout all periods of the day, with good fishing expected throughout the coming week.

Paul Reuter, Champaign

County Game Protector, reports that midday fishing with waxworms, mosies and jigs has resulted in some fair catches of bluegill, whitt crappie and occasional walleye at Kiser Lake. Fish are being taken throughout the lake with baits fished on the bottom.

Buckeye Lake has produced some good catches of bluegills on mosies and waxworms fished in about 3 feet of water throughout the east end of the lake. Bill Boltrus, Licking County Game protector, expects good fishing throughout the coming week on Buckeye Lake if the ice cover holds out.

Poison Ivy In The Snow

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources Division of Wildlife reports habitat for rabbits often contains poisonous plants.

Even in winter, with constant contact of such plants, the rabbits may become contaminated with the plant's toxic materials which can be transmitted to other animals including man.

Poison ivy is quite common in the winter to the avid sportsman who is allergic to it. Treat it as you would any other time of the year or as your doctor prescribes.

Poison ivy seeds are also one of the preferred quail foods. If the crop is ruptured while dressing the bird you may come in contact with some of the seeds and pick up their toxic substance. This does not affect the bird. The meat of rabbits or birds will in no way be affected by the animal's contact with these plants or their seeds, however, clothing worn in the field and the animals fur may carry toxic residue until laundered.

Whitehall Seeks Loop Tie; Races Are Tightening

By SANDY SCHWARTZ

WITH Mt. Vernon and Whitehall clashing in the Ohio Capital Conference bright light mainliner Friday night, Eastmoor and Mohawk will have to clear a couple of hurdles to make their Saturday night encounter the City League's big house tapper.

The "others" meanwhile, straggle along the way, stalling, sputtering, choking or whatever you want to call it. But their chance comes this weekend, the chance to be the spoiler.

Mt. Vernon, now 7-1, tries to avenge its only OCC loss at Whitehall this weekend while the Rams, 7-3, may be on the eve of their only hope at the OCC title.

THE FEATURE again, Whitehall's Terry Burris and Mt. Vernon's Ted Williams, the premier big men of the OCC. While Whitehall tuned marvelously at Delaware with Burris tossing in 21 to lead the win last week, Mt. Vernon had to settle for a quick practice as the Yellow Jackets were grounded because of icy road conditions, Worthington the scheduled foe.

That Saturday battle of City League powers Mohawk and Eastmoor could be a battle of first place occupants, second place dwellers or a combination of both. Eastmoor faces frisky Brookhaven on Friday while Mohawk tries to be successful in Tigerland, in the East High gym Friday.

Northland, meanwhile, the other first placer in the CL, travels to Walnut Ridge in test if the Scotts are for real, that's not for real in the traditional Walnut Ridge victory banner, but the other way around.

And that brings us into the "others". Pre-season contenders Walnut Ridge and East are now prancing around in untraditional style, both below .500 basketball. But both could be instrumental with big wins basketball week.

And Ready, two time defending state champion in the AA class, took a tough one on the chin, 64-60 to Walterson, last week. Asked what is causing the Silver Knights to stall in the big OCL dogfight, Coach Bob Jackson replies.

"We're really a lot younger and inexperienced than most people think. We've got nine juniors, and I guess that we're just learning."

HARTLEY, a game back of the Eagles in the OCL, kept on winning with Ron White handing out a new school record 14 assists. The Hawkeyes wait to corner Waterson in that OCL return match, two weeks away but this time at Hartley.

Bexley, currently in a jam-up tie with Urbana in the Mid-Eight League, tripped London 83-50 with Mark Liefeld leading the scoring charge. The Bexleyites of Gene Millard now must stand tall at Groveport Friday in hope of hanging on to the Mid-Eight lead.

Franklin Heights hasn't found the winning key yet either, a 71-64 loser against Dublin last week, but the Falcons do sport a standout in Larry Ferst.

Ferst, the agile 6-1 Mr. everything of the Franklin Heights quintet, has been averaging at a 20 ppg. clip thus far.

IN OTHER action last week: Ron Williams scored 15 in a 84-56 West loss to Linden McKinley; Tim Kaufman canned a 12 foot jumper at the buzzer and Brian Stetzer singled the nets for 29 as Eastmoor edged Marion Franklin 69-67 in overtime; Terry Jameson's 18 points was the only bright spot for East as the Tigers dropped their sixth straight, this time to Brookhaven; Mohawk annihilated Walnut Ridge 61-70, all in the City League.

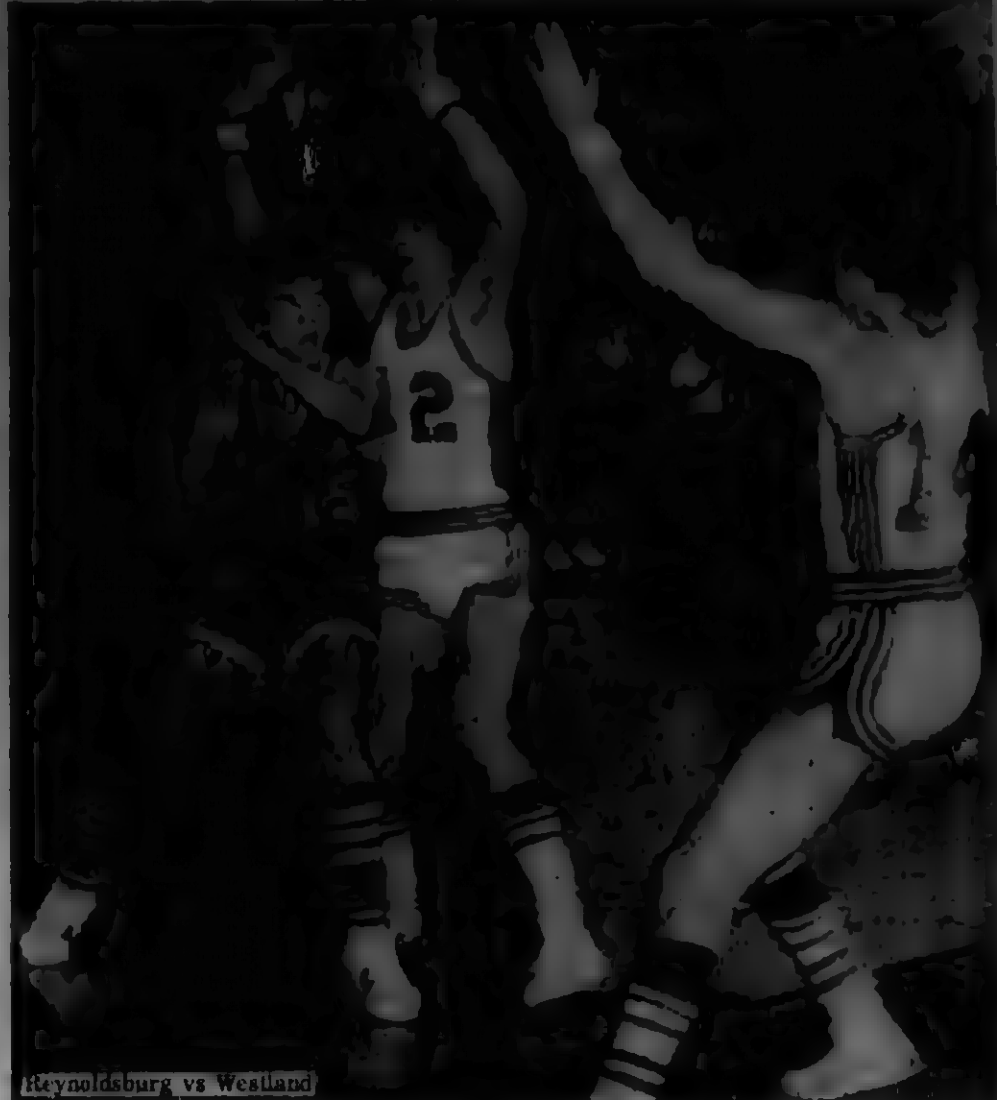

Other CCL action: Freshman Marquis Miller was super in canning 20 and cleaning the 'backboard 17 times to lead St. Charles over Wehrle.

OCC Highlights: Gregg Spellman tripped the chords for 27 to head the Westland bumping of Reynoldsburg, Mark Wade totaled 21 for the losers; Westerville looked tough as Ed Calo and Steve Myers teamed to dump Gelsman 65-34.

SHORTS—Reynoldsburg's easy Ed Williams is leading the Raider scoring attack with an even 20 ppg. average...Don Brough leads the Worthington parade with a 14.9 clip.

FRIDAY

City League: Brookhaven at Eastmoor, Marion Franklin at North, Central at West, Linden at Whetstone, Northland at Walnut Ridge, Mohawk at East and Milfin

REYNOLDSBURG'S Marc Wade (15) looked for someone to pass off too but found all lanes closed as Westland's Greg Vic Lantz (12) and Greg Stiermont (14) closed in on him. (Reynoldsburg-Westland photos by Ed Keitman.)

SATURDAY

City League: Eastmoor at Mohawk, Whetstone at Central, South at Linden and Walnut Ridge at Milfin. Area non-league: Akron South at East, Groveport at Hartley and Reynoldsburg at Urbana.

Prairie Township Increases Police Protection

New Same-At the reorganizational meeting of the Prairie Township Trustees in January Jack Hunter was elected chairman and Roger W. Schellhaas was elected vice-chairman. The meeting will remain the second Wednesday of each month at 6725 Alkire Rd. at 7:30 p.m.

Dec. 18 the trustees met with a representative of the sheriff's office to discuss scheduling additional hours of police protection made possible by the passage of the police levy. The contract went into effect Jan. 1 and a total of 112 hours are scheduled. Sheriff's Deputy Steve Lutz introduced himself as the new officer who will be serving the township in addition to Glen Goldsberry.

The board appointed Paul A. Ellett to the Fire Indemnity Board. Other members are Lenny Critchfield, fireman; Tom Barber, fireman; and Floyd Armstrong, citizen. Deputy Goldsberry reported that in December there had been 397 house checks, nine felony arrests, six intoxication arrests, nine accident citations and 4,292 miles driven in the township, as well as other miscellaneous duties.

Deputy Lutz reported the radar gun is again in use.

Agronomy Institute Planned

Central Ohio farmers are invited to attend an Agronomy Institute Wednesday, January 23, at the Rhodes Center - Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Farmers will have an opportunity to choose from eight different topics during the 10am to 3 pm program.

Tom McNutt, County Extension Agent Agriculture, indicated that each topic will be offered twice and each one hour session will include a 15 minute question and answer period.

Teachers for the Institute are Ohio State University Cooperative Extension Service Specialists. Program topics include: Forage Management for Quality and Yield - Don Myers, Corn Hybrids & Production Practices - Dr. Shepherd, Hot

New Herbicides for Corn & Soy - Dr. Strube, Beating the Squeeze on Fertilizer - Dr. Folett, Tillage Systems that Make Money - Sam Bone, High Profit Soybeans Production - Dr. Ryder, No-till Can Mean Big $$$ - Dr. Triplett and Forage Establishment - Don Myers. McNutt said the Specialists will be available for private consultation when not teaching.

Blackliek Woods: The ancient Japanese art of bonsai-the drastic pruning of roots and branches and the wiring of new growth to aesthetically create miniature trees-is the subject of a program to be held the evenings of January 24 and 25 at Beech-Maple Lodge. Art Patznick, Superintendent of Daves Arboretum at Newark, will conduct the workshop.

Licking Heights Will Sponsor Wrestling Meet

Licking Heights High School will host its Third Annual Wrestling Invitational January 18-19.

Seventeen A and AA teams from the greater central Ohio area will compete in what has become one of the finer invitational tournaments in the state.

All thirteen teams from the 1973 tournament are returning and the expanded cast includes newcomers Granville, Teays Valley, Academy, and Mansfield St. Peter.

Columbus Watterson is the defending champion by virtue of its one point win over Bexley in last years thrilling finish.

In addition to the host Hornets, others returning to compete in the two-day event are Watkins Memorial, Utica, Hamilton Twp., Jonathan Alder, Mifflin, Wehr Beckeye Valley, Ready, Circleville, and Marysville.

Wrestling will begin at 5 p.m. Friday January 18. With action on four mats, 156 matches will be held during Friday night's first session.

The second session will begin Saturday at noon with an additional 78 matches. The third and final session will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday, as the top six wrestlers in each weight class compete in the final 30 matches.

Headlining the returning individuals will be Bill Lewis, the 175 lb. State Champion from Licking Heights and Rocky Wing, Bexley's outstanding 98 pounder chosen as outstanding wrestler in the 1973 invitational.

The price of admission will be $1 for each session.

ENERGY SAVER

A clogged or partly clogged clothes dryer vent consumes needless energy.

Swim Meet Scheduled

THE YWCA Adult Synchronized Swimming Class is sponsoring an Adult Synchronized Invitational Meet, Sunday, January 20 at 2 p.m. at the YWCA, 65 S. 4th Street.

Competition will be in figure (stunt) presentation only. The Columbus Coraline Clubcoaches and competitors will judge according to nationally set standards.

Each competitor will choose any four figures to perform. Scores will be based solely on performance of figures not difficulty.

Competitors are invited to perform solos, duets, or teams in routines for exhibition only!

Teachers and/or coaches may call the YWCA for more information.

Ellis To Recommend PR Director

Columbus-Superintendent Dr. John Ellis announced Monday that he will recommend the appointment of Mrs. Beverly Gifford as director of public information for the Columbus Public Schools at the next meeting of the Columbus Board of Education, to be held Jan. 22.

The position has been vacant since Nov. 2, when Joseph A. Ashley resigned to accept an appointment with the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction.

Mrs. Gifford has been a staff writer for "Ohio Schools" magazine, the twice-monthly journal of the Ohio Education Association, since September, 1968. She originally joined the OEA staff in September, 1966, and worked in Chagrin Falls and Parma before moving to Columbus. Her previous experience includes jobs at WPVL-Radio in Painesville and WSPD-Radio in Toledo.

In addition to writing about education, Mrs. Gifford's OEA assignment has involved public relations work, photography, production of special publications and assistance in communications workshops.

Mrs. Gifford has authored articles for "American Education" magazine and "School Management" magazine. Her work has won the All-America Awards and Distinguished Achievement Awards of the Educational Press Association of America for 1970, 1971 and 1972.

Mrs. Gifford is an alumna of Beaver College, Glenside, Pa., where she was president of the student government association, editor of the college literary magazine and on the staff of the student newspaper. She has done graduate work in public relations at Ohio State University's Graduate School of Journalism.

Mrs. Gifford has assisted in several school levy and bond issue campaigns in Worthington where she resides with her four children.

Ellis said, "We are delighted to attract the services of such an experienced and highly qualified professional communicator as Mrs. Gifford. Her appointment will carry with it cabinet status, for she will be performing some of the most important functions at the Education Center."

Ellis said he was pleased that the vacancy drew applications from 29 candidates, "many of whom had outstanding credentials."

Mrs. Gifford will be placed at the $21,977 step on the directors' salary schedule, Ellis reported. She said she will begin her assignment Feb. 11.

Lincoln Village News

By MARY E. GRAHAM 678-3386

The Rev. James K. Wagner, pastor of Columbia Heights United Methodist Church, was a delegate to the North American Congress on Evangelism held in Dallas, Texas, this past week. It was the first time in the history of the Methodist churches that the six Methodist denominations, which stem from founder, John Wesley, joined efforts to plan and share their mission objectives.

The Westland Senior Citizens group will meet Tuesday, Jan. 23, at Columbia Heights United Methodist Church on Sturbridge Road from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. All area senior citizens are invited to attend and should bring a sack lunch.

Girls of the Crazy Clovers 4-H Club met Jan. 8 at the home of advisor, Mrs. Joy Hooper of Carilla Lane. Nineteen members attended.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Becky Mindigo; vice president, Teresa Nelson; secretary, Cheryl Nelson; treasurer, Beverly Bethge; news reporter, Jamie Kimmel; health and safety chairperson; Amy Stamper; recreation leader; Vicki Sneyry; and song leader, Cathy Boggs.

These officers met on the 15th to plan the year's program.

Members of the club helped to serve at the Lincoln Village Women's Club spaghetti supper this past Saturday. Their next business meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 22, at the Hooper residence when they will choose projects for the coming year.

Prairie Branch Library located in the Lincoln Plaza Shopping Center will begin Story Hour sessions Friday, Jan. 25, at 9:30 a.m. for four- and five-year-olds and at 10:30 a.m. for three-year-olds. Registration is open now. The Thursday afternoon movies for school age children at 3:30 p.m. will also continue.

More veterans have attended college under the Vietnam GI Bill than under any other GI Bill in the nation's history.

Of the 2,258,168 veterans who have enrolled in colleges under the Vietnam GI Bill, 91,312 are servicemen on active duty.

Westgate Roundup

A parade at Westgate? Sure enough, a parade of gymnasts that is. Tammy Holocher and Sue Ingram led the Westgate gymnasts as they marched forward to demonstrate their acquired skills. Members of the junior and senior teams performed individually selected routines in the area which "Turned Them On."

Debbie Brown, Sue Ingram, Lynne Newman, Jeanna Nickoloff and Rebecca Stiffen bounced their way into trampoline routines. Confidence was demonstrated when Sheila Burke, Sue Colopy, Sue Ingram and Kathy Krick performed with the four-inch beam under their command.

Swinging smoothly along in their routines were Doreen Burke, Rosanna Nickoloff and Brenda Pence on the uneven parallel bars. In the area of free exercise Terri Garrard, Becky Reed, Shelly Rhodes and Michelle Wood dashed out lively routines.

Why not have the best in the West? That's exactly what Westgate Recreation Center has been generating through the medium of gymnastics. Westgate has been "Coming On Strong" to meet the needs of the many interested individuals in the field of gymnastics.

By providing quality instruction and an enthusiastic program, many youngsters as well as adults have been able to identify with this increasingly popular sport. It is challenging, fun, daring, competitive and at the same time an aesthetic art and skill.

The activity is geared to benefit all interested persons (male or female - child or adult).

New classes are in the process of being formed. Registration may be completed by visiting the center at 455 S. Westgate Ave., or by calling the Center (274-1915) after 2 p.m.

Anyone interested is encouraged to sign-up, and find out "What It's All About."

Beginning teen classes are available Monday and Friday evenings for anyone with the desire to experience something new, exciting and fun.

Free Adult Sewing classes are on Tuesdays, 1 to 3 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Sewing instruction includes tailoring.

If you have received a new sewing machine, Westgate is the place to learn how to get the most from sewing with it.

Winter is a good time to do needlework. Those wishing to learn a new skill such as needlepoint, crochet or knitting, contact Carolyn Frye at Westgate Center, 274-1915 or stop in at 45 S. Westgate.

Do You Look Too Old To Land the Job You Want?

You wonder. Now that the children are old enough, you'd like the stimulation of a job. But you worry about all those young secretaries, salesgirls and junior executives. You're afraid you'll look too old, by comparison, to get interesting work.

If your complexion is dry, that dryness accents aging lines and wrinkles. So you may well look older than you need to. Looking your youngest would help your self-confidence and probably improve your job chances.

Discover the lovely benefits of a world-renowned blend, developed by beauty researchers to help women look their youngest. This remarkable fluid, known in the United States as Oil of Olay beauty lotion, helps skin look softer and more supple from the very first days you use it. Helps retain nature's moisture too.

Quick-penetrating, non-greasy Oil of Olay has a wealth of natural moisture, tropical oils and other emollients. The blend works to help maintain the oil-moisture balance needed for you to look your best.

Oil of Olay, twice a day. Why don't you and Oil of Olay go to work together?

HCC Celebrated 30th With Community Leaders

By LOIS NEFT
HCC Secretary

West Columbus—Presidents and representatives from five area organizations joined President Homer Burke Jr. at the first Hilltop Community Council (HCC) meeting of 1974. They reviewed the past accomplishments of their organizations for the Hilltop and looked toward the future on the occasion of the Community Council's 30th anniversary.

Joe Goodwin, president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, offered greetings from his organization, stating that he remembered the starting of the HCC and how many people questioned the value of such a community organization when there was an already established Hilltop Businessmen's Association.

However both have proved their value—the HBA concerning itself with business and the HCC with total community concerns and problems, he said at the Jan. 10 meeting.

LARRY NAFZGER, president of the Hilltop Business Association, gave a brief background of his organization established in 1928. He told of how the HBA is concerned with the development of the Hilltop.

"When the Hilltop was small everyone knew everybody," he said. "We had such things as the Hilltop Minstrel and the Hilltop Bean Dinner. These things are gone now, but as all groups have worked together in the past, we all look forward to working together in the future."

Nafzger concluded by saying that "if we work together we can develop and improve the Hilltop area for the good of the entire city."

James Beatty, Commander of Camp Chase Post 26, American Legion, told of his group's background of service to the community. This service ranged from feeding and clothing needy families at its beginning in 1929 following the Depression to today's co-sponsorship of Buckeye Boys' and Girls' State, experience in government for high school students.

Dick Anthony, representing Robin

Friday, president of the Hilltop Lion's Club, and Starling Williamson, president of the Westgate Kiwanis Club, reviewed their organization's role on the Hilltop.

FOLLOWING THE GUEST'S remarks Burke announced the committee chairman for the year and recognized the services of past president, Harry Grashel, and the editor of the "Spectator West," Kathy Devaney.

In his closing remarks Burke stated that he felt it an honor to be the 27th president of the HCC and told why he chose to serve the community in this way.

"It is my home, therefore I believe I owe this community my services since I and my family have received so much good and happiness from it," he said.

Burke also reviewed the many things of which the Hilltop is proud—fine schools, churches, well-known athletic teams, musical-instrumental groups and fine students, athletic and educational groups too numerous to mention.

HE LISTED THE many political leaders the community has produced including Mayors W. Ralston Westlake and Jack Sosenbrenner; Councilmen Milliken, Spears and Woodland; councilman and county commissioner Henry Koonz; state representative Mack Pemberton; Newton Thatcher; and Judge Robert Draper.

Burke concluded by saying, "We are an umbrella organization. An organization designed to be made up of all churches, schools and organizations of this area. A place where they may meet as one and act as a group."

"We are ready, able and willing to help those who have the goals of betterment of humans, community development and pride in our great community."

"We stand ready to battle those who want to desecrate and destroy our community, city, state and nation."

"We are an organization which stands ready to service and aid all groups and organizations which truly represent the Hilltop community."

WEST COLUMBUS—President of the Hilltop Community Council, Homer Burke, received congratulations on the 30th anniversary of the HCC from State Representative Mike Stutzman and A.M. "Mac" Pemberton. HCC also received greetings and congratulations from City Council President M.D. Portman and former Mayor M.E. Sosenbrenner.

Phase I Appropriation Already Made Careers Center Master Plan Explained

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Staff Writer

Columbus—The Columbus School Board heard a detailed report on master planning for the Metropolitan Careers Center at its Jan. 15 Committee of the Whole meeting.

The report was presented by Jack Gibbs, executive director of the center; Dan Carmichael, project architect; and Bill Brubaker of the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, Chicago.

Construction for the center, to be developed on 48 acres of land which was originally part of the site of Fort Hayes, will be divided into Phase I and Phase II construction. The board hopes that the first phase can be completed and be ready for student attendance by September, 1975.

THE 48-ACRE tract of land was sold to the school system in 1971 by the government for the sum of $1. With a chuckle, the board hinted that they may be willing to spend up to $2.50 for additional land the government has to offer on the old Fort Hayes site.

The center is to be an innovative career center with programs designed to attract an academic, economic, geographic and racial cross-section of students with a wide range of interests and abilities.

The center will offer only programs which do not now exist in Columbus' high schools.

The campus type center will be divided into career clusters. It is proposed that each career cluster be organized into three identical curriculum components—morning, afternoon and evening.

THIS WILL HOPEFULLY provide flexibility in scheduling which will enable in-school youth to maintain their home school affiliation while completing other graduation requirements.

In addition it will enable persons who are employed to schedule a program in conjunction with their work schedule.

This center will be metropolitan in scope with emphasis on high school 11th and 12th graders, out-of school youth, 16 years and over and adults who have the desire to become involved in career education.

The curriculum of the center will enable each student to complete successfully a program of instruction which will qualify him or her for immediate employment and give the student an opportunity to live an independent and self-reliant life on and off of the job.

Another goal is that each student have the opportunity to pursue high educational goals at the post-secondary level.

THE CENTER WILL be operated by the Columbus Board of Education and will be intended to serve the entire metropolitan area. Students from throughout the Columbus school district and several neighboring districts may attend the center under some kind of agreements. It is also hoped that arrangements in the near future will permit interested students from all area districts to enroll.

Demolition of existing buildings will be necessary before any construction can begin, according to Gibbs. One building currently is being remodeled for use as an administrative, planning and staff development center while it is hoped that one other building, the old arsenal building, can be saved and renovated in some fashion.

Proposed landscaping will give the complex "an attractive outlook along with ecological values," according to Brubaker.

According to Gibbs, "We found that it would cost more to update the existing buildings than to build new ones."

The plan, according to architect Brubaker, "a master plan for long range development," stimulated the board members greatly. All seemed extremely enthusiastic and agreeable to the project.

NEWLY ELECTED Board President Mrs. Virginia Prentice said, "this is just fantastic, extremely exciting, something that can just grow and grow."

This is just the dream of every school system."

Board member Marilyn Redden was assured, in answer to her questioning, that the Phase I part of the center is included in the current budget even though the Phase II part is not. She was told additional funds will be needed for the second phase.

Columbus Public School System Superintendent Dr. John Ellis described the center as "a beginning...a thing of the future." He added that this would be just like a campus and would be continually growing, "maybe for five, 10 or even 20 years. This may even have a Phase III to it some day."

In other board action Mrs. Prentice explained that "the role of the vice-president will be different." She said that newly elected vice-president Dr. David Hamlar would be working closer with her and he would be involved with more decision-making.

"THIS WILL BE an extremely healthy thing for the board," added Prentice.

Also announced was the head for the Douglas Elementary Developmental Learning Center. He is the Reverend R.A. Meyers.

Mrs. Prentice also announced that the week of March 18-22 will be the week that school board members will tour the schools of the system. This year the target will be the junior high schools.

"It is very important that we see what is going on in these schools. I hope that we can see all 25 (junior highs)."

The board will then discuss their respective tours at the March 25 Committee of the Whole meeting.

Last, it was announced that the next Committee of the Whole Meeting, Jan. 29, would be a session with Student Forum. This will include student representatives from the schools and according to Prentice will enable the school board members to hear views of the students and vice versa.

Parents Favor Military Service

In a recent Louis Harris Poll conducted by the Senate Government Operations Committee, 64 per cent of the public indicated they would be pleased if their sons or daughters served in the military.

To capitalize on that high parental approval of military service, the all-volunteer Army is adapting many new opportunities to offer the youth market.

Most of these changes are in line with Secretary of the Army Howard Calloway's stated goal of making military service a "meaningful service job" for the volunteer enlistee.

Today's Army recruiter works in conjunction with the guidance counselor located at the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance station who uses a battery of aptitude tests to match the prospective enlistee's skills with available Army training and jobs.

As a combination vocational counselor, employment agent and civic booster, the local Army recruiter has a wide range of Army opportunities to offer. On the west side of Columbus, his office is located at 3079 W. Broad St., 276-7258.

AWARD

West Columbus-Technical Sergeant Stephen A. Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knapp, 796 Racine, has received his third award of the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Misawa AB, Japan.

Sergeant Greene, an administrative supervisor, was cited for meritorious service at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. He now serves at Misawa with a unit of the USAF Security Service.

Library Opens Reading Center

Student Play At Musicians Conservatory

The Oberlin College Conservatory of Music will be host to the Ohio Music Education Association All-State Orchestra from Friday through Sunday, January 25-27. The young musicians will present a public concert Sunday at 2 p.m. in Finney Chapel following two days of intensive rehearsals.

The orchestra members, 100 of the finest high school instrumentalists in the State of Ohio, were handpicked by the All-State Chairman, Harold Weller of Ashland, from five regional orchestras which performed during the fall. They will be conducted by Marshall Haddock, conductor of the Wooster Symphony Orchestra and a member of the faculty at The College of Wooster.

The program for the Sunday concert will include the premier performance of "Variations for Orchestra" by Walter S. Hartley, a work commissioned for the 50th anniversary of the OMEA; "Adagio for Strings" by Samuel Barber; "Appalachian Spring" by Aaron Copland; and "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss.

The concert will be repeated in Columbus Friday, Feb. 8, for the 50th Anniversary Convention of the OMEA.

The OMEA All-State Orchestra program includes five regional orchestra events held annually in October and November. The All-State participants are chosen from each of these regional orchestras for the "all-star" performance.

Coordinators for the Oberlin visit are Herbert H. Henke, chairman of the Oberlin Conservatory's department of music education, and Carl W. Bewig, director of admissions. The visiting musicians will be housed by Oberlin residents.

The name of orchestra member from this area is:

Deborah West, 430 Voeller Cr., Grove City.

Big Darby Creek Hearings Scheduled

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources will conduct public meetings in Franklin County January 28-29 to discuss the possible designation of Big Darby Creek as a state scenic river.

Terry Wakeman, chief of the department's planning division, urges citizens interested in Big Darby Creek to attend the meetings and express their views concerning the inclusion of the stream in the state scenic rivers program.

The January 28 meeting will be at Darbydale Church of the Nazarene on State Route 606 in Darbydale. The meeting January 29 will be at Darby Creek Baptist Church on Plain City-Georgetown Rd., near Hilliard. Both meetings will start at 7:30 p.m.

Father's Memory Honored

A PROUD DAUGHTER is Mrs. Marie Solomon, 619 Nantona Ave., whose late father Harry E. Worley, shown in the plaque next to her, was honored last Sunday in Whitehall. The new $400,000 Whitehall Police Department headquarters building was dedicated in his memory. He devoted almost a quarter century of service to the department, serving as Deputy Marshal for three years, Street Superintendent for 18 years and becoming its first Chief of Police, a position he held for three years.

Second Reading Clinic Planned For All Students

THE SECOND Reading Clinic for high school students will open Feb. 13 at Ohio Dominican College. The six-week course, which will meet from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. each Wednesday, is designed to help students solve their reading problems through individualized, personal evaluations and concentrations in areas of need. It is not geared toward those with severe physical or emotional handicaps.

According to Mrs. Mary Jo Myers, M.A., of the English Department faculty at Ohio Dominican, and coordinator of the Reading Clinic, students will work in groups of not more than five students, with similar problems with specially-trained ODC student-tutors.

BASED ON the success of last winter's Reading Clinic, content will again emphasize word recognition, including use of contextual clues and phonetic and structural analysis and meaning comprehension on the literal, interpretive and critical levels.

Mrs. Myers emphasizes that each participant must make his own decision to enroll in the clinic, not his parents, teachers or counselors. In so deciding, he must be willing to expend the necessary time, effort and self-discipline necessary to complete work of the clinic successfully.

She said recently, "we will administer tests on the first and last days of the clinic to determine the students' sight vocabulary and reading comprehension grade levels. Results will be sent parents at the end of the program, so comparison can be made." Admission to the clinic will be limited to the first 25 applications, with the possibility of additional clinics set up if necessary to accommodate high school students interested in improving their reading skills.

For further information on cost and program, write Richard R. Teaff, director of Continuing Education, Ohio Dominican College, 1216 Sunbury Rd., Columbus, or phone 253-2741.

We Salute The Jaycees During Their Special Week

This is Jaycee Week and the background of this organization tells much of the dedication these men have for community life.

A COMPLETE history of the United States Jaycees will probably never be written, for it would have to contain more than 6,700 chapters—one for each local organization in the Jaycee movement.

The dramatic story of the Jaycees lies in what has been accomplished by these thousands of locals at grassroots level in their attempts to build a greater America through developing better communities.

THE BASIC purpose of the Jaycees has not changed since the days of founder Henry Hiesentier, Jr. and the great early backer, Clarence H. Howard.

The Jaycees resulted from the budding of a very simple but valid idea; the thought of utilizing the young manpower of the community for public services, with a firm conviction that youth is not a handicap for participation in municipal, state and national affairs.

TODAY THAT idea has paid off in terms of an organization which boasts more than 6,700 local chapters in the United States, with a total active membership of over 315,000. The movement is also world wide with more than 80 nations affiliated with Junior Chamber International.

The USJC evolved from the Herculaneum dancing club, which had only four members when it was originated in 1910. The founder would not be surprised by the strength of the Jaycee movement if he were alive.

Gliesenbier, as early as 1920 said: "I cannot but think that the future will bring a total enrollment of at least 500,000 young men actively engaged in civic activities."

The Herculaneum Dancing Club which Gliesenbier originated in 1910 had a modest purpose—to boost the social standing of its members—and it accomplished its mission. By 1914 it was considered to be "the outstanding dancing club of its time" in St. Louis.

DURING World War I the Jc's formed Co. L of the 138th Infantry Regiment. Commander was Dwight Davis, later to become assistant secretary of war and donor of the Davis Cup tennis trophy.

Gliesenbier and Howard felt that a national body should be formed, and on January 21 and 22 of 1920 a caucus was held in St. Louis with 29 cities represented.

THE USJC was organized at this caucus, a convention called for the following June, and Gliesenbier elected provisional president. The St. Louis group, which numbered about 3,000, was the hub of the new national organization.

Twelve of the 27 cities represented at the June convention became charter members of the USJC, and Gliesenbier was chosen first president.

PERHAPS the first really big step taken to weld the loose federation together was the establishment of Expansion magazine in 1926. This publication, which continued until 1929, was the first of several which served the USJC until the present Future magazine was born in 1938.

During the 1920's and 1930's, the USJC not only grew in size, but the scope of Jaycee activities became even broader. Then, as now, Junior Chambers were concerned with almost every conceivable type of project designed to be of service to community, state and nation.

A BIG STEP was taken in 1935 when it was decided to settle in St. Louis, after declining an offer of space in the Washington, D.C., headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The Jaycees felt that it would be best to remain completely independent of the senior group, which is still the case today. Although the two organizations are in no way connected, they are on the friendliest of terms.

Before World War II, the USJC became the first young men's organization to back Selective Service, and the war years saw 85 percent of all Jaycees enter the armed forces. The ones staying home topped all other organizations in scrap collecting, blood-donations and bond sales.

A POSITIVE development to emerge from the war was Junior Chamber International, established at a meeting in Mexico City in 1944. Attempts to found such a group date back to the 1930's.

The idea of a War Memorial for the Jaycees dead was proposed at the Omaha War conference in 1944. Tulsa was subsequently chosen as the site for this War Memorial Headquarters after citizens pledged $100,000 towards its construction. The USJC moved its national office to the Old Capital in 1947.

Raising of additional funds made construction possible, the cornerstone was laid on December 7, 1950, and final dedication ceremonies held August 4, 1951.

Since that date the USJC has continued to grow from its headquarters in the "Young Men's Capital of the World."

Franklin County is indeed fortunate to have many fine Jaycee organizations in communities that are prospering even more because of the dedication these young men have brought to their projects.

We salute them this week - Jaycee Week.

Senior Citizens Enjoying COTA Good As Gold Cards

"GOOD AS GOLD" card carrying Senior Citizens have been enjoying Columbus, for half price courtesy of COTA, for about two weeks. Now, for reduced price again, they can see the World.

Alan McCracken, President of the Columbus Association for the Performing Arts, is offering Senior Citizens one dollar admission to his new series of travel films at the Ohio Theater.

"We planned the Wednesday morning times with the Senior Citizens especially in mind," said McCracken. "So many times, things our older citizens would like to see are given only at night. I don't blame them for not wanting to venture out then. We picked the 10:30 Wednesday morning performance for them particularly."

"Letters and posters are going out this week to all the Senior Citizen Centers in the City. If they want to plan a party together, we have block seating available and that way too they can share transportation like taxis and such."

We also are offering five tickets for five dollars and these may be used all at once, separately, or by twos and threes.

Thus, Senior Citizens may choose what they and their friends want most to see."

EACH program will be presented twice, Tuesday evening at 8 and Wednesday morning at 10:30. The films will be narrated by internationally known photographers and travelers themselves. Films and dates are:

"There will always be an England" by Dr. Charles Forbes Taylor, January 22 and 23; "Denmark and Greenland" by Arthur Wilson, February 12 and 13; "Soul of Japan" by Kenneth Wolfgang, February 28 and 27; "Hungary" by Sherilyn Montes, March 28 and 27; and "Rhine Journey in the 70's" by Curtis Nagel, April 9 and 10.

TICKETS at these special rates are now available at the CAPA office at 41 East State Street, or you may make reservations by telephone 469-1045.

"Be sure to remind everyone," concluded McCracken, "that we have that fine organ installed in the Ohio Theater. We plan organ concerts just before the presentation of each film. The concerts will about 20 minutes in length."

FOR SOME time now, many Senior Citizens of Columbus have been enjoying the mid-day Hot Meal program inaugurated in November by the City Department of Health and sponsored by the Council on Aging under funds provided by the Department of Recreation and Parks.

Besides supplying nutritional daily balance for "solitary cooks," the dinners have turned out to be a great place to socialize, get with it as to what's going on for the Senior Set in the City, and even to provide a resource for the solution of special problems.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Health Department, 461-5745.

LAST BUT not least, if you have not already obtained your "Good as Gold" card for the half price fare on the Columbus bus lines, three of the registration locations will be open all month: McDowell St. Center, 275 McDowell; Second and Summit Center, 92 E. Second Ave.; and 1100 East Broad St. Center. Opening from January 23 through January 30 are Whetstone Recreation Center, Whitehall City Building, and at St. John Lutheran Church you can go to mid day dinner and get the card for COTA afterwards all in one trip.

Employment Services Better Hours

The Ohio Bureau of Employment Services (OBES), in a move to better serve job seekers and employers, has changed the hours of operation of its Job Service community placement offices.

New Job Service hours are 9 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m.

until noon Saturdays. Hugh Schaffner, Columbus employment service manager announced.

Job Service, a totally new concept in free employment assistance, is designed to help people find work efficiently, without intermediaries.

"These extended office hours, unusual for a government agency, will provide increased service to unemployed workers and employers," Schaffner said.

Job Service offices are located at 3315 W. Broad St., telephone: 276-2804; 887 S. Hamilton Road, 237-2550; and 2007 East Dublin-Granville Road, 888-7112.

WHY GO METRIC?

There has been increasing discussion about changing our standards of measurement to the metric system. Congress is considering legislation which will provide a ten-year transitional period for the changeover.

The reason for doing so is convincing. As our nation's horizons expand in travel, communications, the sciences and arts we should assume leadership to assure a simple basis of measurement that the entire world understands.

Today, most of the world uses the metric system. This means that today when we provide exports for the ever-expanding world market our domestic products are the wrong size. It's just like selling a shoe that almost fits, or a hat that covers your ears.

American industry will make the change when Uncle Sam turns the traffic light green. But don't junk your socket wrenches, because the metric measure will come in gradually, so that it will not be too much of a burden to any one of us in making the change.

However, now is the time to become familiar with the new dimensions and to plan ahead.

James Gibson, 86, Selected Catholic Man-Of-The-Year

by James Kezelek

The Franklin County Catholic Men's Luncheon Club has announced the winner of its 18th Annual Franklin County Catholic Man of the Year Award.

At a luncheon held at St. Patrick's Parish Hall, James Gibson, 86 year old member of St. Dominic's Parish, was honored for a lifetime of service to others.

Gibson, active in the St. Vincent de Paul Society, an organization devoted to assisting the poor and needy, was referred to as the Frederick Ozanam of Columbus.

Ozanam is the founder of the St. Vincent dePaul Society.

Not born or raised a Catholic, he was converted to Catholicism in 1932, some 41 years ago, at St. Cyrian's parish here in Columbus.

IN A SOCIETY where mobility, transition, and uprooting seem to predominate, he stands as a rock of stability, living now in the same modest home he has lived in for the past 48 years.

He held with honor the same job he labored at for 41 years—that of a United States mailman—all of those years working here in Columbus.

Married in 1912, he stayed married for 27 years, until his wife Mabel passed away in 1939, and he has stayed a widower for the 34 years since, although he states he runs an ad in the paper once a year for a successor who has not yet emerged.

He is the father of one married daughter, and has seven grandchildren.

He is a member of St. Dominic's Church, a parish of modest means, and he is typical of its membership.

HE WAS raised in Greenup, Kentucky by his grandmother, a former slave. As a young boy, he remembers his grandmother, a woman of little means, feeding indigents and transients in the home in which he was raised. That recollection never left him, and his life has since centered around helping the needy.

An outstanding member of the St. Vincent dePaul Society, he works each day, Monday through Friday, at the age of 86, at St. Lawrence Haven, feeding the poor, cleaning up after them, visiting with them, sorting clothes, investigating requests for assistance, and doing any of the hundreds of unglamorous, unpublicized tasks that literally keep the poor alive in body as well as spirit.

NO LONGER able to drive an automobile, he often has to take a bus to St. Lawrence Haven, spending his own money for carfare to do this work.

Described by his nominator as the Frederick Ozanam of Columbus, his pastor agrees with that comparison.

He is still active as an usher at his Church, but since he is no longer able to drive he misses being able to take the parish sisters shopping as he formerly did, and he misses driving on Sunday for the children at the State School—just two examples of the many useful, if unheralded ways in which he has served others throughout his life.

STILL ACTIVE AND energetic at the age of 86, he continues to grow a garden of vegetables and roses each year, and, typically, he shares his bounty with his neighbors and others.

HIS NOMINATOR beautifully summed up his life by saying that if he is not well known by many of us, it may be because he is not a Rotarian, not a Knight of Columbus, not a Charity Newsie nor a member of any country club - he is simply a man doing God's work in a quiet, unobtrusive way because it is God's work. "But," his letter of nomination continues, "if you ask anyone in the broad line at St. Lawrence Haven, or any of the numerous poor, the underprivileged, the down cast, the sick in body or spirit whose lives have been touched by him - any of those could tell you who he is."

AND SO I speak for our selection committee as a whole, the entire membership of the Catholic Men's Luncheon Club, and those we represent, in expressing great pride and admiration for the 1973 Franklin County Catholic Man of the Year, James Gibson.

Retirement Pictures Were Great

To the Editor:

I appreciate very much the front page "spread" that I received upon my retirement from Manager of Hilltop Station Post Office.

I've appreciated the warm friendly association with our personnel all of them - thanks Kathy Devaney, for the very nice picture.

You are wonderful people.

Lloyd Clark.

Symphony Coverage Appreciated

To the Editor:

Your coverage of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra Grand Ball was just superb. I could hardly wait to see the paper this morning and it was all great.

On behalf of the Columbus Symphony and all of the Ball committee, please be sure of our appreciation for your interest and cooperation.

With kindest good wishes always,

Most cordially,

(Mrs.) Alice L. Bentley

Public Relations Chairman

Symphony Grand Ball.

The Spectator Newspapers welcome letters from readers, expressing their views on subjects of interest to them - whether initiated by news stories or editorial expression in this newspaper or not. Because of space limitations, we prefer letters which do not exceed 200 words. All letters submitted for publication must be signed with the writer's name and address, although - upon request - the name of the writer can be withheld. Letters should be marked: "To the Editor, Spectator Newspapers, 3431 South Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio 43204" and must be received by Friday noon prior to publication date for possible publication in that week's edition.

Goodwill Industries Needs Your Help

To the Editor:

Columbus Goodwill has an emergency situation. Due to the poor weather, December donations reached a new low. For the first time in thirteen years the Goodwill warehouse is empty, and the amount of clothing and household goods that come in daily is not enough to keep our people working.

As of Monday, January 14 the plant went on reduced hours and without additional material twenty-five handicapped employees will be laid off, with more to follow.

Here are a few examples of the type of people affected:

(1) "Cathy" was in a State Hospital for 10 years. She is now "outside", working full time at Goodwill. Without her weekly paycheck, she will not be able to afford groceries.

(2) "Ralph" has a wife and a seven year old son to support. He can not read, but works hard at sorting clothing at Goodwill. If you take away the clothing, Ralph is out of work.

(3) "Ann" has various health problems, and without the money she now earns, she can just make ends meet. Take away her job and she becomes another victim of the clothing shortage.

We need the support of the community. January 18, Goodwill Founders Day, we started an emergency drive to replace the needed goods. To make donating as easy as possible, Goodwill trucks are located at convenient locations around town.

They are: Bill Swad American Motors, 687 S. Hamilton Road, The Northland Shopping Center on Morse Road, and all three Gold Circle Motors on West Broad, Olentangy River Road, and Hamilton Road.

All trucks are located in the main parking lot of each location and are within sight of the main road and the store (or stores). All of the participating stores volunteered their space to help in this Goodwill clothing drive.

The trucks are at these locations from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. for two consecutive Saturdays, Jan. 28 and February 2. In addition a drop off point has been established behind the Goodwill store at 908 West Fifth Ave. Its hours are 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Tues.-Friday; 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday; 7:30 to noon Saturday.

We urge all concerned area residents to please donate all clothing and household items available.

All donations are tax-deductible. Goodwill does its part to help the handicapped, please do your part to help Goodwill.

Sincerely,

Dick Jann
Community Relations Director

Hours Figures Are Questioned In Story

To the Editor:

As a graduate and an employee of Ohio State University, I wish to object to what I believe is misleading comparison in your January 9 story entitled, "Local Police Spend 632 Hours in School."

The lead paragraph of the story, written by Kathy Devaney reads as follows:

"An undergraduate at Ohio State University must have 196 hours of credit in order to graduate. A Columbus Police Officer is required to take 632 hours before being sworn in, as well as spending 200 hours in on-the-job training."

It is my understanding from the story that Columbus Policemen receive a total of 1052 hours of training. However, this paragraph also suggests that Ohio State University undergraduates receive only 196 hours. This is untrue. In order to gain, say, five credit hours at OSU, a student must attend class for a minimum of five hours per week for the 10 weeks of the quarter, or a total of 50 hours of classroom time. So, a student who graduates from OSU has actually spent a minimum total of 1,960 hours in class to get 196 hours of credit.

I telephoned Ms. Devaney after reading the story, identified myself as an OSU employee and told her of my objection.

While I certainly do not intend to downgrade the content of the story—indeed, the rest of the story performed a valuable service by giving information probably not generally known by the community—I think its credibility was not enhanced by the use of such a distorted comparison.

Sincerely,

Sandra S. Nichols
College Communications.

Reader Questions Police Story Facts

To the Editor:

I appreciate and enjoyed the article by Kathy Devaney on Jan. 9 "Local Police Spend 632 Hours in School."

However, I did not agree with her facts that "an undergraduate at OSU must have 196 hours of credit to graduate" and "A Columbus Police Officer is required to take 632 hours before being sworn in, as well as spending 200 hours in on-the-job training."

If Ms. Devaney is a college graduate I am sure she will agree that the 196 college credit hours equals about 2,303 man hours of which she is speaking for the Columbus Police Force.

I am not "knocking" the force who do a great and necessary job, but again I don't feel there is a comparison in the amount of actual hours spent to become a policeman as opposed to that of a college degree.

1052 hours is less than half spent in college. Let's get the facts straight before presentation.

Sincerely,

J.B. Kelley

Charity Newsies Helped

To the Editor:

The Charity Newsies would like to take this opportunity to say Thank You to all the people of Franklin County who made the 1973 Drive successful. Because of the generosity of the many residents, our area becomes a better place to live and raise children.

Sincerely,

Volunteers Recruited

To the Editor:

We wish to express our thanks for the recent article which appeared in the January 9th issue of your newspaper.

It has been helpful to us in the recruitment of volunteers for the Columbus Public Schools.

Thank you very much.

Volunteer Services.

State Savings Prizes Presented

LINCOLN VILLAGE—State Savings, 8866 W. Broad, had a drawing Saturday to present grand opening prizes to several lucky winners. Carl Salyers (standing left), branch manager for the new West Lincoln Village office, presents a black and white TV to Larry Reed. Standing in the center is Jack Healer who won the grand prize of a large screen color TV. One person who would like to see the ice and snow return is Kenny Morris shown sitting on the toboggan he just won. The open house contest attracted many visitors to the new offices, the twelfth to open. Additional prizes will be given at a second drawing Saturday, Jan. 26.

News Of New Rome

By MRS. JAMES WEAVER

Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore, 100 Buena Vista Ave., were Mr. and Mrs. John Culler of Lucas (near Mansfield). Mrs. Culler is a granddaughter of the Gilmore's.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore were guests of their daughter and husband, Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Robert Ward of Pickerington.

Due to weather conditions the Jan. 14 meeting of the Rome Study Club was cancelled.

Congratulations are extended to L.W. Johnson, 61 Lawrence Ave., who will celebrate his 90th birthday Thursday, Jan. 24. Mr. Johnson is active and participates with the group activities of the area senior citizens group.

David Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Armstrong, 310 Lenox Ave., is attending a special school of instruction for engineers in Chicago, Ill., which is being sponsored by the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, with whom he is associated. The school will be for a six-week period.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have a new grandson, James Dixon Armstrong, born Dec. 30 at Mt. Carmel Hospital. James Dixon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Armstrong.

The Ohio Association of Garden Clubs is again sponsoring a special tree project and will have available for purchase not only Douglas fir trees but also redbud trees. The members of the Prairie Gardeners participated in this project last year and contributed to the success of this state-wide project. Region 9 of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, which embraces a five-county area, sold more trees (to garden club members and friends) than any other Region of the Association in the state in 1973.

Friday, Jan. 18, Andrew Fisher, 228 Maple Dr., celebrated his 97th birthday with his wife and family. Mr. Fisher has been a patient at St. Luke's Convalescent Center for over four weeks; his broken right arm is healing nicely.

Mrs. Fisher will celebrate two important days Sunday, Jan. 27, her birthday and her 65th wedding anniversary. The Sauerkraut Supper sponsored by the members of the Music Boosters group held at Westland High School Jan. 13 was a success. Serving as chairman was Mrs. Helen Kilbourne. A meeting of this organization was held Monday, Jan. 21, at the school with Loren Mullenix, president, in charge of the meeting. Secretary is Mrs. Howard Balzer.

Thirteen members were in attendance at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Lytla Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held in the church lounge. Presiding was co-chairman, Mrs. Herman Weber. Bible Study Leader was Mrs. Melvin Krieger. Treasurer is Mrs. D.J. Weebria.

Of interest to the members of the community will be the Friday, Jan. 26, basketball game to be held at Westland High School when the Cougars meet the Delaware squad.

A special audition for the Pro-Am dancers will be held Monday, Jan. 28, at Stouffer's University Inn, at 7:30 p.m. Those interested in becoming a Pro-Am dancer should call Sally Baker, 836-3733, or Virgie Sheaf, 888-1447.

A cordial welcome to the community is extended to the newest members, who are: a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitt, 300 Rome-Hilliard Rd., Jan. 9 at Mt. Carmel Hospital; a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tracy, 6381 Alkire Rd., Jan. 15 at Mt. Carmel Hospital; and a son born to Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, 634 Evergreen Terrace, Jan. 15 also at Mt. Carmel.

The members of the SRT Club will have their monthly noon Sunday luncheon meeting Jan. 27 at the home of Mrs. Martha Friedman. The meeting scheduled for Jan. 13 was cancelled due to weather conditions.

Mrs. Russell Brooks, 507 Buena Vista Ave., is a patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital. Mrs. Brooks was admitted Jan. 8.

The Prairie Gardeners have been invited to attend a special meeting at the Whetstone Recreation Center Jan. 23 to hear a program on the "Care of Common and Exotic Houseplants." Guest and speaker will be Mrs. Jeanne Younger, horticulturist of the Franklin County Cooperative Extension Service.

Judson College Singers Visit

WEST COLUMBUS—The Judson College will present a concert of sacred music at Hillcrest Baptist Church, 2480 W. Broad St., Friday, Jan. 26, at 7:30 p.m. Rhythmic Ann Hines and Paul Wallace, 1972 graduates of West are members of the choir. A wide choice of music will be sung by the group including a capella works by European masters, Mendelssohn and William, as well as pieces by contemporary composers, Hanson, Berger and Piausch. Folk music will also be represented by spirituals and hymn arrangements from the American tradition. The Judson College Choir has traveled from coast to coast and is known to be a superior choral organization that combines fine choral technique with outstanding group personality. It has appeared in churches, schools and hospitals as well as on television and radio. The group will travel to Europe for two weeks in March for appearances among the churches of West Germany. Judson College is a four year liberal arts school located in Elgin, Ill., and is affiliated with the American Baptist Convention. Students that comprise the choir are all working on collegiate degrees and come from various states of the nation. The program will have an appeal to young and old alike and the pastor, the Rev. Francis M. Hinch, extends an invitation to the public to attend. There is no admission charge; however, a free will offering will be taken.

BILTMORE 2414 W. BROAD

Last Friday night I thought I died and went to that great restaurant in the sky. This is the evening I dined at the BEST RESTAURANT in Columbus, Le Gourmet Room. It has been quite a while since I have had the pleasure to write about the fabulous Le Gourmet Room. With no further ado, let me take you into the world of an exquisite epicurean experience.

First, the hors d'oeuvres. Carole selected seafood crepe. This is a pancake, very thin, filled with an assortment of seafoods in a special sauce. An unusual taste treat. It was almost breath-taking. I had escargots en champignons de bourgogne, which are snails in mushroom caps and garlic butter. Simply terrific.

Next came the caesar salad. Now here was a delightful event. There are not very many places Around Town where one can order a good caesar salad. Le Gourmet Room happens to be one of those very rare places. Roast duck a la orange, with wild rice, was Carole's choice of entree. Here again, you just don't find roast duck prepared as at Le Gourmet Room. You'll marvel at the fascinating flavor. I chose sole en papillote. This is fillet of sole baked in paper with a delicious champagne sauce. I have never tasted anything so delectable. The flavor was unique, and oh so very enjoyable. I believe I could go back and dine on the same dish every night for a week and still not become bored.

Often times you have heard me state that a meal was fit for royalty. In this case, this was royal, in every sense of the word. In my opinion, it's rather difficult to finish a meal with something that will really top it off in high fashion. But at Le Gourmet Room I had no problem. Their Irish coffee was just the thing to complete the feast. The Irish coffee was prepared with an abundance of Irish whiskey, kahula, and of course, coffee, in a cup with the rim laced with sugar and glazed with sugar. Whipped cream and creme de menthe was added. It was really captivating. In fact, that is the best way to describe the entire meal, from start to finish. Captivating.

Le Gourmet Room is located in the lower level of the Circle Restaurant. The decor is as enjoyable as the food. For you who enjoy true gourmet food at very reasonable prices, then this is the place for you. Everything is ala carte, meaning you order what you want. If you are like me, that's everything on the menu.

"How The Other Half Loves," opened last week at the Country Dinner Playhouse. The show, which is superb. The cast is marvelous. Hans Conreid, along with five other people constitute one of the strongest, most talented casts to hit the boards in our many a play.

Thank goodness for the Country Dinner Playhouse and the show is true. After listening to several gripes, including my own, regarding poor service, limited selection of alcoholic beverages and a buffet that left a lot to be desired, many were not in the best mood to be entertained. However, by show-end, the entire crowd walked away on cloud nine. The play is well directed, moving along at a fast clip. From the beginning it just keeps building into a super sonic pace. The principal characters are Frank and Fiona Foster, a middle aged couple played by Hans Conreid and Gayle Byrne, and Bob and Theresa Phillips, portrayed by Stephen Bolster and Carol Mendle.

Bob in his thirties, is having a little affair with Fiona. They go out on her wedding anniversary. The next day Bob tells his wife that he was out with William Detweiler and Fiona says that she was out with Mary Detweiler. Both tell their spouse that the Detweiler's marriage is on the rocks. Since Frank, Bob and William all work together, Frank and Theresa invite them to their homes on successive nights for dinner. Of course by the end of the play all of the truths and secrets are brought to the surface.

But, in between all of this, the plot becomes more involved, with hilarity raining all over the place. There are plenty of excellent comedy bits, fine acting and a host of scenes that are done with all the professional skill you'll see in any Broadway production.

The staging of, "How The Other Half Loves," is most unique. At all times, there are two sets of furniture on stage. One representing the more affluent Foster household, and the other representing the Phillips' home, a typical young, not so gracious couple.

The difference is best pointed out in the scene where Fiona and Theresa are both preparing the menu and table settings for their night to entertain the Detweillers. Fiona plans a gourmet menu and uses fine china. Theresa has a simple menu and practically throws the dishes on the table. The Detweillers are a very shy couple, who seem to have never been around very much. Their roles, and the manner in which they are played, by Alec Murphy and Diane Decker, adds a lot of gusto to the production.

Diane, by the way, appeared in the commercial in which she reminds her "husband" that he did indeed, "eat the whole thing."

As I said earlier, the entire cast is superb. Hans Conreid turns in his expected performance. The other five members of the cast do an equally fine job.

It's a terrific play. An absolute must for lovers of good theatre, especially you who enjoy comedy.

The Dell Restaurant is open again. After five years of Columbus being without one of its favorite landmarks, Dee Johnston has re-opened the famous restaurant and lounge. For those of you who remember the Dell Restaurant, you'll be glad to know that it is the same old Dell as before, except the entire interior has been refurbished.

The only addition to the decor is that the place is completely carpeted. Everything else is the same. The Dell's charm and quaintness has been retained. Dee has refurnished every booth, table and literally every piece of wood from floor to ceiling. It has been a long time since I entered such a fascinating, warm and intimate atmosphere, be it a restaurant or lounge. It was mid-afternoon when I was there. At night, it must be a true dreamland.

Dee Johnston has had some help and lots of moral support from her husband, Dick Johnston. Many of you know him as the founder of the Columbus School for Girls, former director of the Columbus Boys Choir, who is presently professor of voice at Capital University. Dee has earned a first rate reputation in the restaurant industry. She has served in various managerial positions in restaurants in Columbus and Florida.

The Dell, founded by Karl Tracht and operated by him until his retirement five years ago, still has his expert advice. Since its opening again, Karl stops in several times a day to greet all of his old friends.

While I have not dined at the Dell, I can tell you this, both luncheon and dinner menus offer a very wide choice of food. Prices are reasonable.

In the evening, there is a small piano bar, plus a host of singing waiters and waitresses. They sing everything from classics to rock.

Another interesting aspect about the Dell Restaurant, is that all profits will go to establish a summer camp for retarded children. The Johnstons want to purchase a farm in Perry County for the camp. However, the Dell Restaurant is not being operated as a charitable operation. Their first concern is to serve and please you, hoping the end result will be enough money to accomplish their goal.

All I can tell you is that you must make at least one trip to the Dell. I will promise you that with all of its charm and beautiful atmosphere, along with the interesting entertainment at night, you'll go back many times.

For the time of your life, make sure you stop in at the swinging Rendezvous Room. Located on W. Broad St., in the Lincoln Village Plaza. The Rendezvous Room is a rather unique watering and dining spot. On weekends, you'll find the well known Dick Wolford and his show performing for the crowds. Dich has one of the hottest records on WMNI, at the present time. Also, between the hours of 2 a.m. and 4 a.m. you can have an old fashion country style breakfast every Friday and Saturday. It's yummy. All during the week, they serve the best lunch in the west, plus offering a wide dinner menu every evening.

Another very special attraction at the Rendezvous Room is their singing bartender. It's the only place Around Town that has one. Bob Carter is his name, and Bob sings and plays guitar between mixing up your favorite drink. Don't forget the Shirley Lewellyn Duo, featuring Vic Percora at Michael's. This is one of the loveliest lounges Around Town. Located in Grove City, Michael's is also a fine place for dining. Plan on stopping in there soon. You won't be sorry. For one of the best show groups Around Town, make sure you catch the McCalmont Express at the Holiday Inn-OSU. Leader, Judy McCalmont sings up a storm. What a terrific singer. You'll find them nightly at the Top of the Inn. Downstairs, the Minute Men, a duo, plays nice soft music for your dining and dancing pleasure. They also serve up some excellent vocal work, too. Caught the sensational Bill Brown at Lincoln Lodge the other evening. This guy is one of the best single acts to hit town in many a moon. What a singer, and I do mean singer. His voice is big and deep, and Billy sings all types of songs. With his electric guitar and other electronic gadgets, Billy sounds like a trio. To tell you just how good he is, Billy Brown is breaking all records in the Lounge at the Lincoln Lodge Motel. And that my friends, is saying a mouthful.

Last week I told you about the fine meal I enjoyed at the Holiday Inn-South, and the fact that Paul Click and his show were appearing at the Holiday Inn. Well, from Saturday to Wednesday a beautiful new stage was built. Wait until you see it. Without a doubt, it is one of the nicest stages I've seen in any motel. It adds so much to the room and to the presentation of the act. Take my advice and stop in real soon. You'll have a great time. That's all for now, see you Around Town.

Gallery Players Are Ready

Gallery Players of The Jewish Center, 1125 College Ave., is now in rehearsal for "The Dybbuk," which will open Feb. 2. Subsequent performances will be Feb. 3, 6, 7, 9 and 10.

"The Dybbuk" is regarded as the classic drama of the Yiddish stage.

Based on ancient Jewish folklore, its dark implications of mysterious, other-worldly forces at work in a quaint and simple village make for gripping, suspenseful theatre.

Tickets are now on sale at the Gallery Players box office at The Jewish Center. Reservations and further information may be secured by calling 231-3731.

AAUW Conference Scheduled

The Columbus Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its 40th annual Conference on Education January 26 at the OSU Faculty Club.

Elementary, secondary, college and university levels of education will be examined under a theme of "Diversified Learning Approaches."

Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

Dr. Frank Duddy, President of the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Ohio, will be the luncheon speaker at 1 p.m.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. John C. McConaughy, 886-6776.

HEARTY HEISE

You can have a healthier heart if you know the risk factors of heart disease. The major ones are high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol and excessive cigarette smoking. The Franklin County Heart Branch will tell you how to lower your risk.

APPEARING NIGHTLY

WESTERN MOTELS

LINCOLN LODGE 4950 W BROAD

Billy Brown is performing at the Lincoln Lodge 4950 W. Broad. For a one man act Billy Brown has to be about the best in Columbus.

His performance is sprinkled with earthy jokes and banter with the audience. He has a collection of many Country and Blue Songs written in the last 30 years.

In 1959 Billy Brown did the original recording of "He'll Have To Go" for Columbia Records. It rose to No. 1 in many cities but according to Brown at this time Jim Reeves also recorded it in the same style and Reeves recording became one of the biggest Country Hits ever.

Billy Brown a Country Western Singer and Guitarist from Florida has been engaged for a six week contract at Lincoln Lodge.

He is drawing the largest crowds to the Lounge since it started with the Billy Brown Show entertaining with the up-town Country - Western Sound.

Brown's newest record has just been released on Big M Records. "Thank You Darling" and "Country Boy" Brown performance features versatility, personality and adult humor in addition to a repertoire which includes yodeling, impersonations of Johnny Cash, Elvis Presley, Gene Autry, Bobbie Arnold, Charlie Rich and Walter Brennan. He sings "Cool Clear Water" in the style of various singers.

For an enjoyable and relaxing evening filled with pleasant fun, the Lounge at Lincoln Lodge is recommended.

Whitehall Rules OCC; Warriors Share CL Lead

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer

Whitehall came through sticky with the pressure on last week giving the ramblin' Ram sole possession of the Ohio Capital Conference lead. Although its only a half game edge over its victim Mt. Vernon, it's a margin none the less.

And a sweet 63-56 whumping it was, as lanky Terry Burris matched his 22 points with 28 rebounds off the backboard. And assisting Burris was reserve guard Wayne Beck who merely danced onto the court to take charge of the Ram offensive mastery while adding a quick 11 markers on for good measure.

WELL, THE OCC spotlight isn't just on the Rams as most will agree, for Mt. Vernon's Yellow Jackets only have two losses also. A makeup game with Worthington even games played for this powerhouse duo so maybe the Put Manion crew can help this cross-town rival.

And while Manion's Worthington quintet was ching out a three point win against visiting Westerville, Reynoldsburg was another tough suburban team in this OCC dogfight with a three-point advantage against Delaware.

Mark Wade glided 20 points in that Raider win, a win that could add much needed spice to the Raider purple machine when it trucks up to Mt. Vernon this Friday to match wits and quickness with the Jackets.

WHITEHALL will have to stand tall at Westerville Friday and if you are a real roundball fan you'll be at Whitehall Saturday night when Red Courtney brings his reckless Warriors to Ram country for a renewal of a longtime non-league rivalry.

And don't think that action wasn't wild and woolly in that big time City League circuit last week, as Eastmoor stood alone at the conclusion of Friday's play only to get scalped good on Saturday night at Mohawk, thus bringing, now get this, the same three teams, Northland, Eastmoor and Mohawk tied for the top rung.

Projecting that schedule a bit you might say that Mohawk has the best shot of winning the rest having already played most of the teams in the upper division while Eastmoor has Northland this Friday and East and Walnut Ridge to content with 'in later meetings.

AND SHARP isn't a sharp enough word to use when describing the weekend rim-work of this rejuvenated Walnut Ridge bunch. After upsetting Northland from the top spot Friday the Ridgemen showed much class and readiness in a win at Mifflin on Saturday.

Talk about teams rebounding back and playing up to potential, hey, what about this tall timberful East High Tiger team? A stunning but extremely convincing victory it was over Mohawk Friday but even more convincingly where these Tigers one night later against visiting Akron South, a team rated 6th state-wide in one area poll.

Well, tournament time is just around the corner and you know that East and Ridge are talking tourney power and a new life but this Class AA bracket won't be shabby from Columbus. For aside from Mohawk, there is that smooth-dribbling Watterson crew.

FRANCING merrily along with a two-game buge in the Central Catholic League the flying Eagles have shown no energy shortage in Eagle land. But if highlight victories are what you are into, shine on St. Charles' 59-40 stumping of neighborhood pal Hartley. Mike Hausfeld led the Cardinal show against Hartley with 18, but more important is the clearer road Watterson now has over Hartley and Ready, a one-point victor over DeSales last weekend.

Ready and Hartley will battle it out at the home of the Silver Knights next Friday for the best shot at overtaking Watterson, a longshot though, since both have two losses.

Bexley was on a short end of an encounter with Groveport last Friday but a big win over Urbana, at Urbana, could lift the Lions right back in control of the Mid-Eight stack Friday.

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS tallied coolly, Olentangy its victim, with Ron Latham and Larry Furst handling the scoring chores.

Others who helped carry their teams to victory include Hilton Hale of East who was perfect on 11 of 16 floor tries and finished with 26 in East's quest of Mohawk, Brian Stortzer, the cool Eastmoor forward who canned 29 against Mohawk, Todd Lee and Ron Marshall who sparked Walnut Ridge to weekend success and Tim Thrush for a 26 point performance for his West playmates.

SHORTS—if you are not an ardent roundball worshiper and you like nice clean fast high school athletics, be on hand Friday night when DESALES travels to WORTHINGTON for a top dual wrestling meet.

All interested women, keep your eyes out for Columbus may have a pro WOMENS football team next season... Credit LARRY CAPEHART with 13 assists in Walnut Ridge's win over Northland, the first time guard broke his brother's record in the process.

Coaches To Meet

High school and collegiate track coaches from a six state area will gather in Columbus, for the 25th Annual Ohio Track Coaches Clinic Friday, January 26, and Saturday, January 27, at the Holiday Inn, Lane Ave. and the French Field House at Ohio State University.

Mary Croston, President of the Ohio Association of Track and Cross Country Coaches, will preside over the Clinic and business meeting.

A triangular track meet between Ohio State, Air Force Academy and Furman Saturday, Jan. 26, at 1:30 p.m. will conclude the clinic program.

Central vs West

THE COWBOYS were thoroughly dismissed by Central last Friday in a game won by the Pirates. Here's an example of the defense that West faced. That's West's Tim Thrush (43) trying to find room to get around Furman Shawa Thornton (21), Alonzo Campbell (41) and Larry Berry (31). In the background is West's Warren Lewis (34). Rabbit And Quail Season Drawing To A Close

The season on Ohio's most popular game animal, the rabbit, will come to a close at 5 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 26. Along with the rabbit season the quail season will also close at the same time. The daily bag limit for rabbits is four and for quail is six. Total possession limit on the two species, not in the field, is equal to a two day limit.

The cock pheasant season, which is now closed on private lands, remains open on Ohio's Public Hunting Areas until Jan. 26 when it closes at 5 p.m. The daily limit is two and total possession limit, not in the field is four.

Most Popular Bait
Over 26 million Americans buy a fishing license each year and it's not certain if fish or fisherman like earthworms the best. Fish will take a variety of insects, minnows, frogs, artificial flies and lures, but the lowly earthworm remains the most popular bait.

I can't think of one species of fish that won't drool over these wiggly creatures. Now that you know the bait, here's what you do with it:

Don't bunch, twist or wind a six to eight inch nightcrawler on your hook when fishing for bluegills and sunfish. These little panfish are bait stealers. Use the little two inch red worm or garden worms found in most bait stores. Go ahead and bunch these little worms on a small hook.

To attract larger fish like bass and walleyes, start at the heavy or banded end of a nightcrawler and thread a medium size hook about two inches down through the end and leave the barb of the hook covered. This makes your nightcrawler semi weedless, less snags and most important the live loose wiggling action will attract larger fish.

You know it's a great thrill when that boy or girl of yours takes their first fish. To help them along have them follow this basic method: Don't use a hook larger than the fishes mouth their trying to catch. Most panfish have a mouth no larger than a dime.

Don't use a bobber or float that a small fish can't easily pull under the surface. Too large a bobber resists the fish and they'll drop the bait.

Clamp a small weight about six inches above the hook and heavy enough only to hold the float upright and keep the bait off bottom and snag free.

I've watched a lot of kids fishing along stream banks and ponds, and almost every time their hook and bobber are too darn big for the size of fish they hope to catch. Don't worry about using a small hook, with it they can land a fish up to 10 pounds and bigger. Ask your dealer to recommend proper size equipment. They'll be glad to help.

Township Trustees, Clerks Conference Jan. 23-26

MORE THAN 1,500 Township Government officials and guests will celebrate the 46th anniversary of The Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks at the annual winter convention, January 23-26, in Columbus.

The statewide gathering will headquarter at the Sheraton-Columbus Motor Hotel, according to Association President James W. Torrens, Utica (Licking County).

THE CONVENTION will open with registration Wednesday, January 23, followed by a State Association party scheduled for that evening. Columbus Mayor Tom Moody will give the welcoming address on Thursday morning. Other speakers of the day will be E. Thomas Wetzel, Ohio Edison Company, and State Senator Oliver Ocasak of the 57th District.

Delegates will also elect new officers to serve two-year terms. Those running are: For President - Clifford Holden, Constitution, Washington County; and Paul Smith, Novarre, Stark County; for First Vice President - Robert Melner, Delta, Fulton County; and Robert Hines, Mt. Sterling, Madison County; for Second Vice President - William Bauer, Crestline, Crawford County; and Patrick Foley, Dayton, Montgomery County; for Secretary - Emerson Engelhaupt, Botkins, Shelby County; and Donald Hunter, Barnesville, Belmont County; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown will install the new officers.

THURSDAY afternoon sessions will consist of panel discussions on "Revenue Sharing" and "The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency" and a special "School for New Trustees." Allen Shepard, U.S. Treasury Department, and Glenn Buller, Ohio Bureau of Inspection, will make up the Revenue Sharing panel. Dr. Ira L. Whitman, Ohio EPA Director, will conduct the panel on Environmental Protection. Patrick Power, also of the Ohio Bureau of Inspection, will conduct the workshop for new trustees. Dr. Robert Crookery, PERS Director J. Douglas Peters, Norman A. Erbe, former Governor of Iowa, now Regional representative, Office of Secretary of Transportation; and Troy Kost, Executive Director, Illinois Association of Township Trustees and Clerks, will each address the group on Friday morning, and reports will be given by the state association's Officers and Executive Director Chester Hummel.

Executive Committee members from each county in the state will meet at noon to elect members to the Board of Directors. Candidates for the eight seats open on the 18-member board are: Thomas Brown, Winchester, Adams County; Raymond Heckman, Bodner, Wood County; Chester Kieffer, Mt. Orab, Brown County; Paul T. Dental Auxiliary To Dine

THE WOMEN'S Dental Auxiliary officers have invited the members and their husbands to a German Party, Wednesday, January 24. The fest, at Deibels in German Village, will include a buffet dinner at 6:30 p.m., silent movies and German music. Arrangements for the annual event are being completed by Mrs. Charles Schindler. Assisting hostess will be Mrs. Jerry Bulford. Mrs. Stephen Jerman, 1362 Windham Road is in charge of reservations. Pictured from left to right are: Mrs. Robert Wood (President-Elect), Mrs. Wm. Schneider (Treasurer), Mrs. Douglas Hinton (President), Mrs. Harry Chandler (Recording Secretary), Mrs. John Lude (Vice-president), not pictured: Mrs. Alfred Long (Corresponding Secretary).

AAA 'Fuel Gauge' Reinstituted

In view of uncertain gasoline supplies, AAA is again issuing its "Fuel Gauge Report" weekly, which reported conditions at the pump for 13 weeks last summer. The Columbus Auto Club is participating in the gathering of information for this report. Both major and independent gas stations along major travel routes are tallied in this composite national check which includes Hawaii. From the compilation of Jan. 15 the following pattern emerges: -Only 51 per cent of the 2,331 gasoline stations contacted for this Fuel Gauge Report on gasoline availability are pumping fuel after 7 p.m. -51 per cent of the stations surveyed are selling gas after 5 p.m. on Saturdays, but most are closing pumps about 6:30 p.m.; 15 per cent are open part of the day on Sundays; 2 per cent were out of fuel when contacted, although gasoline is generally available throughout the country. -17 per cent of the stations are limiting purchases to customers, mainly by restricting sales from $2 to $5, or 10 gallons. The greatest amount of limiting purchases was found to occur in Arizona, Florida, New York, New Jersey and the District of Columbia area. Most stations on all but one of the turnpikes checked are limiting gasoline purchases from a low of $1 worth to a high of 10 gallons. Only the Ohio Turnpike reported no limits on gasoline purchases, but listed diesel fuel purchase limits at $10. Pumps on the majority of turnpikes are closed from 9 p.m. Saturday to midnight Sunday, with the exception of the New Jersey Turnpike. The "Fuel Gauge Report" found that the highest average prices for gasoline were being charged in New York City with 55 cents for regular and 58 cents for premium while lowest average prices were noted in Texas at 41 cents for regular, 45 cents for premium. The AAA said that future "Fuel Gauge Report" surveys would include a greater number of stations and that a breakdown of AAA reports for 10 geographic and individual regions would be included in each release. Under provisions of the Black Lung Benefits Act of 1972, the U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration on July 1, 1973, became responsible for all new claims of miners for black lung compensations.

Techniques which can be employed immediately to conserve energy in schools will be the major focus of a clinic in Columbus, January 23, sponsored by the Council of Educational Facility Planners, International. Ben E. Graves, clinic coordinator and president of the Council, said the clinic will also help school administrators and school plant personnel understand how to protectively close down structures on a temporary basis and how to expand energy conservation measures into the total community. Ohio Superintendent of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex, who is president of the Council of Chief State School Officers, will address the clinic. He will be joined by four experts in energy conservation and school design. The clinic will be held at the Fawcett Center for Tomorrow on the Ohio State University campus from 8 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Invited to the clinic have been all school superintendents in Ohio and educational facility planners and architects from the Great Lakes region. Over 200 participants are expected to attend.

Lancer's Offers Nurses Registry

LANCER'S PERSONNEL Incorporated, a two year old company with over 45 years of cumulative experience matching pre-qualified applicants with reputable central Ohio firms, has expanded into the medical field. Their nurses' registry has quadrupled in size in the last 30 days. Lancer's is growing and building a reputation as sound business ethics always keeping in mind that any nurses registry is only as good as their nurses and the quality of efficient service they render to their patients. Lancer's nurses set up their working schedule and relief periods for each case and accept or reject each case after being told the minute details concerning the required treatment of the patient. To assist their nurses Lancer's is scheduling various seminars on nursing skills and medical equipment to be presented by qualified personnel and the manufacturers of various equipment. Lancer's has a member of the staff on 24 hour call to assist clients in obtaining prompt, courteous attention to their nursing needs. Lancer's supplies qualified pre-screened registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, nurses aides and companions to various hospitals, nursing homes and private duty home cases in Franklin County. In addition to being licensed by the State of Ohio Department of Commerce, Lancer's is also a member of the Columbus Better Business Bureau, Central Ohio Employment Services Association, Ohio Private Employment Association, National Employment Association and subscribes to and endorses their standards of ethical practices. To obtain information please contact Sam Myers, CEO, at 234-1511. Shown in the picture are Beverlie Hays, LPN, Helen Reifel, R.N., Jody Francis, Lancer's administrative assistant, and Christine Lobett, LPN.

Joan Motil Named To Head CMACO Post

The personnel committee of the Columbus Metropolitan Area Community Action Organization's (CMACO) Child Development Council of Franklin County has appointed Joan Motil as the new deputy director of child development.

Motil, 23, replaces Lolita Clark, who was named program director. Motil was formerly employed at Third Avenue Child Development Center, 1066 N. High St., as a supplementary teacher. Motil received a Bachelor of Science degree in Child Development from Ohio State University in March of 1973. In her new position as deputy director, she will assist the director in assignments and will be in charge of the career development program. She will also be taking over personnel procedures and making recommendations to the program director.

Sell Handicrafts

Handicrafts of Franklin County's senior citizens fill the Golden Hobby Shop, operated by the Columbus Recreation and Parks Department at 906 East Broad St. Open to the public Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., this nonprofit shop sells a very unique selection of handmade items of nearly 800 senior citizens. Any senior citizens with handicrafts to sell are invited to contact the Golden Hobby Shop at 461-8329.

ABOUT BARCLAY SQUARE

Barclay Square has roomy, well-planned and well built apartments and townhouses.

They really are quiet. And completely equipped. Air conditioning, 1 1/2 baths. A very attractive combination of carpeting and hardwood floors.

Even a clothes chute, all the way to the full basement that already has a washer and dryer hook-up.

The kitchen is complete with a double door refrigerator, range, exhaust hood, dishwasher and disposal.

Of course there is a patio and well maintained grounds. A truly nice pool and deck. And a real recreation building with sauna, whirlpool, steam room and party lounge.

And whether you want a 1 bedroom apartment or two bedroom townhouse, the rent is less than you'll find almost anywhere else $145.00 to $180.00.

Barclay Square is located on Gould Rd., just north of Broad St. Office is open 11-6 weekdays and 12-5 weekends. Or call 271-2763 for information or an appointment.

St. Timothy Celebrates Anniversary

West Columbus—Sunday, Jan. 27, the St. Timothy Lutheran Congregation, Briggs and Demorest Road, will celebrate its second anniversary with special services at 8:30 and 10:45 a.m. This congregation is a merger of two congregations. The Rev. Paul Buchholz, a founding pastor of one of the congregations, will conduct the services.

The Rev. Buchholz is presently with the First Lutheran Church in Barberton, Ohio. The Rev. J. Kermit Bishop, a founding pastor of the other congregation and presently retired, is a member of the new congregation.

The Adult and Youth Chorus and the St. Timothy Folk Singers will sing at the anniversary services. Communion will be celebrated at both services. A reception with cake and coffee will follow the 10:45 a.m. service.

With a 42 per cent increase in Sunday school attendance, 50 per cent increase in membership, average attendance at worship of 200 and reactivated youth groups the St. Timothy congregation will have much to be thankful for on this second anniversary.

Regularly scheduled worship and Sunday school times for the congregation are: Worship—8:30 and 10:45 a.m. and Sunday School—9:30 a.m.

The present pastor is the Rev. Robert Nale, 1349 Greenock Rd., 678-8644.

Boys Ranch Adds Staff

Grove City—Buckeye Boys Ranch, a residential treatment center for boys who are experiencing social and emotional problems, was recently able to double its enrollment through the opening of a much needed new facility, Stowell Hall.

This new facility, which was made possible through the generosity of Mrs. Florence Stowell and was dedicated to her memory, also enabled the Ranch to expand its educational and recreational facilities.

As a result of this expansion, the Ranch has added several new members to its present team of skilled and dedicated personnel who strive to help the boys find a secure place in the world.

Joining the team from this area are: Robert Hornmann, 675 Hyatt Court, who is employed as a social worker; and Arnie Ishizuka, 1242 Woodbrook Circle West, who is also a social worker.

Columbus Fire Division Reorganizes

Columbus—Fire Chief Raymond R. Fadley announced recently the details of the reorganization of the Division of Fire. After Jan. 21, when the reorganization became effective, the five bureaus will be Maintenance, Training, Administration, Fire Prevention and Emergency Services. This involves the reassignment of some assistant chiefs of the Division.

The Bureau of Maintenance, formerly named the Bureau of Services, will be headed by Assistant Chief Daniel H. Marshall who has previously served for two years as the Chief of Services. Chief Marshall was instrumental in the conversion to diesel powered apparatus from existing gasoline type. He also initiated the perpetual inventory supply system currently in use by the Division.

RECEIVES MEDAL

West Columbus—U.S. Air Force Captain Harry D. Raduege Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dale Raduege Sr., 274 Demorest Ave., has received the Meritorious Service Medal at Croughton RAF Station, England.

Captain Raduege, a communications officer, was cited for his outstanding duty performance with the 2192nd Communications Squadron at Loring AFB, Maine.

He now serves at Croughton with the 2130th Communications Group.

A 1965 graduate of West High School, the captain earned his B.S. degree in mathematics in 1968 from Capital University where he was commissioned in 1970 upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. Captain Raduege is a member of Kappa Sigma Upsilon.

His wife, Julie, is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Hux, 202 S. Sylvan Ave.

Assistant Chief Layson K. White will be in charge of the Bureau of Training. He designed a fire simulator for the Fire Training Academy and a tabletop layout of a crash simulator which is used in training at the airport facility. He has had several books published on fire related subjects.

The Bureau of Administration will be assigned to Assistant Chief Ralph F. Lombard who, in his 35th year of service, has acquired a broad background and knowledge of the fire service which will be valuable in his new post, according to Fadley.

Senior Citizens Here's Action

COTA Registration will continue at the McDowell Center through Wednesday, Jan. 30. To melt away the winter freezes, McDowell is having a glorious Mexican Fiesta Friday, Jan. 25, from 2:30 to 4:30. Mexican food, fun and dances will be part of the program.

Rug Hooking Workshop continues to meet every Monday from 9:30 to 3.

The Golden Dinner Bell is open for delectable lunches Monday through Friday from 11 to 1. Lip reading meets every Tuesday from 10 to 12. Golden-Airs will rehearse from 10 to 12 Wednesday, Jan. 30.

Speaking of music, the O.S.U. School of Opera will present at 2 on Friday, Feb. 1, a very special music program. If you like music, you'll love this program. Come meet the cast and enjoy some refreshments with them.

Care Continues After Hospital Stay

By KATHY DEWANEY

West Columbus—"If a patient has health needs we try to follow through from hospital to home," Pat Connor, R.N., said. Miss Connor is director of continuity of patient care for Mt. Carmel Medical Center and Mt. Carmel East.

The goal of the three-month old program is to give patients uninterrupted care. Mrs. Suzanne Martin, R.N., has discharge planning conferences on a regular basis with each unit within the hospital. All patients are reviewed each week. The only units not included are gynecology, obstetrics and psychiatric.

Those who attend the conference include a representative from the social service department (social worker), the unit dietitian, at least one staff nurse, the unit director who supervises the unit, the coordinator of staff development which provides in-service training to the staff, the sister visitors who give emotional support to patients and anyone else interested in patient care, Mrs. Martin said.

THERE MIGHT BE 23 patients in a unit. All are reviewed with perhaps two or three identified as needing care after their hospital stay. Mrs. Martin then works with the patient and the agencies in the community which will provide the care after the hospital.

Three units a day are scheduled at Mt. Carmel Medical Center. Each unit knows when Mrs. Martin is coming so they are ready for the 20 to 30 minute conference.

"We determine the patients need with the nurses and doctor and then involve the community in aftercare," she said.

This care could include transfer to a nursing home, care at home with the health nurses visiting or referral to another agency such as the kidney foundation, she said.

"MANY NEED SOMETHING here such as dietary counseling. The patient gets what he needs to know before leaving. We keep a record of all aspects of patient care and we always work with the physician. This record of what has been done can then be passed on to the next agency. We can communicate what we've done and what the patient needs so there is no duplication of effort," Mrs. Martin said.

Story Hour Continues

Pre-school story hour continues on a weekly basis at Hilltop Branch of the Columbus Public Library. Activities are planned by Mrs. Claire McLaughlin for youngsters every Thursday from 1:30 to 2:15. Since this year's session began in October there have been filmstrips, lots of good stories and singing games, visits by policemen and, of course, Santa Claus, crafts and a puppet show.

All youngsters between 3 and 5 years of age are welcome to attend. Parents may call 461-6519 to register their child. Hilltop Library is located at 2955 W. Broad Street at the corner of Binn Blvd.

Bishop Ensley To Preach At Parkview

Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, resident leader of the Ohio West Area of the United Methodist churches will preach at Parkview Church, 345 S. Brinker, Feb. 2 at 10 a.m. Bishop Ensley is the spiritual and administrative leader of 1,400 ministers and 400,000 Methodists.

He is the senior active bishop of Methodism at the present time. He was asked to deliver the Episcopal address (comparable to the State of the Union Address) to the 1973 General Conference in Atlanta, Ga.

He is a native Ohioan, the son of a Methodist minister and a nephew of the late Bishop Francis McConnell.

As area leader he has served churches including a very successful pastorate at North Broadway in Columbus. He was a professor of Homiletics and Systematic Theology, Boston University, from which he graduated with the school's highest honors. He is the author of several books and other publications.

In his long period of service, he served the church as a leader in the fields of Social Concerns, Education, Colleges, Ecumenical Affairs and World Council of Churches.

Twelve colleges conferred on him honorary doctor's degrees. He is a 3rd degree Mason.

He was a member of the Methodist Corporation in Washington, D.C. and of the Special Committee to Study the Structure of Methodism, member of the Methodist Committee for conversations with the Roman Catholic Church in the U.S., and member of the International Methodist Committee for conversations with the Roman Catholic Church.

Stiles PTA

Lincoln Village—The Stiles P.T.A. will sponsor a Parent and Family Life Study Group Thursday, Jan. 31, at 10 a.m. in the school's multi-purpose room.

The film "Future Shock" will be shown. The movie is based on Alfred Toffler's best seller about how lives may change in the future.

Mrs. Schwab, counselor, and Mr. Haveter, school psychologist, will be available for discussion.

Kiger To Be Ordained Elder

The Rev. Daniel Kiger, 4780 Arnold Ave., will be ordained as an Elder in the United Methodist Church Sunday, Feb. 3, at 2 p.m. in a special service led by Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, episcopal leader of the West Ohio Conference.

This service of ordination will be held at St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 5200 Sullivan Ave., where Rev. Kiger is in his second year as pastor.

Among those attending the service a number of clergymen from the Lincoln Village Area and the Hilltop will be special guests.

Rev. Kiger is a graduate of Zanesville High School and holds degrees from Princeton University and Harvard Divinity School. Before finishing seminary, Rev. Kiger had considerable experience as student minister in one Congregational church and several United Methodist parishes.

He currently serves as secretary of the Lincoln Village Area Ministers Association.

Board Urges Rescinding Daylight Savings Time

By RANDY SCHWARTZ Staff Writer

Columbus—The Columbus School Board made more progress in its building program at its Jan. 23 regular meeting. The Board also urged the General Assembly to rescind Daylight Savings Time during part of the school year so that the children would not have to walk to school in the dark.

The board urged the General Assembly to rescind Daylight Savings Time during part of the school year in a resolution introduced by board member Thomas Moyer. In the resolution the board also voiced disapproval to a proposed House Bill which would "remove from the school districts in the State of Ohio the authority to set the beginning time of the school day by establishing 9 a.m. as the earliest beginning time for pupils in grades K through eight."

Also in the resolution "we the Columbus Board of Education urge the members of the General Assembly of Ohio and particularly Representatives Bauman, Hale, Hughes, Kopp, Norris, Stinziano and Penbertson, and Senators Gray, O'Shaughnessy and Woodland to oppose H.B. 1044 in its present form and any other bill which may be introduced with a similar purpose."

First on the list of building matters was the Metropolitan Career Center. The board approved plans for the $6.3 million center which is to be located on a 49 acre tract of land at the old Fort Hayes military installation. The initial plans were drawn up by Dan A. Carmichael, architect, and his consultant, C. William Brubaker of Perkins and Will.

The master plan was accepted by the advisory committee for the Metropolitan Career Center before approval was asked. The board also had an opportunity to view the proposed center in detail at its Jan. 15 Committee of the Whole Meeting.

THE FUNDABLE authorizes the Development Office to proceed with bidding for demolition, filling and grading as specified by the Master Plan. It also authorizes Carmichael to proceed with the development of preliminary drawings of Phase I vocational-career projects which is the first building phase of the center.

In another building action the board approved preliminary drawings for remodeling and addition work for the West Broad Elementary School. These drawings were assessed by the West Broad Elementary School Advisory Committee on Educational Program and Facilities.

This authorizes architects, Forward-Harrison Associated, to proceed with the preparation of design development drawings and construction documents for the project.

Part of the West Broad building was built in 1900 and an addition was put on in 1955.

This project includes a two-story addition at the northeastern corner of the building to house four classrooms, a library-learning center with teacher work area, toilets and six small-group instructional spaces.

THE PROJECT also includes renovation of the school's heating and ventilating system, floors and lighting and site-improvement work to provide off-street parking for 46 cars.

IN OTHER ACTION the board approved the appointment of Donald Love as the "Supervisor of Legal Services" for the board. Love will be a full time attorney for the board at an annual salary of $19,000.

In the past the school system has used attorneys from the City Attorney's office for routine legal work. It was explained that services may still be sought by the board from the City Attorney's office but as Ellis said, "this enables us to have someone work consistently with the board."

Love is a former teacher, counselor and administrator in the Pupil Personnel Department for the Columbus School System. He resigned from school service a year ago to enter private practice.

Also approved was the hiring of Mrs. Beverly Gifford who will replace Joe Ashley who resigned last fall as public information director for the board. She will begin work Feb. 11.

The board also approved the purchase of liability insurance for board members. This insurance is a continuation of insurance already subscribed to by the board. The policy was purchased from the Republic-Franklin Insurance Company for $140 per year for the entire board.

Other action passed by the board were routine personnel and finance matters. Editor's Note: Mr. Love did not accept the position as supervisor of legal services.

Waste-Watchers

Change Hours

West Columbus—Westland Waste Watchers have established new winter hours for February. They will be 12-4 p.m. instead of 10-4.

The center was forced to close early Jan. 5 and 12 because of lack of volunteers. Anyone interested in being a volunteer should contact Mrs. Harold Kipper at 578-2020.

Contributors are asked to come only during the hours the center is open.

The Waste Watchers have sent a resolution to the legislature in support of House Bill 859 also known as the "bottle bill." It would ban non-returnable bottles.

Warning Now, Tickets Later

New No Parking Rule Adopted

By KATHY DEWANEY

West Columbus—"No Parking—Public Safety Vehicles Only" lanes have been established around commercial buildings in the township by a resolution passed by the Franklin Township Trustees at their Jan. 21 meeting. This was made possible by passage of section 805.17 of the Ohio Revised Code.

The resolution reads "the township will control parking on private property to provide access to the property by safety vehicles and equipment if the property is used for commercial purposes and parking for more than 10 vehicles is provided. The violator shall be guilty of a minor misdemeanor and fines shall be paid to the township general revenue fund."

The board accepted as part of the resolution plans diagramming the lanes from Westland Shopping Mall, York Steak House, Lincoln Village Lanes, Ontario, Gold Circle, Western Lanes, Three C Lanes and the apartment building at 4150 W. Broad.

Township policemen will be putting warnings on violators' cars for 30 days (after the resolution was passed), the clerk will post the ordinance in five conspicuous public places for the same length of time and the local newspaper will carry stories about the resolution for three weeks.

After the 30 days, citations will be issued.

In other action the board hired Tim Jordan as a firefighter subject to passage of his physical exam and training.

The board accepted specifications and agreed to advertise for bids for a mid-size station wagon and an aerial ladder for the Fire Department and a full size police vehicle for the Police Department. Bids will be opened Monday, Feb. 18.

The board instructed Fire Chief Marvin E. Olney to set up a test in order to establish a firefighter eligibility list. Current volunteers and dispatchers will be given a 10 per cent credit added to their passing grade and veterans will be given a five per cent credit added to their score after a passing grade.

The board adopted the following appropriations for 1974:

$124,330 for the general fund; $87,000 for police; $15,216 for the motor vehicle fund; $37,087 for the gas tax fund; $96,284 for the road and bridge fund; $644,099 for the fire district; and $58,964 for permanent improvements.

Board Chairman Francis Boehm said the township is solvent only do to revenue sharing funds and if they are ever cut off a levy will be necessary to continue or much would have to be cut from the budget.

Mt. Carmel . . .

Volunteers call patients after they leave the hospital to find out how they're doing and if they need anything. They are also asked about the care they received while at Mt. Carmel.

"Ninety-five per cent of the comments are favorable. We are compiling them to send to the units. The unfavorable comments will be evaluated and corrective measures taken where necessary," Miss Connor said.

Continuity of patient care is a seven day a week department. "If you're giving patient service, you don't close on weekends," Miss Connor said.

The six people working with the department have a total of 250 years of service.

R.N., who is a patient

Other members of the staff are Miss Marilyn Nestor, admissions coordinator, Miss Colleen Cheuvront, R.N., patient history coordinator, Mrs. Josephine King, R.N., patient history coordinator, Sister Leo Joseph, C.S.C., R.N., patient history coordinator at Mt. Carmel East and Mrs. Julia Mitchell, coordinator's assistant. Mrs. Rose Forquer and Mrs. Dora Knight are the volunteers who call patients after they leave the hospital.

This department also makes appointments with patients to take their medical history before they are admitted so the care can be coordinated with all health team members who will be working with them.

Modern Classic

At Otterbein

Lungi Pirandello's modern classic, "Six Characters in Search of An Author" will be the next production of the Otterbein College Theatre, opening Feb. 6 and playing Feb. 7, 8 and 9.

As the title implies, the play tells of six imaginary characters, four adults and two children, who belong in a play but are forced into limbo because their author never finished his work.

Anxious that their story be told, they wander into a theatre where a troupe of actors is rehearsing another play and they plead with the director to let their lives be acted out instead.

Curtain time at Otterbein is 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and 8:15 p.m. all other evenings.

Ashburn Youth Go To Dayton

WEST COLUMBUS—Jan. 19 the Senior Basketball Team coached by Jerry Francis, departed from the J. Ashburn Jr. Youth Center to play the West Dayton Boy's Club. A total of 60 people left on two buses which included team members, supervisors and primarily youth from the Center. The final score between the two ball clubs was Dayton 77 and Ashburn Jr. Seniors 48. Leading scorers for the team were Phoney Chapman-22 points; Kenny Dawson-14 points; Jerry Neal-4 points; Ray Stevenson-4 points; Shelby Bradley-3 points; and Iras Mitchell-3 points. Even with the team losing, it was still a very worthwhile trip because it enabled the Center and team to be exposed to outside participation, recognition of Center activities, an enrichment of knowledge and a chance to see how other Centers function to serve youth during their growth and development stage, an opportunity for youth of the Ashburn Jr. Youth Center to have an outing of a different nature other than daily scheduled Center activities and a chance to meet and establish a friendly relationship with other people. All team members and youth from the center prepare for departure, they flash the number one sign to hopes that they will be victorious over Dayton.

15 Young People Baptized

WEST COLUMBUS—Sunday, Dec. 2, was an eventful day for 15 young people of the Westgate United Methodist Church. For two months under the leadership of Pastor Delbert H. Krumm and Youth Minister Bob Mahaffey these 15 young people received special instruction and training in the Christian faith. All were baptized and received as members of the church during the morning worship service. Members of the class as shown above are (first row, left to right) Judy Buschko, Steve Barden, Duane Pool, Jesse Doty; (second row) Cyndy Young, Kathy Emmons, Laura Helms, Diana Hagans, Debbie Propper, Deanna Pool; (third row) Youth Minister Bob Mahaffey, Donk Grant, Dawane Kenney, Dale Thomas, Mike Simpson, Keith Harrison and Pastor Delbert H. Krumm.

Humanization Party At State Institute

A 17-foot high birthday cake towered over the humanization birthday party at Columbus State Institute, one of the six state institutions for the mentally retarded Jan. 24.

Humanization is a program designed by the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to eliminate aspects of institutional life which may have a dehumanizing effect on residents. The program is now entering its third year. Birthday parties were held at the state's 29 facilities for the mentally ill and mentally retarded during the week of January 20-26, declared by Governor John J. Gilligan as Humanization Week.

The party at Columbus

State Institute had a circus theme with balloon and candy vendors and booths where the residents tried their skill at winning prizes. Each resident was given tickets to spend at the booths.

Attending the party, one of several humanization parties held for groups of residents at the institution, were Dr. Roger M. Gove, commissioner of the Division of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities; Joe Auberger, acting assistant commissioner; Harold Buswell, executive director of the Franklin County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board; and Mary Flanagan, district manager for the division's district which includes Franklin County.

Feb. 3-9 Dental Health Week

WEST COLUMBUS—Feb. 3-9 is the 20th Annual Children's Dental Health Week. As part of the observance, Columbus Public School dental hygienists Miss Denise Dietrich explains proper brushing to Valleyview Elementary School second graders Tina Miller and Timmy Lee, pupils of Mrs. Sandra Phelps. Three dental hygienists serve all elementary schools, working with second grade and fourth grade classes throughout the year. Dental hygienists Mrs. Frances Bascom and Mrs. Loral Chester also work as part of the instructional team. Effective dental health is taught through a plaque control program, a flossing program and activities ranging from puppet shows to poster-alignment contests, according to Mrs. Bascom, chairman.

Elected PRSA Treasurer

WEST COLUMBUS—Charles D. Stokes (right), 664 Crescent, has been elected treasurer of the Central Ohio Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America (PRSA), a national 7,000-member organization of public relations practitioners. Stokes is public relations director of Scioto Downs, Inc. Shown with him are the chapter's other new officers (left to right) President Harry E. Hamilton, director of corporate communications, Nationwide Insurance; Vice President John T. Vance, vice president, Paul Worth Associates, Inc.; and Secretary Donald F. Connell, publications division manager, Marathon Oil Company.

Citizen Commended

Monday, Chief of Police Earl Burden presented a commendation to Dennis Nobel, 29, for his assistance to the police in a recent unarmed robbery.

Nobel, while on duty as an employee of a local taxi-cab company, observed a lady being robbed by two men. He immediately notified his dispatcher and without regard for his personal safety, gave chase. Although the two subjects managed to escape, Nobel was able to recover the purse with all items intact.

Nobel's actions in this incident are most noteworthy and deserve the recognition and appreciation of the citizens of Columbus, as well as the entire Division of Police, Burden said.

Westminster College Plans Meeting

Central Ohio alumni, parents and friends of Westminster College will have a special "localised" treat at a dinner meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1, at the Holiday Inn at Ohio State University, West Lane Ave., according to Howard E. Frisbee, 1951 graduate and chairman of the event.

The program includes "An Historical Perspective," a 25-minute slide show with narrations prepared by Susan Swager, a 1973 Westminster graduate from Columbus, now residing and teaching in Zanesville. Miss Swager prepared the historical overview of Westminster during her senior year, and it has received enthusiastic reviews from a number of area alumni clubs, according to Raymond G. Preston, director of alumni affairs.

Preston will also report briefly on the college at the meeting. Roger N. Campbell, head Titan wrestling coach and former Worthington High school coach in 1965-66, also will be representing the college at the event.

Reservations for the dinner should be made with Frisbee, 2225 Shrewsbury R., Columbus, 43221. He also invites all attending the dinner to come early for pre-dinner fellowship.

Drill Team Organizing

The Columbus All-City Drill Team will hold tryouts semi-annually. Interested parties may contact the organization at 237-7763 after 6 p.m. weekdays or anytime Saturday.

Applications are available by calling the number. Applications must be in by Saturday, Feb. 9.

The group will consist of 20 regular members and five alternates. Age requirements are for girls in junior high or senior high.

Each girl will be interviewed individually before attending the clinics to fill out an application and acceptance sheet. There will be no fee for the tryouts. Four clinics will be held before the tryouts in order to teach the applicants a tryout dance and marching procedure. Three of the clinics must be attended and the last one is optional.

The girls will be judged on their appearance, poise, coordination and ability to perform the dance, kicks and memorization, also on their individual marching skill.

After the formation of this drill team, the group will be available to perform at benefits, dinners, festivals, fairs, parades, football and basketball games, etc.

Ad Class Offered

The Columbus Public Schools, Department of Adult Education will conduct an advertising class at the Adult Education and School Services Center, 33 Starling St., for three weeks, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon. The class will start Feb. 11.

Major emphasis will be stressed in the areas of radio and television advertising; other aspects will include direct mail, newspaper and magazine media.

The class will be especially helpful for persons in small businesses or for those who plan to enter the business field; however, any person 17 years of age or older and not enrolled in a regular school may attend.

A $5 fee is charged for participants. Information concerning registration may be obtained by calling the Department of Adult Education at 235-2640.

Telomian Dog Club To Meet

The Penzyang Chapter of the Telomian Dog Club will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 6 in the home of Ralph Haiman, 311 Styler Rd.

The public is invited to attend. Members will fill in a questionnaire on their Telomian to help in determining standards and traits for the breed as part of the necessary requirements in seeking A.K.C. recognition. Plans for future meetings and projects will also be discussed.

Six piebald Telomian puppies will be available from the BGSU Canine Department at the end of February. These are the club's waiting list will have first choice of these rare Malaysian dogs. Another litter should be available in March.

'They Can't Read!'

THE TROUBLE is - "they can't read!" It seems to be a chronic complaint of parents, teachers and employers about current young people, and it may be anybody's or nobody's fault.

Ohio Dominican College - already last winter and spring - offered a Reading Clinic at nominal cost, which came about because of a mother's inquiry about reading classes to help high school students.

OHIO DOMINICAN again this year, beginning Feb. 13, will conduct its highly successful Reading Clinic for high school students who have reading problems and who, themselves, wish to improve their reading skills. No student should be forced by parents, teachers or counselors to participate. Enrollment must be his decision, and his alone.

He must be willing to spend the time, effort and self-discipline to participate wholeheartedly during the two-hour sessions, weekly for six weeks.

THE PROGRAM at Ohio Dominican is not geared toward those with severe physical or emotional handicaps.

The program is based on personal contact, individualized so that participants work in groups of not more than five students with similar reading problems with Ohio Dominican College student tutors, supervised by Mrs. Mary Jo Myers, M.A., fulltime faculty member of the ODC English Department.

THE PLAN stresses intense work in word recognition including use of contextual clues and phonetic and structural analysis and meaning comprehension on the literal, interpretive and critical levels.

IT'S A SHAME that the program, which obviously could benefit so many high school students of today must be limited to 25 participants, but that is the number which readily can be accommodated in the individual, personalized fashion of the ODC Reading Clinic.

Perhaps if the demand were great enough, Ohio Dominican would set up more such clinics. We hope so.

THE IMPORTANT thing is that students with reading problems be made aware of the existence of the Reading Clinic at Ohio Dominican College, so they can decide whether or not they need the additional assistance to further ensure their success in present and future education and in life.

Wouldn't it be great if we never again heard the remark "They can't read!"?

Non Smokers Have Rights, Too!

THIS JANUARY marks the second year that the Central Ohio Lung Association, formerly the Tuberculosis Society, was the sponsor of local efforts for the National Education Week on Smoking and Health.

"Non-smokers have rights too!" was the theme of the nationally observed week which began January 11 and continued through Jan. 17. The opening date marks the tenth anniversary of the U.S. Surgeon General's report which linked cigarette smoking with major health problems such as cancer, heart and lung diseases.

THE PURPOSE of this year's campaign is to emphasize that non-smokers have a right to breathe clean air and to influence smokers to show greater consideration for those who do not smoke by restricting their habit in public places.

The Central Ohio Lung Association has planned several activities to point up the non-smokers rights theme. Riverside Methodist Hospital was given a special plaque in recognition of their exemplary efforts to protect the rights of its non-smoking patients, employees and visitors. Riverside is the only area hospital to institute restricted smoking policies. The award was presented January 11, marking the beginning of the national week.

Letters and informational packets have been sent to other area hospitals urging them to adopt similar restricted smoking policies.

THE CENTRAL Ohio Lung Association is offering small tent cards printed with the words "thank you for not smoking" for use in offices and homes. Call the association at 222-6704 and the cards will be mailed to you.

As part of the continuing smoking efforts of the Association, legislation is being readied by the Ohio Lung Association and affiliates to present to the State Legislature.

The proposed bill would be a similar one to that passed in Arizona prohibiting smoking in public places.

EDUCATIONAL anti-smoking programs in the schools, through live smoking demonstrations has long been a part of the agency's effort. In the upcoming year a special elementary school health curriculum project will be initiated with a major focus placed on smoking education.

The Smoking Education Week nationally centered on obtaining widespread recognition for a "Please don't smoke" symbol representing the rights of the non-smoker and the introduction of a three point statement drawn up by the National Interagency Council on Smoking and Health, known as the "Non-Smoker's Bill of Rights."

"NON-SMOKERS can protect the health, comfort and safety of everyone," the document states, by insisting on (1) the right to breathe clean air, free from harmful and irritating tobacco smoke; (2) the right to express their discomfort and to object when smokers light up without asking permission; and (3) the right to act through legislative channels or social pressures to restrict smoking in public places.

THE CENTRAL Ohio Lung Association hopes that the efforts made and initiated during National Education Week on Smoking and Health will serve as the impetus for continuous programs which assert the rights of the non-smoker and seek the cooperation of the smoker in respecting them.

Because recent reports by the Surgeon General have stated that tobacco smoke can result in various allergic symptoms and serious discomfort among those who are exposed to atmosphere polluted by smokers, the Lung Association is attempting to make non-smokers aware of the hazards that smoke presents.

THOSE WHO suffer from lung or heart ailments can suffer harmful effects from inconsiderate smokers. It is time for all non-smokers to realize that they constitute a two to one majority in relation to smokers. Non-smokers should express themselves more in words and actions to establish that their rights have priority over those of smokers, where these rights conflict.

Venereal Disease 'Hotline' Goes In Effect February 4

YOUNG PEOPLE will soon be able to pick up a phone, dial a number and find answers to their questions about the subject of Venereal Disease.

A.V.D. Hotline project, jointly sponsored by the Columbus Area Community Mental Health Center and the United Community Council, will become operational February 4, according to Kay Mason, spokesman for the twelve-member Planning and Implementation Team for the Hotline.

The telephone Hotline will be directed toward young adults, since Health Department statistics show that the incidence of Venereal Disease, second only to the common cold, has exceeded epidemic proportions among youth 14 to 17 years of age.

Yet teenagers are seldom able to freely discuss their fears of the disease with adults, and seek help if they suspect that they have it.

THE HOTLINE phones will be manned by teen volunteers who have been specially trained by the Columbus Health Department to answer general questions about Venereal Disease and give information where medical help can be obtained. The caller need not give a name, and any information will be kept in strictest confidence.

A second aim of the project is to educate the total community to the seriousness of the disease.

SINCE V.D. can strike unborn babies, middle-aged, teens, the married and unmarried alike, Hotline Publicity Committee, headed by Sharon DeBord of WOOL Radio, will use every possible educational device to convince individuals that they must know for sure whether or not they are victims. Venereal Disease is treatable by a physician; if untreated, blindness can result. Or insanity. Or death.

But it doesn't have to be like that! With the cooperation of newspapers, radio and television stations, business organizations and schools, the Hotline campaign may help to radically reduce the incidence of Venereal Disease in the Columbus area.

The V.D. Hotline (263-6662) will be in operation from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of every week beginning February 4.

How To Submit Your News Item For Publication

IT'S EASIER than apple pie to get your news item in the community news pages of The Spectator Newspapers.

Unlike some other weekly papers The Spectator Newspapers does not assess any kind of a monetary charge for news items and photos.

The steps are very simple:
CALL US FIRST at 274-1155 if you have any questions about the news item you intend to submit.

DEADLINES

The deadline for all news items and photos for possible publication in the following Wednesday issue is the Monday noon prior to that issue. Naturally, we would like your item sooner if possible since, if everyone waits until that Monday noon deadline, it would not be possible to have the type set and the story made ready for the issue.

THE EDITOR reserves the right to edit all articles submitted, however, if we drastically question any part of your article you will be called for clarification.

News items can be mailed to The Spectator Newspapers, 3421 South Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio, 43204, or brought to the office that is in the Great Western Shopping Center.

Our telephone number is 274-1155. If one of the editors is not in when you call, please leave your name and number and your call will be returned as soon as possible.

ALTHOUGH we like to have our news items typewritten it is not necessary. However, please use a sheet of 8 1/2 x 11 white paper if at all possible and print the proper names legibly. Please include your name, address and telephone number on your notice in case we need to call you for clarification of any of the information submitted.

For identification purposes news items should be directed to the following persons:

Spectator West - Kathy Devaney. This newspaper covers the areas of West Columbus from about Central High School all the way west to New Rome. It includes school districts of Columbus West, Franklin Heights, Bishop Ready and Westland.

Spectator East - Elsie Weaver. This newspaper covers the area of East Columbus from the Reynoldsburg city limits East to Whitehall and as far southeast as Eastland Joint Vocational Center, then includes all of Whitehall and Bexley and West to about the 800 block of East Broad Street. It includes school districts of Walnut Ridge, Bishop Hartley, Columbus East, Eastmoor, Whitehall, Groveport, St. Charles, Bexley, Eastland Joint Vocational Center, Ohio Dominican and Capital and Franklin Universities.

Reynoldsburg Spectator - Ray Adams. This newspaper covers the community of Reynoldsburg and some of Brice, all of Truro Township, and Reynoldsburg School District, Reynoldsburg students who attend Bishop Hartley High School and St. Pius X Elementary School.

Worthington Spectator - Ray Adams. This newspaper covers the community of Worthington, Worthington and Watterson School Districts and Otterbein College.

WE PREFER NEWS for these papers be directed to the individual editors.

ALL PAPERS ITEMS

If you have an item that you would like to have in all four papers such as an item of a broad nature such as a community festival, a club meeting that includes members from all areas, or the like, direct it to Ray Adams. We will make every effort to print your notice as space permits.

PHOTOS

We prefer to do our own photography. However, if you submit a photo for publication, it must be of a good quality for us to reproduce. We prefer 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 glossy prints. Polaroids are NOT generally of a good enough quality to reproduce in our process. PLEASE - no color photos. And - if you want your news photo returned send a stamped self-addressed envelope.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS

THERE IS NO charge for having your engagement or wedding photo printed in any Spectator Newspaper. We prefer glossy prints either 8 x 10 or 5 x 7, and black and white if possible. We cannot guarantee the reproduction of color prints. Your engagement or wedding photo should be sent to us as soon as the announcement is made. Wedding photos, if possible, should be submitted to us in time for use in the publication following the wedding, or at least no later than a week afterwards.

IF YOU would like one of our engagement or wedding announcement forms please send your name and address to the specified editor of the newspaper as mentioned earlier in this story.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WE WELCOME letters to the editor that pertain to community items of interest to the various communities involved. All letters must be original, exclusive to The Spectator Newspapers, and the writer must sign name, address and phone number if there should be any reason to clarify any portion of your letter. They should be brief (no more than 250 words, please) and if you wish your name withheld we will consider this request provided that in the letter there is no matter that offends someone directly through language use or innuendoes.

REMEMBER, this is your newspaper to relay information of your club or organization, or to report a happening which you think might be of interest to us.

Thanks, and good news to everyone.

Ohio's Divorce Laws Will Be Reformed By New Bill

THE OHIO HOUSE of Representatives has approved a bill authored by local State Representative Alan E. Norris, designed to reform Ohio's divorce laws.

Under the reform, Rep. Norris said, a couple could gain a divorce without the traditional antagonistic legal proceedings if both parties agreed upon the divorce, child custody, property settlement, child support, and alimony.

"THIS REFORM provides for strengthened reconciliation procedures by the courts, and better prenuptial counseling by youthful marriage applicants," Norris said.

"Most important," he added, "if either party in the proceeding objects, the divorce must be settled in court under traditional procedures and safeguards."

The reform, according to Norris, also includes guidelines for child support and alimony payments "to assure people are treated fairly under the law, and to assure that we minimize the current wide variations in these awards."

TO RECEIVE the uncontested divorce, the parties would have to initially sign a written agreement and file a joint petition seeking to dissolve the marriage. Both would later reaffirm it in open court.

The reaffirmation would occur after the court has conducted a child custody investigation and the court would then pass on the fairness of the agreement's terms.

"WITH ONE in three marriages now ending in divorce, our divorce system is touching an increasing number of Ohio's citizens, who will no longer tolerate its dehumanizing features."

This bill will repeal seemingly archaic provisions of our divorce laws, while at the same time attempting to protect the family unit through reconciliation procedures and better preparing our young people for marriage," Rep. Norris concluded.

Better Business Bureau Elects Officers, Board

Melvin E. Tharp, Vice President, The Dispatch Printing Company, was elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees at the 53rd annual membership meeting of the Better Business Bureau of Central Ohio, Inc., held at the Jai Lai Restaurant Jan. 17.

Tharp has served on the Board of Trustees since May 18, 1961.

Williams, Consultant, Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., as Secretary-Treasurer; David C. Washburn, Certified Public Accountant, as Assistant Treasurer; Edward L. Hughes as President and General Manager.

Newly elected to serve on the Board of Trustees were the following: L.J. Henry, Resident Controller, Fisher Body Division, General Motors Corporation; Jack B. Smith, Owner, Smith's Framer Meats and Locker; Frank Steger, Vice President - Group Insurance, The Midland Mutual Life Insurance Company; Frank H. Wesner, General Manager, Southern Ohio Sales Division, Whirlpool Corporation; J.F. Pomraning, Columbus Group Manager, Sears, Roebuck and Company; Earl Bradley, Owner, The Place Upholsters; William J. Curnow, retired; Ralph G. Hockman, Executive Secretary-Treasurer, Columbus Franklin County AFL-CIO; Ruth Hope Marshall, Assistant Professor, School of Home Economics, The Ohio State University; Ronald V. Patton, Sr., Vice President and General Manager, Gibraltar Publishing Company; Dr. William E. Smith, Senior Minister, North Broadway United Methodist Church; Fred Sweet, Manager, Consumer Service, O.M. Scott & Sons.

Charles W. Dozer.

Executive Vice President-Secretary and Director, The Scioto Savings Association, was honored as the retiring Chairman of the Board of Trustees and presented a plaque and Resolution of Thanks for his service to the Better Business Bureau since March 17, 1954.

Hughes reported that for the seventh consecutive year the Better Business Bureau handled over 60,000 incidents of service in 1973.

There were 49,712 inquiries, 19,784 customer relations, and 5,003 complaints. 16,490 monthly Beacons were distributed and 17,512 Bureau pamphlets mailed to consumers and business firms.

There were 866 radio spots, 25 TV tapes, and 36 newspaper stories concerning the Better Business Bureau in 1973. Bureau executives spoke before 123 different groups last year.

Hughes thanked the 1,361 members, Board of Trustees, and Officers for making the above services possible free of charge to consumers and business firms in Central Ohio.

Convention Bureau Changes Names, Elects 1974 Officers

AT ITS Annual Meeting last week, Columbus Convention and Visitors Bureau, Inc. made public its new name and elected officers for 1974.

Roy A. Stage, former Bureau President, was elevated to Chairman of the Board. Others elected are Vice Chairmen William H. Brown, Hertz Rent-A-Car; Francis R. Huntington, Huntington National Bank and Henry I. Orringer, Christopher Inn.

Evan E. Williams, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company was named Treasurer and Robert W. Bashor was appointed President.

New Board members are Melvin G. Circle, Stouffer's University Inn; Sidney A. Small, American Airlines; J. David Ryan, Columbus Auto Club; Larry K. Walker, Sheraton-Columbus Motor Hotel and John A. Logan of Ohio Bell.

IN A MEETING following the election Stage presented current and long range Bureau plans related to availability of the Ohio Center complex on the present Penn Central site and highlighted marketing projects proposed for promotion of the new convention facility.

Stage in commenting on the new name of the organization indicated that the future programs of the Bureau will encompass development of individual visitors and their families as well as convention groups, noting that tourist dollars will grow and can add appreciably to the city's economy.

Robert W. Bashor, President, expects 1974 to be a respectable convention year for Columbus because of its center-of-State location, excellent highways, train and air service. The advantage of reaching Ohio's Capital from most Ohio points on less than a tank of gasoline will aid in keeping Columbus' 1974 convention business active, he said.

COLUMBUS convention attendance in 1973 exceeded the previous year and delegates again contributed over $27,000,000 to the city's economy.

Final figures will be available later as a part of a national survey being conducted by the International Association of Convention Bureaus. The schedule for the early part of 1974 is strong but the uncertainties and restrictions haunting all industries are casting a shadow on the year as a whole. Obviously since travel and transportation are so much a part of convention activity we are vitally concerned with the degree of restriction and until there is further clarification we cannot estimate effects on the year in total.

HOWEVER, our study of probabilities and reactions of convention authorities indicate several favorable factors and attitudes that prompt a degree of optimism. Basically, the vast majority of conventions are working and business sessions and delegates attend to learn.

Problems relating to conditions in 1974 can readily result in more meetings than normal, many called on short notice, to discuss ways and means of handling the vastly changed trends that will surely be a part of the 1974 experience.

Location of meetings will undoubtedly be closer home and duration of meetings may be shorter.

COLUMBUS is favored with center-of-State location, excellent highways in all directions, fine delegate facilities and reasonable prices. Columbus has never had the unglamorous label of a "tank town" but today we don't being called a "one tank town" - less than a tank of gas will get you here from most anywhere in the State and that is a unique advantage for our city.

DELEGATES can "pool" rides, use the bus, air or train - they can still get here with no major problems. We will probably see more "night-before" arrivals, too, to permit more time in meetings - to get more done. Start-at-noon schedules will be few and far between.

We think you will see those interested in the tourism and travel business promoting a stay-close-to-home program with vacationers learning, many for the first time, that there is lots to see and fun to be had in their own State. Columbus and Ohio have points of interest still undiscovered by many. It is not unlikely that many delegates will combine convention attendance with an "extender" to take care of the family vacation on the same single trip - and at a lower cost.

Distant lush resorts are reported to be experiencing cancellations because of travel problems - a situation we do not expect to see here.

OUR BUREAU'S marketing effort this year will emphasize promotion to Ohio organizations and regional groups in adjoining states and we expect to be in direct contact with every major Ohio association executive soon to let them know "one tank" or less will get them here - and in many cases with enough left over to get them back home.

We are still anxious for a larger share of the 8 billion dollar U.S. convention market and want Columbus to have more of the reported 31,500 state and regional meetings held each year. The year 1974 will be an interesting one for the convention industry with a number of problems but we approach it with cautious optimism and the belief that these can be minimized or circumvented to provide respectable results for the year as a whole.

Energy Savers Take Notice

The old saying, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today" applies to our current energy shortage. We've been putting off energy conservation in many ways. The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency urges you to begin today to consider your demands on our limited energy supplies and to conserve energy whenever possible. Don't put it off - do it today.

Restaurants

Offer Values
After attending a press briefing conducted by Edward J. Harman, president of the National Restaurant Association and Dave Beck, president of the Ohio State Restaurant Association, I discovered that eating out is one of the best consumer's buys today. Harman pointed out that a restaurant meal is a better buy today than in 1967.

August of 1973 showed an increase of at-home food prices of 18.3 per cent compared to only 3.8 per cent for food purchased in a restaurant.

Harman said that restaurant sales in Ohio showed a 17 per cent gain for 1973, with about 8 per cent of this gain due to inflation.

Food service operators are highly motivated to hold the line on prices because price is a volatile issue with restaurant customers. Cutting quality is widely viewed as self defeating, according to Harman.

He further explained the industry is becoming more creative, and is doing a better job of merchandising entrees that can be served for lower costs. Also, the industry has discovered that serving a smaller portion is not upsetting most customers.

So, it's like I have been telling you, not only will you enjoy yourself by dining out, for a family of two, three and even four, it is really cheaper. Also, according to Dave Beck, dining out saves energy, because more meals can be prepared by a restaurant, than each of you doing the same thing at home.

Dine out, have fun, save money and energy too. Here are two fine places to dine out this week Around Town, The Kingswood Inn Motel and Farrell's Ice Cream Parlour.

exquisite. So is the food. My hat is off to George Dill, his entire staff, and of course a special honor to Bill Bell. It all happens at the Kingswood Inn Motel. To me dining there is not a treat, it is an epicurean experience.

Ice Cream-Capades

Bang! Siam! Blast! Fanfare!

Sirens wail, drums beat, trumpets blare, people sing and shout. No, it is not the Eighth Wonder of the world, a Cecil B. DeMille premiere or a Woody Hayes team scoring another touchdown. It's another giant Zoo Sundae being raced through the crowd to my table, at Farrell's Ice Cream Parlour Restaurant. It is so wild you have to see it to believe it. That's true for both the Zoo Sundae and Farrell's Ice Cream Parlour.

A safari of singing, shouting waiters accompany the Zoo to my table. It is so big that it took two men to carry it. Their knees practically sag under the nine flavors of Farrell's ice cream, five toppings, immense portions of cherries, almonds and bananas. Served in a silver bowl, the Zoo is sight that you have never seen before, no matter where you have traveled in this world.

The several hundred customers in the parlour were almost speechless when they saw this huge ice cream sundae. Designed to serve eight to ten people, my party of three hardly made a dent in it. And, it was so good, you just couldn't put it down. This is true with all of the Farrell's ice cream dishes.

Farrell's is a happy explosion of pre-planned spontaneity from the minute you walk in the door. It lasts long after you leave the place. Everything about Farrell's spells fun and excitement.

Just reading the menu is fun. Try a Tropical Delight, a Scooper Double Double Soda, a Gibson Girl and many other items, including the flagship of Farrell's fleet of fantastic fountain fantasies, The American Beauty Banana Split.

Though Farrell's is famous for ice cream, nearly half of its business is food, fabulous fares from a hungry giant's Gastronomic delicatessen, epicurean delight to a kiddie's Hangerberg Samich.

Farrell's offers a bit of nostalgia, Tiffany Lamps, cushioned Bentwood chairs, Gibson Girls, player pianos and barbershop songs, straw skimmers and red-vested singing waiters all combine to give the customer a happy, fun feeling at Farrell's. Farrell's is an eye-popping world of fantasy, for young and old. In fact, when you walk out, you'll feel like a kid again. That's Farrell's Ice Cream Parlour.

Skipping Around Town

This is the final week for the McCalmont Express at the Holiday Inn-OSU. This is one fine group that I feel you will enjoy. Leader Judy McCalmont is a singer's singer. In the first floor lounge, The Middlemen are founding out the last week also. The Holiday Inn-OSU is the place to go for fun, excitement and good food. I enjoyed a fine meal the other night at the Dell Restaurant. The singing waiters and waitresses are a real treat. Their music blend in well with the atmosphere and the food. While I was there rather early, I know you will have a ball even later in the evening.

Heart Drive Kickoff Feb. 1

Royalty, Rosebowl football heroes, the East High School Marching Band, the O.S.U. track team and Governor John J. Gilligan will help the Central Ohio Heart Chapter kick off its fund-raising campaign Friday, Feb. 1, at the Statehouse. Honorary chairman for the campaign is Coach Woody Hayes. Highlighting the event will be the crowning of a Heart prince and princess, two youngsters who have fully recovered from heart surgery. Governor Gilligan will read his proclamation declaring February as Heart Month and the track team will carry the symbolic torch around the statehouse. The celebration is slated to begin at 12:15 p.m.

During February several fund-raising events have been scheduled.

A Valentine's concert at the Ohio Theatre Feb. 14 will benefit the Heart Fund. P.D.Q. Bach, billed as an "evening of musical madness," will begin his antics at 8:30 p.m. Juillard graduate Peter Schickole is the pianist and P.D.Q. Bach is the zany, imaginary composer he created.

Tickets may be purchased through the Central Ticket Office for $2, $4.50 and $6.

BILLY BROWN
featuring SAMANTHA LEE
APPEARING NIGHTLY
WESTERN MOTELS

LINCOLN LODGE 4950 W BROAD

Billy Brown is performing at the Lincoln Lodge 4950 W. Broad. For a one man act Billy Brown has to be about the best in Columbus.

His performance is a gem with earthy jokes and banter with the audience. He has a "collection of many Country and Blue Songs written in the last 30 years."

In 1959 Billy Brown did the original recording of "He'll Have To Go" for Columbia Records. It rose to No. 1 in many cities but according to Brown of this time Jim Reeves also recorded it in the same style and Reeves recording became one of the biggest Country Hits ever.

Billy Brown's Country Western Singer and Outlaw from Florida has been engaged for a six week contract at Lincoln Lodge.

He is drawing the largest crowds to the Lounge since it started with the Billy Brown Show entertaining with the up-town Country - Western Sound. Brown's newest record has just been released on Big M Records "Thank You Darling" and "Country Boy" Brown performance features versatility, personality and ad-lib humor in addition to a repertoire which includes wedding, impersonations of Johnny Cash, Elvis Presley, Gene Autry, Eddie Arnold, Charlie Rich and Walter Brennan. He sings "Cool Clear Water" in the style of various singers.

For an enjoyable and relaxing evening filled with pleasant fun, the Lounge at Lincoln Lodge is recommended.

Title Hopefuls Face Week Of Decision

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer

It all started last November, in that sweaty high school gym, those title aspirations that we are talking about. And oh how everyone spoke carefully, but smugly confident about having some shot at that league title.

Well, it's not autumn anymore, no leaves on the trees, it even gets cold outside once in a while. But the major difference now, is only a couple of those championship dreamers are still in the thick of things, for how long, next week may just tell.

Amateur Boxers Rated

Six Columbus Amateur Boxers were rated in the top 10 of the United States Amateur Boxers and Coaches Association National ratings which were released recently.

Pete Seward, 147; James Kenty, 132; Richard Rozelle, 112, retained their number 1 ratings, all three were rated number 1 for the preceding rating period.

Other Columbus boxers rated were: Lloyd Allen, 119, number 4; Vonzell Johnson, 165, number 5; Forrest Winchester, 125, number 8; Steve Hughes, 156, number 9. Ray Leonard, 138 lbs., Palmer Park, Maryland was selected to receive the TOP BOXER AWARD for the rating period.

YES, ITS down where the going gets tough and if the tough don't get going, they'll get going in another direction, probably right out of the door, not even getting the faintest whiff of that title treasure.

There is that famed City League circuit, still in doubt of course, and now it looks like the best shot for the marbles may belong to co-leaders Mohawk and Northland.

Northland fresh from its 70-71 season of Eastmoor and Mohawk healthy after its 51-70 laugher. North now has only a pair of losses each. That Eastmoor loss now drops the titles hopes of the Warriors far behind unless, well unless the old unexpected comes and plays a little trick on us.

THEN IT could be really messy up front in the GL as three losses constituting a crown could possibly have four teams involved. It's not likely that Mohawk has plans for any more losses as the Indians prepare for West Friday night while Northland takes on lowly North.

The Ohio Capital Conference is a bit more interesting if you like "maybes, should ohs and would ohs" as Whitehall had to survive a Westerville scare last week before subduing the Cats 60-41.

THAT GIVES the Rams a half game spread over Mt. Vernon, a narrow 66-55 victor over improving Reynoldsburg. Even though Mt. Vernon will take it easy at Delaware Friday, those Yellow Jackets can't forget that make-up game with third place Worthington, a clever six-point victor over Gahanna last week, that takes place in the homey town of Mt. Vernon Tuesday, Feb. 6.

And don't think for one minute that these Pat Manion coached Worthington cagers think that they are out of title contention with only three losses compared to two each for front runner Whitehall and trailer Mt. Vernon. A Worthington victory at Mt. Vernon and a Whitehall slip could jumble things three ways in this funny OCC.

THE TOUGH did come through in the clutch for Whitehall, Terry Brurris canning an important third point play in the last period sparking the Rams over frisky Westerville.

"What you need at this point of the season is someone coming off of the bench and doing a good job like Wayne (Buck) did last week," were the words of Whitehall mentor Russ Gregg. Russ, with Terry Brurris, who needs sub?

While the other two big leagues continue to fight it out how about the class AA dominated Central Catholic League and those fighting St. Charles cagers? Watterson turned out to be not as invincible as all thought as St. Charles turned a quick 66-61 number on the flying Eagles (grounded perhaps) and tightened up that CCL race up a bit.

NEXT WEEK Watterson tries to regroup at DeSales while St. Charles goes to Ready and Weir to Hartley. Hartley with only two losses, gets another shot at Watterson, trying to shake that title run up a bit.

Most likely to win the classic of all classic pre-season statements is Bexley boss Gene Millard. The classy former Ohio State cage star didn't figure his Lions to have much of a chance in the Mid-Ohio dogfight this season, a rebuilding year for Bexley's roundball program.

Well, you guessed it, the swift Lions a narrow but good as gold winner over Urbana last week now share that top slot with Urbana.

And its probably a combination of things that make these Bexleyans go, starting with senior captain Marc Abramson, a smooth Millard like floor general.

Mark Liefeld, not towering at 6-4, roams inside, cashing for 17 against Urbana while unexpected help from Phil Wright come in handy, 19 points of it last week, to round things out.

OTHER STARS of note last week on the high school scene included Brian Stertzer, 19 points, Steve Manning 12 and Pete Liptrap 14 in Eastmoor's losing cause and Hilton Hale for a super performance, 32 points worth, for his East playmates in their pounding of troubled Walnut Ridge.

Catholic League breadwinners where Mark Hausfeld and Tim Carlisle in St. Charles' suprier and Ron White and Mike Gilliland for their neat play in Hartley's win over Ready.

Special OCCers include Ed Williams of Reynoldsburg with 20 points and Don Brough with 20 in helping save the day for Worthington. Greg Spellman was sure as ever with 20 for Westland, while Bill Besaleki and Benton Teddie helped Burris clip Westerville.

SHORTS-A recently released list of Who's Who in National High School Athletics includes JOHN BOGANWRIGHT of Columbus' North High...BEWARE, for tournament fever is on its way.

Capital Basketball

While Capital University was dropping a 66-43 decision at Wittenberg Wednesday night, heads were being turned watching the performance of Cap's muscular 6-3 senior forward Denny Dickensheets.

"He's 6-3 playing like 6-4," said one Columbus sportswriter in Springfield for the game. Dickensheets, who came to Cap from Troy via Assumption Junior College in North Dakota, poured in 29 points, had nine rebounds and handed out three assists. The 210 pounder did that while having to sit out half of the game's first 20 minutes in foul trouble.

When Dickensheets finally fouled out with less than two minutes remaining, he received a standing ovation from the heady Wittenberg

Crusaders also got a 19-point performance from Cass Caslin and 13 rebounds from sophomore center Tommy James, but Wittenberg's balanced attack (three in double figures) and a 48 per cent shooting night proved to be enough. Capital has now lost three games by a total of eight points.

The Crusaders, 4-1 in the OAC and in second place with Muskingum (although the Muskies are 5-1), now must take on tall and Mount Union on the Cap floor Saturday night. Mount, 5-3 in the loop, handed highly-regarded Marietta (3-3) a 20-point setback Wednesday as the Purple Raiders have put together their best ball in eight years since the beginning of January.

Canadian Hockey Club Visiting

Arriving in Columbus on Friday of this week will be four traveling hockey teams from the Young Canadian Hockey Club out of Toronto, Canada.

Their host will be the Columbus Amateur Hockey Association's four traveling team members.

Eight games will be played at the Fair Grounds Coliseum over the weekend. The public is invited to come out and see youth hockey.

There is no charge for any of the games. Game times are as follows:

Saturday-Noon-Spirits (9 and 10 year olds)-5 a.m.;

1 p.m.-Pee Tees (11 and 12)-9 a.m.;

2:15 p.m.-Bantams (13 and 14)-10:15 a.m.;

3:30 p.m.-Midgets (15 and 16)-11:30 a.m.

The CAHA travel team parents will be entertaining the Canadian parents who make the trip at the Ice Chalet in Westerville Saturday evening. There will be a broom-ball hockey game between the fathers of both teams from 6:45-7:45 p.m.

Any of the general public looking for some unusual entertainment will find it at the Chalet at this hour.

Central Y Offers Scuba Diving

Registration is now open for a certified scuba diving class which begins Sunday, Feb. 18, at 1 p.m. at the Columbus Central YMCA, 40 W. Long St.

Scuba diving is becoming more and more popular among the participant sports in the country. The enthusiasm and discovery of the two-thirds of the world which are underwater plus the healthy and invigorating exercise which the sport offers are just two of the few factors which have contributed to this popularity. Diving enthusiasts agree that in order to participate safely in this sport, proper training is necessary. The Central YMCA's training program exceeds all recommended national training standards. The scuba diving program is under the certified direction of Steve Kender.

For further information contact Joann Suh, Health and Physical Education Director at 224-1131 ext. 41 or 42.

Volleyballers Open Season

The Central YMCA double A volleyball team which is the defending national YMCA champion placed second in their first tournament of the new season held this past weekend at Battle Creek, Mich.

They ended the round robin play Saturday with a 7-3 record; defeated a very strong Ball State University team in the semi-final round before going to "Michigan", a team consisting of the best Michigan and Indiana players, in the finals. The team members were George Dias, Aln Laasi, Mike Bredell, Ben Keiderling, Fen Golembiowsky, Dennis Silver, Alvaro Starika, Bob Stein, Bob Hark and Pete Quilline.

Linden Eagles Give Check To Retarded

The Ohio Athletic Association for the Mentally Retarded (OAA), part of the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, this week received a $1,000 check from the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Linden Aerie 2253, 1718 Myrtle Ave.

The money will be used to help defray the cost of the Ohio Special Olympics which will host some 2,000 mentally retarded athletes at the Ohio State University in June.

The OAA was named by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, Washington, D.C., national sponsor of the Special Olympics, to direct the Special Olympics in Ohio. Presenting the check to Richard M. Ruff, OAA commissioner and Jimmy Crum OAA chairman of the board, were Robert R. DeLozier and Donald Shifflet, president and vice president

West The Season For Bass

Did you ever throw common sense to the wind after that long winter. Just pick up your fishing gear and head out to your favorite bass lake? I do it every year just as soon as the ice breaks up. My wife thinks I've popped my cork when I have to wear long-johns, heavy jacket and rain gear to go fishing.

I checked my notes for the past couple of years and found most of my bigger bass were taken during early spring when it was plenty cold and I was wearing a jacket.

This doesn't mean you won't land a lunker bass in August wearing a t-shirt when it's hot, but the odds are in your favor that you'll take more and bigger bass during early spring when they're hungry and begin to feed after their winter snooze.

If you've an avid angler you can begin bass fishing in central Ohio in March, but February rolls around I can't wait to get out so I spent a couple of dollars on one of those inexpensive water thermometers found in most sporting goods stores. I learned that largemouth bass begin to feed when water temperatures reach 50-55 degrees, and smallmouth bass begin to feed about 40-45 degrees.

My next problem was to find water temperatures warm enough for bass to begin feeding. I could go to Florida, but it isn't practical or economical for just a weekend when you live in Columbus, Ohio.

Most of your local newspapers print air temperatures in other cities, so I would wait till I found a warm spell of a couple of days south of my home town and head out in that direction with water thermometer in hand. I found a distance of 80 to 100 miles you might drive can make a big difference in water temperatures. Arrive of spring and the opportunity to beat the season for bass.

Local Man Shuts out

Tom Weldon, Pickaway County Game Protector, reports that John Books of Crownover, Will Ross, Williamsport, recently shot a duck with a reward on his head.

The duck, a drake mallard was shot near Williamsport during the last water-fowl season. The bird was banded on both legs. One of the bands advised a $10 reward would be paid for its return. The other band was a standard government band.

Worthington HS Scoring

Junior pivot-man Don Brough is leading the scoring department for Worthington's rugged Cardinals thus far this season. The sturdy 6-5 sharpshooter has netted 213 points, 96 baskets included, for Pat Manion's improving cagers.

Mark Kline has rendered the steadiest help to Brough adding 117 points, his high coming earlier in the season against Whitehall.

Here is the scoring capsule:

	PG	FT	PTS
Brough	23	32	213
Kline	45	27	117
Cutts	28	26	84
Crandall	28	27	83
Burkhardt	28	12	46
Schneider	17	17	50
Jones	18	9	48
Sullivan	16	13	45
Crabtree	15	9	39

West Side Stars Glitter

The area west side roundball quintets may have lost two out of three contests last weekend but there were some stars in the crowd anyway.

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS, the only west side winner, got super performances by Larry Ferst and Ron Latham. Ferst, the new all time Falcon scoring leader canned 17 points in Heights' 73-62 dubbing of West Jefferson while quick-improving Latham led the totals with 20.

West, meanwhile, couldn't seem to get untracked, losing 77-68 to Brookhaven despite a 23 point performance by William Redd and a 20 point job by versatile Warren Lewis.

WESTLAND'S 51-40 loss to Delaware was most heart-breaking though, an overtime thriller, as Greg Spellman tossed in 20 markers in vain.

17,000 Receive Good As Gold Card

With more than a week remaining in the month long registration for the Good As Gold reduced fare bus card, more than 17,000 senior citizens had already received their cards.

Officials of the Central Ohio Transit Authority (COTA) said registrations will end at the Columbus Senior Citizens Centers as scheduled Jan. 31. However, a mobile unit will visit other locations between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on the following schedule:

Feb. 5, Hillside House of First Community Village at 1800 Riverside Dr.; Feb. 6, Wesley Glen at 5155 N. High; Feb. 12, Worley Terrace at 79 S. Central; Feb. 14, Stafford Village at 814 Hartford St., Worthington; Feb. 18, Reynoldsburg Senior Citizens Center, Blacklick Metropolitan Park, Beach Maple Lodge; Feb. 20, Bexley Recreation Center at Jeffrey Mansion, 165 N. Parkview; and Feb. 28, Gahanna Senior Citizen Center, Mifflin Presbyterian Church. Some locations will be open for two days. Check the one nearest you for details.

A permanent registration location is being maintained at Cota Transit System Offices, 19 W. Long St. Ardath Lynch, director of the Council on Aging, complimented the many volunteers who have donated literally thousands of hours in helping with the registrations. "We also want to thank our Senior Citizens who have been so patient while waiting to have their photos taken and cards produced," she said.

Thompson A. Nooner, resident manager of the COTA Transit System, said estimates were that about 15,000 cards would be issued in January with a total of about 20,000 by year's end. "We now think we will issue nearly 22,000 cards in January and total about 35,000 by December of this year."

Nooner also said there is evidence the Good As Gold cards are being used frequently by their owners. "While we have done no official research as yet, drivers report an increase in non-rush hour senior citizen riders."

The manager also cautioned card holders to protect their cards from loss or use by other persons. The original cards are free to owners through a grant by The Columbus Foundation, but a replacement will cost the owner one dollar.

It's Girl Scout Cookie Time!

A DELICIOUS new flavor, lemon creme, tops the five varieties of Girl Scout cookies soon to be available for ordering in your neighborhood.

From February 2 to February 19 smiling Girl Scout salesgirls will be knocking at your door to again offer you the opportunity to order those perennial favorites of children and adults alike—the candy-like minis, crunch wafers with a minty coating; Scot-Teas, little shortbread cookies lightly topped with sugar that give just the right, light touch for snacks or desserts; Savannahs with the yummy taste of peanut butter; the chocolate and vanilla creme packages that give you variety all in one box; and the newest delightful lemon creme flavor that everyone will love.

What better buy can you make than a box of Girl Scout cookies?

The price of each box is a mere $1—a small contribution considering the large dividends that the girls reap from their efforts. Stock up your freezer and enjoy them for weeks or months to come.

Goodwill Still Needs Clothing

As a result of the Goodwill clothing drive held Jan. 19, 903 bags of clothing, 104 bags of household goods and 43 pieces of furniture were collected. Also, because of the amount of publicity received, Goodwill has increased the amount of goods coming in through home pick-ups and their collection boxes.

Goodwill would like to thank the public for their generosity, but remind everyone that a need still exists for additional clothing and household goods. The drive will continue this Saturday, Feb. 2, from 10-3 at the same five locations (Northland, Bill Swad American Motors, Gold Circle-West Broad, Orlentangy and Hamilton Road) plus an additional truck will be at the Gold Circle Store on Morse Rd.

English Class At Dominican

Special Training in English Program (STEP) classes at Ohio Dominican College, 1316 Sunbury Rd., about to enter their eighth year of the liberal arts college, will resume Monday, Feb. 4, at 7:45 p.m. in Erskine Hall.

Miss Rose Nijssen, Strungville, a senior at Ohio Dominican and student coordinator for this semester's STEP, explained that the program is designed by the Modern Language Department to teach English to those non-English speaking people in and around Columbus and is offered free of charge as a community service to participants.

Classes in STEP—with Ohio Dominican students as special volunteer tutors—are scheduled on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:45 to 9:30 p.m. and will continue through May 6.

Cashier Training Program Offered

The Columbus Public Schools, Department of Adult Education, will offer an 80-hour cashier training program for adults 17 years of age or older and not enrolled in a regular school.

The class will be conducted at South High School, 1180 Ann St., beginning February 4.

Classes will be held five days per week—Monday through Friday, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The class content consists of extensive drills on modern and fully equipped cash registers as well as mechanics of the cash register.

Information concerning registration may be obtained by calling the Department of Adult Education, 225-2040.

Navy Offices Relocated

Two U.S. Navy commands located in downtown Columbus, held "open house" last week to show off their new facilities at 300 S. Third St.

The ribbon cutting was accomplished by Ken Karpelka, President of the Columbus Council of the Navy League.

The two commands are Navy Recruiting Area Four which was formerly located in the old Federal Building, 65 Marconi, and Navy Recruiting District, Columbus which had offices at 74 E. Gay.

The Area Four command, which is headed by Capt. K.E. Cornell, has five districts which cover all or part of six states. One of the Districts is Ohio, commanded by Lieutenant Commander J.W. Shelton, which includes central and southern Ohio and several bordering counties in Indiana and Kentucky.

Scattered throughout the District are 29 "local" recruiting stations.

Barclay Square

Barclay Square has roomy, well-planned and well built apartments and townhouses.

They really are quiet. And completely equipped. Air conditioning, 1 1/2 baths, a very attractive combination of carpeting and hardwood floors.

Even a clothes chute. All the way to the full basement that already has a washer and dryer hook-up.

The kitchen is complete with a double door refrigerator, range, exhaust hood, dishwasher and disposal.

Of course there is a patio and well maintained grounds. A truly nice pool and deck. And a real recreation building with sauna, whirlpool, bar, terrace, pool and more.

And whether you want a 1 bedroom apartment or two bedrooms townhouse, the rent is less than you'll find almost anywhere else. $145.00 to $180.00.

Barclay Square is located on Gould Rd. just north of Broad St. Office is open 11-5 weekdays and 12-5 weekends. Or call 224-2783 for information.

Crucial Corner

The key to success of a community agency is the community or neighborhood in which it functions. Southwest Community Mental Health Center is no exception to this rule. We have involved community members in many ways and would like to share with you some of these.

One of the primary concerns of our Center is to accurately determine the needs of the community and from there decide how these needs can best be met. Our approach to this has been by interacting with the people in the community and by establishing an Area Planning Committee. One of the primary purposes of this committee is to help inform our agency of the issues, concerns and needs of individual community members, community groups and community agencies.

Community workers also help us live out our philosophy that an agency can best help the community by assisting the community in helping itself. Mothers work with mothers, neighbors with neighbors and friends with friends. Community workers have shared with us that not only do individuals in distress gain assistance, but they themselves gain a feeling of self-worth and an experience of sharing which they find extremely enriching.

Professionals are not always the best people to help deal with emotional and mental health concerns of community members. Many individuals find it difficult to express their problems to people who have not lived similar experiences or in similar neighborhoods. Therefore, they find it much more comfortable and beneficial to talk to a community worker.

With the assistance and help of the community workers, our agency has been able to respond to many more individuals, agencies and groups in the community who have reached out for help. Southwest has been training and utilizing community workers for about one year. We are looking forward to increasing our number of community workers.

If you are interested in more information regarding our training program and how you might serve your community, please feel free to contact our agency, at 224-4224, or stop in at 3441 Sullivant Ave.

CARTER Lumber Co. 221-2484

Wednesday morning 30 members of the pre-school group of Columbus Heights United Methodist Church went on a field trip to the Columbus Zoo along with their instructors Mrs. Wendell Metz, Mrs. Richard Raley and Mrs. Howard Baker. Also accompanying the students and teachers were three mothers, Mrs. Robert Bradford, Mrs. Liles and Mrs. Hertenstein.

Scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 30, for the group will be a ceramics class in the Art Department at Westland High School, plus another class Wednesday, Feb. 6.

Art instructor Wes Blizard and his art students will assist these youngsters who will make art objects. Blizard's twins, Amy and Trent, are also members of the group.

Recent Florida visitors were Mrs. W.J. Stormont, 121 Pasadena Ave., Mrs. Oscar Baker, 104 Pasadena Ave., Mrs. John Pasick, 321 N. Greiner Rd., and Mrs. Thelma Graves of West Jefferson. During their two-week sojourn the ladies visited various points of interest in Ft. Myers, Miami, the Busch Gardens near Tampa and Disneyland near Orlando.

Area member who is a patient at Doctors Hospital is Richard Glass, 250 Norton Rd., who was admitted Jan. 11.

The Music Boosters at

News Of New River
By Mrs. James Watson
878-5113

Westland High School met Jan. 12 with Loren Mullen, president, in charge of the meeting. Plans are being made for a music concert to be held at the Ohio Theatre March 23 and 24 with the instrumental and choral groups participating.

Jan. 20 a "Nimble 90" party was held in honor of the 90th birthday of L.W. Johnson, 61 Lawrence Ave., at the Columbus Heights United Methodist Church.

This was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Loel Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Johnson of Waynesville, N.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Armstrong, 310 Lenox Ave.; 125 guests, relatives and friends were in attendance.

Other family members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Albert White and family, 3360 Walker Rd., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armstrong and family, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Armstrong and daughter Terri and son, James Dixon. James Dixon has the honor of being the youngest great-grandson of Mr. Johnson.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. David Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Trent Lamb and family of Cleveland, Mrs. Gayle Nash and family, Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Johnson Jr. and family; another grandson, Kenneth Johnson of New York City, a nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson of Chillicothe; nieces Mrs. Herman Baxter of Orient, and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Lockbourne, and a nephew, Sylvester Doughty of Glouster, also a brother-in-law, Everett McGath and son, Robert of Columbus.

Hostess to the members of the Thursday Night Euchre Club was Mrs. Gladys Capretta. Members attending from this area were Mrs. Silas Adams, Mrs. Harold Distelhorst, Mrs. Allen Burns and Mrs. Floyd J. Armstrong.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Wark of Galloway, who have a son born Jan. 17 at Riverside Methodist Hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. David White, 24 Rome-Hilliard Rd., who have a son born Jan. 17 at Doctors Hospital North; to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kretz, 9120 W. Broad St. who have a daughter born Jan. 23 at Doctors Hospital North.

Responsible for the artistic floral arrangement for the Thursday, Feb. 7, meeting of the Prairie Gardeners will be past president, Mrs. W.J. Stormont.

Mini-Seminar At Trinity Assembly Of God

Most churches are being judged on the basis of financial standards of success, according to Rev. Peter Unruh, pastor of the Wooddale Baptist Church in Minneapolis, Minn.

He will be leading a special mini-seminar on Church Growth Wednesday Feb. 6, at the Trinity Assembly of God, 1112 Danmore Rd.

The one-day seminar begins with registration at 10 a.m. and will conclude at 3 p.m. Cost of the meeting, including lunch, is $7.50 ($3 student rate). Write or phone reservations to Rev. Arthur Parsons, 2377 W. Broad St., 278-3464.

The meeting, open to all pastors and interested laypeople, will focus on principles of church growth with practical application and interaction with local pastors.

Highland Park Students Tour

WEST COLUMBUS—Gail Hale, 2904 Highland St., shows students from Nancy Conrado's fifth grade class at Highland Park Elementary one of the computers used to produce the Spectator. During a recent visit the students toured the production and editorial departments of the newspaper, took pictures of some of the workers and had their names typed on the typesetting machines. The students will be producing their own newspaper as part of a career study unit. Members of the class are Jim Allen, Peggy Johnson, Deanna Harris, Cathy Cady, Connie Pendleton, Andrew Wall, Richie Cole, Jana Bettis, Kurt Fennell, Mike Keller and Brent Corvick.

Dr. Gove Receives Governor's Award

Columbus—Dr. Roger M. Gove, outgoing commissioner of the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation's Division of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities, last Wednesday received the Governor's Award for Community Action in recognition of his efforts on behalf of Ohio's mentally retarded.

Dr. Kenneth Gaver, director of the department, presented the award at the Columbus State Institute, 1901 W. Broad St.

A 30-year veteran of state service, Gove has been commissioner of the division since its creation within the department in November, 1969.

As a commissioner of the division, Gove was instrumental in developing several community care programs for the mentally retarded which included Case Management, and Protective Services and Public Guardianship. He has also been an important figure in establishing the department's community placement programs, new purchase of residential care and development of a new admission and commitment bill.

A native of Mechanicsburg, Ohio, Gove graduated from The Ohio State University in 1937 and received his medical degree in 1941. He completed his residency in psychiatry at Columbus State Hospital.

In 1945 Gove became assistant physician at Columbus State Hospital and later director of the Upper Miami Valley Guidance Center in Piqua, Ohio. He was superintendent at Columbus State Institute from 1950-1964 and from 1964-1968. He next became chief of what was then the Bureau of Mental Retardation. The bureau was given divisional status in 1969.

The Governor commended Gove by saying, "Your efforts reflect a genuine concern and interest in the welfare of Ohio's mentally retarded citizens and a deep personal commitment to your work."

Gove and his wife, Jane, reside at 4230 Ongaro Dr.

About the Governor's Award for Community Action, Governor Gilligan has said, "Thousands of our fellow citizens contribute their talent, time and energy to helping their fellow citizens, and most of them are never properly recognized for their contributions. Through the Governor's Award for Community Action, we hope to bring to many of these people the recognition and the respect in their community they so richly deserve."

Nominations for the award are submitted by various state agencies, by members of the news media and by ordinary citizens who feel a fellow citizen deserves special recognition.

There is no quota on the number of awards which can be given out. No one is in competition with any one else for this award. As Governor Gilligan said, "It is simply a way for the people of Ohio to say 'thanks' to a fellow citizen who has contributed to the common good."

Gove received a personal letter from the Governor prepared on parchment and bearing the Great Seal of the State of Ohio. The letter cited his particular contributions.

The Governor's Award for Community Action is meant to recognize a broad range of contributors—people who are working to clean up the environment, working with kids who are on drugs, helping the sick or the handicapped or helping the poor.

Vocational Ed Observes Office Education Week

Vocational business and office education students in Columbus Public Schools will join Office Education Association (OEA) members throughout the nation in activities to make the public and school community aware of their vocational students during National OEA Week, Feb. 3-9.

The OEA, with a membership of over 50,000 students, is designed to develop leadership abilities in the American business system and competency in office occupations. Through its professional, financial, civic, service, social activities and projects the OEA is developing leaders of tomorrow.

Special activities such as displays, field trips, student-employer breakfasts and in-school projects are planned this week by each OEA chapter. Focus of the activities will be related to the theme "Students Sharing-Students Caring."

New High School Plans Approved By Board

Editor's Note: The Columbus Board of Education approved plans for a new west area high school Feb. 5 by a vote of 5 to 1. Dr. Watson Walker cast the only dissenting vote. Paul Langdon was not present.

By Sandy Schwartz
Staff Writer

West Columbus—Detailed plans for the proposed west side high school were unveiled at the Columbus Board of Education's Jan. 20 Committee of the Whole Meeting. Also on the agenda was a rap session involving Columbus' high school Student Forum and the school board members.

The new west area school is to be built on a 30-acre tract of land at Briggs Rd. and Eureka Ave. Briggs Rd. will be extended from road until Eureka Ave. is fully developed.

The drawings, presented by Van Buren and Firestone, Architects, Inc. has a vocational education unit included. This would accommodate the students interested in the vocational-education program without having to travel to another school in the school system.

The $3.9 million school is designed to accommodate 1,500 students with plans to expand to 1,500 when it becomes necessary. When questioned about just how much expansion the school could include in the future, architect Paul Jaros responded, "as far as the money will go."

The square footage of the school is 17,800 square feet. Included are plans for a large modern gymnasium that will seat 1,500 students. Also planned is an elevator for handicapped students unable to use stairs.

The plans were recently reworked so that there are as many windows as possible in the building while still conforming to current energy saving efforts.

Smoking on school property was the most controversial topic discussed in the student forum rap session, the students agreed that smoking was a definite problem in the buildings. One proposed relief was some type of smoking lounge somewhere in or outside of the school building where smokers could relieve "nicotine fits" and non-smokers could escape the smoke which the students claim is quite prevalent in most restrooms.

Board member Dr. Watson Walker conducted an informal survey among the student participants to find out how many favored some type of smoking area that was approved by the school administration. Seven opposed such an area while five agreed with it.

Those against had a general feeling that setting up such an area would mean that the school system is condoning smoking and since smoking has been proved hazardous to one's health, they opposed such action.

A main complaint that the students aired concerning the smoking matter was that teachers could freely smoke in their lounge and this was not setting a good example for the students. Although board President Mrs.

Virginia Prentice agreed this was quite hypocritical of the teachers, the students were reminded that the teachers are employees of the school system and therefore have privileges.

School Superintendent Dr. John Ellis introduced the question of how good an education the students felt they were getting in their present set-up which brought varied responses from the panel.

West High School representative Kathy Donohoe answered, "I think you get out what you put in." She continued saying if a student really wanted a good education it was easily achievable.

Central High representative Cindy Bartow said, "I missed out on college-bound courses," faulting inadequate counseling for this.

General problems that the students brought to the attention of the board were people always rearing the halls during school hours, locker room break-ins, space problems because of small overcrowded buildings, poor lighting in certain areas, general poor condition of some buildings and bad communication between students and student council.

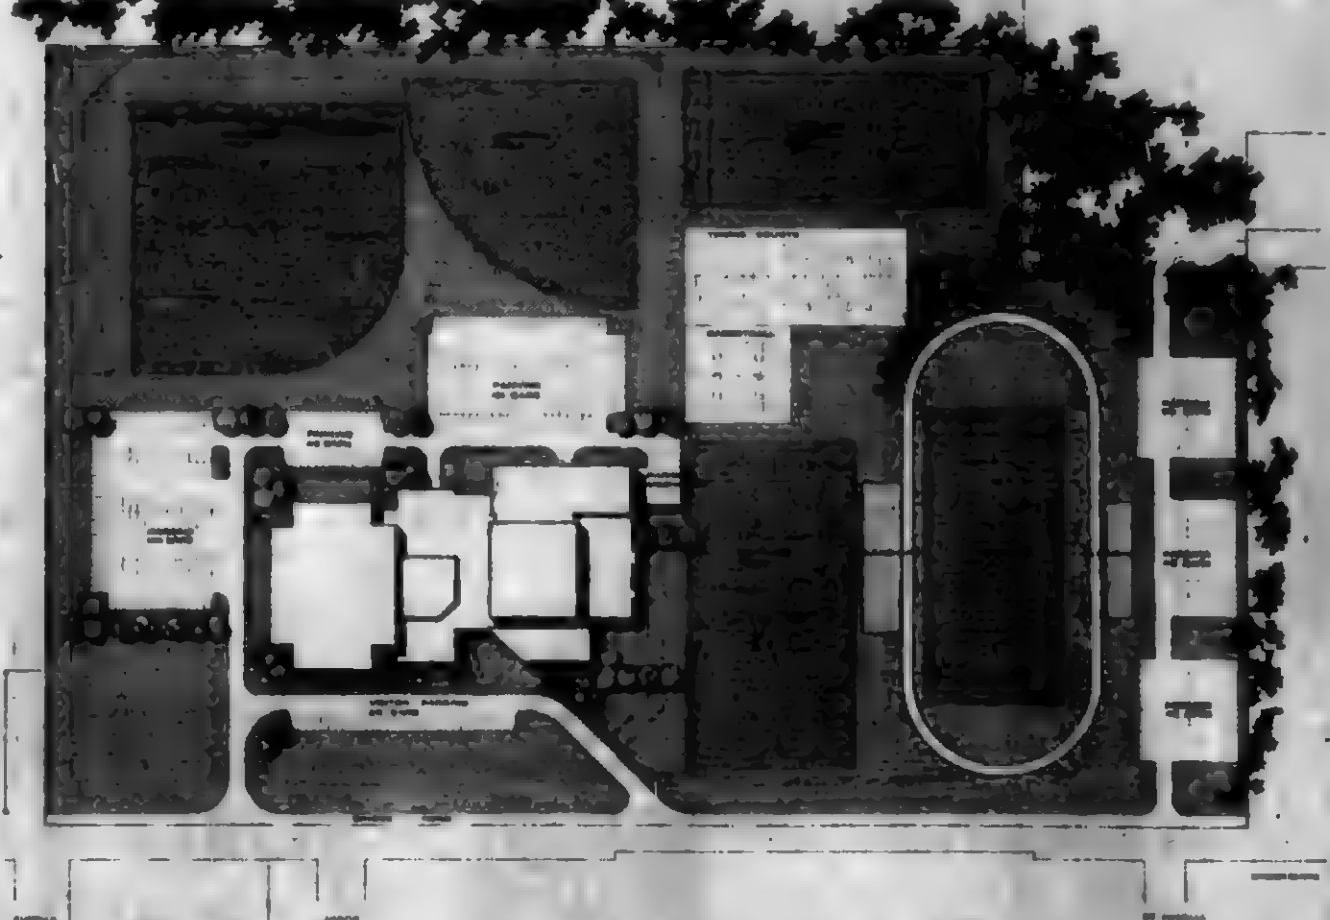

One point that the board was happy was not emphasized as a problem was discipline.

Board Member Dr. David Hamler said, "This surprised me because discipline is the big problem in the junior high."

The board and students echoed feelings of satisfaction in the achievement of the rap session.

WEST COLUMBUS—Shown above is an artists rendering of the proposed new high school for the west area of the city. Below is an aerial view of the site. The playing field and some of the parking would be developed after the building itself.

Trustees Appoint Squads Supervisor

By KATHY DEVANEY

West Columbus—John Bernans was appointed supervisor for the emergency squads and Charles Wilcox was appointed a lieutenant in the fire department by the Franklin Township Trustees at their Monday evening meeting.

Bernans will coordinate training for both medics and squadmen and see that they are kept up to date on new practices, training and equipment. He will be in charge of supplies and investigate prices of supplies through the chief.

Bernans will handle any complaints that might be received about squad medics or men working with them along with a company captain or chief.

He will make sure the squads stay in good condition and will discuss with the chief any changes that should be made in the operation of the units.

He will handle talks and public relations concerning the operation of the squads with schools, industry and civic groups.

In thanking the board and chief for having confidence in appointing him Bernans said, "We will work as a team."

This is not a one-man job. We will make this is the finest medic unit in Franklin County."

In other action the board increased vacation time off. Those with one year of continuous service will now get two weeks off instead of one. After 10 years men will get three weeks off. After 15 years the men will get four weeks off.

The board agreed to pay the dues of eight firefighters for EMT (emergency medical technicians) training which is $5 for two years.

Chief Marvin E. Olney assured the board that no additional men would not be needed to maintain fire protection.

Circus At FH

The second annual Franklin Heights Boosters International Circus will appear in the high school gym on Demarest and Briggs Feb. 15, 16 and 17. As last year, the basketball floor will be covered with special homocite boarding for the big show which will feature top circus talent from around the world - many acts making their first appearance in Columbus.

Baron Julius Von Uhl from Budapest, Hungary will be the featured wild animal trainer as he enters the steel arena and faces six male African lions and two Siberian tigers. Von Uhl will also make a special appearance a week earlier at many of the grade schools in the Franklin Heights area exhibiting and lecturing on his rare white tiger cub, said to be one of the few in the world.

The Nicolini Family from Italy will be on hand with their chimpanzee act, also their cousins, the Niccos Brothers, expert trampoline act.

With so much excitement, over UFO sightings this year, the International Circus has come up with a real surprise - a flying saucer which will rise to the ceiling of the Franklin Heights Gym.

Other aerial acts will include the Cresson Duo, the International Aerial Ballet and Miss Louise Star on the trapeze.

There will be a special show Friday, Feb. 15, for school children only in the afternoon. This is the only performance not open to the general public. Tickets are now on sale for Friday evening at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16, at 2 and 8 p.m. and Sunday Feb. 17, at 2 and 5 p.m.

Reduced rate advance tickets are now on sale at Briggs Rd. Pharmacy, Westgate Manor Pharmacy, Wedgewood and Sullivan; Hilltop Hardware, 3500 Sullivan; Kenstar Pharmacy, N. Broadway, Grove City; Drustar Pharmacy, High Meadow Shopping Center, Grove City; at Franklin Heights and from all Boosters.

Look Younger Than Friends Your Age

Now and then you like to be a step ahead of your friends. You like to set yourself apart from them.

Now you can, in a wonderfully satisfying way. You can look younger than many friends your age, just by easing away skin dryness that accents lines and wrinkles that can make you look older than you are.

Fortunate women, from Bangkok to Baghdad, now look their youngest because they know the secret benefits of a skin-loving formulation created by beauty researchers. Skin almost drinks in the precious fluid, known in the United States as Oil of Olay beauty lotion. Its natural moisture, tropical oils and other emollients work with nature to maintain the oil-moisture balance needed for you to look your youngest. Complexion becomes more supple and radiant from the first days you use quick-penetrating Oil of Olay.

Faithful users let Oil of Olay work its wonders at least twice a day. In the morning, as a protective, non-greasy makeup base that lets cosmetics stay fresh for hours. At night, to soothe and cherish as you sleep.

Oil of Olay is at your drugstore. It's not a moment too soon to begin looking younger than friends your age.

FH ROTC Develops Citizens

By TOM WALTON, USN

West Columbus—Twice each week, certain Franklin Heights High School students show up for their classes frocked in smart, military type uniforms, with nautical insignias.

On the alternate three days of the week these same students take a class in Room 111, which is decked out with such nautical paraphernalia as a knot board, signal flags and naval posters.

These young men are all members of Franklin Heights' Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps—commonly just called NJROTC.

What this unit is, its purpose and why it's located at this west side high school are all questions that were recently answered by the school's Naval Science Instructor Arthur C. Friedman.

"The purpose," he said, "is to help develop informed citizens with strong character, promote an understanding of military responsibilities in a democracy and to develop an appreciation of the U.S. Navy and the role of sea power in the national defense."

Boiled down, these high sounding goals are the information contained in an impressive series of courses labeled Naval Science, I, II, and III, taught by Friedman, a retired U.S. Navy Lieutenant Commander and an aviator.

"Although the courses are progressively more complicated," Friedman said, "basically they cover naval history, oceanography, navigation, seamanship and meteorology along with leadership, health education, drug abuse, etc."

The curriculum is designed by the Navy, but according to Friedman, it is structured so the individual Naval Science Instructor can interpret and modify it to meet the needs of the student and complement the schools' overall program of instruction.

The Franklin Heights unit, one of about 225 across the country, has been in existence for six years.

"Simply put, the way a school gets a unit," Friedman said, "is to ask for it. Actually, the school administration makes a formal request through the Navy and agrees to follow certain procedures in administering the program."

Incidentally, Congress sets the number of units that can be activated and at present that number has been reached with the Army, Navy and Air Force dividing up 1,000 units.

The actual running of an NJROTC unit turns out to be a joint effort, with the school furnishing office, classroom and storage space, plus administrative support. The Navy provides the material support which includes all uniforms, books, aids, equipment, field trips, etc.

Even the salaries for the Naval Science Instructor and his assistant, a retired senior enlisted navyman, becomes a joint effort. The instructors agree to forfeit their retirement money while teaching; the school district pays them an amount equal to their full active duty pay; then the Navy reimburses the school for 50 percent of the total of the two salaries.

"It sounds complicated," Friedman said, "but what it does is give us full pay, the school gets two instructors for the price of one and it costs the Navy about the same as our retired pay."

While Friedman is primarily a classroom instructor, his assistant works on the practical application of the subjects with the cadets. In addition to being charged with instructing the unit in drill with and without arms, which includes directing the drill teams and color guards, the assistant maintains the unit's records and files, equipment, aids and weapons (non-functioning surplus drill rifles).

At present this unit, which can have as many as 120 students, is only 60 men strong with relatively new instructors. Friedman is in his second year and his assistant joined the faculty only this year.

"I see a very bright future for the unit at Franklin Heights," however," said Friedman. "All future classes will be open to the female students and we are looking for a much larger group of male participants next year."

There is no actual tie-in with active duty Navy or any other type of obligation on the part of the student, Friedman points out, but at the same time for any student considering application to the Naval Academy, college NJROTC, joining the Navy after graduation or affiliating with any other armed forces program, NJROTC can't do anything but help them.

"In fact," Friedman concluded, "it is a fine set of electives no matter what a student plans on after high school."

LATERAL ENTRY

John Lloyd Crisinger, 84 S. Central Ave., was enlisted into the United States Army's Lateral Entry Program (Stripes for Skills) according to Sgt. Dave Lankford, public relations director, Columbus West Army Recruiting Station, 3079 W. Broad St. Sgt. Lankford said "Under this program, an individual who has a two-year technical or high school vocational training or a combination of schooling and experience totaling two years, can be enlisted as pay grade E4. A total of three years schooling or experience combined entitles enlistment at sergeant's pay. There are 142 different job areas in this program. Crisinger received vocational training in auto mechanics at Central High School and thus he was placed in the auto mechanics field for which he was trained. He learned of the option by reading an earlier edition of the Spectator Newspaper which first publicized the program in this area."

He will undergo basic combat training at Fort Leonard, Mo. After basic he will be stationed at Fort Carson, Colo.

Crisinger is a 1972 graduate of Central High School.

How To Submit Your News Item For Publication

IT'S EASIER than apple pie to get your news item in the community news pages of The Spectator Newspapers.

Unlike some other weekly papers The Spectator Newspapers does not assess any kind of a monetary charge for news items and photos.

The steps are very simple:
CALL US FIRST at 274-1155 if you have any questions about the news item you intend to submit.

DEADLINES

The deadline for all news items and photos for possible publication in the following Wednesday issue is the Monday noon prior to that issue. Naturally, we would like your item sooner if possible since, if everyone waits until that Monday noon deadline, it would not be possible to have the type set and the story made ready for the issue.

THE EDITOR reserves the right to edit articles submitted, however, if we drastically question any part of your article you will be called for clarification.

News items can be mailed to The Spectator Newspapers, 3421 South Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio, 43204, or brought to the office that is in the Great Western Shopping Center.

Our telephone number is 274-1155. If one of the editors is not in when you call, please leave your name and number and your call will be returned as soon as possible.

ALTHOUGH we like to have our news items typewritten it is not necessary. However, please use a sheet of 8 x 11 white paper if at all possible and print the proper names legibly. Please include your name, address and telephone number on your notice in case we need to call you for clarification of any of the information submitted.

For identification purposes news items should be directed to the following persons:

Spectator West - Kathy Devaney. This newspaper covers the areas of West Columbus from about Central High School all the way west to New Rome. It includes school districts of Columbus West, Franklin Heights, Bishop Ready and Westland.

Spectator East - Elsie Weaver. This newspaper covers the area of East Columbus from the Reynoldsburg city limits East to Whitehall and as far southeast as Eastland Joint Vocational Center, then includes all of Whitehall and Bexley and West to about the 800 block of East Broad Street. It includes school districts of Walnut Ridge, Bishop Hartley, Columbus East, Eastmoor, Whitehall, Groveport, St. Charles, Bexley, Eastland Joint Vocational Center, Ohio Dominican and Capital and Franklin Universities.

Reynoldsburg Spectator - Ray Adams. This newspaper covers the community of Reynoldsburg and some of Brice, all of Truro Township, and Reynoldsburg School District. Reynoldsburg students who attend Bishop Hartley High School and St. Pius X Elementary School.

Worthington Spectator - Ray Adams. This newspaper covers the community of Worthington, Worthington and Wattersen School Districts and Otterbein College.

WE PREFER NEWS for these papers be directed to the individual editors.

ALL PAPERS ITEMS

If you have an item that you would like to have in all four papers such as an item of a broad nature such as a community festival, a club meeting that includes members from all areas, or the like, direct it to Ray Adams. We will make every effort to print your notice as space permits.

PHOTOS

We prefer to do our own photography. However, if you submit a photo for publication, it must be of a good quality for us to reproduce. We prefer 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 glossy prints. Polaroids are NOT generally of a good enough quality to reproduce in our process. PLEASE - no color photos. And - if you want your news photo returned send a stamped self-addressed envelope.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS

THERE IS NO charge for having your engagement or wedding photo printed in any Spectator Newspaper. We prefer glossy prints either 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 - and black and white if possible. We cannot guarantee the reproduction of color prints. Your engagement or wedding photo should be sent to us as soon as the announcement is made. Wedding photos, if possible, should be submitted to us in time for use in the publication following the wedding, or at least no later than a week afterwards.

IF YOU would like one of our engagement or wedding announcement forms please send your name and address to the specified editor of the newspaper as mentioned earlier in this story.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WE WELCOME letters to the editor that pertain to community items of interest to the various communities involved. All letters must be original, exclusive to The Spectator Newspapers, and the writer must sign name, address and phone number if there should be any reason to clarify any portion of your letter. They should be brief (no more than 250 words, please) and if you wish your name withheld we will consider this request provided that in the letter there is no matter that offends someone directly through language use or innuendoes.

REMEMBER, this is your newspaper to relay information of your club or organization, or to report a happening which you think might be of interest to us.

Thanks, and good news to everyone.

Crucial Corner

Parents And Teen-agers:

The Cold War

Parents are often accused of the mood swings, rebelliousness and adult-child "Faces" of their teenagers.

"She was such a good student last year! Now all she's interested in is boys."

"He's so grouchy. And all I ever ask him to do is clean up his room."

The teenagers themselves say: "I can't ever talk to my mother. She never approves of what I do anyway." "I had to leave home. There wasn't anything to stay for."

What happens? Why the lack of understanding, distrust, disappointment—the domestic cold war?

Parents, listen to yourselves the next time you're talking to your kids. What are you saying? Are you talking at them? In fact, do you find you almost never say anything to them that isn't blaming, criticizing, ordering, scolding, sarcastic, mocking, threatening?

Teenagers might in turn look at their own behavior. Do you resort to insults or running away when you're angry with your folks? Do you shut them out as much as possible—for "revenge"? Do you end up always looking for the special ways you have to hurt them?

Yes! Both sides feel hurt—and justified in their retaliation....But someone sometime must take a deep breath and put the breaks on this vicious cycle if the family is to survive.

Mothers must recognize that too often all that scolding and ordering "for their own good" really arises out of mothers' needs to see the kids do what they never could. When you stop to think about it, is it fair to expect your daughter to live your life all over again for you?

Fathers too must stop and think. Are you trying to run dictatorships in your homes? If so, why the need for 100 per cent instant obedience? The kids only rebel the more strongly anyway. Are you secure enough in your own self respect to allow a little self government (and a lot more peace) for your kids?

Teenagers must face up to the situation as well. If you want so much to be treated as an adult, act adult. Instead of running or clammuping up, let your parents know about your feelings. People kept in the dark get confused and hurt and angry. And you've conveniently made it impossible for them to know what to do differently.

Both "sides" must give a little to get a little. Or the "cold war" will go on and on.

Billy Brown Is Swinging At Lincoln Lodge

BILLY BROWN has been performing at Lincoln Lodge for several weeks. In all those weeks, he has been breaking all records. The place is packed almost every night of the week. All weekends, it's Katie bar the door.

Billy is a one man act. To be more specific, Billy is a one show. He makes more things happen with his voice and electric guitar than do most duos and trios. Several nights a week, Billy is joined by a cute little singer, Samantha Lee. This gal is terrific. But, most of the time, it is Billy Brown, all the way.

Billy is simply great. He is the greatest one man show to hit Columbus for a long, long time. While he leans to the country and western vein, both in style, tonal quality and material, Billy handles all types of music very well. He owns a big, beautiful sounding voice. He is a show business man from the word go. Billy employs a strong attack to every number, regardless if it is down home stuff, or "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home," to, "I Left My Heart in San Francisco." His style is his own, Billy sounds like Billy Brown, and no one else.

Accompanying himself on electric guitar may not sound very appealing to you, wait until you hear him play. He sounds as if there are three guitars, a drummer and a bass on stage. I think Billy is one of the finest guitar players in captivity. He literally plays the "H" out of the thing.

AT THE END of the evening, Billy and Samantha Lee receive a standing ovation. Fantastic for a lounge.

Samantha Lee, who frequently joins Billy, as a singer and showman in her own right. This gal is only fourteen years old, but looks, acts and sings like a gal with fourteen years of experience. While Billy doesn't need any help, Samantha sure adds plenty of musical cream to his show. Samantha is a dynamo who really sings up a storm. Like Billy, she is a strong stylist with an attack that is bound to knock you off your seat. Remember the name, Samantha Lee, because I know in the years to come, you are going to hear a lot more about this gal.

AS I SAID, the music does run in a country and western vein, but it is not the strong hillbilly type of music. If you love good music, you'll enjoy the Billy Brown Show, with Samantha Lee at the Lincoln Lodge. I know, because I, and many hundreds of people agree, this is one group that has to be a must on your entertainment schedule. The Lodge is swinging with this pair.

Relax, Fine Food At The Dell

A COUPLE of weeks ago, I told you about the unique, interesting and relaxing decor of the Dell Restaurant. It is a place that's a joy to walk into, day or night, for lunch, dinner, or a few of your favorite beverages. Everything in the place has been restored. The only addition to the famous Columbus landmark is the carpeting.

The other evening I dropped in for dinner and to listen to the entertainment. Both are first rate and fit the atmosphere of the restaurant as a glove fits a hand.

First, let me tell you about the food. I'll start off by telling you that you won't find none any better. My broiled fillet of Pickerel was a pure delight. Flavor was the keynote to this dish, a taste treat that I can still savor. The salad was excellent, with a delicious Roquefort dressing. An abundance of hot rolls were also served. The meal also included choice of potato and plenty of butter.

Ned, our waiter, was at my beck and call throughout the meal.

During and after the meal, I, as the rest of the crowd, were treated to some mighty fine, unusual entertainment. All of the waiters and waitresses sing. Now, if you enjoy good music, good voices and good fun type atmosphere, then the Dell Restaurant is a must for you. All of the waiters and waitresses are students at Capital University. All have well trained voices. Their musical library covers most all of the Broadway show tunes, some classics and the best of the old standards. It is entertainment, that you rarely find in a club or restaurant today.

If you already have had dinner, but still want to take in this excellent entertainment, just remember the Dell Restaurant is open until 1 a.m. There is a piano bar, plus another bar as well as tables. You can always order a late night snack or sandwich, also. Once in a while you'll find some of Columbus' better singers stopping in and rendering a few tunes.

The Dell is an absolute fun place. There is no other place like it Around Town.

Michael's Features A Good Duo

I CAUGHT a good duo the other evening at Michael's, in Grove City. Called the Shirley Lewellyn Duo, with Vic Percora, this twosome play a lot of music. The place was crowded with most everyone appearing to be enjoying themselves. The dance floor was full for just about every number, be it a rumba, rock slow, danceable tune.

The Shirley Lewellyn Duo is not a show group. Their stock in trade is providing lots of good music, that is great for listening or dancing. Shirley is an attractive organist. She plays the black and white with plenty of gusto. Also, owning a nice voice, Shirley serves up all types of fine vocals.

Teaming up with Shirley is Vic Percora, a well known local drummer, who certainly knows what his job is all about. Vic is not one of those

A "Tantalizing" Trio

Jaquie Wright, Diane Disque and Donna Ault play a humorous trio of "Over the Hill" comic strippees in the Players Club production of "Gypsy." The musical hit runs February 15 to March 2, Thursday through Sunday at the Club's theatre, 549 Franklin Ave. Tickets are available by calling Players Club Theatre Box Office, 224-6971.

who enjoy good country and western music. The Rendezvous Room is a must for you. The Dick Wolford Show is there every Friday and Saturday. After the show, there is a good, down home breakfast available until 4 a.m., with country ham, eggs and the whole works. It's all a barrel of fun. For an intimate, quiet type of evening, the Holiday Inn North is just the place for you. With the Jerry and Nick Duo playing beautiful, soft music Thursday through Saturday, in the lounge, this has to be the place to go for relaxing. The lounge is dark, quiet and is just the place to take that special someone for conversation or dancing. You'll love the place. Last but not least, Le Gourmet Room is my restaurant in Columbus. As the name implies, they specialize in gourmet food. It is a dining delight. See you Around Town this week, get out and enjoy yourself.

ALL IN ALL, Shirley and Vic combine to give you a good, solid musical duo. As I said before, Michael's was packed last Friday night, and everyone was having a ball. I think you will, too.

Skipping Around Town

AN INTERESTING person, is Jerry Entingh, the bartender at the Outrigger Bar of the Kahiki. Jerry is majoring in journalism, and soon will be giving up the bar for a typewriter. Stop in and say hello to Jerry, he makes your visit enjoyable.

At the Greg Shop. The Oldies, But Goodies Night is back. Every Tuesday it happens. All of the good, old songs of the 50's and 60's, lots of prizes, and plenty of fun. George Westermeyer entertains the crowds nightly. George is tremendous, both as a singer and performer. Back to the Lincoln Lodge. Billy Brown is drawing people from all over Columbus. Saw Bob Warner and his beautiful wife, dancing like a couple of teenagers. One of the sharpest gals Around Town, Donna Chapa, with hubby ex-furniture king, Ricco, also doing their thing on the floor. Same is true for Roy and Nancy Karns of Dayton. People are having a ball with Billy Brown. Don't forget Michael's as a fine place to eat, as well as for entertainment. Their food and service are tops, in my book. Watch for lots of news regarding the Holiday Inn South. Plenty of new plans and ideas are in store to keep the Holiday Inn South a fine place to go dining and all around good time. For you

POCOHONTAS AND John Smith will step out of the pages of history and onto the stage of the Ohio Theatre on Saturday, Feb. 14. The Performing Arts Repertory Theatre will stage "Pocohontas" at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. as the third production of the Columbus Junior Theatre of the Arts 1973-74 Discovery Series of theatre for young people. Ticket information is available at 224-6971.

'Pocohontas' Is Next For Discovery Series

"Pocohontas," a musical history play presented by the Performing Arts Repertory Theatre Foundation of New York City, will be brought to the Ohio Theatre stage by the "Discovery Series" of Columbus Junior Theatre of the Arts. Performances are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 14.

The rhythmic and pulsating music of "Pocohontas" was composed by Ted Simon, an arranger and conductor for cabaret performers Leslie Uggams, Joel Grey and Josh Ragers. Simon is also responsible for the musical coordination of several television specials and commercials.

The story of Pocohontas, lifted from the original journals of Captain John Smith in the seventeenth century, has been adapted for P.A.R.T. by Marvin Gordon, a New York

APPEARING NIGHTLY
WESTERN MOTELS
LINCOLN LODGE 4950 W BROAD

Billy Brown is performing at the Lincoln Lodge 4950 W. Broad. For a one man act Billy Brown has hit the spot in Columbus.
His performance is sprinkled with earthy jokes and banter with the audience. He has a recollection of many Country and Blue Songs written in the last 30 years.
In 1969 Billy Brown did the original recording of "He'll Have To Go" for Columbia Records. It rose to No. 1 in many cities but according to Brown of this time Jim Reeves also recorded it in the same style and Reeves recording became one of the biggest Country Hits ever.
Billy Brown a Country Western Singer and Guitarist from Florida has been engaged for a six week contract of Lincoln Lodge.
He is drawing the largest crowds to the Lounge since it started with the Billy Brown Show entertaining with the up town Country Western Sound. Brown's newest record has just been released on Big M Records, "Thank You Darling" and "Country Boy" Brown performance features versatility, personality and ad-lib humor in addition to a repertoire which includes yodelling, impersonations of Johnny Cash, Elvis Presley, Gene Autry, Eddie Arnold, Charlie Rich and Walter Brennan. He sings "Cool Clear Water" in the style of various singers.
For an enjoyable and relaxing evening filled with pleasant fun the Lounge at Lincoln Lodge is recommended.

Crucial Corner

Parents And Teen-agers:

The Cold War
Parents are often amazed at the mood swings, rebelliousness and adult-child "Faces" of their teenagers.

"She was such a good student last year! Now all she's interested in is boys."

"He's so grouchy. And all I ever ask him to do is clean up his room."

The teenagers themselves say: "I can't ever talk to my mother. She never approves of what I do anyway."

"I had to leave home. There wasn't anything to stay for."

What happens? Why the lack of understanding, distrust, disappointment—the domestic cold war?

Parents, listen to yourselves the next time you're talking to your kids. What are you saying? Are you talking at them? In fact, do you find you almost never say anything to them that isn't blaming, criticizing, ordering, scolding, sarcastic, mocking, threatening?

Teenagers might in turn look at their own behavior. Do you resort to insults or running away when you're angry with your folks? Do you shut them out as much as possible—for "revenge"? Do you end up always looking for the special ways you know in hurt them?

Yes! Both sides feel hurt—and justified in their retaliation....But someone sometime must take a deep breath and put the breaks on this vicious cycle if the family is to survive.

Mothers must recognize that too often all that scolding and ordering "for their own good" really arises out of mothers' needs to see the kids do what they never could. When you stop to think about it, is it fair to expect your daughter to live your life all over again for you?

Fathers too must stop and think. Are you trying to run dictatorships in your homes? If so, why the need for 100 per cent instant obedience? The only rebel the more strongly anyway. Are you secure enough in your own self respect to allow a little self government (and a lot more peace) for your kids?

Teenagers must face up to the situation as well. If you want so much to be treated as adults, act adult. Instead of running or clamoring up, let your parents know about your feelings. People kept in the dark get confused and hurt and angry. And you've conveniently made it impossible for them to know what to do differently.

Both "sides" must give a little to get a little. Or the "cold war" will go on and on.

Billy Brown Is Swinging At Lincoln Lodge

BILLY BROWN has been performing at Lincoln Lodge for several weeks. In all those weeks, he has been breaking all records. The place is packed almost every night of the week. All weekends, it's Katie bar the door.

Billy is a one-man act. To be more specific, Billy is a one show. He makes more things happen with his voice and electric guitar than do most duos and trios. Several nights a week, Billy is joined by a cute little singer, Samantha Lee. This gal is terrific. But, most of the time, it is Billy Brown, all the way.

Billy is simply great. He is the greatest one man show to hit Columbus for a long, long time.

While he leans to the country and western, both in style, tonal quality and material, Billy handles all types of music very well. He owns a big, beautiful sounding voice. He knows show business from the word go. Billy employs a strong attack to every number, regardless if it is down home stuff, or "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home," to "I Left My Heart in San Francisco." His style is his own, Billy sounds like Billy Brown, and no one else.

Accompanying himself on electric guitar may not sound very appealing to you, wait until you hear him play. He sounds as if there are three guitars, a drummer and a bass on stage. I think Billy is one of the finest guitar players in captivity. He literally plays the "H" out of the thing.

AT THE END of the evening, Billy and Samantha Lee receive a standing ovation. Fantastic for a lounge.

Samantha Lee, who frequently joins Billy, as a singer and showman in her own right. This gal is only fourteen years old, but looks, acts and sings like a gal with fourteen years of experience. While Billy doesn't need any help, Samantha sure adds plenty of musical whip cream to the show. Samantha is a dynamo who really sings up a storm. Like Billy, she is a strong stylist with an attack that is bound to knock you off your seat. Remember the name, Samantha Lee, because I know in the years to come, you are going to hear a lot more about this gal.

AS I SAID, the music does run in a country and western vein, but it is not the strong hillbilly type of music. If you love good music, you'll enjoy the Billy Brown Show, with Samantha Lee at the Lincoln Lodge. I know, because I, and many hundreds of people agree, this is one group that has to be a must on your entertainment schedule. The Lodge is swinging with this pair.

Relax, Fine Food At The Dell

A COUPLE of weeks ago, I told you about the unique, interesting and relaxing decor of the Dell Restaurant. It is a place that's a joy to walk into, day or night, for lunch, dinner, or a few of your favorite beverages. Everything in the place has been restored. The only addition to the famous Columbus landmark is the carpeting.

The other evening I dropped in for dinner and to listen to the entertainment. Both are first rate and fit the atmosphere of the restaurant as a glove fits a hand.

First, let me tell you about the food. I'll start off by telling you that you won't find none any better. My broiled fillet of Fickler was a pure delight. Flavor was the keynote to this dish, a taste treat that I can still savor. The salad was excellent, with a delicious Roquefort dressing. An abundance of hot rolls were also served. The meal also included choice of potato and plenty of butter.

Ned, our waiter, was at my beck and call throughout the meal.

During and after the meal, I, as the rest of the crowd, were treated to some mighty fine, unusual entertainment. All of the waiters and waitresses sing. Now, if you enjoy good music, good voices and good fun type atmosphere, then the Dell Restaurant is a must for you. All of the waiters and waitresses are students at Capital University. All have well trained voices. Their musical library covers most all of the Broadway show tunes, some classics and the best of the old standards. It is entertainment, that you rarely find in a club or restaurant today.

If you already have had dinner, but still want to take in this excellent entertainment, just remember the Dell Restaurant is open until 1 a.m. There is a piano bar, plus another bar as well as tables. You can always order a late night snack or sandwich, also. Once in a while you'll find some of Columbus' better singers stopping in and rendering a few tunes.

The Dell is an absolute fun place. There is no other place like it Around Town.

Michael's Features A Good Duo

I CAUGHT a good duo the other evening at Michael's, in Grove City. Called the Shirley Lewellyn Duo, with Vic Percora, this twosome play a lot of music. The place was crowded with most everyone appearing to be enjoying themselves. The dance floor was full for just about every number, be it a rumba, rock slow, danceable tune.

The Shirley Lewellyn Duo is not a show group. Their stock in trade is providing lots of good music, that is great for listening or dancing.

Shirley is an attractive organist. She plays the black and white with plenty of gusto. Also, owning a nice voice, Shirley serves up all types of fine vocals.

Teaming up with Shirley is Vic Percora, a well known local drummer, who certainly knows what his job is all about. Vic is not one of those

A "Tantalizing" Trio

Jacque Wright, Diane Disque and Donna Ault play a humorous trio of "Over the Hill" comic strippers in the Players Club production of "Gypsy." pounding types of drummers. He shows a varied combination of rhythms. Yet, Vic keeps everything simple, laying down good, strong beats. The end result is a drummer who provides strong, simple toe-tappin' rhythms. He and Shirley compliment each other both vocally and instrumentally. Vic sings up a storm, with a voice that's quite unusual. To me, Vic sounds like a combination of a Louis Prima and Louis Armstrong. He is really fun to hear. Then with Shirley's nice, soft, melodious voice, you are treated with just about any type of song you want.

ALL IN ALL, Shirley and Vic combine to give you a good, solid musical duo. As I said before, Michael's was packed last Friday night, and everyone was having a ball. I think you will, too.

Skiping Around Town

AN INTERESTING person, is Jerry Entingh, the bartender at the Outrigger Bar of the Kahiki. Jerry is majoring in journalism, and soon will be giving up the bar for a typewriter. Hey in and say hello to Jerry, he makes your visit enjoyable.

At the Grag Shop, The Oldies, But Goodies Night is back. Every Tuesday it happens. All of the good, old songs of the 50's and 60's, lots of prizes, and plenty of fun. George Westermeyer entertains the crowds nightly. George is tremendous, both as a singer and performer. Back to the Lincoln Lodge, Billy Brown is drawing people from all over Columbus. Saw Bob Warner and his beautiful wife, dancing like a couple of teenagers. One of the sharpest gals Around Town, Donna Chapa, with hubby ex-furniture king, Ricco, also doing their thing on the floor. Same is true for Roy and Nancy Karns of Dayton. People are having a ball with Billy Brown. Don't forget Michael's as a fine place to eat, as well as for entertainment. Their food and service are tops, in my book. Watch for lots of news regarding the Holiday Inn-South. Plenty of new plans and ideas are in store to keep the Holiday Inn-South a fine place to go dining and all around good time. For you who enjoy good country and western music, The Rendezvous Room is a must for you. The Dick Wolford Show is there every Friday and Saturday. After the show, there is a good, down home breakfast available until 4 a.m., with country ham, eggs and the whole works. It's all a barrel of fun. For an intimate, quiet type of evening, the Holiday Inn-North is just the place for you. With the Jerry and Nick Duo playing beautiful, soft music Thursday through Saturday, in the lounge, this has to be the place to go for relaxing. The lounge is dark, quiet and is just the place to take that special someone for conversation or dancing. You'll love the place. Last but not least, Le Gourmet Room is my restaurant in Columbus. As the name implies, they specialize in gourmet food. It is a dining delight. See you Around Town this week, get out and enjoy yourself.

POCOHONTAS AND John Smith will step out of the pages of history and onto the stage of the Ohio Theatre on Saturday, Feb. 16. The Performing Arts Repertory Theatre will stage "Pocohontas" at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. as the third production of the Columbus Junior Theatre of the Arts 1972-74 Discovery Series of theatre for young people. Ticket information is available at 224-6971.

'Pocohontas' Is Next For Discovery Series

"Pocohontas," a musical history play presented by the Performing Arts Repertory Theatre Foundation of New York City, will be brought to the Ohio Theatre stage by the "Discovery Series" of Columbus Junior Theatre of the Arts. Performances are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16.

The story of Pocohontas, lifted from the original journals of Captain John Smith in the seventeenth century, has been adapted for P.A.R.T. audiences by Marvin Gordon, a New York

The rhythmic and pulsating music of "Pocohontas" was composed by Ted Simon, an arranger and conductor for cabaret performers Leslie Uggams, Joel Grey and Josh Rivers. Simon is also responsible for the musical coordination of several television specials and commercials.

Reservations for "Pocohontas" and other series plays may be made by calling the Columbus Junior Theatre of the Arts at 224-6971.

Cage Season Enders Should Be Terrific Races Still Up For Grabs

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer

West may have been lacking a respectable record entering last week's City League clash with then co-leader Mohawk but one thing is for sure, never under estimate the wealth of enthusiasm and talent these free-wheeling Cowboys possess.

"The kids realized that they are a much better basketball team than their record

FRIDAY

CITY LEAGUE: East at Eastmoor, Walnut Ridge at North, Northland and West, Mohawk at Whetstone, Brookhaven at South, Marion Franklin at Linden McKinley and Mifflin at Central.

Central Catholic League: Ready at Wehrle, Watterson at Hartley and St. Charles at Delaware.

Ohio Capital Conference: Whitehall at Worthington, Delaware at Westerville, Reynoldsburg at Gahanna and Mt. Vernon at Westland.

Mid-Ohio League: Grove City at Beavercreek.

Metropolitan League: Marysville at Franklin Heights.

SATURDAY

Area Non-League: Ready at Cincinnati Purcell, Hartley at Greenon, Cincinnati at Oak Hills at Walnut Ridge and West at Marion Harding.

indicates, and they know that they can't win the league, but are in a tremendous position to dictate who will." Those words by energetic West High boss Marv Schultz couldn't be truer.

AND THIS Friday night, in the famed Cowboy gym, those red hot free lancers will get upset assignment number two when sole City League leader Northland rides into Cowboy land with championship goals labeling them. And don't think that these Cowboys don't know the importance this could shed on the confused City Circuit as they were chanting "Northland is next," on the short victory ride home from Mohawk last week.

Eastmoor and Mohawk, now a game back of Northland, can skip right into a first place tie with the Vikings should West win, leaving only one week remaining on the City schedule. Eastmoor, a victor over rival Walnut Ridge last week, is home against East this week and Mohawk travels to troubled Whetstone.

THIS NEW breed of enthusiasm at West will culminate this week as the first ever "Mom's Night" will take place at the roundball match which will share the ticket with the championship match of a one-on-one contest between students of West which Student Council has been conducting this week.

This will take place at halftime.

And this new brand of basketball is not so new according to the six-year veteran Schultz who says, "The ball was just not bouncing the right way for us in the early part of the season and these kids deserve a lot of credit for hanging in there and realizing they are capable of playing the brand of ball that they played at Mohawk Friday night."

The main cog in that 78-75 upset of the highly touted Indians, as has been all year, was spunky Wes Redd, the smooth 6-1 talent rich team leader of this West squad. "Wes is just a tremendous individual and he not only displayed this Friday night, (24 points) but he had a team meeting about a week ago and laid it on the line with these guys and told them what they had to do."

CAPTAIN REDD will be the co-feature in the show that coach Schultz claims will pit two of the best guard in the league against one another, Northland's Jud Wood a highly sought after college prospect, being the other half of the show.

Redd has been getting some great court help from Tim Thrush and Ron Williams who combined for 31 against Mohawk and from 6-3 sophomore Gregg Bittle who earned praise from Schultz. "Bittle is really coming on and has been giving us great help under the boards."

The Central Catholic League will have a spotlight game of its own Friday night when twice beaten Hartley plays host to top dog Watterson. A Watterson win here clinches at least a tie for the Catholic crown while a Hartley victory would send the pair into a possible two-way championship share.

It should be another backcourt matchup between free-wheeling Mike Gilliland and sure-firing Sam Dixon of Watterson.

THE OHIO Capital Conference, bearing a new leader as of last Friday in Mt. Vernon, will pit Whitehall and Worthington in the mainliner which will be a first place dual or a second place scrap depending on last night's Mt. Vernon-Worthington tilt.

Whitehall will try to shake a three game losing skid as they lost to an inspired Gahanna club last Friday, marking their second OOC loss to the Lions. Worthington, meanwhile, gained a bit of steam via a 48-24 edge over Westland.

Berley, leader of the Mid-Ohio League, prepares for a rough time when Grove City invades Friday. The Gene Millard cagers came fresh from a 48-39 route of Groveport and must contend with the always tough Grove Gladiators who upset previous co-leader Urbana by a neat 88-87 count.

SOME INDIVIDUAL performances rendering recognition last week include Ron White for his 23 markers in Hartley's ten-point spread over Wehrle and Mark Hausfeld for his point leadership in St. Charles' quest of Bishop Ready.

Ron Latham and Larry Ferst teamed to lead Franklin Heights in its win while Marc Abramson, Bezleys crafty guard and Phil Wright were helpers in that Mid-Ohio win.

In the OOC Don Brough, Tim Crandall and Doug Burkhardt all cracked double figures in leading the Worthington win while Reynoldsburg's Ed Williams continued his amazing scoring pace with 22 in the Raider win over Westerville.

CITY STARS included productive weekend work out of Mike Hall and Hilton Hale in a pair of East wins and Brian Stertzer with 20 for Eastmoor in its Walnut Ridge victory. Incidentally, Stertzer was accurate nine times in 10

The Sky's The Limit Here

EVENING STREET Elementary second graders held a school-wide bazaar sale last week and contributed their earnings to Recreation Unlimited, an organization which provides summer residential camping for mentally and physically handicapped children. WLWC-TV sportscaster Jimmy Crum accepted the gift and told the students their $48 donation would send two children to camp. The second-graders' money-making project was part of their studies in mathematics and social studies.

Just Clowning Around

THESE CLOWNS will be just part of the fun at the Worthington High School Student Council's "Winter Carnival" on Saturday, Feb. 9, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Main Campus gymnasium. This year's carnival includes 30 booths featuring games, food and handicrafts. Admission is 15 cents per person. (Photo by David Taylor)

Card Cagers In 3-Way Tie If Victorious Last Night

The Worthington Cardinals entered the biggest week of the season on a high note last Friday with a 46-43 win over Westland. The thought last night Tuesday's clash with Mt. Vernon was in the back of their minds as the Cards came from behind in the final quarter.

A win last night would create a three-way Ohio Capital Conference deadlock involving Worthington, Whitehall, and Mt. Vernon. The latter nearly clinches the title if the Cards lost. Whitehall visits here Friday, in a game of uncertain importance, but it is Worthington's final home appearance.

Westland gave the Cards their fright of the season before succumbing. The visiting Cougars led 23 to 19 at the half as the Cardinals seemed to have a lid on their basket. Westland led 17-9 with three minutes left in the half, but allowed the Cards to catch up and keep it close.

HOT OUTSIDE shooting by Cougar guards Greg Spellman, who finished with 22 points, and Roger Schwaigert kept Westland in front, but only by slim 34-33 margin going into the final quarter.

Worthington pulled ahead to stay on a three-point play by Doug Burkhardt with less than two minutes to go. Tim Crandall canned three free throws in the next minute to make the score 46-41, and the Cards stalled out the final seconds after a Spellman basket.

Don Brough led the offense with 15 points and sparked the strong defense with 18 rebounds. Burkhardt with 11 and Crandall with 10 also hit double figures for the Cards, who hit 31 per cent from the floor.

Swimmers Win Relay In Mansfield Pool

By Missy Gillen

The Worthington High School swim team had a rewarding and successful weekend as the tankmen defeated Sandusky Perkins Friday night 64 to 31 and won the 15th annual Malabar Relays in Mansfield Saturday.

In Saturday's competition the Cardinals captured four of the seven events totaling 84 points. Runner-up Sandusky Perkins took 54 points, followed by Massillon with 48 points. On Friday night, Scott Norris set a new pool record in the diving competition with his highest score of the year with 289.45 points.

COACH BOB WAYLAND was especially pleased with the team's performance at the Relays. He said one of the team's goals this year was to win this event, having lost last year due to disqualification.

"I've always told the team that swimming is 90 per cent psychological and it wasn't hard to get the boys up for Saturday," he said.

Wayland explained he was concerned the team would lose its enthusiasm after taking third place in the first relay. "But instead of getting discouraged," he said, "we became more determined. We took second in the next relay and went on to win the last four events, setting two meet records."

This Saturday, Feb. 9, the Cardinal mermen travel to Upper Arlington for a 7 p.m. clash with the perennial state power, the Golden Bears.

Participants will be screened during their first class and out into classes according to skill. All classes are taught by certified Water Safety instructors and sanctioned by the American Red Cross.

THE FRIENDLY FISHERMAN

Fishermen are the friendliest people in the world. I think everyone is friendlier when they're outdoors enjoying the gift of nature. Besides just being neighborly you can pick up a lot of information to help you catch more fish.

On a nice day take a walk along a river bank or lake and watch the people fishing and enjoying the serenity of the outdoors. Stop by to chat and ask if they're having any luck. I've seen little kids hold up their stringer with a lonely six inch fish on it, eyes sparkling and say, "Look at this one mister." I'll ask what he used for bait and he will proudly tell me.

I have seen big fish people have caught in Ohio's well stocked lakes and streams and not once has a person kept their bait or lure a secret. Some of my favorite lures and methods were given to me on my strolls along a river bank talking to friendly people being neighborly, just fishing.

One morning on Hoover Reservoir north-east of Columbus, my wife and I were trolling for walleye near the shoreline and having no luck at all. I stopped my outboard motor to look in my tackle box of a different lure when I noticed we were drifting into a private dock. I looked up and saw a man standing there. He stared for a moment, smiled and asked if we were having any luck. I told him no and showed him the artificial lure we were using, a minnow imitation about five inches long. He said he had fished Hoover since they built the dam and found that walleyes were darn lazy fish and we might have better luck using smaller lures.

I thanked him, shoved off and changed to a smaller minnow imitation lure only three inches long. Don't you know it, we started catching walleye right away, and since we got this tip from the friendly stranger we have been using smaller lures for walleye and having good luck. We hope you do too.

WILD TURKEY HUNTING PERMIT

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources' Division of Wildlife reminds Ohio sportsmen that applications for wild turkey hunting permits are available at the Divisions' Columbus headquarters and all District Wildlife offices.

Dates for the 74 bearded turkey hunt are May 1 through May 4 and May 8 through May 11.

Dan C. Armbruster, Chief of the Division of Wildlife, said that applications for permits must be mailed and must be accompanied by a check or money order for $10.50 for each turkey hunting permit sought. Each hunter must submit his own application. Applications postmarked before March 1, 1974 will not be accepted. Armbruster said 2,000 permits will be issued (1,000 each period on a first-come, first-served basis.

College Open House Is Tonight

Georgetown College will hold an open house today, Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, 1-71 and Stringtown Road exit.

Students and parents in the area are invited to attend. Admissions staff from Georgetown will be on hand to discuss the College and its programs.

Central Alumni Varsity Invited Back

In keeping with the fiftieth year activities at Central High School, the Central athletic department is inviting all Central alumni varsity athletes to be guests at the final basketball game of the regular season—the Central vs Mifflin game Friday, Feb. 8.

Those planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Anne Williams or Miss Virginia Roe at Central, 225-2837.

Starting time for the reserve game is 6:30 p.m. and for the varsity game 8 p.m. Varsity alumni attending the game should enter the building by the Town Street door off the south parking lot.

SLIPPERY ROADS

If the road surface is icy, slow down by applying brakes in a series of pumps, letting up each time the car slows down, says the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Leavenworth

Guest At

Lincoln Baptist

Lincoln Village—Dr. J. Lynn Leavenworth, director of the Department of Theological Education and Chairman of the Professional Leadership Development Team of the Board of Educational Ministries of the American Baptist Churches in the USA, will speak Sunday, Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lincoln Baptist Church, 200 Old Village Rd.

In his work in the Department of Theological Education, Dr. Leavenworth gives leadership to the denomination's program of theological education, including strategy planning with the seminaries and staff guidance to the program of theological studies and consultation.

Dr. Leavenworth is co-author with Dr. Takashi Aikawa of the book "The Mind of Japan," growing out of his sabbatic leave teaching in Kanto Gakuin University in Japan. He is the editor of the book "Great Themes in Theology." In addition to lecturing and preaching, in his spare time he serves as president of Reach Associates, a non-profit corporation serving as a community catalyst relating to factors of human development, particularly among adolescents.

Navy Steel Band At FH,GC

The U.S. Navy's "Caribbean style" Steel Band will be performing in the Columbus area Feb. 11 and 12 while on an eight day tour of central and southern Ohio.

High school concerts are set at both Grove City and Franklin Heights High Schools. The High School concerts are being sponsored by each school's Navy Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (NJROTC) Unit.

Presently based at the Eighth Naval District Headquarters in New Orleans, the Steel Band was originally formed in 1957 at the Navy Command in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and is patterned after the "oil drum" bands of Trinidad.

In fact, steel bands originated in Trinidad, British West Indies, after World War II.

Happy Valentine's Day

WEST COLUMBUS—After more than 10 years of marriage, Larry and Larry Dejourney are still proud to show their affection. These Valentines are a little oversized but tomorrow they will share smaller, more personal ones. Mr. and Mrs. Dejourney are members of McDowell Senior Citizens Center. They will be able to join other members in welcoming new members Friday. The New Members Tea has a Valentine's Day theme. The Center had to have two parties because 185 people joined this month. Some of the new members learned about the activities at the Center when they applied for their OOTA "Good As Gold Cards" last month. (Photo by Kathy Devaney)

Supplemental Income Centers Set Up

West Columbus—Gladden Community House, 163 Hawkes, and Urbancrest CMAAO Neighborhood Service Center in Urbancrest, have volunteered to serve as SSI-Alert Neighborhood screening centers. Joe Borgo, SSI-Alert Project Director has announced.

"We hope persons age 65 or over, blind or disabled will come to these Centers to get more information on the new federal assistance program called SSI-Supplemental Security Income program. Trained volunteers will be available to help persons who might be eligible begin the necessary paper work to determine if they qualify for SSI benefits. Persons coming to the Centers will need to know their total income last month," Borgo explains.

SSI is a new federal program designed to extend financial assistance to thousands of persons not previously eligible for help. SSI funds are administered by the Social Security Administration. The funds are from general revenues of the federal government, not social security funds.

"We do need more volunteers to help in these neighborhood SSI-Alert Centers," Borgo added.

Anyone interested in volunteering or seeking more information on the SSI program should call SSI-Alert at the Red Cross.

DST Survey Being Taken

Columbus—Concerned with the problems created by the change to Daylight Saving Time, Superintendent Dr. John Ellis will survey parents of Columbus elementary children on their preference of school starting time.

In a letter to parents Dr. Ellis says: "We hope the federal or state government will prohibit Daylight Saving Time during the darkest winter months next year. We think this is the best solution to the problem of having children go to school in the dark."

Ellis added, "In the event that daylight saving time is in effect next winter, we want to know your preferences for school schedules. We are concerned about student safety and the effects of schedule changes on family life."

Parents will be asked to check a simple form which asks: "What time do you prefer that elementary schools begin next winter if we are on Daylight Saving Time?" They will have these response options: 8:45 a.m. (present beginning time), 9 a.m., 9:15 a.m., 9:30 a.m. or 9:45 a.m.

Principals sent the survey home with students Feb. 6. Parents were requested to check the preferred school starting time and return the sheet to school by Friday, Feb. 8.

Final tabulations will be considered when 1974-75 school schedules are being developed.

Theodore Turner Named Assistant Superintendent

By HANDY SCHWARTZ
Staff Writer

The Columbus School Board approved the appointment of Theodore H. Turner as assistant superintendent, personnel, of the Columbus Public Schools at its Feb. 8 Board of Education regular meeting.

Turner, who currently is serving as principal at Mohawk Junior-Senior High School, will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of James Wade. Wade became president of the Piney Woods Country Life School, Piney Woods, Mississippi, Feb. 1.

Turner, 49, is an accomplished music composer and widely-known conductor. He joined the Columbus Public Schools as a teacher of music theory and director of instrumental music at East High School in 1967. He then became an administrative cadet in 1968 and was assigned as assistant principal of Linmoor Junior High School from 1968 until 1972.

DURING THE 1968-69 school year, Turner served as assistant principal of Mohawk. He was promoted to the principalship of Franklin Junior High School in 1969 and served in that capacity until 1971 when he was promoted to principal at Mohawk.

Turner, a native of Weirton, W. Va., holds a bachelor's degree in music and education from Ohio State University and a master's degree from the University of Cincinnati. He also has studied at Purdue University, the University of Rochester and Rochester's Eastman School of Music.

He taught in the Lockland, Ohio, Public Schools and the Cincinnati Public Schools before coming to Columbus. He has a total of 23.5 years experience in the education field, 16.5 of those in Columbus.

School Superintendent Dr. John Ellis said, "We are most fortunate in having a person like Ted Turner available to assume responsibility for the Division of Teacher Personnel. He's a broad-gauged person. He has many talents and competencies and he has demonstrated a high level of administrative ability in each of the demanding assignments he has assumed."

ELLIS ADDED, "Ted Turner is known for his capacity to organize effectively and to relate to a broad spectrum of people. These talents are essential in fulfilling the complex responsibilities of attracting and retaining the finest teachers in America."

Turner's salary will be $30,326. His appointment will become effective Feb. 11.

Ellis said a successor to Turner at Mohawk will be named later but it was learned that assistant principal Larry Metz would take over until a replacement was appointed.

Turner was approved by a 5-1 vote, the only dissenting vote cast by board member Mrs. Marie Castleman. Castleman said she was aware of the great talents of Turner and she had the highest respect for him but she felt someone else was better qualified for the position.

Also on the agenda was approval for the purchase of nine new school bus chassis. This purchase from the International Harvester Company totals $144,000.

Other board transactions were routine professional, finance and civil service actions.

3.8 Mill Renewal Levy Authorized

By KATHY DEVANEY

Grove City—The South-Western City School Board authorized placing a 3.8 mill operating levy renewal on the May ballot at their Monday evening meeting.

The levy will not increase taxes because it is a renewal and not an increase. The funds account for approximately 10 per cent of the operating budget and so is of significant importance for the good of the school, according to Board Member Kenneth Relyea.

This will be the last request for a renewal because of a recent state law which makes renewal levies indefinite unless petitions are circulated and a vote is taken to remove them. IF PASSED THE levy would bring in $1,150,000.

At a special meeting Jan. 30 the school board reinstated the two bus drivers it had suspended—Linda Grimm and Harriet Blackburn. Philip Mosely opposed the reinstatement which had been ordered by the Grove City Civil Service Commission.

In other action Monday the board asked the clerk, Robert Jennings, to write a letter to Grove City City Council asking them to appoint a liaison to work with the school board and the Parks and Recreation Department in establishing a recreation program.

"The board is in agreement with the theory that the proposal is a service to the community, but it is a broad and extensive program and the board feels city council should work with the board of education and sign a formal contract for the program," Relyea said.

"Because of the magnitude of the program, it should be a common effort of the two (governmental units)."

RELYEA WAS concerned about who would be liable for any accidents, who would provide police protection at activities when it was necessary and with the extensive use of facilities.

"Each building principal should be asked for building use — there is no conflict in scheduling," he said.

Dr. Carroll Fell, director of business affairs who handles building use requests, told the board that Steve Brinkman, director of parks and recreation, has been informed that formal building requests for each building use must be made so the board can act on them.

Among the certified resignations accepted by the board was that of Mrs. Jo Ellen Foreman who resigned her teaching position at Buckeye Boys Ranch for "lack of support from the administrators" employed there.

DR. MARTIN STAHL, superintendent, explained to the board that the problem has been caused by expansion which has nearly doubled enrollment. The administration at the Ranch has been advised by the district to correct the problems or face loss of South-Western learners.

James Kimmel, 450 Deerfield Rd., was appointed to the Grove City Public Library Board.

Fireman Serving Mankind

WEST COLUMBUS—The Columbus West Sertoma club held its annual "Service to Mankind" banquet last Thursday night. Honored in ceremonies held at the Howard Johnson's restaurant was William F. Rector. The local club annually honors a member of the community for their outstanding service to the community. Rector, is a Columbus fireman and assigned to Medical Unit 17. He was one of the first men to be trained for the Heartmobile. The contribution of his skills, knowledge and efforts have helped to make the Columbus Heartmobile unit unmatched for excellence throughout the nation. In accepting the award, Rector stated that he is actually a lazy person. He believes that if he can help his neighbor to help himself then in the long run his job will be easier. The Columbus West club has submitted Rector's name to the state Sertoma organization for possible statewide recognition. Rector resides at 136 S. Algonquin with his wife, Joyce, their daughter Tami and two sons, Bobby and Lowell. Shown above are (left to right) Charles Cox, vice-president of Sertoma International; William F. Rector, recipient of "Service to Mankind" Award; and William D. Godacy, president of Columbus West Sertoma.

Township No Parking Resolution Explained

LI. J.F. Hughes
Fire Prevention Officer

Jan. 21 the Franklin Township Board of Trustees by Resolution adopted Section 505.17 of the "Ohio Revised Code."

Section 505.17 of the Ohio Revised Code gives Township Trustees the authority to make regulations and orders as are necessary to control all vehicle parking on private property and roadways adjacent to buildings, provided the property and buildings are used for commercial purposes, and the public is permitted to use parking areas.

Purpose of parking control by regulations and orders is to provide access to the property or buildings by "Public Safety Vehicles." Public Safety vehicles as defined by Ohio Law means Fire Department Apparatus, Emergency Ambulance and Police Vehicles.

Parking of private vehicles in any of these areas, marked by "No Parking" at anytime signs and yellow curbs in the boundaries of Franklin Township will result in a citation and/or having the vehicles in violation impounded.

Any citation received for parking in a parking control zone must be paid at the Franklin County Municipal Court, 120 W. Gay St., Columbus.

The observance of the resolution will eliminate some of the problems the fire department has had in the past getting access to buildings and carrying people out of the buildings on stretchers.

Crime Prevention Week-- Feb. 10-16 Proclaimed

West Columbus—Monday Mayor Tom Moody proclaimed the week of Feb. 10-16 as Crime Prevention Week in Columbus and urged all citizens to make a special effort to take precautionary measures to prevent crime.

This is the 27th annual observance of National Crime Prevention Week and the 10th year that the Exchange Club of Columbus has participated in the "Police Officer of the Year" award. The "Officer of the Year" will be selected from nominations submitted by supervisors of the Division of Police. The officer will be presented an award from the Exchange Club at their noon luncheon Thursday, Feb. 14, at the Neil House Motor Hotel. Chief of Police Earl Burden will be the featured speaker at the award ceremony.

The signing of the proclamation was in Mayor Moody's office. Present at the signing were Clare M. Mershon, Exchange Club President; and Oscar Ruffing, chairman of Crime Prevention Week; Charles Wenner, Assistant Safety Director; and Earl Burden, chief of police.

Exchange Clubs all over the nation will set aside this week to focus public attention on the ever present crime problem in an attempt to arouse conscientious citizens to take action to prevent criminal opportunity. Their slogan for this year is:

"Crime is the loser...when you know the game rules."

Relax on a pillow, a rug or even a bean-bag chair at the Rug Concert with Otterbein's sweetheart, Miss Carol Courtman, Valentine's Day Thursday, Feb. 14, 8:15 p.m. in the Campus Center.

Rug concerts are for the young at heart, strong of muscle and solid dierriere. They allow a performer to mingle with the audience in an informal atmosphere. So pull out the old feather pillow and pack away the long dress for the evening.

Informal and relaxed, rug concerts began with the New York Philharmonic last August. They removed traditional seating and encouraged the audience to sit on rugs, pillows, etc.

The informal concert is not new to Miss Courtman, affiliate artist at Otterbein, sponsored by the Sears Roebuck Foundation-National Endowment for the Arts. She has been combining performer and audience for a unique musical experience with her "Informances" throughout the Columbus area since September.

Miss Courtman began her singing career at the age of 10 as a church soloist. Studying privately and at the Academy of Vocal Arts in her native Philadelphia, she won both the Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest and the Pennsylvania Federation of Music Club Auditions. She has performed with the symphony orchestras of London, Pittsburgh and Buffalo.

Miss Courtman will be assisted by the Otterbein Jazz Combo under the direction of Dr. Roman Lavore.

For information call 881-3331.

Crucial Corner

HAPPINESS

We search for many things in life, but probably the most sought after is an elusive condition of our existence called "happiness."

Do you know any really happy or unhappy people? "OK," you probably say, "sometimes I am and sometimes I am not."

What you are saying is that your happiness depends on conditions and events outside of yourself; that you do not control your own happiness.

If this is the case, you are probably among those who from time to time ask: "How do I find true happiness?"

I am suggesting that if you have to look, you probably don't know what you are looking for. Let me pass on a few observations I have made concerning people's search for happiness.

Some of the most unhappy people I know are what I call "if-then-ers." Certainly you have said to yourself: "If I had then I would be happy."

"If I had that new car; if I could retire; if the house were paid for; if I had privacy; if other people would do their share, then I would be happy."

Living in a materialistic society we are often caught up in finding happiness in what we buy. Isn't this what we are told nearly around the clock on radio and television commercials? If we just bought this thing or that thing then we could be happy.

Unfortunately when we get that certain something, we usually find that unhappiness is back.

Looking for happiness is like the person who searches all over the house for a diamond ring that they discover was on their finger all of the time. Happiness is not something that one looks for, rather it is something that one becomes.

In this time of national affluence it is especially important that we bring meaning to life where boredom and unhappiness existed. Boredom seems to be one of the primary diseases of our time. It affects all ages, from preschoolers to the aged.

The drug problem, the alcohol problem, the high divorce rate, and many other of our social maladies all seem to involve people who are bored with a meaningless existence. Students say they are bored with school, men and women are bored with their jobs and housewives are bored with the routine.

However, on further observation, I see that these "same people are often bored, not only with school, or job, but with home, the streets, television, each other and especially with themselves. In short, they are bored with life. They seek and often find "mountain top" experiences. However, one can stay on the mountain top only briefly.

John Dewey, the great educator and philosopher, once said something to the effect that the purpose of intensification of the ordinary. This, I think, is getting at the fundamental answer to alleviating boredom and unhappiness.

We must intensify (give meaning from) the mundane, the ordinary, the daily. These are the things of which most lives are made. Thus, if happiness (meaning) is to be found, it must be found in what is. We should help ourselves and each other to find meaning in our lives, rather than to direct our search and our energies toward meaningless things.

I have found that happy people are happy just about all of the time, whereas unhappy people are that way constantly, regardless of what happens to them.

Surely you can identify someone who seemingly has all of the breaks, yet they are so miserable. On the other hand, there are those who, while enduring tragedy, maintain a genuine smile and wear a face and a spring in their step.

Sometimes it seems as simple as deciding to be happy. This involves a decision to "bloom where you are planted" or find meaning where you are. Sure, there are mean and difficult people in our lives. Yes, I know, the world is full of deceit and unpleasantness. If there is something you can change, by all means get at it; but where we cannot, we disturb ourselves needlessly, demanding that people and reality change.

Others I have met seem to think that happiness is something that happens to you. This is not altogether different from married couples who regard love as a "feeling" that will remain with them always. Neither happiness nor love are rare; they are, rather, like growing things that must be cared for, nurtured and attended to.

How about trying this: Tomorrow morning start the day by acting as if you are happy. That's what I said, take it if you have to. You might just find that when you act as if, you begin to get the feel of making yourself happy. And, by the way, have you noticed how people respond to happy people? That's right, with happiness. Certainly our own happiness could be enhanced by getting it "back at us" from the people in our lives.

Unhappiness is usually unhappiness with self. So, why not start with yourself now, not when you retire, or when people change, or when the sun shines. Oh yes, there is a price. It can best be summed up in a quote by Cardinal Newman: "Happy are those who dream dreams and are willing to pay the price to make them come true."

DEB AND COE NEWS

Feb. 18 the COE, COE and IOE students went to the Western Pancake House for breakfast. Approximately 100 students attended this breakfast.

The COE students will visit Grandview High School's COE block Feb. 14. Then the COE presidents are going to the Grandview COE presidents' homes for a tea.

HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society held a meeting Feb. 6. At this meeting such subjects as scholarships and initiations were discussed. One proposal in the meeting was that two scholarships instead of one be given to seniors planning post high school education.

Scholarship applications will be coming out soon. The society held a spaghetti dinner Jan. 25 to raise money for a scholarship. The senior to receive this scholarship will be announced sometime in April. The other topic of the meeting, initiation, is now being planned.

IN THE KNOW

The taping of Franklin Heights vs. Reynoldsburg on "In The Know" will be Thursday at Channel 10 on Twin Rivers Dr. at 8 p.m.

WRESTLING

The Falcons hosted the last South-Western Triangular Meet. Grove City won the meet with Westland coming second and Franklin Heights third. The Falcons only had one champion. Randy Dinges won the 135 weight class and is now 18-0 for the year.

In reserve competition the Falcons had three champions: Tony Dinges, Rodney Bauges and John Forbes.

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL

The freshmen basketball team played Teays Valley. Feb. 5. The Falcons played a good game but came out on the losing end with a score of 54-51. Phil Redding was high scorer for the Falcons with 23 points.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girls' basketball team played twice last week, hosting Dublin Tuesday and Hamilton Township Thursday. The Falcons beat Dublin with a score of 48-18. Brenda DeLong was high scorer with 15 points.

The reserves also won with a score of 22-10. Jenny Hammel was high scorer with eight points.

The girls then played Hamilton Township. Again the Falcons came out on top by a score of 43-10. Lynn Brown was high scorer with 15 points. The reserve team also won by the score of 18-10. Mary Fair was the high scorer, contributing eight points.

Golden Age News And Notes

WOULD YOU like to have your income tax done by an expert for free? That is exactly what you can do at the Council on Aging. Beginning this week and continuing through April 9, this service will be available every Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Council headquarters, 906 East Broad St., 431-5908.

Mrs. Roger Senkey has been trained by the Internal Revenue Service to give free advice on returns.

She is a volunteer under the VITA Program which she entered as her Junior League assignment.

"I used to get involved in the family income tax returns and they always seemed so complicated," she said. "After a while, I began to get interested and fascinated by the process."

When I heard about the training program I jumped at the chance. We were trained at the Columbus Technical Institute with instructors furnished by the IRS. We had a large class and beginning in February, 10 stations will be opened around the city. They will be manned by volunteers who will give free help on income tax returns to anyone who comes to us.

"MY SPECIAL" League volunteer placement is at the Golden Hobby Shop, so when I finished my IRS training, I broached the subject of opening up a station at Council headquarters with Mr. Lynch, the Director.

I will be here every Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. I plan to make the problems of Senior Citizens returns a specialty. I have carefully studied the rules on pensions and I've got a wonderful textbook that gives me all the answers I could possibly want. In a crisis, I have a special number I can call for direct help if I have to have it."

MRS. SANKEY will have to reluctantly forgo her duties as a volunteer with the Golden Hobby Shop during her stint with the IRS station. She is equally enthusiastic about both these activities but a growing family only allows so much free time.

So there you have it - a place to go to get your IRS problems solved, someone to do it for you, it's tailored to your needs, and it's free.

AFTER YOU have your returns completed and off your mind, you can go downstairs and enjoy with a clear conscience the new look of the Golden Hobby Shop.

After an immensely successful Christmas season, a mid-season closing for inventory, and a re-opening with new merchandise, the Shop now sports the Valentine look.

Everything is here for your Valentine.

THERE IS a lovely big doll dressed in red dotted gingham trimmed with red lace. Her jewelry consists of tiny heart pins.

More sophisticated is the Ballet Doll with her stiff white skirts, huge tipped up red hat, and her valentine box.

Even Raggedy Ann and Andy have red polka dotted clothes. The Teddy bears have donned "heart" buttons and have red yarn around their necks.

ON THE MORE practical side are the little girls' dresses, one red with a white pinafore, size 4, and the other size 2 or 3 with an organdy eyelet pinafore over red.

For table favors, there are great suckers cunningly concealed on red felt jackets, and a huge red, plump, old fashioned pin cushion with lace trim.

AS ALWAYS, the shop is filled with gifts of every description; jewelry in glass, hand painted, ceramics, and novelty materials; knitted goods (all hand made of course by senior citizen consignees); stoles, capes, sweaters, afghans, and yes, pot holders.

The hand painted china is especially attractive. This art has been given an added impetus by the demonstration of china painting held last week at the shop.

Artists were Edna Keller, Elsie Geach, and Adele Myers.

WHILE enjoying the Shop, we met one of the consignees. By request, he was bringing in more of his popular glass candle holders.

He trims the outside of the glass with stones in a framework of metal and the resulting design creates wonderful prisms for the candle glow.

He explained that he picks up the stones from a favorite place in the North of the state choosing them by shape.

HE PLACES them in a slow tumbler for two weeks, with fine grained silt the first week and much coarser grains the second. What emerges is a smooth, shining colorful stone.

St. Vincent's Companions Will Sponsor Millionaires Party

The Companions of St. Vincent's Children's Center will hold their annual "Millionaires Champagne Dinner Party" Saturday, February 23, at 6 p.m. at Stoney Creek Country Club.

Immediately following the dinner, games will be played with play money from 9 p.m. to midnight.

At midnight all play money of each player will be tallied and the ones with the most money will be awarded prizes.

A few of the many prizes to be given away are: 1 weeks vacation use of a mobile home, luggage, wine rack and a case of liquor.

The chairman is Mrs. Mary Ann Sands with Mrs. Debbie Rodenfels as co-chairman.

Financial chairman is Mrs. Barbara Ryssavy; Games, Mrs. Nancy Grundy; Prizes, Mrs. Molly Connor; Decorations, Mrs. Helen O'Brien; Publicity, Mrs. Diane DuBrul; Tickets, Mrs. Trish Pauten 231-6552, and Mrs. Sandy Brown 226-7407.

The Companions aid the Children's Center financially as well as donating their time in service at the center.

St. Vincent's no longer houses orphaned children, but have this past year merged with the Children's Psychiatric Hospital and are now in a program dealing with emotionally disturbed children.

Perform a death-defying act.

Have your blood pressure checked.

Fishing With Numbers

Here's a way to help you locate those hiding schools of crappies, bass and walleyes. I call it fishing with numbers. When you reach the area of a lake or stream that looks productive, walk quietly to the shoreline, or if you're in a boat, shut the motor off, row or let the wind drift you within casting distance.

Remember, if you can see fallen trees and rocks below the surface, fish can see you and they won't wait around long enough for you to even wit a line. A quiet approach is necessary.

To fish with numbers in five to ten feet of water, use a lure that floats at rest and dives below the surface when retrieved.

A nightcrawler or minnow with a small weight attached about six inches above a medium size hook will also work.

Now, picture the face of a clock out on the water. Cast out to nine o'clock position, then eleven, twelve and on around the clock using a slow retrieve with each cast. If you don't get a strike the first time around, start again at nine o'clock. When you land a fish, remember the number and work that area.

YOU MIGHT ask what do you do if casting the numbers on the clock doesn't locate a fish. Chances are the school of fish is in deeper water. To locate a school in water ten to twenty feet, first switch to a lure or spinner that sinks, or add more weight to your live bait rig.

Cast out to the numbers on the clock, but let your lure sink and count down until it reaches bottom. Let's say you counted to twenty.

Retrieve slowly and if you don't find a school near bottom at the count of twenty: Cast out again and begin your retrieve at the count of fifteen. If this doesn't produce a strike, cast, count down and begin your retrieve at the count of ten, etc.

When you land a fish just remember the number you began your retrieve on your last cast.

IF FISHING with numbers sounds like work, you're right. Avid angling is work, but enjoyable work.

Northern Pike at Kokosing Lake Tailwater

During the past week many many nice Northern Pike were caught from the tailwaters of Kokosing Lake. Local resident, Lester Kokes, harvested 6 pike ranging in size from 18 to 36 inches weighing up to 8 pounds.

The Northern Pike in the tailwater of Kokosing Lake were first stocked in the Reservoir during June of 1972. They exhibited exceptional growth in the reservoir and have apparently escaped to the tailwaters during flooding conditions.

Test netting of the Reservoir indicated the pike had grown to between 15 1/2 and 18 1/2 inches during their first 4 months in Kokosing Lake.

By April of 73, testing revealed the Northern Pike had grown up to 30 1/2 inches. Recent angler harvest for the tailwaters indicated the pikes exceptional growth has continued with many of the two year old fish measuring 33 to 36 inches.

THE MOST productive bait has been large shiners (3 to 5 inches) fished in the tailwaters above Township Road 378, the first bridge immediately below the lake.

Vocational Education Advances As Students, Adults Get Ahead

By Ray Adams
Executive Editor

THOUSANDS of students in the area are busy this week letting others know this is Vocational Education Week.

They are showing it by their activities both in school, at home and for some, at their places of employment.

It is significant to note that vocational education is closely tied to academic needs in today's job market and many students continue academic training along with their interests in becoming proficient in a skill that will possibly mean immediate employment upon graduation.

Employment during the school year is also possible and gives the student on-the-job training that in many cases gives the employer almost a "finished product" employee to go along with the diploma.

WE HAVE HAD the opportunity the past three years to become personally involved in the vocational education program through participation with many student and adult programs in an advisory capacity.

And, now, vocational education is even reaching more people in different categories; two being the dropout from high school and the adult who wants to become more knowledgeable in his present occupation to enhance advancement opportunities, or to obtain new knowledge in another field that could be a start in a new occupation if a layoff occurs or the present job folds.

WE DON'T FEEL it is necessary for anyone to proclaim this week as Vocational Education Week. The persons directly involved are already doing this and their accomplishments span more than just a week of recognition as from sunrise to way past sunset, in many cases seven days a week, they put their collective noses to the educational grindstone to produce a better product for all humanity.

Historical Center Schedules Nature Lab Show, Black Film

"Black Music in America" is this weekend's free film at the Ohio Historical Center. The third in the February series on black history, this film traces the development of black American music through the years. Using the performances of many famous black artists, black music is traced from its early beginnings in the slave quarters of Southern plantations to its strong influence in modern American culture.

This entertaining color film will be shown at 2 and 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 16-17, in the auditorium of the Center. Admission is free. Liquid crystals, the fascinating matter that falls between solid, gas and liquid, are the subject of this weekend's Nature Lab demonstration at the Ohio Historical Center.

Planned Parenthood In Program

Columbus Planned Parenthood has scheduled William E. Masters, M.D. and Mrs. Virginia E. Johnson to Columbus to speak at Merabon Auditorium Feb. 20, at 8 p.m.

Their lecture topic is titled "Facts: Sex and Sexuality." Dr. Masters and Mrs. Johnson are the co-directors of the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation, which is located in St. Louis, Missouri, where they have developed an innovative program that has revolutionized the treatment of sexual dysfunction. Tickets can be purchased at Merabon Auditorium, $1.50 for students and $3 for non-students.

Patrol Aid Exceeds Arrests

For the first time Ohio State Highway Patrol year-end figures revealed Jan. 21 that assistance rendered to Ohio motorists far exceeded arrests for calendar year 1973. Colonel Robert M. Chieramonte, Patrol superintendent, announced. "During 1973 Patrol officers assisted 444,926 motorists in distress, a 14 per cent increase over the 1972 total," Colonel Chieramonte said. "Arrests totaled 439,910 including both felony and misdemeanor violations."

Garden Clubs Will Sponsor Tree Seedlings Sale Program

ARBOR DAY has been a special day for many Ohioans since 1882, and to encourage more citizens to celebrate Arbor Day '74 April 26, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs are combining efforts to sell tree seedlings at cost in minimum lots of 25.

The purpose of the program is to give area residents an opportunity to participate in Arbor Day by improving the environment, according to Mrs. Gordon Shepard, president of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs.

"SINCE ITS beginning in 1873 in Nebraska, Arbor Day has been more than a day to plant trees; it has been a day to plant beauty and to create a heritage for the future," said Natural Resources Director William B. Nye, explaining that Ohio's first Arbor Day celebration was in Cincinnati April 27, 1882. In 1964, the Ohio Legislature established Arbor Day as the last Friday in April.

"Trees clean our air, protect our natural surroundings and enhance our visual environment," Nye said.

TWO SPECIES of trees are being offered for sale, the redbud (flowering deciduous tree) and the Douglas fir (evergreen tree).

Forms may be obtained by contacting Garden Club Trees, P.O. Box 393, Reynoldsburg, Ohio, 43068 by Feb. 23. Order forms should be obtained before checks or money orders are mailed.

The seedlings will be in minimum lots of 25 for $5. Each lot of 25 three-year-old bare root seedlings will contain only one species of tree. Planting instructions will accompany each order filled.

"THE COST (30 cents per seedling) is very reasonable," Nye said. He urged citizens who do not have the space to plant 25 trees to consider sharing an order or giving the extra trees as environmental gifts to friends, neighbors or relatives.

The seedlings will be available for pick-up on April 25, 26 and 27.

Serving as State Chairman for the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs second annual tree seedling sale is Mrs. James L. Bates, and assisting her is Mrs. Eugene Crosby.

These gardeners have been working on this project with Robert McCance of the Department of Natural Resources. Both Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Crosby are members of the Marbar Heights Garden Club, Reynoldsburg.

The bare root, 3-year seedlings of the Douglas Fir will be approximately 8-16 inches in height, and the Redbud seedlings will be approximately 10-18 inches in height.

Deadline for submitting orders for seedlings along with a check or money order payable to Garden Club Trees will be Tuesday, March 5.

Program Supervisor For Hearing Named

William D. Otis has assumed the position as Program Supervisor for the Hearing Impaired at Columbus Technical Institute, 560 East Spring St.

Otis has spent the past three years serving as Director for the State Service Bureau - Wisconsin Association of the Deaf.

At Columbus Tech, 20 deaf students are now receiving instruction in five fields accounting, architecture drafting, business data processing, dental laboratory and medical laboratory.

The program is partially funded by the State Department of Vocational Education and the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Otis hopes to introduce programs that will increase the enrollment of deaf students at Columbus Tech and that will provide a better understanding between the deaf student and the general public.

Schedule Consumer Course

In an effort to help the consumer understand the new Labeling Law, the U.S. RDA requirements, and how these regulations can assist the homemaker in selective buying, the Food Service Department at Columbus Technical Institute, 560 East Spring St., is offering "Let's Talk About Food" to the public.

A representative from U.S. Food and Drug Administration will attend one session and will be concerned with questions and comments from the consumer.

A choice of times is being offered for the class. It will run from Tuesday, Feb. 10 through March 12, either at 8 11 a.m. or from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

For further information, call the Division of Continuing Education, 221-6743, extension 219 or 244.

You're Telling Us!

The Spectator Newspaper welcomes letters from readers, expressing their views on subjects of interest to them - whether initiated by news stories or editorial expansion in this newspaper or not. Because of space limitations, we prefer letters which do not exceed 300 words. All letters submitted for publication must be signed with the writer's name and address, although - upon request - the name of the writer can be withheld. Letters should be marked: "To the Editor, Spectator Newspaper, 3421 South Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio 43204" and must be received by Friday noon prior to publication date for possible publication in that week's edition.

Eastland Registration Was Helped

To the Editor:

We enrolled approximately 800 Adults in various programs in our Winter Term.

This was due to your efforts in helping us to spread the news.

Thanks again for your sincere interest in Eastland and in Education.

Sincerely,

William Camp
Supervisor, Adult Education

Masks Express Appreciation

To the Editor:

The Masks for Cystic Fibrosis would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Elsie Weaver, Spectator East Editor, for the nice coverage she gave our 1973 House of the Christmas Mouse.

Any organization such as ours depends entirely on the goodwill of people such as yourself to educate the public to our cause and we thank her again for doing such a wonderful job.

From the thousands of children who fight for the breath of life,

Respectfully,

Mrs. Gordon A. Young
Co-Chairman
House of the Christmas Mouse

Christmas Seal Campaign Was Successful

To the Editor:

I would like to thank you on behalf of the Central Ohio Lung Association. Your cooperation in printing articles, editorials and photographs for the 1973 Christmas Seal Campaign activities was an invaluable service.

Without the help of the Spectator, many people would be unaware of the growth and continuing development of Ohio's capital community.

This year has been a difficult one for us, partially because we changed our name from the Tuberculosis Society to the Central Ohio Lung Association.

Your support has helped immeasurably in the transition to our new name.

We are very grateful and hope your support will continue through the years of a year-round basis.

Sincerely,

Barbara Rattin
Public Relations Director

Ohio Village Name Of Historical Village

"Ohio Village" has become the official name of the new pre-Civil War community being constructed in Columbus by the Ohio Historical Society. The Society's Board of Trustees approved the name at their meeting Jan. 25.

The name, submitted by John P. Teevan of Lebanon, was chosen from several hundred nominations made to the Society since mid 1971. Teevan will be honored during dedication ceremonies at the village later this year.

The primary consideration for approval of "Ohio Village" was that it states what the village is and implies its purpose: a representative county seat of the early nineteenth century designed to convey the atmosphere and workings of an early community's economy and its social life. Also since the village represents the type of community found in Ohio at that time rather than a particular town, it was felt this general title would be more clearly understood.

The Ohio Village will bring to life the daily activities in a small community before the Civil War. Initially visitors will be able to observe 14 separate crafts and trades being practiced by skilled workers. These include blacksmith, printer, gunsmith, cabinetmaker, tinsmith, shoemaker, and weaver.

The village hotel dining room will serve visitors from an authentic menu of the early nineteenth century. A general store, glass and china shop, town hall, doctor's office and early museum will also be open to the public.

The Ohio Village is being developed just north of the Historical Center on I-71 and 17th Avenue in Columbus.

Toastmistress Club Installs Officers

Officers to serve for the next six months were installed by the Columbus Toastmistress Club, Jan. 30, during a regular meeting at the Jai Lai Restaurant.

New Craft To Be Taught At YW

West Columbus--An opportunity to be creative with a new craft, "Transfer Art" will be offered at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2879 Valleyview Dr.

Mrs. Pat Groom will conduct a two-day workshop, Wednesday, Feb. 27, and Wednesday, March 6, 9:30-11:30 a.m. using demonstration and instruction for YW members ($11) and non-members ($13). The fee includes the cost of supplies provided by the instructor.

The method involves selecting a picture, for example a greeting card, and a surface-wood, metal canvas, glass or ceramic--and "decorticate" solution and transferring the picture to the surface.

"I wanted to teach people something fun to do," said Mrs. Groom. "It allows people who have no artistic ability to create something."

The pictures may be taken from magazines, coloring books, calendars or wrapping paper. Crayons, pencils, ink and watercolors may be used on paper and transferred to any surface. The big advantage of decorticate over decoupage is that the liquid is non-toxic, water soluble and won't give off any damaging vapors, making it a safe and fun project for even young children.

Mrs. Groom has made key chains, candles, pictures, plaques, decorative rocks and bottles, wedding announcements and jugs by this process.

Registration is now open at the Hilltop YWCA Center for this workshop. Call 276-3348.

Feb. 19, 10 a.m. the Hilltop YWCA Center "Tuesday-at-the-YW" program will feature a trustee of the Ohio Consumers' Association speaking on the topic, "The Care of the Consumer." How much power does an individual have? What are consumer rights?

The morning program and lunch for YW members is $1 and for non-members $1.25. Child care is provided at the nominal fee of 75 cents for members and $1 for non-members per family. There is plenty of free parking.

WEST COLUMBUS--Mrs. Pat Groom, "Transfer Art" instructor, demonstrates the process of transferring a picture onto wood.

Hayes-Andrews Wed

West Columbus--Jennifer M. Hayes became the bride of Timothy Joe Andrews Dec. 15 at Upper Arlington Lutheran Church.

The new Mrs. Andrews is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl R. Hayes, 2794 Lyndington Rd. Mr. Andrews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Andrews, 1088 Parma Ave.

The 11 a.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Luther O. Strommen and Rev. C. Edward Linville. The wedding vows were written by the couple. Many song were written especially for the wedding.

The bride wore an old fashioned gown of ivory crystalene organza. Cluny lace decorated the bodice, long sleeves, hem and train. Ivory ribbon covered with lace was set in the empire waistline.

A cameo pin of the bride's grandmother was worn on the high neckline. A lace bonnet held her elbow length veil and she carried long stemmed red roses with holly and baby's breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Timberlake served as best man and matron of honor.

Other members of the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie LeMaster, Larry Hayes, Suzanne Hosking, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Durtachi, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Heseltin, Mr. and Mrs. Star McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Les Zartman, Steve Hostler and Jane Bruns. Michael and Patty Guerin were ringbearer and flower girl.

Seating guests were John Williams, Ken Ross, John Pierce and Pat Kessler. The bridesmaids wore long red velvet dresses trimmed with ecru crocheted lace. They carried bouquets of white roses with holly and baby's breath. All the dresses were made by the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Upper Arlington High School and studied textiles at Ohio State and Ohio Universities. She is employed at Main Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The groom is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio University. He is majoring in photography at Columbus College of Art and Design.

The couple had a one week honeymoon trip to Williamsburg, Va.

Westgate Roundup

BASKETBALL

The Junior Girls Basketball Team, 12 years old and under, won the runner-up position in the Columbus Recreation and Parks Department tournament held Thursday, Feb. 7, at Cooke Recreation Center.

To be eligible for the tournament, the Westgate team won the West Sectional Tournament held Jan. 28 at Westgate Recreation Center. The Westgate team won every game they played except for the championship game when Linden Recreation Center broke their 10 game winning streak.

The members of the Westgate team are Diana Jennings, Deana Jennings, Terry Jennings, Sandy Kregg, Tonja Barnes, Cindy McVey, Julie Gatrell, Pam Evans, Margorite Canady, Linda Hodgetts, Roberta Coburn, Chris Thompson and Dee Dee Coburn.

The boys basketball tournament begins this week, and the West Sectional Tournament is being held at Sunshine Recreation Center. Westgate will enter three teams; one will be in the junior division, for boys 12 years old and under; the intermediate division, for boys 13 to 15 years of age; and the senior division for boys 16 to 18 years old.

TEAM HANDBALL

Team handball will be played at Westgate Recreation Center starting Feb. 18.

Team handball is a seven man game in which the object of the game is to throw the ball, which is smaller than a volleyball, into 12 foot goals. The game is fast and physical, body checking is allowed to prevent the opponents from scoring. The game is a combination of basketball, dodge ball, soccer and hockey.

The staff at Westgate will be holding a clinic and organizing teams beginning Monday, Feb. 18, at 7 p.m. for boys 16 to 18 years old. Boys 13 to 15 will be playing starting Feb. 22 at 7 p.m.

VOLLEYBALL

Teams for volleyball leagues are now being accepted at Westgate Recreation Center. Organization meetings will be Tuesday, Feb. 19, for boys 13 to 15. Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 7 p.m. boys 16 to 18 will be organizing for their upcoming leagues. Any boys interested in playing volleyball are to report to Westgate for registration and assignment to a team.

Girls volleyball will be held Thursdays starting Feb. 21. Girls 12 years old and under will play 3:30 to 5:45 and teenage girls will play 7 to 9:45 p.m.

WEST COLUMBUS—Rev. Earl Bishop of Brookshire United Methodist Church points to a brick from the Gift Street Methodist Church which has been incorporated into the fireplace in the fellowship hall of the new educational building. Brookshire is relocated from the Gift Street Church which was founded in 1848. The altar from that church will be used in the fellowship hall for the consecration service Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Dr. Glenn Copeland, district minister, will be guest speaker. Rev. Bishop hopes the church will be a "service station rather than a monument." The building is constructed so it can be easily remodeled as the needs of the community and church change. The building has approximately 10,000 sq. ft.

WEST COLUMBUS—Barbara Bishop is shown with the grandfather's clock donated in memory of her grandfather. This, like most of the furnishings in the new educational building, were purchased from money donated in lieu of flowers. Laymen have done most of the interior finishing, laid floor tile, ceramic tile, the preparatory work for remodeling, installed the lighting fixtures, hung drapes and put up gutters and down spouting.

St. Cecilia's Sets Science Fair

WEST COLUMBUS—St. Cecilia's school will show off their new library facilities at an open house and science fair tonight from 7-9 p.m. Students of all grades will display projects of their own special interest which they have completed. Seven projects will be chosen from the seventh and eighth grade entries to represent the school at Central District Science Day which will be held at French Field House at OSU Saturday, March 10. District winners compete at State Science Day which will be held at the Lamsche Bldg. April 14. The library used to be in one small room. Children had to come in and take books out and then back to their rooms. The library can now seat an entire class. There is easy access to audio-visual equipment which is now located in a nook which used to be a storage room before the wall was knocked down. Head librarian is Mrs. Gerry Stollenwerk. Shown above are Mike Sedway, Diane Fike and Jeanne Fannia using audio-visual equipment. Below are Dick Fadley and Tom Johnson.

For The Groom And His Men

THE CLASSIC black tuxedo in lightweight worsted with clover-shaped velvet lapels. The dramatic black and white brocade dinner jacket worn with black worsted formal trousers.

KEEPING APACE with the current bridal boom, After Six is generating more than its share of fashion excitement for the groom and his men with some very bright formal ideas for that special day.

The big flash on the wedding horizon is definitely color...from soft pastels to more vivid shades in a variety of fabrics, patterns and textures. Color is offered in tuxedos, dinner jackets, formal separates and furnishings...the result is total coordination, from a fellow's tie to his toes. The whole concept of wedding fashions today is "togetherness" and the new emphasis on color enables bride, groom and the entire wedding party to blend beautifully with a minimum of effort. In fact, formal wear rental specialists across the country are touted as the new breed of matchmakers, offering to apply their style and color expertise to each wedding.

AFTER SIX'S "Tux Tail" is one of the most versatile formal fashions around...with the modified cutaway front and longer back, it's the perfect marriage of tuxedo and tunic. Formal trousers are tailored with a slight flare and may be either black tropical worsted or a jacket-matching fabric.

THE "Window" is one of the newest looks for Spring bridegrooms. Uniquely styled, it has clover-shaped lapels in lush velvet framed with a handsome satin border, and comes in a choice of fabrics and colors. It is sensational teamed with a velvet U-shaped vest, perfectly matched to jacket lapels and bow tie, of course.

The most recent introduction in wedding wear is the "Wyncote", an elegant linen-like coat with contrasting velvet trim on the notch lapels and square flap pockets. The over-popular "Adventurer" is a dashing three-button design with a courtly braid trim...available in a variety of shades and fabrics...super-cool Dacron polyesters...herringbone texture, pastel checks and brocades.

FRILLY SHIRTS are putting up a great front. Today's man can take his choice from pastel-trimmed white to a full spectrum of soft colors, shown to advantage with a coordinated bow tie...the oversized tear-drop is the current favorite.

It happens every day...boy meets girl and there's love.

Liz Winbush Pays Debt By Helping The Handicapped

WHEN GOODWILL Industries talks about helping the handicapped, it doesn't just mean those with physical or mental disabilities, but anybody with a condition that is preventing them from getting and holding a job.

A good case in point is Liz Winbush who has just been named Columbus Goodwill "Worker of the Year."

The Goodwill "Worker of the Year" award is presented annually to a person connected with Goodwill who has demonstrated outstanding achievement in overcoming a handicap.

Mrs. Winbush is not crippled and she is not mentally ill or retarded. When she came to Goodwill in September, 1972, her handicaps were emotional and educational.

LIZ WAS the oldest child in a large family, and was often called upon to help her parents. Besides helping out at home, she began working at the age of 13, doing household tasks for neighbors.

She was not always able to attend school regularly, and after ninth grade, she dropped out and got married.

AT THE AGE when most girls are graduating from high school, Liz was caring for her home and three children, and often working in restaurants or hospitals to help her husband support the family.

There was no time to even think about finishing high school.

The pressure of heavy family responsibilities at an early age caused Liz to develop nervous and emotional problems, and in July 1970, she was admitted to Columbus State Hospital for treatment.

It was during her three week stay there that she realized she was not satisfied with her life, and resolved to change it.

WITH THE HELP of counselors at the hospital and the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation she was placed in the Goodwill business training program, where she learned business English, business math, filing, clerical record keeping, the operation of office machinery and how to work the switchboard.

Her instructor, Joyce Curtis said that during her period of training Liz was both an inspiration and a direct help to fellow trainees who were less fortunate than she.

AT PRESENT Liz is secretary to the Goodwill Community Relations Department, a job she has held since completing her six month training program in April 1973.

Officially, she handles all secretarial duties of her own department, helps out with work of other departments and fills in on the switchboard when she's needed.

Unofficially she functions as a sympathetic listener and advisor to Goodwill trainees presently struggling to change the course of their lives as Liz has managed to do.

LOOKING BACK on the past year Liz said, "Goodwill really did change my life. When I first came in I didn't think I'd be able to get a job, especially the type of position I have now. If it hadn't been for the people and the training here, I'd still be carrying bed pans".

She gives a special thanks to her business instructors Joyce Curtis and Ann Broyles, and to her counselor Barb Bolen.

Liz received her award at an assembly for all Goodwill employees and trainees last month. Also receiving certificates were Dudley Black, Iva Goodrich and Charles Lehman, named as runners-up in the competition.

Liz will be considered, along with the winners from Marion, Portsmouth, Newark and Chillicothe, for the title of Goodwill Worker of the Year for Central Ohio. That award will be presented at the Goodwill Annual Dinner to be held March 14.

The Central Ohio winner will be a candidate for Ohio Goodwill Worker of the Year who will represent the state in the national competition.

Daughters Of Scotland Dance Set

The Daughters of Scotland, Purple Heather Lodge 9, will hold their 215th Anniversary Dinner-Dance honoring the birthday of Robert Burns Saturday, Feb. 16, at Imperial House North, 900 Morse Rd. The doors will open at 5:30 p.m. with dinner being served at 6:30 p.m.

The speaker for the evening will be Dr. Charles McCullough Wells, professor of English at Ohio Wesleyan University. Dr. Wells made his first trip to Scotland in 1952. He is co-editor of "Boswell in Extremes," a volume in the Yale-McGraw Hill series on James Boswell's private papers. He recently spent a year in Scotland doing research for a forthcoming parallel volume on Boswell.

The Singing Men and Jim

Lott will be singing. The Capital City Pipes and Drums will provide traditional bagpipe music and will be accompanied by dancers performing Scottish dances. The Joe Marlee Orchestra will play for the dance following dinner.

The committee for the evening consists of Mrs. Isabel Sherwood, Chairlady;

Mrs. Sheila Cipriano, Mrs. Margaret McKendry, Mrs. Betty Thom and Mrs. Loretta Young.

The dinner-dance is open to the public. For information regarding tickets please contact Mrs. Isabel Sherwood, 378 Gamewood Dr., Gahanna, 471-1888 or Mrs. Loretta Young, 187 Guernsey Avenue, 274-6779.

Times Are Changing

'Gypsy' Will Be Benefit

The Beta Sigma Phi chapters of Columbus are sponsoring a benefit night at the Players Club, Wednesday, Feb. 20, with a performance of the Broadway musical, "Gypsy".

Mrs. Rodger Crawford is chairman and Mrs. David Weaver is co-chairman.

The evening will begin with a cocktail party at 7:45 p.m. with the performance at the Players Club, 540 Franklin Ave. starting at 8:30 p.m.

There will be a cast party following the performance. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 488-1809.

All Brides Are Beautiful!

'IN' fashion with Tess Stern

EXQUISITE ivory silk organza gown with appliques of white Venetian daisy motifs. Matching shoulder length mantilla over illusion. Teeny proportioned gown by Priscilla.

PICCIONE shows yards and yards of organza in a princess gown, with full circular train. Venise lace fashions the capelet bodice. All gowns available at Montaldo's.

FOR AN at home wedding, Priscilla created this charming natural colored 'plais' embroidered with pink and green flowers on the bodice...baroque sleeves with delicate Venetian lace, repeated at the hem.

HOW LUCKY you are that this is your year to plan a wedding...bridal gowns and attendants gowns have never been more beautiful.

THE DESIGNERS, who dream up such things, have gone all out for romance with a contemporary flair. A bride can pick and choose to her heart's content to suit her life style...from the most formal church wedding to a chapel wedding, a garden wedding, or an individualized ceremony "in the park".

SILHOUETTES vary so much this season that it is possible for every bride to choose the gown of her dreams...the Southern belle, the princess silhouette, or the sophisticated bride with ruffles...new ways with the hood and fluid body looks.

FAVORED FABRICS for spring-summer are jerseys, English net, sheer organza in white or ivory...romanticized with beautiful laces delicately applied and beaded. The dream of "floating down the aisle" becomes a reality in yards of billowy chiffon. A touch of color in flowers of pastel organza...blue, pink, yellow or green on white...makes for a lovely garden wedding.

VEILS are the final touch, and usually make the difference in the total look of the wedding. For the bride who wishes a "total look"...gowns, headpieces and mantilla are perfectly coordinated to make an important fashion statement.

ATTENDANTS GOWNS are youthful and contemporary...linens, chiffons, jerseys, sheer cottons, and great synthetics that do not wrinkle and are suitable for other parties after the wedding. Small and delicate patterns in soft colors prevail, and dresses with capelets are prominent.

MONTALDO'S will be showing many of these exquisite bridal fashions by the most famous designers...Priscilla, Bridal Couture, Piccione, Bianchi, Galena, Pandora, to name a few...along with attendants gowns and Mother's gowns and lingerie...on Saturday, February 16th at 11:00 a.m...you're cordially invited to attend. If you are planning a wedding in the near future...here's one showing you won't want to miss!

To Receive Disaster Training

THE STATE OF OHIO Disaster Services Agency at the request of Col. Frank Ruvio Jr. (right), Deputy Director, has signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Girl Scout Council, Inc. Senior Girl Scouts will be trained in communications and rescue skills. The girls will form a nucleus for such services in case of man-made or natural disasters that would occur in their communities. The signing of this agreement creates a first in bringing the two organizations together to give disaster training and to prepare the young women of the community to be qualified in disaster assistance. Mrs. Carl Covey (left) serves as the Girl Scout liaison and is responsible for the training and service programs organized by the Girl Scouts to meet the responsibilities expected of them through this agreement.

Concerts Continue

Prestige Concerts will bring pianist Mari-Elizabeth Morgan to the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts Saturday, February 16 at 8:30 p.m., for an all-Bach program.

Miss Morgan was first prize winner of the 1968 International Bach Competitions.

Her 1970 Town Hall debut included Bach's entire Goldberg Variations.

The Gallery will be open for viewing from 7:30 through intermission. Tickets are available at University Music House, 4139 North High St. or through Mrs. F.S. Koehl, 1800 Coventry Road.

Library Staff

Exhibits Work

Employees of Columbus Public Library will exhibit their own art and craft works Feb. 5-25 in the second floor lobby of the library, 98 S. Grant Ave.

The staff show will include original paintings, weaving, assemblages and other art and craft media.

Library hours are 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Nursing Students Will Be Honored

Nursing Scholarship students will be honored by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Academy of Medicine at its February 18 meeting to be held at the Covenant Presbyterian Church.

Ten students are currently enrolled in the nursing program at Grant Hospital, Mt. Carmel Hospital, Ohio State University Hospital and Riverside Methodist Hospital.

Included in those to be honored will be: Natalie Baudo, Lorraine Sowers Fosnaugh, Monica Gabel, Barbara Gawronski, Elizabeth Hite, Barbara Knight, Janet Polle, Nadine Robertson, Patricia Rabaud and Lynette Warford.

This marks the twenty second year that the Auxiliary has had as one of its major fund raising projects, the Nurse Scholarship Fund.

Monies are raised through individual donations from the members and by the sale of costume watches.

A total $4000 was distributed last year to nursing students to provide for tuition and fees. All recipients are residents of Franklin County.

A smorgasbord of salads, soups and breads will be served by the gourmet group of the Auxiliary.

The program, presented by Mrs. John Horner of Hanover College of Hanover, Indiana, will be a talk entitled "It Was All Greek to Me". Arrangements for the program were made by Mrs. Russell Furst.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Leonard Greentree and Mrs. Wesley Furst.

Zonta Club Luncheon Is Feb. 14

The Columbus Zonta Club will hold a luncheon meeting Thursday, Feb. 14, at noon at the Fawcett Center for Tomorrow, 2400 Olentangy River Rd.

Dr. Elliot L. Whitaker, Professor of Architecture at Ohio State University will be the speaker.

The title of his talk will be "Architecture 1974... Whose Responsibility?"

Medicine Auxiliary Has Plans

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Academy of Medicine of Columbus and Franklin County will present a salad smorgasbord February 18, at noon at the Covenant Presbyterian Church.

Assisting with the smorgasbord are members of the Gourmet Groups, Mrs. Ronald A. Meager and Mrs. Edward G. Klopfer, who will provide soups and breads.

Mrs. Kenneth J. Chapman of the general membership is assisting in the salad preparation.

AROUND TOWN

Big News For Next Week

WAIT UNTIL next week Columbus! You'll read some mighty big news regarding a new club in town. We will tell you this for now: It is located on North High St. near downtown. It will be a high class, elegant room, very intimate with good jazz, type of music. The place will be operated by a well known local operator, who has as many followers as do the entertainers he'll bring into the club. As of this writing, I don't know what name he has selected for the club. The place will be in full swing by this Thursday, February 14. Be sure to read the Around Town Column next week in the Spectator, for all the details.

Rock 'Em, Sock 'Em At Holiday OSU

AN EXPLOSIVE, rock'em, sock'em opened last week at the Holiday Inn-OSU. The Murphys have more action and showmanship, than any ten quintets I've seen or heard. Clifford Murphy is the leader. The guy does everything well on stage. He sings, plays instruments and provides an electrifying spark to the rest of the members. Assisting him are two other talented performers and musicians, David Gorsuch, keyboard wizard, and Paul Stubblefield, a drummer, who almost takes your breath away with his speed and patterns.

But, these talented men do not make a rattle-dance quintet. You have to add two more ingredients, two very talented singers, by the names of Jackie Williams and Michelle Finch.

Jackie sings with plenty of gusto. She is a great swing type of singer. Shows plenty of drive, lots of poise and a voice that just won't stop. Michelle, on the other hand has a totally different style. She is more of the ballad type, with beautiful tonal qualities and a relaxing, easy approach.

AND ALL five members together and you end up with an exciting, dynamite quintet. All are tremendous performers, all will aim to entertain, and they do stay right on target. It all happens at the Holiday Inn-OSU.

Get In The Spirit Of '76

IT HAS BEEN quite a while since I have dined at the Spirit of '76. Located in Eastland Shopping Center, The Spirit of '76 has always been one of my favorites Around Town.

Not only do I enjoy the decor, but I really like the friendly atmosphere. With people such as Mode behind the bar in the cocktail lounge, and a waitress by the name of Ruth, one just can't go wrong.

Of course the first thing I do at the Spirit of '76, is to stop at the bar for a couple. Not because I'm that thirsty, but I have a real ball here. It has to be one of the friendliest lounges in town. As I said before, Mode helps makes this true.

AFTER TALKING with several people in the lounge, I headed toward the dining room and a festival of food.

My dining partner selected homemade clam chowder and I had the French onion soup. Both were out of this world. Next came the salad, with a very special Roquefort dressing. This was certainly a yummy taste treat. Very different.

Now, came the entree. I can't remember when we journeyed to the Spirit of '76 for dinner and ordered anything but their London Broil.

I LOVE good London Broil, but it is hard to find. The Spirit of '76 since they have been opened several years ago, has always served the finest. London Broil is very tender slices of Tenderloin, with a special blend of Parmesan, mushrooms and wine. An excellent London Broil is something you'll remember for a long time.

In fact, your entire dining experience at the Spirit of '76 will be an event that you'll talk about and think about for many a moon. It's the kind of place that makes you want to come back for more. As the saying goes today, "Get the Spirit," and head for the Spirit of '76.

It's The 'Gypsy' In Their Souls

politics every day. If you are a working person like me, do what I do most of the time, I listen to the show on WLW Radio. To me, it is just as much fun. At least I know what's going on, it's better than nothing.

So, do yourself a favor, and tune in the 50-50 Club at noon every Monday through Friday on WLWC, and I promise you, your day will be just a little brighter.

Anna Russell Will Wow 'Em

ANNA RUSSELL, known as The Crown Princess of musical parody, will perform this Saturday at the Ohio Theatre. The Columbus Association for the Performing Arts is sponsoring Anna Russell.

This is the first time she has played Columbus since February 26, 1964 when she played to a packed house at Mereson Auditorium. In that performance, Anna Russell kept the audience in stitches. Today, as then, Anna writes and composes most of the music for her show.

IF SHE is still as good as she was ten years ago, Anna Russell will have another packed house in stitches. The London Times has called her "The world's funniest woman." Just remember, Anna, The Ohio Theatre is much older than Mereson. I know you'll bring down the house, but not literally, I hope.

Anyway, run, don't walk, to the Ohio Theatre and get your tickets now. There are some good seats remaining. Prices are reasonable. Curtain is 8:30 p.m., this Saturday.

Skipping Around Town

Stopped in at Stacie Five the other night. Love the intimate, cozy atmosphere. I was with a couple of fellows though. The place is made for boy-girl relationship. Music by Gemini proved to be a little loud for me. I think of the place as a spot to take that special someone for a late date. From there headed up the street to see my old buddy Mark Adams, the owner-operator of Marco Polo's Lounge. He had a gal singing that knocked my and my companions right off our seats. Her name is Diane Basich, singing with a group called Spanky Shears.

To be quite honest, forget the group, but any time you can hear Diane Basich sing, don't let neither rain, sleet, rain or snow keep you from hearing her. She is great. Take my word for it, you are going to hear a lot of big things about Diane Basich in the next couple of years. The Jerry and Nick Duo continues to keep people happy at the Holiday Inn-North. This an excellent duo, playing nice, soft danceable music, that is truly great for easy listening or dancing. Both are extremely talented, and love entertaining. You'll love them, also. It happens Thursday through Saturday, at the Holiday Inn-North. For the time of your life, it's the Dell Restaurant, a Columbus landmark since 1925. They serve great lunches and dinner. But, the piano bar offers plenty of fun in the evening. The singing waiters and waitresses all

Play Will Benefit Children's Hospital

A children's play, "Lavin' De Life", the Tales of Brer Rabbit, will be presented Feb. 28-Mar. 3, by Pleasure Guild of Children's Hospital. The live play with a professional cast will be held at Battelle Memorial Auditorium, 501 King Ave. where ample free parking is available. Tickets are on sale for $1.25, which includes a program activity book. Finger puppets will be sold for 25 cents at each performance. Proceeds from all of the performances go to Children's Hospital. Tickets may be ordered from any Pleasure Guild member or by calling 457-0638 or 451-7632.

Grandstaff Joins Perry Co.

Jack C. Grandstaff, president of Grandstaff, Inc., has joined Roger C. Perry & Co., Realtors of 4175 North High Street. He will be Vice-President and General Manager of the commercial, industrial and investment divisions. Grandstaff has been a Realtor for fourteen years. The Perry firm established its offices in Lincoln Village in 1973, and recently converted a 230 unit apartment complex to the Glenford Village Condominiums. Grandstaff will be in charge of additional conversions in 1974.

BILLY BROWN

featuring SAMANTHA LEE

APPEARING NIGHTLY - WESTERN MOTELS

LINCOLN LODGE 4950 W BROAD

Billy Brown is performing at the Lincoln Lodge 4950 W. Broad. For a one man act Billy Brown has to be about the best in Columbus.

His performance is sprinkled with earthy jokes and banter with the audience. He has a repertoire of many Country and Blue Songs written in the last 24 years.

In 1959 Billy Brown did the original recording of "He'll Have To Go" for Columbia Records. It rose to No. 1 in many cities but according to Brown at this time Jim Reeves also recorded it in the same style and Reeves recording became one of the biggest Country Hits ever.

Billy Brown a Country - Western Singer and Entertainer from Florida has been engaged for a six week contract at Lincoln Lodge.

He is drawing the largest crowds to the Lounge since it started with the Billy Brown Show entertaining with the up-town Country - Western Sound.

Brown's newest record has just been released on Big M Records - "Thank You Darling" and "Country Boy" Brown performance features versatility, personality and ad-lib humor in addition to a repertoire which includes yodelling, impersonations of Johnny Cash, Elvis Presley, Gene Autry, Eddie Arnold, Charlie Rich and Walter Brennan. He sings "Cool Clear Water" in the style of various singers.

For an enjoyable and relaxing evening with pleasant fun, the Lincoln Lodge is recommended.

Moment Of Truth Faces Most Cage Loop Hopefuls

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer

WE'VE ARRIVED at the final week of the regular season and this should be the time when those league crowns are tucked away already and those non-titlist are warming up for rejuvenation in the state tournaments.

But this is not so! This, the final week of league cage competition, will pit the survival of the fittest and thanks to some surprises that occurred last week its decision time for those area roundball quintets in the City, Ohio Capital, Central Catholic and Mid-Eight Leagues.

NO HEAD on competition is slated for Mohawk, Northland, Whitehall, Mt. Vernon, Waterson, Hartley, Bexley, Grove City or Urbana but if they can all gain wins over their upset-minded foes it'll be co-championship time for all of them.

The flip a coin City Circuit saw West's rampaging Cowboys perform upset number two in downing Northland 75-61 and casting a vote that is for real last week. Mohawk, meanwhile, joined the top rung in whacking Whetstone handily but Eastmoor couldn't meet the challenge against East losing by four and losing a championship bid.

That gives Northland and Mohawk identical 9-3 marks entering this final Friday. Both will have the home floor edge, Mohawk hosting South and Northland entertaining neighborhood rival Whetstone.

ASIDE FROM those title bearing games an important momentum contest will be staged at Walnut Ridge when West arrives. Walnut Ridge, a victor over Mifflin last week has been gaining steam and both should be fighting for a new life in the tourney cruising hard for this all-important final victory and a lift.

The OCC was a bag of tricks last week but Russ Gregg and his Whitehall gang will be looking for some straight shooting when they host Westland Friday. Mt. Vernon, the other co-leader, is home against pesky Westerville coming off a destruction of Westland.

WORTHINGTON was tied with Whitehall and Mt. Vernon going into last week's debacle and looked to have a win tucked away with a four point bulge and only 14 left on the clock.

But Terry Burris performed magic for Whitehall with an inside bucket and with only :02 showing on the clock Ram forward Bill Besalski picked up a loose ball and fired it into a quick two-pointer all in one motion, his only basket of the game.

That sent it into overtime and that was strictly Whitehall, compliments of Burris being responsible for the first six points of the extra period. So that makes Whitehall and Mt. Vernon the obvious picks for a co-championship assuming things go as expected for both this Friday.

OCC ACTION wasn't quite as dramatic last week but Hartley showed Waterson a thing or two in manhandling the Eagles 80-48 behind the burlesque effort of blond bombing Mike Gilliland who poured in 35 points and held Waterson's backcourt ace Sam Dixon to a scant two points.

That bulges that league two ways between Waterson and Hartley as Waterson rates the toughest assignment hosting Ready while Hartley travels to DeSales.

BEXLEY'S win power ran one point thin against Grove City last week opening the door for the Grove Cityans and Mid-Eight League rival Urbana. Friday's action could render a three-way tie there if Bexley is successful at London, Urbana at Groveport and Grove City at home against hapless Hilliard.

So after all of the lead ups this is really the week that will etch the record books and barring upsets would bring a cluster of champions around town.

Other recognizables in the crowd with individual performances besides Gilliland and Burris who had 37 in his stardom show was Wes Redd for his 23 point performance and all-round floor leadership in West's win. Teammates Warren Lewis, Greg Biffle, and Ron Williams also had double figure performances for West.

HILTON HALE was a sparkplug in East's denting of Eastmoor while Ron Marshall and Tod Lee headed the Walnut Ridge win over Mifflin. Gary Jordan, Mike Blount and Ron Latham were scoring leaders for Franklin Heights in its quest of Marysville in that Metro

High School Cage Card

SNOW IN WINTER?

A practical way to protect your windshield from snow is to use cardboard or newspaper, says the Ohio Department of Highway Safety. Place them under the windshield wipers and remove them with the accumulated snow in the morning.

League affair. CCL standouts included Eric Stinson and Mike Hausfeld for sparking St. Charles to a hairline tow-point win over DeSales. Tony Walker, Barry Longhino and Tom Heffernan were stalwarts in Ready's shellacking of Wehrle.

IN THE OCC Ed Williams had another big night, 28 this time but Reynoldsburg came out on the short end of a count with Gahanna. Gregg Spellman owned a hot hand in Westland's loss as the sharp forward connected for 27 while Don Brough and Steve Cuffe double figured it for Worthington in its downfall.

SHORTS: The Ohio Capital Conference wrestling tournament will be staged this weekend, Friday and Saturday, at Worthington. WORTHINGTON is the strong choice to win it...And the City League has its biggie this weekend also this time at Central. Mark EASTMOOR as a solid there...Credit that strong ST. CHARLES basketball squad with a string of improvement as they will hopefully enter the district tourney with a 12 game winning streak...

West vs Northland

IT WAS BOTH offense and defense that enabled West's Cowboys to register an upset against league-leading Northland in a city game last Friday at the West gym. Typical of the action was this battle for a rebound that found West's Dave Kaiser (in white jersey) battling for the ball against Northland's Bill Vlaste.

Whitehall vs Worthington

HERE'S A REBOUND (1 of 28) snared by Worthington's tough Don Brough (38) against Whitehall's Terry Burris (43) as the tall and talented Brough came through for his best all-around career game in the close overtime loss to OCC power Whitehall.

Times Are Changing

Whitehall vs Worthington

STRENGTH ON the boards was a big contribution made by Worthington's Doug Burkhardt, center, and he also contributed this twopointer to keep the Cards in contention. He fouled with three minutes to go in the game and his loss was felt. At left is Card Don Brough (38) and at right Mike Schneider (28). That's the Rams Steve Stahley (45) at right with the other black jersey in the middle belonging to Ram Terry Burris. (Whitehall-Worthington photos by Ray Adams.)

West vs Northland

HANDY AND DANDY Warren Lewis (34) was a tower of strength for West's Cowboys last Friday as they slipped Northland and put the city cage race into a two-way tie. Lewis went high above two Northland Vikings here, Larry Meek (45) and another, to snare this rebound.

West vs Northland

THE BATTLE that West's Cowboys gave Northland is pictured in this bit of high-powered action for ball control between two Cowboys and a Northland player, all unidentified. West put it all together to drop the Vikings into a two-way tie for the league. (West-Northland photos by Craig Weaver.)

Winter Action Plentiful At Dillon State Park

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ohio has 68 state parks, but most Ohioans are familiar with only a few of the parks and the opportunities for outdoor recreation that they offer. This one of series of stories designed to make Ohioans more aware of what their state parks have to offer.

DILLON State Park is ready for winter action.

This recreational gem, seven miles north of Zanesville in the Licking River valley, has an impressive array of winter activities. Action ranges from ice skating and ice boating through sledding and to the exhilaration of ice boating and ice skating.

FOR EQUALLY enjoyable winter activity, Dillon's 6,218 acres are laced with seven miles of hiking and nature trails, including the Ruffed Grouse Self-Guided Nature Trail.

Dillon State Park, 55 miles east of Columbus and 110 miles south of Cleveland, is off State Route 142.

"In the early 1900s, when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers purchased land for Dillon dam and reservoir, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources was presented with a perfect opportunity to design and construct a modern, complete park," said Frank Lomax III, the department's deputy director for recreation and resource management.

THE PARK was completed in 1968. The obvious success of the designers is apparent in the clean, tasteful lines of the park administration building; the large, modern, boat marina; the court games area and swimming beach; the modern vacation cabins and the camping areas.

These facilities are located in this spacious park so they don't encroach on one another, but still leave thousands of acres of woodland untouched for hikers.

MOST WINTER activity is centered around the 1,330-acre Dillon Lake. And the most spectacular wintertime activity is ice boating.

Dillon State Park manager Gary Every calls the lake perfect for ice boating. "We really get a brisk downlake wind in the winter that enables ice boaters to really move, sometimes at speeds of more than 40 miles per hour across the nearly frictionless ice," says Every.

ICE BOATS are either specifically designed for the sport or conventional sailing hulls modified with runners.

The lake is also used for sledding and ice skating and, in January and February, ice fishers take good catches of bluegill and crappie.

Dillon's 700-foot sledding and skiing hill is popular with kids of all ages. On snowy days, the slope is covered with sleds, toboggans and anything else that will slide or tumble downhill.

SOME DILLON sledders add an unusual twist to sledding by using giant inner tubes on the steep, slippery slope.

The huge tube, supporting a mass of flailing arms and legs, provides a bouncy downlope trip which is often interrupted when a rider leans a little too close to the snow and upsets the tube.

The fickle inner tube always rights itself in a moment and skims down the hill leaving its occupants in a laughing, happy heap.

THE HILL is near the class A camping area, so it is convenient to winter campers.

Every said winter camping in the class A area is open only to self-contained units, since heated washhouses and latrines have been closed as an energy conservation measure.

THE AREA will reopen for tent camping during the eighth annual winter campout February 22-24, which also will be at Mohican, Indian Lake and Hueston Woods state parks. The class A washhouses and latrines will be opened in these parks for the campouts.

Every said a winter weekend stay in a park vacation cabin is becoming increasingly popular with Dillon visitors. Renting one of the park's 29 deluxe vacation cabins means a hot shower and a warm cup of hot chocolate is not too far away after a day of ice fishing, sledding or boating.

THE GAS-HEATED, two bedroom cabins each sleep six people, and are completely furnished and stocked with linens, towels and cooking and eating utensils. They rent for $35 for one day, $21 per day for two or more days and $110 per week.

Hiking is another important winter activity in Dillon State Park. Many hikers find a winter trek through snow-covered woods is bracing and spiritually regenerating. The peace and solace of winter woodlands is a welcome respite from the daily bustle of most Ohioans.

THE LACK of foliage will make it easier to spot one of the park's many deer, especially on hikes in the early evening.

The park has two tame deer. One, Peaches, is free to roam but she is usually found near the park office.

A young buck, Bambl, very popular with park visitors, is kept in a large, fenced area behind the park maintenance building. After suffering brain damage in an auto accident, Bambl was nursed back to health by a local veterinarian.

Every said most warm weather activity at Dillon centers around the modern 1,300-foot beach and court games area on the northwestern shore of the lake. A bathhouse with showers, lockers and a snack bar is nearby.

THE GAMES AREA is next to the bathhouse and includes tennis, volleyball, handball and paddleball courts; eight shuffleboard and 12 horseshoe courts and a playground area with swings, slides and climbing bars.

Excellent deer and upland game hunting can be found in the adjacent public hunting area.

Boat owners can rent 64 docks at the Dillon Lake marina while visitors without boats of their own can rent rowboats, paddleboats, skiboats, canoes, sailboats and a pontoon boat.

THERE IS SO much to see and do at Dillon State Park that visitors may not have time to see Dillon Dam, which blocks the Licking River and makes this superbly scenic recreational activity available. The dam is operated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Tom Lilly, the dam's chief engineer, or one of his staff is always ready to provide a personally-guided tour of the dam and the floodgate control tower.

The $33 million earthen-fill structure is 118 feet high and 1,725 feet long. Lilly said the three huge flood gates could drain the lake's normal pool of about four billion gallons in about five days, "without causing a ripple downstream."

The dam, which controls a drainage area of about 768 square miles, protects Zanesville and the lower reaches of the Licking and Muskingum rivers.

LAZY COMFORT—A wintertime stay in one of Dillon State Park's 29 deluxe vacation cabins is becoming more and more popular. Many of the cabins overlook 1,330-acre Dillon Lake and offer cabin guests spectacular views of the ice and snow-covered landscape. Each two bedroom, furnished cabin sleeps six and is stocked with linen, dishes and cooking utensils. Dillon State Park is in Muskingum County, off State Route 142, seven miles north of Zanesville. (Ohio Department of Natural Resources photo)

TUBE EACH HIS OWN—Sledders at Dillon State Park in Muskingum County add an unusual twist to sledding by using inner tubes to slide down the park's steep, 700-foot sledding hill. Dillon boasts a tremendous variety of winter action including ice boating, ice fishing, ice skating, ice sledding, camping and hiking. The park is off State Route 142, seven miles north of Zanesville. (Ohio Department of Natural Resources photo)

ABOUT BARCLAY SQUARE

Barclay Square has roomy, well-planned and well built apartments and townhouses.

They're really big and completely equipped. Air conditioning. 11' ceilings. A very attractive combination of carpeting and hardwood floors.

Even a clothes chute. All the way to the full basement that already has a washer and dryer hook-up.

The kitchen is complete with a double door refrigerator, range, exhaust hood, dishwasher and disposal.

Of course there is a patio and well-maintained grounds. A truly nice pool and deck. And a real recreation building with sauna, whirlpool bath, exercise room and more.

And whether you want a 1 bedroom apartment or a two bedroom townhouse, the rent is less than you'd find almost anywhere else. $148.00 to $180.00.

Barclay Square is located on Gould Rd. just north of Broad St. Office is open 11-5 weekdays and 12-5 weekends. Or call 231-2783 for information or an appointment.

Sister Enlists Brother

WEST COLUMBUS—An Ohio State University student nurse enlisted her brother into the Navy only three weeks after she herself received an officer's commission as a navy nurse. Regulations require a commissioned officer to perform the enlistment ceremony. The brother-sister team are Raymond and Evelyn Partridge, 74 S. Burgess. Their mother, Mrs. Sarah Partridge, lives in Yukon, W. Va. Raymond, a 1973 West High School graduate, was enlisted under the Navy's school guarantee program by sister Evelyn, who gained her commission Dec. 7 under the Navy's Nurse Corps early commissioning scholarship program. This allowed her to accept her rank six months before graduation and reporting for active duty. The two Partridges will be actively involved in the Navy medical field at about the same time. Raymond left for nine weeks recruit training at Orlando, Fla. immediately after the ceremony, but this will be followed by four more months of training to qualify him as a Navy Medical Corpsman.

Husband-Wife In Reserves

A young Air Force husband-wife team from Columbus scored a first for the 362nd Tactical Airlift Wing (Air Force Reserve) at Lockbourne AFB by becoming the first married couple to join the Air Reserve wing under the Air Force's Palace Chase program. Jim and Linda Lowry transferred from active duty at Langley AFB, Va. to the Lockbourne Air Reserve to continue their education at Ohio State University. Under the Air Force's Palace Chase program, active duty personnel can leave active duty before their enlistment time ends by taking a Reserve assignment (one weekend of duty each month). The Lowrys both attended college parttime while on active duty at Langley, but Jim's irregular flight schedule as a bombardier made it difficult for him to complete his courses. Now in the Reserves, with G.I. Bill benefits and Reserve weekend pay, the Lowrys are able to attend Ohio State University full time. Jim is a 23-year-old engineering student and Linda, 21, majors in pre-law studies. They're back home, 3275 Eakin Rd., back in school and in the Reserve.

Trustees Elect Officers, Board

The Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks elected officers and directors at its 49th Annual Convention, held in Columbus recently. More than 3,000 members and guests of the Association attended the four-day affair.

Newly-elected officers are: Paul A. Smith, Novarre, Stark County, president; former secretary-treasurer

William S. Bauer, Crestline, Crawford County, second vice president; and former director, Emerson Englehardt, Botkins, Shelby County, secretary-treasurer. Robert H. Meintzer, Delta, Fulton County, was re-elected first vice president.

Directors on the board re-elected to a four-year term included Paul Wicherman, Franklin Township.

People In Service

IN ANTARCTICA

West Columbus-Navy Engineman Second Class Larry E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wilson, 1630 W. Mound St., and whose wife Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Burnett, 441 Helen St., is preparing for the long winter season in Antarctica. The first resupply ship of the year arrived in mid-January with four million pounds of food stuffs and supplies.

Navy ships were led into McMurdo Station by Coast Guard icebreakers. One more supply run will be made in early February before the continent is closed in for the winter.

A former student of Holy Family High School, he joined the Navy in November 1965.

WINNER

West Columbus-Marine PFC David Bowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Kincer, 1478 Demorest Rd., is a member of "A" Company, 1st Battalion, 8th Marine Regiment which won the First Marine Division close order drill competition at the Marine Corps Base at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

A 1973 graduate of Franklin Heights High School, he joined the Marine Corps in June, 1973.

BASIC

West Columbus-Airman Stephen E. Bailey, son of Mrs. Helen L. Lemaster of Mount Sterling has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Lowry for specialized training as an intelligence specialist.

Airman Bailey is a 1973 graduate of Madison Plains High School in London, Ohio. His father, Charles E. Bailey, resides at 3045 El Paso Dr.

OUTSTANDING

West Columbus-U.S. Air Force Captain Harry D. Raduege Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dale Raduege Sr., 274 Demorest Ave., has been named Outstanding Junior Officer of the Quarter in his unit at Croughton RAF Station, England.

Captain Raduege, logistics plans officer for the 2130th Communications Group, was selected for his leadership, devotion to duty and professional performance. His unit is a part of the Air Force Communications Service.

The captain, a 1965 graduate of West High School, received a B.S. degree in 1968 from Capital University where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

His wife, Julie, is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Hux, 202 S. Sylvan Ave.

GRADUATED

West Columbus-Airman Johnnie Marcum, son of Mrs. Nancy Marcum, 5001 Ham Way, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force jet engine mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, now trained to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines, is being assigned to Clark AB, Philippines, for duty with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces.

Airman Marcum is a 1972 graduate of Westland High School.

OYC Awards Funds To Local Police

Columbus-Fifteen police agencies and a sheriff department have been awarded state funds to increase their juvenile investigative bureaus or to begin police juvenile officer programs, Governor John J. Gilligan announced.

Twenty-four officers will be added to the Police Juvenile Officers Subsidy Program, which was authorized by the Ohio legislature seven years ago. The grant is sponsored by the Ohio Youth Commission.

"This means that this state is now assisting 49 of its police divisions and sheriff departments to do a better job in preventing and controlling juvenile delinquency," Governor Gilligan added.

Director William J. Ensign, Youth Commission head, said the state this year has budgeted $156,000 as its share to partially defray the salaries of 57 police officers, whose sole duty is in combatting and preventing juvenile offenses.

In a formula adopted by the state's lawmakers, police chiefs and sheriffs are eligible for $3,250 of half of the officer's salary, which ever is less, for each of their sworn personnel newly assigned or added to juvenile enforcement activities.

The 1974 Youth Commission budget limits the total to be funded to sixty-three officers. Next year the quota is to be increased to ninety-six juvenile police officers, who may be partly state funded.

A single person assignment will be funded by the Youth Commission to the Grove City police force.

Book Nook

The Hilltop Library is happy to announce that they now have 8mm film available for circulation. These films are issued for seven days on an adult card and there is no charge. They cover a wide range of subject matter, from comedies to wild life.

The library is sponsoring a coffee discussion hour the first and third Mondays of the month at 2 p.m. The books to be reviewed Monday, Feb. 18, will include the new novels, "Dutch Uncle" by Marilyn Durham, "Gordon Honeycombe's" "Dragon Under the Hills" and "Gower Street" by Gerald Rayner. Also new scenic picture books of the United States will be presented, covering the Rockies, Hawaii and the American deserts.

Other books of general interest read by members of the group will also be discussed. The group is open to the public.

Black Awareness Assembly At West

WEST COLUMBUS—Joy Johns, West High School senior, greets OSU Quarterback Cornelius Greene and Neil Coble, past returner. Johns was master of ceremonies for the "Black Awareness Program" at which Greene and Coble spoke. Theme of the program was, "Helping America To Understand Through Brotherhood." The students presented a dramatization of a popular talk show, dramatic readings and interpretive dance. Greene advised students to get good grades in high school so they can go on to college. Coble said he has 32 weeks of black awareness, but "I guess this one week helps you through the other 31."

HCC Ask, But Get Few Answers On Development

By KATHY DEVANEY
West Columbus—Those who came to the Hilltop Community Council meeting Thursday to find out how to get involved in the decisions affecting their area of the city were disappointed.

Lin Carver represented the Development Department where he is a planner and a liaison with the west area community.

When asked how a citizen can have an effect on decision making Carver asked, "What do you want to do? If you want to have input into the area plan organize yourselves to feed into the reasoning process. Organize yourself and work through me."

One member asked, "How can we influence development? We don't seem to have any rights. We are not always going to accept what others decide."

He gave no specific answers.

One woman asked where the breakdown came between the city providing normal services and the point where a community needs urban renewal. "We need good city services day to day and week to week," she said.

Carver admitted that the west area was looking out as the city gets bigger and bigger and money is spent in newer areas rather than in established communities.

The Hilltop Area Plan which was supposed to be finished by the first of the year is not ready and won't be in the near future, Carver said.

THE MUNICIPAL management study team, which is funded by a federal grant, looked at policy formulation, the ability of the city to respond to needs and at the city charter in its first year.

The team recommended a Department of Community Development with citizen input and planning which would be separate from code enforcement. It didn't get off the ground, Carver said.

Also during the first year the team interviewed key city people to see how policy is formulated and who formulates it. They found there is no formally stated policy of who should formulate policy.

THIS YEAR THE team will work on policy formulation identification and policy planning.

Carver said there has been no effort to decentralize the municipal government other than planning and there is no money available for that.

The planning division of the Development Department is working under a 701 federal grant to do comprehensive planning. The city identified three areas of concern: (1) to establish an information base, in six months, for planning; (2) look at developmental policies; and (3) make comprehensive future land use plans.

The first phase has been completed. Three area documents have been developed with land use maps, proposals for future use and developmental policy statements (determined on-going operational policies by city council, etc.)

THE DEPARTMENT is planning use for a new 701 federal grant for this year. The next step is to take the policy statement and introduce it to city council for recognition, Carver said.

The information in the base file can then be used to support future area plans and current zoning. It will also allow responding on a city-wide basis to community needs, he said.

Squad Team Presents Trophy

West Columbus—The Franklin Township squad team presented the Franklin Township Trustees with a second place trophy which they won recently at a quarterly competition. They also presented a letter from the governor commending them for winning a third place trophy at the International First Aid and Rescue Association conference.

"I join all Ohioans in wishing you many years of continued success and service to the citizens of Franklin Township," Governor Gilligan wrote. "You can be extremely proud of earning such an outstanding recognition. It is comforting to know that Ohio has such well trained first aid and rescue squads on hand in time of need."

The board signed a mutual aid contract with Grandview for three years beginning March 1.

Three provisional appointments were made for auxiliary police officers. Charles Campbell, William Brown and Kenneth Smothers were hired subject to proper bond and passing a physical examination.

The clerk was authorized to pay Dealers Authorized a partial payment of $4,000 for work done on an emergency squad which had been involved in an accident.

Fire Chief Marvin E. Olney brought a letter of request from Martin Elekes, program coordinator, Emergency Medical Service of the Department of Health.

Elekes requested the removal of the cross because "the use of the Omaha orange or red cross on an ambulance might violate a congressional grant to the Red Cross for the use of this symbol."

He suggested using the "Star of Life," which is a six barred cross superimposed by the staff of Aesculapius (a snake on a staff), who was the god of medicine and healing in Roman mythology.

Chief Olney said changing the symbol would require repainting the emergency vehicles. He said the Red Cross has not lodged a complaint and that the vehicle had been passed by the state with the cross symbol on it.

The board received but took no action on bids for an aerial ladder, police cruiser and a station wagon for the fire department's fire prevention officer.

The Franklin Township Police Department will begin enforcing the no parking zones in area shopping places Feb. 21. The fire and police departments have been placing explanations and warnings on the park in the zones which will be used for public safety vehicles only.

At Columbus School Board Meeting

Careers Center Drawings Unveiled

By HANNUY SCHWARTZ
Staff Writer

Columbus—Building once again dominated the agenda as the Columbus School Board convened for its Feb. 12 Committee of the Whole meeting.

Preliminary drawings for four of six new buildings to be constructed at the Metropolitan Careers Center were unveiled along with details of Phase III of the Columbus Public Schools' $80.5 million building program.

The Career Center buildings, which will house health occupations, business education, food services and performing arts programs, are part of the major educational complex being developed on 40 acres of the old Fort Hayes site. The land was acquired by the school board when it was declared surplus by the federal government in 1971.

Bill Brubaker of the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, Chicago, discussed the drawings with board members, noting that all buildings in the new center will be designed to create a campus setting. Of particular interest is the Business Education Center. This one-story structure includes a shopping mall with the various programs to be showcased along each side.

BRUBAKER SAID, "This will have everything on display just like a beautiful mall."

One of the board's concerns about the mall setting was the question of the student's work being affected by being on display. Brubaker told the board most work would be done towards the rear and if the students felt "looked at" this was an environment they would face during employment.

Jack Gibbs, executive director of the Careers Center, said that Phase I programs projected to begin in September, 1975, would accommodate 1,570 students from grades 11 and 12 in the following areas: business and office education ($50), distributive education ($30), home economics ($20), trade and industry ($30), health occupations ($30) and pre-professional ($50).

Total budget for Phase I of the Metropolitan Careers Center is $5 million. Four million dollars of this is for construction or remodeling of six buildings and $1 million for equipment. One existing building is being remodeled for use as an administrative, planning and staff development center. The sixth building in Phase I will be a health services clinic for which architectural plans have not yet been developed.

MAKING THE presentation to the board on the details of Phase III of the building program was Dr. Howard Merriman, executive director of development for the school system.

Merriman told the Board that launching of Phase III would mean about 75 per cent of the building program would now be underway.

Board President Mrs. Virginia Prentice said, "Seventy-five per cent of the total promises we made when planning for the passage of the bond issue is an awful lot. This is definitely an important part of the building program."

A total 51 new projects have been added in the latest phase of the building program including additions to or remodeling of seven junior-senior high schools, six junior high schools, 65 elementary buildings and an addition to Alexander Graham Bell School for the Deaf. Two new buildings to be constructed are a Bethel-Gedown Road area elementary school and a Northeast Career-Vocational Center on a site not yet determined.

CRITERIA FOR selecting the 51 new projects stems from five critical needs identified by the district during the campaign for the bond issue in November, 1972, Merriman explained.

These needs are relief of overcrowding, expansion of vocational and special education programs, addition of library-learning centers and multi-purpose rooms and replacement or remodeling of out-of-date buildings.

Giving a progress report on Phase I and Phase II of the school building program, Merriman told the board that 54 projects are presently under way. A total of 18 buildings are actually under construction while plans for another five buildings are out for bids.

The board has approved preliminary drawings for 18 new buildings and architects are presently doing working drawings for these structures. Architects are also developing preliminary drawings for another 13 buildings and educational specifications for one new elementary school according to Merriman.

Of the $55 million budgeted for Phase I and Phase II projects, over $6 million has been awarded in contracts and professional fees. Merriman said this amount is only $150,000 more than the $5,221,000 originally budgeted for these contracts. He described the 2.5 per cent increase as "remarkably low" in view of inflated building costs.

A breakdown of the building program's $80.5 million budget shows $30 million to be spent in Phase I, $25 million in Phase II, $21 million in Phase III and $13.5 million for future phases.

Police Awards Banquet Set

West Columbus-Three Columbus Police officers will be honored by the Columbus Division of Police at the First Annual Awards Banquet to be held at the Imperial House Kings Inn, 1335 Dublin Rd., Wednesday, Feb. 20 at 8 p.m.

The awards program is co-sponsored by the Educator and Executive Insurance Companies and the awards are in a form of four different medals which are presented for outstanding acts of heroism and meritorious service.

First officers to be honored by the Division of Police in the new program are:

Officer Ronald S. Price, Detective Bureau - Medal of Merit; Officer Paul H. Clark, Patrol Bureau - Medal of Merit; and Officer Thomas M. Steckman, Patrol Bureau - Medal of Valor.

Officer Price distinguished himself by his outstanding efforts during an investigation in which he spent many hours of his off duty time conscientiously pursuing and ultimately solving a homicide which occurred six years previously.

Officer Clark distinguished himself for outstanding courage when confronted with an armed subject holding several hostages. As a result of Officer Clark's persuasive conversation the hostages were released unharmed and the subject disarmed.

Officer Steckman distinguished himself by rescuing a trapped occupant from a fire in a second story building. Disregarding his own safety, he fought through smoke, flames and heat that had twice driven two other officers back in order to effect the rescue.

Herb Snowden, president of Educator and Executive Insurance Companies will be the guest speaker.

Snowden is founder, president, treasurer and director of the Educator and Executive Insurance Companies.

He is a graduate of Ohio State University with an A.B. in 1947; he did his graduate work at Columbia University. He served in the U.S. Air Corp for three and one-half years and earned three battle stars in the Pacific.

The Awards Banquet will be open to the general public.

The Council invited Mrs. Sharp from the Kidney Foundation to speak Feb. 19.

The Council is also raising funds and will have a drawing for a portable color TV at a Kidney Fund Benefit dance April 20.

Father Bill Huber, pastor of St. Mary Magdalene parish, is the general chairman. Co-chairmen are Louis George, Jim Murphy, Bob Strapp and Jack McAndrew.

Younger Corner

Outstanding Teenagers Patricia Rouff, Norman Gleich, Greg Luckenbill, Carol Hidy, Ted Winsenreid, Gary Hoyle and Brenda Wheeler have been selected, from Westland High School as "Outstanding Teenagers of America," for 1974.

Nominated by Fred Slater, Westland High School principal, the "Outstanding Teenagers of America" are chosen from individual High Schools across the country for excellence in academic achievement and community service.

These students will now compete for the outstanding teenager of the year trophy to be presented by Governor John J. Gilligan (similar trophies will be presented to winners in other states). The state winners are selected by the Outstanding Teenage Awards Selecting Committee.

The 51 State winners will be eligible for awards totaling $7,000; $1,000 scholarships will be given to one boy and girl to use at the college of their choice. Ten regional winners will also be chosen from the remaining state winners to receive $500 regional scholarships.

Artist-in-Residence Jerry Davenport and Dan Van Eynde are two names to keep in mind for the future.

They are the artists-in-residence from Ohio State University working in the Westland Art Department on a federal grant. The young men receive $150 and all transportation fees to Westland. They expose students to the artistic experiences.

How To Select Lures

WITH 80 many manufacturers and importers offering such a large number of lures on today's market you can really get confused. The purpose of this tip is to help you round out a tackle box already in use, or get together a basic assortment of artificial lures.

I would say that you should buy only lures that are nationally advertised or recommended by a friend who has used one with success. The bargain imports sometimes work, but they're usually a gamble.

FOR EASY spincasting a lure should not weight less than one eighth ounce and no more than three eighths ounce. When choosing surface lures, forget color.

Many of these lures have light bellies and different colored backs and the back isn't even seen by the fish, however I do like an all black surface lure for bass fishing at night.

A VERY productive class of lures are the ones that float at rest, but dive under when retrieved, they're hard to beat. Try to pick colors to match the bait fish common in the water you're fishing.

Add a couple of sinking lures or spinners to use when fish are in water below ten feet, a weedless spoon and a jar of pork strip. This should give you a basic assortment for most fishing conditions.

IF YOU use a certain lure at just the right time and it works, it becomes a favorite, but the very same lure at the wrong time and no fish, you consider it a dud and way back in the tackle box it goes. As an experiment, the next time you're into a school of fish and they're hitting, try the lure you considered a dud. You might be surprised.

DO FISH see and react to different colors? That's a mighty important question to ask yourself when trying to figure out which of those different colored lures to plunk down a couple of bucks for.

It's my opinion that a fish can distinguish light from dark. If a friend tells me fish are hitting on a certain color lure, all I want to know, is it light or dark. As an example I've had good luck fishing light colored lures on bright days or in clear water, and dark colored lures on cloudy days or in stained water.

You might ask what do you use at night? Just what you're thinking, dark colored lures. Just remember, light when it's light and dark when it's dark.

IF YOU become a fishing bug like I have you'll look in your tackle box one day and say, "I wonder which lure will work today, let's see, that one, this one, or maybe it's the one I have in my other tackle box."

Green Thumbers Get Ready

The non-credit Life-Long Learning program at Ohio Dominican will offer a five-week Tuesday course in "Residential Gardening and Landscaping," to begin at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 28 at the college.

Easter Seal Drive Will Be Steamed Up Mar. 1-Apr. 14

CHADRICK RAY, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ray, 2979 Homestead Dr., and Mrs. William Ellis, Seal Day chairman for the First Community Church location, spread a little sunshine to promote the February 28 letter assembly event for the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children.

SEAL DAY for the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children will be bright this year with a theme of "sunshine." The traditional letter assembly day, promoted as an event to "bring sunshine days to crippled children," will take place Tuesday, Feb. 28.

VOLUNTEERS will assemble the Easter Seal letters at two locations that day: at First Community Church, 1320 Cambridge Blvd., with Mrs. William Ellis, 2291 Walhaven Court, in charge; and at the Society's treatment center, 565 Children's Drive West (corner of Parsons and Livingston) with Mr. J.D. Salzgeber, 2631 Exmoor Rd., in charge.

The several hundred volunteers will represent various social, fraternal and church organizations as well as members of the Braces, the Society's auxiliaries; and members of the Guilds of First Community Church.

Volunteers for Seal Day are to report at 9 a.m. at either of the two locations and bring a sack lunch. Tea, coffee and a special sunshine dessert will be served.

WORKERS are still needed at both First Community Church and at the treatment center. Persons or groups wishing to volunteer for Seal Day are asked to call the church, 488-0881 or the Society, 253-5523.

THE LETTERS processed during the one day event will contain a sheet of the 1974 Easter Seals, an appeal letter from Mike Peepe, the honorary Easter Seal Chairman, and a return envelope.

Bloodmobile Well Covered

To the Editor:

Thank you for your magnificent coverage of the Worthington Red Cross Bloodmobile in the February 6 issue of the Spectator.

I am hopeful that the great pictures and the lists of donors and volunteers will encourage other members of the community to participate in the bloodmobile.

Sincerely,

Publicity Appreciated

To the Editor:

I want to tell you how much I appreciate the beautiful publicity you gave the Central Ohio Council for International Visitors on the Bernard Upshaw Singers' concert scheduled for Friday, February 15 at Hitchcock Hall on the Ohio State University campus in the Worthington Spectator last week.

Unfortunately due to circumstances beyond their control, it was necessary to cancel the concert.

We appreciate your carrying the cancellation notice, and thank you again for your splendid cooperation.

Sincerely,

Goodwill Was Helped

To the Editor:

Goodwill Industries would like to thank you for your part in the emergency clothing drive.

We collected over 1500 bags of clothing in the three Saturday area pick-ups, plus additional furniture and assorted goods.

Without the help of the press, the public would not have responded the way they did. The amount given did not help us stock the warehouse again, but it did bring us to a full work schedule as long as the donations come in daily.

Yours truly,

Richard A. Jones

Television Series Designed To Fit Education Needs

AN EXCEPTIONAL television series designed to assist individuals to prepare for a high school equivalency certificate will premiere on WOSU-TV, Columbus, WPSB-TV, Portsmouth, and WGSF-TV, Newark, Monday March 4.

Only two lessons a week, each repeated at least twice, will permit the student his choice of viewing times.

The program, Your Future Is Now, is a series of 60 thirty-minute programs produced by Manpower Education Institute, New York, a non-profit foundation whose aim is to solve urban problems caused by automation, lack of education and underemployment.

The project is considered by Richard B. Hull, director of The Telecommunications Center, O.S.U., and Roy McKinley, executive director of Central Ohio Educational Television Foundation, Inc., to be the singularly largest and most comprehensive educational offering in the history of the two organizations.

ANYONE who is 19 and who has been out of school for at least one year and whose high school class has been graduated is eligible for registration in the telecourse. Completion of the course will more fully prepare the student to take the General Development Tests (GED) through which the high school equivalency certificate is granted.

Three study guides to be used in conjunction with the telecasts can be obtained by sending $10 to FUTURE, 2400 Olentangy River Road, Columbus, Ohio.

COURSES will include (in this order) 28 lessons in social studies, science and literature; 17 lessons in grammar, usage, spelling and vocabulary; and 17 lessons in mathematics.

"Your Future Is Now" will be telecast so that a student viewer can start and see a whole sequence several times over a span of 115 months.

Sponsored by The Ohio State Board of Education, "Your Future Is Now" will offer the public an opportunity to replenish their skills bank and prepare for that outreach to a better future.

A special preview showing will be presented on all stations Tuesday, Feb. 26 from 6 to 6:30 p.m. and Thursday, Feb. 28 from 10:30 to 11 p.m.

Inspections Scheduled For Church Busses

Each year the Ohio State Highway Patrol conducts an annual church bus inspection at District 6 Headquarters, State Highway Patrol Parking Lot, 660 East Main St., Columbus, for Franklin County registered church busses.

This inspection is required prior to the issuance of 1974 plates.

Appointments may be made by calling the State Highway Patrol - 464-2668, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily, except Saturday or Sunday. Inspections will be conducted on an appointment basis only.

It is recommended that appointments be made early to avoid the last minute rush, and to give the churches time to obtain their plates, in case a re-inspection might be

The following dates, only, will be used for actual inspection of the church busses: March 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30, April 6 and 13.

How To Submit Your News Item For Publication

IT'S EASIER than apple pie to get your news item in the community news pages of The Spectator Newspapers.

Unlike some other weekly papers The Spectator Newspapers does not assess any kind of a monetary charge for news items and photos.

The steps are very simple:
CALL US FIRST at 274-1155 if you have any questions about the news item you intend to submit.

DEADLINES

The deadline for all news items and photos for possible publication in the following Wednesday issue is the Monday noon prior to that issue. Naturally, we would like your item sooner if possible since, if everyone waits until that Monday noon deadline, it would not be possible to have the type set and the story made ready for the issue.

THE EDITOR reserves the right to edit all articles submitted, however, if we drastically question any part of your article you will be called for clarification.

News items can be mailed to The Spectator Newspapers, 3421 South Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio, 43204, or brought to the office that is in the Great Western Shopping Center.

Our telephone number is 274-1155. If one of the editors is not in when you call, please leave your name and number and your call will be returned as soon as possible.

ALTHOUGH we like to have our news items typewritten it is not necessary. However, please use a sheet of 8 1/2 x 11 white paper if at all possible and print the proper names legibly. Please include your name, address and telephone number on your notice in case we need to call you for clarification of any of the information submitted.

For identification purposes news items should be directed to the following persons:

Spectator West - Kathy Devaney. This newspaper covers the areas of West Columbus from about Central High School all the way west to New Rome. It includes school districts of Columbus West, Franklin Heights, Bishop Ready and Westland.

Spectator East - Elaine Weaver. This newspaper covers the area of East Columbus from the Reynoldsburg city limits East to Whitehall and as far southeast as Eastland Joint Vocational Center, then includes all of Whitehall and Bexley and West to about the 800 block of East Broad Street. It includes school districts of Walnut Ridge, Bishop Hartley, Columbus East, Eastmoor, Whitehall, Groveport, St. Charles, Bexley, Eastland Joint Vocational Center, Ohio Dominican and Capital and Franklin Universities.

Reynoldsburg Spectator - Ray Adams. This newspaper covers the community of Reynoldsburg and some of Brice, all of Truro Township, and Reynoldsburg School District, Reynoldsburg students who attend Bishop Hartley High School and St. Pius X Elementary School.

Worthington Spectator - Christine Bauer. This newspaper covers the community of Worthington, Worthington and Waterson School Districts and Otterbein College.

WE PREFER NEWS for these papers be directed to the individual editors.

ALL PAPERS ITEMS

If you have an item that you would like to have in all four papers such as an item of a broad nature such as a community festival, a club meeting that includes members from all areas, or the like, direct it to Ray Adams. We will make every effort to print your notice as space permits.

PHOTOS

We prefer to do our own photography. However, if you submit a photo for publication, it must be of a good quality for us to reproduce. We prefer 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 glossy prints. Polaroids are NOT acceptable. Photos by appointment only.

PLEASE - no color photos. And - if you want your news photo returned send a stamped self-addressed envelope.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS

THERE IS NO charge for having your engagement or wedding photo printed in any Spectator Newspaper. We prefer glossy prints either 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 - black and white if possible.

We cannot guarantee the reproduction of color prints. Your engagement or wedding photo should be sent to us as soon as the announcement is made. Wedding photos, if possible, should be submitted to us in time for use in the publication following the wedding, or at least no later than a week afterwards.

IF YOU would like one of our engagement or wedding announcement forms please send your name and address to the specified editor of the newspaper as mentioned earlier in this story.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WE WELCOME letters to the editor that pertain to community items of interest to the various communities involved. All letters must be original, exclusive to The Spectator Newspapers, and the writer must sign name, address and phone number if there should be any reason to clarify any portion of your letter. They should be brief (no more than 250 words, please) and if you wish your name withheld we will consider this request provided that in the letter there is no matter that offends someone directly through language use or innuendoes.

REMEMBER, this is your newspaper to relay information of your club or organization, or to report a happening which you think might be of interest to us.

Thanks, and good news to everyone.

Reflections From The Spectator Staff

Casto Organization Promotes Goulston

Frederic P. Goulston has been appointed Director of Advertising and Public Relations for the Don M. Casto Organization, according to an announcement made by Don M. Casto, Jr., president of the firm.

In addition he will serve as Director of the Shopping Center Promotion Agency, the in-house advertising group that promotes the 23 Casto-developed shopping centers in five midwestern states.

Goulston joined the Casto Organization in 1952 in Dayton, Ohio, where he handled the advertising and promotion of the Dayton Town and Country and Miracle Lane shopping centers.

These were the third and fourth centers the Casto Organization had built following Columbus Town and Country and Central Point.

He was transferred to Columbus in 1963 to handle the promotions for Northern Lights and Great Western shopping centers. Later he took on Great Southern, Great Eastern and University City, before the appointment to his present post.

Goulston holds the title of ASDP (Accredited Shopping Center Promotion Director) which is awarded shopping center promotion directors by the International Council of Shopping Centers after a minimum period of full-time promotion duties and upon completion of a comprehensive written and oral examination.

At the present time there are only 137 persons, nationally, who have earned this rating.

A graduate of the Marquette University College of Journalism in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1943, Goulston served as a Public Relations Officer in the United States Air Force during World War II in the Pacific area.

Prior to joining the Casto Organization, he was a civilian employee in the Public Information Office of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

Ohio National Names Property Manager

Jack W. Lee, 4152 Ural Avenue, Whitehall, has joined Ohio National Bank as manager of property development.

He will be responsible for all phases of real estate property development and maintenance for Ohio National, including land acquisition or leasing of space for new branch offices. He will also supervise the leasing of tenant space in the bank's downtown headquarters complex, "Ohio National Plaza on Capitol Square," which is scheduled for groundbreaking in April and completion in mid-1976.

Lee attended Ohio State and Franklin Universities and, additionally, completed specialized training with the Ohio School of Real Estate and the Institute of Real Estate Management. He holds the designation of Certified Property Manager.

Ohio State Bank Announces Changes

Ohio State Bank during 1973 increased its total assets to $119,531,255.13 and announced the installation of five "Bank 365" for around the clock banking to be installed in 1974.

Frank W. Kelley, president, announced the promotions of four female employees.

Carolyn A. Linden was named manager of the Berwick Plaza Office, 2763 Winchester Pike. Mrs. Linden started with the bank in 1960 and has been at the Berwick Plaza Office for three years. She is a member of Columbus Chapter AIB.

Named assistant manager at the New Albany Office, 256 E. Main St., New Albany, was Margaret S. Easterday. Mrs. Easterday started with the bank in May of 1969 and previously was employed at the Barnett Livingston Office. Deloris J. Frixzell was named assistant manager at the Sharon Office, 5620 N. High St. Mrs. Frixzell is a member of the Columbus Chapter AIB, a graduate of Linden-McKinley High School and has been employed by the Ohio State Bank since October 1969.

Aletha J. Richards was named assistant manager at the Hilliard Office, 238 Main St., Hilliard. Mrs. Richards started with the bank in January 1968 and is a graduate of Hilliard High School after which she attended Franklin University.

During the institution's annual shareholder meeting Jan. 18, all officers and directors were re-elected. President Kelley reported.

Directors are: Thomas R. Bemis, vice president, Elico Manufacturing; George H. Bornell, physician; George W. Byers Jr., vice president, Don M. Casto Organization; John A. Guy, president, J.A. Guy Inc.; V.N. Holderman, industrialist; Dahilton R.

Kincaid, attorney; James M. Taylor, president, P.G. Line, Inc.; Arnold M. Wright, retired; H. Taylor Zettler, president, Zettler Stores, Inc., and bank officers, Frank W. Kelley, president; Gordon S. Lemert Sr., vice president; J. William Kutschbach, vice president.

Besides those officers the board re-elected Zettler chairman; Harold W. Vogel, senior vice president; Frank F. Compton Jr., vice president and cashier; also Vice Presidents-Eldon P. Berg, Ellis Chalfant, William Dodderer, Robert M. Edwards, Marvin Knoits, Kutschbach, C. Otto Lindenbalt, C. Duane Lowe, Edward Saunders, Leland J. Smith and Gary Wend.

Ohio State Bank operates 11 banking offices throughout the Franklin County area and is an affiliate of BancOhio Corporation.

ValuPak Set At Ohio Nat'l

A total approach to personal banking service has been introduced by Ohio National Bank, according to an announcement by Walter C. Mercer, president and chief executive officer.

Known as "ValuPak", the new service package makes available all the most-frequently used banking services for a monthly fee of $2.50, Mercer said.

Customers may apply for ValuPak by completing a single application form, Mercer noted.

"We believe that ValuPak is the most comprehensive package of banking services available anywhere in the country," Mercer said. "We are sure consumers will like its convenience, low cost and the ease with which all services may be arranged at one time," he added.

Horse Clinic At Fairfield Farm

Members of 4-H Clubs in all areas of Columbus and Franklin County, have been invited to a horse clinic and celebration in honor of the opening of a new horse training practice and show ring at Fairfield Farm, 11635 Alapach Rd.

People who have horses are also welcome to come to the affair if they will make a reservation in advance. They may also join a drill and jumping club which meets weekly at the farm.

Tom Reynolds, owner of the indoor ring, explains that it is 62 by 160 feet, identical in size to the Cooper Arena, horse show ring, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. A lounge and observation room, 42 by 40 feet, will feature an open fireplace, refreshments and a tack shop. He feels that the new facility will satisfy the needs of horse owners who want to train their horses and ride in the winter.

Brief demonstrations will be given in the indoor arena, under the direction of Dan Sullivan, trainer and instructor, who was formerly a trainer and instructor at Springfield Farm near Hilliard for six years.

Dressage movements will be demonstrated by Mrs. Jerry Moore, Pickerington, on an Arabian stallion. Converting A Western Trained horse to a possible jumper will be demonstrated. A "green" horse will be trained, for the first time, to go over fences. Advanced jumping will be performed by Vicki Anstead, 1340 Jones Rd., Galloway.

Riders from all sections of Columbus have started to form a precision riding team at the arena for their own enjoyment and with the hope that they will become so proficient that they will be invited to perform at various fairs and other public events.

Reservations for the clinic must be made through Ruth Sullivan, 837-6663. A map showing the farm's location is shown on page 437 in the yellow pages of the Columbus phone book.

Celebrate First Anniversary

Lincoln Village--The Westland Senior Citizens held their first anniversary and appreciation luncheon at Columbia Heights United Methodist Church with 84 members and guests attending.

The luncheon was given to honor and show appreciation to those who have supported the organization. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the church, 91 Sturbridge Rd., with a sack lunch.

All senior citizens in the area are welcome. The president of the group is Lawrence Judson.

ALPHA'S I Plan Tea

ALPHA'S I (All Ladies Preparing Help and Aid for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital) is planning a membership tea for Sunday, Feb. 24, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the new State Savings, 5055 W. Broad St., across from Doctors West Hospital.

A small group of women from Lincoln Park West started ALPHA'S I almost four years ago. Over the years the group has contributed several thousand dollars for support of the hospital. A second chapter has been formed in the Worthington area.

Due to relocation of many of the original group, ALPHA'S I is in need of new members with time to donate to a very worthy cause.

Bob Gibson, Central Regional Director for St. Jude fund raising, will give a talk on the hospital and show a film about the research being done there. There will also be literature and scrapbooks.

Mrs. W.D. Davies is membership chairman for ALPHA'S I. For further information on the tea call 874-4100.

Youth Day At Westhill

WEST COLUMBUS--"Youth Day" at the Westhill Church of Christ, 3220 Sullivant Ave., will feature Jeff Chase, student at the Cincinnati Bible Seminary and graduate of West High School, class of 1973. Chase will be preaching Sunday at 10 a.m. on the subject, "How Jesus Saves." In the evening he will be preaching on the subject of "Gnosticism." Special Gospel Concert music will be presented also at 7 p.m. by the "Revelations," a youth singing trio from the Linden Church of Christ. Pam Sapp will be at the piano singing solo; Deri Ryan, soprano; and Steve Taylor, tenor. The public is invited to see youth leading in worship.

Mardi Gras At Ready

WEST COLUMBUS--The annual Mardi Gras at Bishop Ready High School will be Friday, Feb. 22, from 6 to 12 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 23, from 7 to 12 p.m. There will also be a dance for students Sunday, Feb. 24, 7 to 11 p.m. The Mothers Club will prepare a chicken dinner for Friday. Prices are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children under 11. To prepare the right amount, tickets are being sold in advance but will also be sold at the door. There will be pizza and hot dogs served Saturday. Homemade desserts will be served both nights. Saturday night is for adults only. Babysitters will be available both evenings. Board, COTA Have Discussions

West Columbus--Representatives of the Columbus Board of Education and COTA held an exploratory conference Feb. 13 to discuss the questions of a reduced student fare and services that COTA might provide to the school system.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Virginia Prentice, Board of Education president, said, "I believe we could be of mutual benefit to each other. Not only could COTA help provide transportation for our much expanded Columbus Plan, but also provide transportation for students in order to reduce the use of private cars in the energy crisis."

It was agreed that a detailed study should be conducted by COTA officials and school officials to determine where services could be implemented that would be beneficial to all concerned. No time was set when any decision will be made.

Bishop Sheen Outlines Philosophy Of Life

By KATHY DEVANEY

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen used stories to illustrate the two philosophies of life at his "Lecture of Note" sponsored by the Women's Association of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra at the Ohio Theatre Valentine's Day.

One philosophy says that life has no meaning so get all the pleasure, money and power you can.

"Freedom means 'I want to be me' with no limits. There is no meaning except the immediate. Once a person starts with that philosophy, he doesn't want to be committed. Many youths today are described as uncommitted. They want no purpose or goal," he said.

To illustrate this philosophy he told the story of an English diamond seller he met in Paris. They had dinner and in the course of conversation the man said he had never met one good man or woman.

"I THANKED him for the compliment and he went on," Bishop Sheen said.

He had been living with another man's wife for a year and felt a year was long enough to spend with any woman. He told her to leave. She said she would kill herself. Should he take her back to save her life?

Bishop Sheen told him she would not kill herself and it would be wrong to live with her unmarried to save her life.

"A person cannot do evil and expect good to come from it," he said.

"I TOLD HIM I was going to Mont Martre to spend the night in prayer at the cathedral. He asked to go along and in the morning he asked me to stay and teach him to be good," Bishop Sheen said.

They met that evening for dinner. He had brought a woman along. "You must make a choice. Stay with me or go with the woman. She asked if I was afraid to have her come to dinner. I said I would be glad to have dinner with her the next evening.

"The man thought about his choice and said he would go with her," he said.

The second philosophy of life says there is meaning in life. Everything has a purpose.

"WHAT MAKES anything good or bad? It is good if it attains the purpose for which it was made.

"A pencil is good because it writes. The pencil won't open a can of tomatoes. If I try to open the can, I not only don't open it, but I also break the pencil," he said.

"When we seek a goal or purpose other than that for which we were born, we not only don't attain happiness, but we hurt ourselves. That is why there are so many suffering from psychosis and neurosis. They have rebelled against the purpose of life and hurt themselves," Bishop Sheen said.

To illustrate the philosophy of purpose and meaning in life he told the story of Ernest Frankel, a professor of neurology at the University of Vienna during the war.

HE FORMULATED logotherapy, the therapy of meaning.

He was trying to decide whether to go to the United States to teach. He was afraid to leave his Jewish father at a time when the Nazis were killing Jews. He wasn't sure he could save his father even if he did stay.

He went to St. Stephen's to pray. After an hour he didn't feel "he had been given an answer, but as he was leaving he saw a block of marble on a table.

He asked the priest if he knew what was written on the block. The priest said no. He had just picked it up in the ruins of a burned out synagogue.

Frankel said it says, "Honor Thy Father," so he stayed. He spent time in Nazi and Communist concentration camps. He said "people can survive anything if they have a goal and purpose. There is meaning."

"THE THREE things we want are life, truth and love," Bishop Sheen said.

"But we do not find them here in their fullness. We seek pure life, truth and love. That is the definition of God. That's the ultimate. That's what we want." Once people understand the final end (the purpose of living) they will be able to handle the difficulties of life.

Life is an adventure when a person knows the ending, he said. ("Have you noticed that when people loose their way they drive faster. When we don't have a purpose in life we speed.")

He compared people to a clock with the main spring broken. The replacement of the main spring must come from outside the clock.

"God came to earth and offered the main spring. He took all our sins and established a reservoir of new energy to illuminate our minds and give strength to our will."

Easter Seal Drive Will Be Steamed Up Mar. 1-Apr. 14

CHADRICK RAY, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ray, 2578 Homeacre Dr., and Mrs. William Ellis, Seal Day chairman for the First Community Church location, spread a little sunshine to promote the February 26 letter assembly event for the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children.

SEAL DAY for the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children will be bright this year with a theme of "sunshine."

The traditional letter assembly day, promoted as an event to "bring sunshine" to crippled children, will take place Tuesday, Feb. 26.

VOLUNTEERS will assemble the Easter Seal letters at two locations that day: at First Community Church, 1330 Cambridge Blvd., with Mrs. William Ellis, 2291 Walhaven Court, in charge; and at the Society's treatment center, 565 Children's Drive West (corner of Parsons and Livingston) with Mr. J.D. Salzgeber, 2631 Exmoor Rd., in charge.

The several hundred volunteers will represent various social, fraternal and church organizations as well as members of the Braces, the Society's auxiliaries; and members of the Guild of First Community Church.

Volunteers for Seal Day are to report at 9 a.m. at either of the two locations and bring a sack lunch. Tea, coffee and a special sunshine dessert will be served.

WORKERS are still needed at both First Community Church and at the treatment center. Persons or groups wishing to volunteer for Seal Day are asked to call the church, 482-0681 or the Society, 253-5523.

THE LETTERS processed during the day event will contain a sheet of the 1974 Easter Seals, an appeal letter from Mike Pope, the honorary Easter Seal Chairman, and a return envelope.

Publicity Appreciated

To the Editor:

I want to tell you how much I appreciate the beautiful publicity you gave the Central Ohio Council for International Visitors on the Bernard Upshaw Singers' concert scheduled for Friday, February 15 at Ritzcock Hall on the Ohio State University campus in the Worthington Spectator last week.

Unfortunately due to circumstances beyond their control, it was necessary to cancel the concert.

We appreciate your carrying the cancellation notice, and thank you again for your splendid cooperation.

Sincerely,

Goodwill Was Helped

To the Editor:

Goodwill Industries would like to thank you for your part in the emergency clothing drive.

We collected over 1500 bags of clothing in the three Saturday area pick-ups, plus additional furniture and assorted goods.

Without the help of the press, the public would not have responded the way they did. The amount given did not help as much the warehouse again, but it did bring us to a full work schedule as long as the donations come in daily.

Yours truly,

Television Series Designed To Fit Education Needs

AN EXCEPTIONAL television series designed to assist individuals to prepare for a high school equivalency certificate will premiere on WOSU-TV, Columbus, WPSB-TV, Portsmouth, and WGSF-TV, Newark, Monday March 4.

Only two lessons a week, each repeated at least twice, will permit the student his choice of viewing times. The program, Your Future Is Now, is a series of 80 thirty-minute programs produced by Manpower Education Institute, New York, a non-profit foundation whose aim is to solve urban problems caused by automation, lack of education and underemployment.

The project is considered by Richard B. Hull, director of The Telecommunications Center, O.S.U., and Roy McKinley, executive director of Central Ohio Educational Television Foundation, Inc., to be the singularly largest and most comprehensive educational offering in the history of the two organizations.

ANYONE who is 19 and who has been out of school for at least one year and whose high school class has been graduated is eligible for registration in the telecourse. Completion of the course will more fully prepare the student to take the General Development Tests (GED) through which the high school equivalency certificate is granted.

Three study guides to be used in conjunction with the telecasts can be obtained by sending $10 to FUTURE, 2400 Olentangy River Road, Columbus, Ohio.

COURSES will include (in this order) 26 lessons in social studies, science and literature; 17 lessons in grammar, usage, spelling and vocabulary; and 17 lessons in mathematics.

"Your Future Is Now" will be telecast so that a student viewer can start and see a whole sequence several times over a span of 115 months.

Sponsored by The Ohio State Board of Education, "Your Future Is Now" will offer the public an opportunity to replenish their skills bank and prepare for that outreach to a better future.

A special preview showing will be presented on all stations Tuesday, Feb. 26 from 6 to 6:30 p.m. and Thursday, Feb. 28 from 10:30 to 11 p.m.

Inspections Scheduled For Church Busses

How To Submit Your News Item For Publication

IT'S EASIER than apple pie to get your news item in the community news pages of The Spectator Newspapers.

Unlike some other weekly papers The Spectator Newspapers does not assess any kind of monetary charge for news items and photos.

The steps are very simple:
CALL US FIRST at 274-1155 if you have any questions about the news item you intend to submit.

DEADLINES

The deadline for all news items and photos for possible publication in the following Wednesday issue is the Monday noon prior to that issue. Naturally, we would like your item sooner if possible since, if everyone waits until that Monday noon deadline, it would not be possible to have the type set and the story made ready for the issue.

THE EDITOR reserves the right to edit all articles submitted, however, if we drastically question any part of your article you will be called for clarification.

News items can be mailed to The Spectator Newspapers, 3421 South Boulevard, Columbus, Ohio, 43204, or brought to the office that is in the Great Western Shopping Center.

Our telephone number is 274-1155. If one of the editors is not in when you call, please leave your name and number and your call will be returned as soon as possible.

ALTHOUGH we like to have our news items typewritten it is not necessary. However, please use a sheet of 8 1/2 x 11 white paper if at all possible and print the proper names legibly. Please include your name, address and telephone number on your notice in case we need to call you for clarification of any of the information submitted.

For identification purposes news items should be directed to the following persons:

Spectator West - Kathy Devaney. This newspaper covers the areas of West Columbus from about Central High School all the way west to New Rome. It includes school districts of Columbus West, Franklin Heights, Bishop Ready and Westland.

Spectator East - Elsie Weaver. This newspaper covers the area of East Columbus from the Reynoldsburg city limits East to Whitehall and as far southeast as Eastland Joint Vocational Center, then includes all of Whitehall and Bexley and West to about the 800 block of East Broad Street. It includes school districts of Walnut Ridge, Bishop Hartley, Columbus East, Eastmore, Whitehall, Groveport, St. Charles, Bexley, Eastland Joint Vocational Center, Ohio Dominican and Capital and Franklin Universities.

Reynoldsburg Spectator - Ray Adams. This newspaper covers the community of Reynoldsburg and some of Brice, all of Truro Township, and Reynoldsburg School District, Reynoldsburg students who attend Bishop Hartley High School and St. Pius X Elementary School.

Worthington Spectator - Christine Bower. This newspaper covers the community of Worthington, Worthington and Waterson School Districts and Otterbein College.

WE PREFER NEWS for these papers be directed to the individual editors.

ALL PAPERS ITEMS

If you have an item that you would like to have in all four papers, such as an item of a broad nature such as a community festival, a club meeting that includes members from all areas, or the like, direct it to Ray Adams. We will make every effort to print your notice as space permits.

PHOTOS

We prefer to do our own photography. However, if you submit a photo for publication, it must be of a good quality for us to reproduce. We prefer 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 glossy prints. Polaroids are NOT acceptable. Photos by appointment only.

PLEASE - no color photos. And - if you want your news photo returned and a stamped self-addressed envelope.

WEDDING AND ENGAGEMENTS

THERE IS NO charge for having your engagement or wedding photo printed in any Spectator Newspaper. We prefer glossy prints either 8 x 10 or 5 x 7 - and black and white if possible.

We cannot guarantee the reproduction of color prints. Your engagement or wedding photo should be sent to us as soon as the announcement is made. Wedding photos, if possible, should be submitted to us in time for use in the publication following the wedding, or at least no later than a week afterwards.

IF YOU would like one of our engagement or wedding announcement forms please send your name and address to the specified editor of the newspaper as mentioned earlier in this story.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WE WELCOME letters to the editor that pertain to community items of interest to the various communities involved. All letters must be original, exclusive to The Spectator Newspapers, and the writer must sign name, address and phone number if there should be any reason to clarify any portion of your letter. They should be brief (no more than 250 words, please) and if you wish your name withheld we will consider this request provided that in the letter there is no matter that offends someone directly through language use or innuendoes.

REMEMBER, this is your newspaper to relay information of your club or organization, or to report a happening which you think might be of interest to us.

Thanks, and good news to everyone.

Reflections From The Spectator Staff

Casto Organization Promotes Goulston

Frederic P. Goulston has been appointed Director of Advertising and Public Relations for the Don M. Casto Organization, according to an announcement made by Don M. Casto, Jr., president of the firm.

In addition he will serve as Director of the Shopping Center Promotion Agency, the in-house advertising group that promotes the 23 Casto-developed shopping centers in five midwestern states.

Goulston joined the Casto Organization in 1952 in Dayton, Ohio, where he handled the advertising and promotion of the Dayton Town and Country and Miracle Lane shopping centers.

These were the third and fourth centers the Casto Organization had built following Columbus Town and Country and Central Point.

He was transferred to Columbus in 1963 to handle the promotions for Northern Lights and Great Western shopping centers. Later he took on Great Southern, Great Eastern and University City, before the appointment to his present post.

Goulston holds the title of ASDP (Accredited Shopping Center Promotion Director) which is awarded shopping center promotion directors by the International Council of Shopping Centers after a minimum period of full-time promotion duties and upon completion of a comprehensive written and oral examination.

At the present time there are only 137 persons, nationally, who have earned this rating.

A graduate of the Marquette University College of Journalism in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1942, Goulston served as a Public Relations Officer in the United States Air Force during World War II in the Pacific area.

Prior to joining the Casto Organization, he was a civilian employee in the Public Information Office at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

Ohio National Names Property Manager

Jack W. Lee, 4152 Ural Avenue, Whitehall, has joined Ohio National Bank as manager of property development.

He will be responsible for all phases of real estate property development and maintenance for Ohio National, including land acquisition or leasing of space for new branch offices.

He will also supervise the leasing of tenant space in the bank's downtown headquarters complex, "Ohio National Plaza on Capitol Square," which is scheduled for groundbreaking in April and completion in mid-1975.

Lee attended Ohio State and Franklin Universities and, additionally, completed specialized training with the Ohio School of Real Estate and the Institute of Real Estate Management. He holds the designation of Certified Property Manager.

Ohio State Bank Announces Changes

Ohio State Bank during 1973 increased its total assets to $119,531,255.13 and announced the installation of five "Bank 365" for around the clock banking to be installed in 1974.

Frank W. Kelley, president, announced the promotions of four female employees.

Carolyn A. Linden was named manager of the Berwick Plaza Office, 2763 Winchester Pike. Mrs. Linden started with the bank in 1960 and has been at the Berwick Plaza Office for three years. She is a member of Columbus Chapter AIB.

Named assistant manager at the New Albany Office, 256 E. Main St., New Albany, was Margaret S. Easterday. Mrs. Easterday started with the bank in May of 1969 and previously was employed at the Barnett Livingston Office.

Deloris J. Frizzell was named assistant manager at the Sharon Office, 5020 N. High St. Mrs. Frizzell is a member of the Columbus Chapter AIB, a graduate of Linden-McKinley High School and has been employed by the Ohio State Bank since October 1969.

Aletha J. Richards was named assistant manager at the Hilliard Office, 238 Main St., Hilliard. Mrs. Richards started with the bank in January 1968 and is a graduate of Hilliard High School after which she attended Franklin University.

During the institution's annual shareholder meeting Jan. 19, all officers and directors were re-elected. President Kelley reported.

Directors are: Thomas R. Bemis, vice president, Ebco Manufacturing; George H. Bonnell, physician; George W. Byers Jr., vice president, Don M. Casto Organization; John A. Guy, president, J.A. Guy Inc.; V.N. Holderman, industrialist; Dahlton R.

Kinsaid, attorney; James M. Taylor, president, P-G Line, Inc.; Arnold M. Wright, retired; H. Taylor Zettler, president, Zettler Stores, Inc.; and bank officers, Frank W. Kelley, president; Gordon S. Lemert Sr., vice president; J. William Kutschbach, vice president.

Besides those officers the board re-elected Zettler chairman; Harold W. Vogel, senior vice president; Frank F. Compton Jr., vice president and cashier; also Vice Presidents—Eldon P. Berg, Ellis Chalfant, William Dodderer, Robert M. Edwards, Marvin Knotts, Kutschbach, C. Otto Lindenbolf, C. Duane Lowe, Edward Saunders, Leland J. Smith and Gary Wend.

Ohio State Bank operates 18 banking offices throughout the Franklin County area and is an affiliate of BancOhio Corporation.

ValuPak Set At Ohio Nat'l

A total approach to personal banking service has been introduced by Ohio National Bank, according to an announcement by Walter C. Mercer, president and chief executive officer.

Known as "ValuPak," the new service package makes available all the most frequently used banking services for a monthly fee of $2.50, Mercer said.

Customers may apply for ValuPak by completing a single application form, Mercer noted.

"We believe that ValuPak is the most comprehensive package of banking services available anywhere in the country," Mercer said. "We are sure consumers will like its convenience, low cost and the ease with which all services may be arranged at one time," he added.

Horse Clinic At Fairfield Farm

Members of 4-H Clubs in all areas of Columbus and Franklin County, have been invited to a horse clinic and celebration in honor of the opening of a new horse training practice and show ring at Fairfield Farm, 11635 Alpac Rd.

People who have horses are also welcome to come to the affair if they will make a reservation in advance. They may also join a drill and jumping club which meets weekly at the farm.

Turn Reynolds, owner of the indoor ring, explains that it is 62 by 160 feet, identical in size to the Cooper Arena, horse show ring, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. A lounge and observation room, 42 by 48 feet, will feature a new fireplace, refreshments and a tack shop. He feels that the new facility will satisfy the needs of horse owners who want to train their horses and ride indoors in the winter.

Brief demonstrations will be given in the indoor arena, under the direction of Dan Sullivan, trainer and instructor, who was formerly a trainer and instructor at Springfield Farm near Hilliard for six years.

Dressage movements will be demonstrated by Mrs. Jerry Moore, Pickerington, on an Arabian stallion. Converting a Western Trained horse to a possible jumper will be demonstrated. A "green" horse will be trained, for the first time, to go over fences. Advanced jumping will be performed by Vicki Anstead, 1340 Jones Rd., Galloway.

Riders from all sections of Columbus have started to form a precision riding team at the arena for their own enjoyment and with the hope that they will become so proficient that they will be invited to perform at various fairs and other public events.

Reservations for the clinic must be made through Ruth Sullivan, 837-0503. A map showing the farm's location is shown on page 437 in the yellow pages of the Columbus phone book.

Celebrate First Anniversary

Lincoln Village-The Westland Senior Citizens held their first anniversary and appreciation luncheon at Columbia Heights United Methodist Church with 84 members and guests attending.

The luncheon was given to honor and show appreciation to those who have supported the organization. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the church, 81 Sturbridge Rd., with a sack lunch.

All senior citizens in the area are welcome. The president of the group is Lawrence Judson.

ALPHA'S I Plan Tea

ALPHA'S I (All Ladies Preparing Help and Aid for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital) is planning a membership tea for Sunday, Feb. 24, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the new State Savings, 5055 W. Broad St., across from Doctors West Hospital.

A small group of women from Lincoln Park West started ALPHA'S I almost four years ago. Over the years the group has contributed several thousand dollars for support of the hospital. A second chapter has been formed in the Worthington area.

Due to relocation of many of the original group, ALPHA'S I is in need of new members with time to donate to a very worthy cause.

Bob Gibson, Central Regional Director for St. Jude fund raising, will give a talk on the hospital and show a film about the research being done there. There will also be literature and scrapbooks.

Mrs. W.D. Davies is membership chairman for ALPHA'S I. For further information on the tea call 878-0224.

Mardi Gras At Ready

WEST COLUMBUS-The annual Mardi Gras at Bishop Ready High School will be Friday, Feb. 22, from 6 to 12 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 23, from 7 to 12 p.m. There will also be a dance for students Sunday, Feb. 24, 7 to 11 p.m. The Mothers Club will prepare a chicken dinner for Friday. Prices are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children under 11. To prepare the right amount, tickets are being sold in advance but will also be sold at the door. There will be pizza and hot dogs served Saturday. Homemade desserts will be served both nights. Saturday night is for adults only. Babysitters will be available both evenings. Shown posting the names of the students selling the most tickets are Leany DeGiralomo and Michelle Menzel while Alice Roberts, Father Ron Atwood and Joe Palazzo look over plans for the Mardi Gras.

Board, COTA Have Discussions

West Columbus--Representatives of the Columbus Board of Education and COTA held an exploratory conference Feb. 13 to discuss the questions of a reduced student fare and services that COTA might provide to the school system.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Virginia Prentice, Board of Education president, said, "I believe we could be of mutual benefit to each other. Not only could COTA help provide transportation for our much expanded Columbus Plan, but also provide transportation for students in order to reduce the use of private cars in the energy crisis."

It was agreed that a detailed study should be conducted by COTA officials and school officials to determine where services could be implemented that would be beneficial to all concerned. No time was set when any decision will be made.

Bishop Sheen Outlines Philosophy Of Life

By KATHY DEVANEY

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen used stories to illustrate the two philosophies of life at his "Lecture of Note" sponsored by the Women's Association of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra at the Ohio Theatre Valentine's Day.

One philosophy says that life has no meaning so get all the pleasure, money and power you can.

"Freedom means 'I want to be me' with no limits. There is no meaning except the immediate. Once a person starts with that philosophy, he doesn't want to be committed. Many youths today are described as uncommitted. They want no purpose or goal," he said.

To illustrate this philosophy he told the story of an English diamond seller he met in Paris. They had dinner and in the course of conversation the man said he had never met one good man or woman.

"I THANKED him for the compliment and he went on," Bishop Sheen said.

He had been living with another man's wife for a year and felt a year was long enough to spend with any woman. He told her to leave. She said she would kill herself. Should he take her back to save her life?

Bishop Sheen told him she would not kill herself and it would be wrong to live with her unmarried to save her life.

"A person cannot do evil and expect good to come from it," he said.

"I TOLD HIM I was going to Mont Martre to spend the night in prayer at the cathedral. He asked to go along and in the morning he asked me to stay and teach him to be good," Bishop Sheen said.

They met that evening for dinner. He had brought a woman along. "You must make a choice. Stay with me or go with the woman. She asked if I was afraid to have her come to dinner. I said I would be glad to have dinner with her the next evening.

"The man thought about his choice and said he would go with her," he said.

The second philosophy of life says there is meaning in life. Everything has a purpose.

"WHAT MAKES anything good or bad? It is good if it attains the purpose for which it was made.

"A pencil is good because it writes. The pencil won't open a can of tomatoes. If I try to open the can, I not only don't open it, but I also break the pencil," he said.

"When we seek a goal or purpose other than that for which we were born, we not only don't attain happiness, but we hurt ourselves. That is why there are so many suffering from psychosis and neurosis. They have rebelled against the purpose of life and hurt themselves," Bishop Sheen said.

To illustrate the philosophy of purpose and meaning in life he told the story of Ernest Frankel, a professor of neurology at the University of Vienna during the war.

HE FORMULATED logotherapy, the therapy of meaning.

He was trying to decide

Pageant Registration Opens

Grove City--Girls from 2-27 and boys 2-6 are eligible to enter the Franklin County Hemisphere Pageant to be held at Howard Johnson's Restaurant and Motor Lodge, Stringtown Road and I-71, Grove City, March 10.

Winners will receive trophies, crowns and banners and will represent their area in state competition at Cincinnati, where they compete for more prizes. Winners of the state pageant will compete in national competition where they will compete for $50,000 in prizes and scholarships.

There is no talent division involved.

The competition for boys as well as girls consists of classes beginning with pre-teen (girls 2-4), master (boys 2-6), little miss (girls 5-10), pre-teen (girls 11-13), teen (girls 14-17) and miss (girls 18-27). Contestants are judged on beauty, charm, poise and personality.

For information and applications write Franklin County Hemisphere Pageant, Donna Stoer, director, 5608 Hoover Rd., Grove City, Ohio 43123, or call 876-7343.

whether to go to the United States to teach. He was afraid to leave his Jewish father at a time when the Nazis were killing Jews. He wasn't sure he could save his father even if he did stay. He went to St. Stephen's to pray. After an hour he didn't feel he had been given an answer, but as he was leaving he saw a block of marble on a table.

He asked the priest if he knew what was written on the block. The priest said no. He had just picked it up in the ruins of a burned out synagogue.

Frankel said it says, "Honor Thy Father," as he stayed. He spent time in Nazi and Communist concentration camps. He said "people can survive anything if they have a goal and purpose. There is meaning."

"THE THREE things we want are life, truth and love,"

Bishop Sheen said. "But we do not find them here in their fullness. We seek pure life, truth and love. That is the definition of God. That's the ultimate. That's what we want." Once people understand the final end (the purpose of living) they will be able to handle the difficulties of life.

Life is an adventure when a person knows the ending, he said. ("Have you noticed that when people lose their way they drive faster. When we don't have a purpose in life we speed.")

He compared people to a clock with the main spring broken. The replacement of the main spring must come from outside the clock.

"God came to earth and offered the main spring. He took all our sins and established a reservoir of new energy to illuminate our minds and give strength to our will."

AROUND TOWN

Composite Is New In Town

LAST WEEK I told you about a new lounge opening in town. If you remember, I told you it was located on North High St., and that it was a high class room specializing in good music. Well, here are the facts.

The name of the place is The Composite. It is run by none other than that well known night club operator, Scratch Pestano.

The Composite is an intimate lounge, with sofas and chairs throughout the entire lounge, plus a large bar. I think you'll love the atmosphere.

But, what you are going to like most of all is the music. Currently, I have to say that they have the best group Around Town. Their name is The Steve Burkey Group featuring Terry Foster. You ain't heard nothing until you've heard this group. What sounds, the outfit consists of four extremely good musicians and a male singer. They sound like a full orchestra.

STEVE BURKEY is at the organ, Vaughn Wiester plays trombone, Don Beck on guitar and Charlie Fadale on drums. It is a long time since I've heard anything so terrific. Literally fantastic harmonics with way out chord structures. This is a creative group, from the word go.

Vaughn Wiester at the trombone is something else. His tones are superb. His style and attack is just about the best in the business.

The guy is simply great. Of course almost everybody knows Don Beck is a wizard at the guitar. This guy is also a musician's musician. The same can be said for Steve Burkey. He is a real technician at the black and whites.

Chuck Fadale handles the drums as well as the best of them. Chuck has fine patterns, along with a fine sense of variations. Quick speed is another of his talents.

THE QUARTET plays any type of music that's ever been written. Their modern jazz is heavenly. Yet, they have the professional ability to come right back at you with good old standard numbers, the better country and western songs and right on to the best of today's music. Their motto should be, "You name it, we play it."

My friends, if I end the review here, I would feel, as I said earlier, the best group around. But, there is delicious whip cream on this musical dessert. That being, Terry Foster. There is no doubt in my mind, Terry is as good as any of the "star" male singers in the business. Terry has a voice that won't stop.

His voice is beautiful with a deep, rich sound that is beautiful. What a smooth approach Terry has to a song. He is a strong stylist with absolute control.

He sings tunes like, "My Funny Valentine," "The Yellow Ribbon," and a host of the old standards and the best songs that's been written, but seldom sang by the average vocalist. You see, Terry is not a vocalist. He is a singer in every sense of the word.

IF ALL HAPPENS at The Composite. Leave it to Scratch to have the best Around Town. The Composite is located at 473 North High St., near Spruce St. Last Friday night the place was almost packed, just by word of mouth. I feel this will be the place in town. After all, it does have the best music and terrific atmosphere.

Playhouse Has No Hard Feelings

MY HAT'S OFF to the Country Dinner Playhouse. They have a real winning combination, currently on the boards. The show, "No Hard Feelings," is a fun filled vehicle that produces a laugh-a-minute that is played by a solid cast, starring Gale Storm.

The food and service was much improved since the last time. In fact, I thought the food was delicious.

"NO HARD FEELINGS," is a comedy with a plot that's almost ridiculous, yet could happen in today's society.

The play opens with Roberta and George Bartlett, played by Gale Storm and Tyler McVey, coming home from their daughter's wedding.

Roberta is packing, because she is leaving her husband. Her being a narrow minded, sour grapes type of individual, can't understand why Roberta wants to leave him. He is very unemotional about it all.

Roberta has been having an affair with Jimmy Skouras, a Greek waiter, portrayed by Arne Gundersen. She is going to live with him, and she means really live. As the play develops, it is discovered the daughter was pregnant when married, and mother is now pregnant. This is too much for George. But, he still tries to get his wife to come back.

NOW, LET your imagination run wild, and you'll be able to understand all of the humorous situations that develop. By the second act, the play is flying faster than a 707. The lines are terrific and produce tidal waves of laughter.

Arne Gundersen turns in an excellent job. Lee H. Doyle, as Alex Springer, George's business partner, a rather eccentric person, comes through with a highly humorous role. Bunny Sutton, is an older gal who won't give up, and feels rather desperate, so she sets out to catch George. This role is superbly played by Eda Seasongood. It's a small part, but played to the hilt by her. Lorelei Brownell turns in a strong job as the Bartlett's daughter.

PETER JOLLY, from Worthington, has returned home to do an excellent job in two minor, but important roles. This young man shows lots of promise.

Gale Storm is excellent as a woman who is tired of living a life with an "old man" and wants to kick up her heels. The role is demanding because it includes comedy as well as some heavy acting. I find no fault with Gale as Roberta Bartlett.

IF YOU WANT to forget your cares and worries, then, "No Hard Feelings," is just what the doctor ordered. Call now for reservations at the Country Dinner Playhouse, and laugh up a storm with Gale Storm and crew.

Sirocco Like A Roman Classic

COLUMBUS has another new spot this week, Sirocco. Located in the Eastland Office Park, 2112 S. Hamilton Rd., across from Lazarus at Eastland Shopping Center. Here is a beautiful, unique supper club.

It has a Roman classic atmosphere. The front wall of the interior is built like a Roman Coliseum with stone arches filled with opalescent glass. This bathes the lounge with a warm mixture of colors. In the lounge, you'll find a hexagonally shaped, sunken bar. The entire bar and lounge area is relaxing and refreshing. While intimate, it is also airy. The decor makes you want to stay for just one more, day or night. It is beautiful.

FROM THE BAR area, you have an unobstructed view of the stage and dance floor, which is situated between the lounge area and back dining room.

There are two dining rooms. The front dining room can be converted into private party room. The back dining

Comedy At College

"SHALL WE give him a drink of water?" Jeri Lynch, at left, who is cast as the daughter in "Empire Builders" asks Mag, the maid, played by Marianna Damico in the production to be staged at Ohio Dominican College. Gregg McNulty, is the "him," Schmurz, to whom she refers. The absurd comedy will be presented at 8:30 p.m., February 23-24 in the Little Theatre at Erskine Hall, Ohio Dominican College, 1214 Sunbury Rd.

A Dynamic Duo

THE JERRY AND NICK Duo continue to please the people with their soft, easy going music for listening and dancing at the Holiday Inn-North. The organ and drum stylings, along with vocals have proven to be pleasing to the people. Jerry and Nick are at the popular Holiday Inn-North Thursday through Saturday.

room besides offering a view of the stage, overlooks a lovely mall, which is dramatically lighted at night. Both dining rooms have interesting murals.

The entire interior was designed by Earl Stewart & Associates. They are well known as interior designers of restaurants, clubs, department stores and offices. All I can say is that Joe Morrone, his brother Tony Morrone and Glenna Phillips, the three partners of Sirocco, are mighty proud of their new place. Rightly so. It is gorgeous.

While a beautiful interior is conducive to pleasant dining, the food is important. Sirocco's food is excellent.

Their menu offers a very wide selection of Italian and American food. The prices are reasonable, to say the least.

Sirocco is open for lunch and dinner. Take my advice, and stop in soon. You'll be doing yourself a big favor.

Skiping Around Town

FOR DINING at its best, along with novel "entertainment," stop in at the Dobbs House at Port

Columbus. Their food is excellent, so is the service. You can have a sandwich or a complete dinner such as a 20 ounce porterhouse steak or beef kabob. There is a special menu for children, also. The entertainment is to watch all the planes come and go. The restaurant has floor-to-ceiling windows giving a panoramic view of the airfield. It's fun for old and young alike. Another fun place is Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor. All types of wild ice cream dishes, sundaes and such. Also all types of yummy sandwiches. Never a dull moment here. I love the place. This is the finale week for that terrific singer and entertainer, Billy Brown at the Lincoln Lodge. Here is a strong entertainer. Billy also sings up a storm, too. His guitar stylings are a sure fire hit with the crowds at Lincoln Lodge. If you haven't caught him, be sure you do this week. If you have, I know you'll want to see him again. The Dell Restaurant is a must for those of you who enjoy good food in quaint surroundings. Now, The Dell is open for Sunday dinners. During the week, the singing waiters and waitresses add a lot of good, ole time atmosphere to the place. The Dell is run by Dee Johnston and a real fun place to go. Don't forget the Dick Wolford Show at the popular Rendezvous Room. Dick and his boys are there Friday and Saturday. After the show and dancing, beginning at 2 a.m., a good old fashioned breakfast is served, consisting of country ham, and the works. Judging from the crowds, people love it. So, remember the Dick Wolford Show, if you are a lover of good country and western music. Last but not least, the Greg Shop is swinging every night. George Westermeyer III is dishing out plenty of good contemporary music. On Tuesday night, it's Oldies, But Goodies Night featuring contests with prizes and all of the top oldie songs. Bill Sweetstar is the host for this big bash. And, it is a bash. See you Around Town this week. Make sure you get out.

BILLY BROWN featuring SAMANTHA LEE APPEARING NIGHTLY WESTERN MOTELS LINCOLN LODGE. 4950 W BROAD

Billy Brown is performing at the Lincoln Lodge 4950 W. Broad. For a one man act Billy Brown has to be about the best in Columbus.

His performance is sprinkled with earthy jokes and banter with the audience. He has a collection of many Country and Blue Songs written in the last 20 years.

In 1959 Billy Brown did the original recording of "Well Have To Go" for Columbia Records. It rose to No. 1 in many cities but according to Brown at this time Jim Reeves also recorded it in the same style and Reeves recording became one of the biggest Country hits ever.

Billy Brown a Country Western Singer and Guitarist from Florida has been engaged for a six week contract at Lincoln Lodge.

He is drawing the largest crowds to the Lounge since it started with the Billy Brown Show entertaining with the up-town Country - Western Sound.

Brown's newest record has just been released on Big M Records. "Thank You Darling" and "Country Boy" Brown performance features versatility, personality and ad-lib humor in addition to a repertoire which includes yodeling, impersonations of Johnny Cash, Elvis Presley, Gene Autry, Eddie Arnold, Charlie Rich and Walter Brennan. He sings "Cool Clear Water" in the style of various singers.

For an enjoyable and pleasant evening filled with music, the Lounge at Lincoln Lodge is recommended.

Topsy-Turvy Finishes Make Cage Co-Champs In Three Loops

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Special Sports Writer

Whitehall and Mt. Vernon in the Ohio Capital Conference, Mohawk and Northland in the City League, Watterson and Hartley in the Central League and Grove City in the Mid-Eight League are the newly crowned 1973-74 area roundball champions.

In a topsy-turvy, heater shatter, wild and woolly finish these central district roundball quintets survived the frantic fumbles and unusual upsets that this cage season brought us, and instead of a mass celebration it's back to the drawing board and Central District Tournament time.

THE OCC was the spectacle of upset this season and the two survivors possess styles that contrast as much as a lay-up and a 20 foot jumper. Whitehall the rollicking run and gun king was playing its specialty in nailing down its share Friday night with a win over Westland while Mt. Vernon blended its stingy defense with a pattern slow down offense in tattooing Westerville.

But a 11-3 league tab was not an easy task for this Whitehall Ram gang as an almost loss to Worthington one week earlier could have given the Cardinals a share of the gold.

THE AWESOME silky pivot man Terry Burris was the master of this Ram clan and coupled with the playmaking of Benton Teddie and handy relief specialist Wayne Buck, a bag of trouble for enemy ball handlers, this group helped make Russ Gregg the coach of yet another champion, the first since the departure of the Gregg sharpshooters of the early '70's, sons of the coach: And don't forget to credit the rebounding and extra board work of Bill Besalski, Chris Zag and the leadership of Jerry Montgomery and Steve Martinello.

And then, when you couple all of this with the wondrous backing of the busy Ram fan backers, yes the dancing Ram Man and all, it was quite a championship.

THE MAKE and take City circuit was a weekly soap opera with excitement dominating until the champs were crowned and that one dominating team not present as in the Rattleff, Connor and Lamar days. Mohawk's Eddie Tillman, a smooth shooting skyrocketing jumper headed that championship run while a pin point passing specialist by the name of Jud Wood spearheaded Northland's dream machine.

And finally the decline of the Ready dynasty, that was the news of the CCL. Was it the loss of Coach Pat Penn, the absence of Jimmy Jones? Try the power of Hartley and Watterson.

HARTLEY led by the free-wheeling dare devil Mike

Gilliland matched 8-2 league tabs with backcourtting smoothie Sam Dixon and his Watterson playmates.

Gilliland had plenty of help from insiders Dave Profera and Ron White while Mark McNally, Rick Boone and Doug Jones added the luster to the finish. A healthy tournament campaigner if there ever was one.

A fine season for Gene Millard's Bexley cagers ended sourly as they lost the Mid-Eight cage race to Grove City with a loss to London on that final Friday but a touch of class for performing so well without a returning starter.

SO IF you are a league follower and title chaser are your thing you got your money's worth this season and if you want one more good investment, try those state tournaments, it's a sure bet.

Spectator Selects OCC All-Stars

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer

THE CENTRAL District's top two scorers, classy Terry Burris of Whitehall and rangy Ed Williams of Reynoldsburg, head the 1973-74 Spectator Ohio Capital Conference All-Star Basketball Team.

Rounding out this Spectator Sports Staff hand picked team is Worthington's Don Brough, Mt. Vernon's Ted Williams and Greg Spellman of Westland.

BURRIS, a lanky Mr. Everything for coach Russ Gregg's co-champion Rams, was the leading point producer in the area with a 28.5 average. This successful two-sports star uses his 7-foot track high jumping spring to clean the backboards and block shot at will.

Williams, a 23.2 ppg. scorer is the inside specialist of the league coupling his soft inside touch with his keen ability of tipping in missed shots.

TED WILLIAMS of Mt.

Vernon, the main cog in a smooth Yellow Jacket machine that shared this roundball crown with Whitehall, parleys his accurate shooting touch with a hounding defense, the trademark of the Jackets.

And Don Brough, the youngster of this dream team, is perhaps the smoothest of all with his sweeping drives and baseline maneuvers that earned him a niche in this claim to fame. Brough may create sleepless nights next fall for opponents as he returns to hopefully make coach Pat Manion's winter nights a bit more restful as these Cardinals were a hair off of that championship pace.

ROUNDING OUT this super squad, the ball-handling genius of a Westland youth movement, Greg Spellman is the dare devil who drives with reckless abandon and shoots from the outside with the greatest of form and accuracy.

So there you have it, the dream team of the OCC.

Bengals In Cage Game

Seven members of the Cincinnati Bengals will be playing basketball in Worthington tonight as they take on a team of Worthington teachers and coaches.

The game begins at 8 p.m. in the Worthington High School gymnasium, 340 W. Granville Road.

A limited number of tickets are still available.

Watterson vs Ready
ACTION UNDER the basket was hot and heavy as Bishop Ready tried to nail Watterson and held them from a league title tie. Ready players are Tony Walker (43) and Bob Cumberlander (53) while the Eagles are unidentified.

Watterson vs Ready
ALL EYES were on the ball as these Silver Knights and Eagles eagerly awaited the ball to come down. Ready players include Bob Cumberlander (53) while identified for Watterson is Tom Doyle (24). (Watterson-Ready photos by Craig Weaver.)

Bexley vs Grove City

THE GREYHOUNDS kept the Lions at bay last week in this tight Mid-8 encounter won by Grove City. Bexley's Mark Liefled (44) struggles with Grove City's Ed Willis (51) while Steve Funk (45) and another Greyhound survey the scene.

Bexley vs Grove City

A BATTLE for the rebound was won here by Bexley's Rick Hoffman as Grove City's Ed Willis (51) also fights for it. Grove City won the battle.

Bexley vs Grove City

DRIVING AROUND a Grove City player but eventually slipping on the floor then taking a long slide was Bexley's Phil Wright (24) as Grove City's Greg Niebert (51) almost topkicked him. (Bexley-Grove City photos by Dan Unkefer.)

Worthington vs Reynoldsburg

WITH WORTHINGTON star Don Brough sidelined for the entire game with illness it was up to the Cards to make up for his loss. Marc Kline (41) was one of those who did yeoman work. He grabs a rebound here as Card Doug Burkhardt (53) looks on and Raider Ed Williams (32) look for a piece of the action.

Worthington vs Reynoldsburg

IN THIS LEAP for the rebound there were plenty of one's and four's in the photo. Reynoldsburg's Marc Wade (14) and Worthington's Marc Kline (41) competed for this ball. (Worthington-Reynoldsburg photos by Ed Kierman.)

Watterson vs Ready

A STICKY defense proved workable for Watterson as they downed Ready last Friday to gain a share of the Catholic League title. Here, Watterson's Tom Doyle (24) presses Ready's Bob Cumberlander (53) while others look on.

Autorama Will Include Wild Cars

The sixth annual Autorama (Custom Car Show) will be held at Franklin County Veterans Memorial exhibit hall Feb. 23-24. Show hours for the three-day event are 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Friday; noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and noon to 9 p.m. Sunday.

The Autorama is one of the 166 international championship auto shows held annually coast to coast. It will include more than 175 cars, customs, dragsters, motorcycles, antique and futuristic cars. Among this year's featured cars are the $125,000 "Batmobile"; the $25,000 "Barber Car", a mobile hair cutting vehicle sporting 100-year-old barber chairs valued at $8,000; the 236 mph "Hawala Car"; the twin-engine, turbocharged three-wheeler called "The Two Cycle" and valued at $18,000; the "Snow Job", world's fastest snow dragster and the

LRV - Lunar Rover Vehicle for moon explorations. Spectator residents competing in the show include: WEST, George Wallace, 49 S. Harris Ave., 73 Yamaha; Bud Lefevre, 61 N. Burgess, '65 Dodge Dart; and Howard D. Dillon, 790 Josephine, '37 Ford; EAST, Carl Andrioff, 3478 Canard Sq., '23 Ford Roadster; Tom Brinker, 3662 Alps Rd., Honda Chopper; Richard Cahill, 5021 Eastham Way, '68

Plymouth Roadrunner; Roger Kean, 519 Garden Hls., C-Gas Fuel Dragster; Larry Kosloski, 1886 Jackson Rd., '69 Camaro; Hensel Darrel Large, 934 Primrose Dr., 3 Wheel Cycle; Richard Luckhaupt, 1294 Hart Rd., '63 Buick convertible; Peter H. Luft, 280 E. Columbus St., '73 Yellow T-roadster; Dave Masters, 207 Evergreen Ter., The "Milktruck", hand built rod; Bob Myers, 203 W. Park Ave., '23 T-Roadster; Larry Powers, 3060 Hillgrove Ave., '66 Corvette Convertible; and Jerome A. Zeck, 5227 Rumpalt Rd., '30 Model-A Ford antique. Reynoldsburg residents participating in the Autorama are J.B. Gargani, 1628 Lucks Rd., '66 Ford Mustang; Ray Connell, 1321 Creekside Pl., '34 Coupe; and Tom Urdarowski, 6983 Tanya Ter., '72 Corvette custom paint.

Recruiting For Hawaii

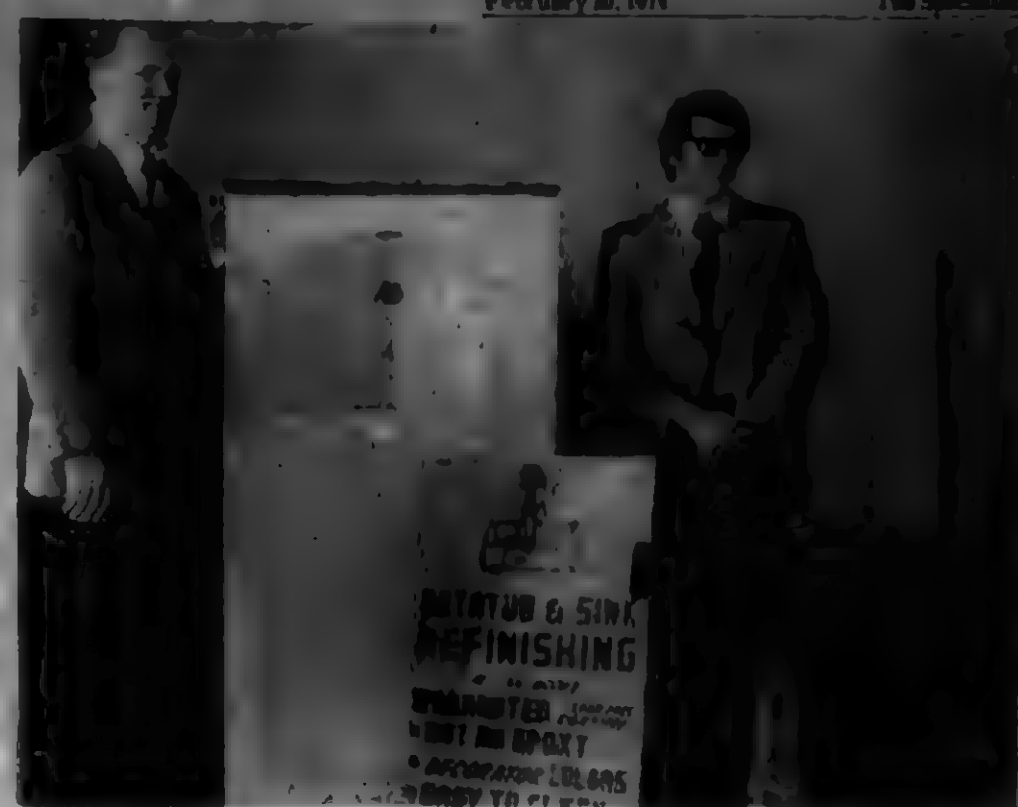

West Columbus--Sgt. Danny Baker, 261 Dana Ave. and a 1970 graduate of Central High School, is working at the Columbus West Army Recruiting Station, 3079 W. Broad.

Sgt. Baker joined the Army in 1971 and has been stationed in Hawaii since.

He will be telling potential recruits about Hawaii, an enlistment option they can choose.

Baker will be visiting high schools in the area talking with students and showing slides.

He is a member of the 26th Infantry Division, Tropic Lightning.

Something GNU Is Added

ONE OF THE NEWEST innovations in the restoration of a bath tub is now available in the area. It's called GNU Tub and the process restores unsightly bathtubs to their former brightness. David Hite, right, of D. Hite Services, is the owner of the franchise. At left is Orin Coakly, president of Cook Builders, 2535 E. Main St., Columbus, where a display is available. Hite is available to explain the exciting new process.

"Holland - A Garden of Pictures" was the narrated slide program presented by Monroe Harbage, instructor, Franklin Heights Horticulture Department for the 11 members of the Prairie Gardeners for their Feb. 7 meeting. Slides of Holland, bulb fields and gardens plus the famous "Florida" were covered.

At the conclusion of the program Harbage inquired about the desired plant materials to be used in the "Hanging Basket" program in March and made suggestions.

During the business meeting, with Mrs. Wendell Metz group president, presiding, discussion was held concerning the forthcoming flower show. Members of the Flower Show Committee revealed what the theme of the Westland High School Art Show will be; the club flower show will be held in conjunction with the Art Show this year.

Dates will be Saturday, May 18, and Sunday, May 19. Another meeting of the committee has been scheduled for the near future.

Harbage stated he had attended all sessions of the short course given by the Ohio Nurserymen's Association at O.S.U. and that Tuesday following the open meeting, 18 students in his Horticulture Class attended the session. A special type of course of instruction was given for their benefit.

Assisting hostess was Mrs. Roger Schellhaus.

Presiding at the Monday night meeting of the Rome Study Club was Mrs. Arthur Dougherty. Twenty-two members were present, plus three guests. Hostesses were Mrs. Clarence Scheldner, Mrs. John G. Gail and Mrs. Tim Lamb.

Program for the evening was presented by David Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Armstrong, 310 Lanox Ave., who gave a slide-talk on "Korea," where he was stationed.

A very cordial welcome is extended to the newest members of the community who are: a son born to Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, 565 Simsbury St., Feb. 7 at Mt. Carmel Hospital; and a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hamrick, Galloway, Feb. 10 at Doctors Hospital North.

The members of the Mary Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Howard Anderson, 162 Maple Dr., Wednesday, Feb. 28, for a talent auction. The meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Presiding will be group chairman, Mrs. Lillian Ginsberg, with Mrs. Harold Kaderly serving as Bible Study Leader. Assisting hostess will be Mrs. Grover Kaderly.

The Lydia Circle will meet at the church Thursday, Feb. 21, at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Oscar Wahn, presiding. Bible Study Leader will be Mrs. Lawrence Fessenden.

Book Nook

Valentine's Day was celebrated at the Hilltop Library by pre-school children attending the weekly story hour. Using red construction paper and paper doilies they worked diligently in order to present their mothers with Valentines at the end of the session. Mrs. McLaughlin told the youngsters two short legends about the origin of Valentine's Day.

Thursday's pre-school story hour at 1:30 will be devoted to elephants. The film strip "Dumbo" will be shown and the children will hear the story of "The Elephant Who Had to Dance."

Twenty-eight new books have been added to the books available at the library and may be reserved at the display table.

Among them are Benson's new book, "Marianne and the Rebels." Readers who have enjoyed her escapades will look forward to this exciting historical adventure, laid in the days of Napoleon II, the story takes place in Venice, the Greek Islands and the Ottoman Empire.

"Women in White" is Frank Slanger's latest book and a welcome addition to his many others. The story is set behind the scenes of a large metropolitan hospital and examines the lives and work of the doctors, nurses and patients.

"The Bormann Brief" by Clive Egleton will hold one's interest, especially those interested in the closing days of World War II.

New mysteries are always welcome additions, and devotees of Eleanor Hibbert (Virginia Holt or Jean Plaidy) and Ann Stevenson will be glad to see they have new novels available.

Among the new non-fiction "Perfectly Clear: Nixon from Whittier to Watergate" by Frank Mankiewicz will prove a fascinating, controversial book. The author has obtained information from many various sources and reading this book will strengthen one's own feelings about Nixon; it puts new light on the subject.

"You Don't Need a Man to Fix-it-book: The Woman's Guide to Confident Home Repair," will be a most for most housewives. Jim Webb and Bart Housman have really simplified repair work for the laywoman and given her the courage to tackle this heretofore man's world.

Movie buffs will be interested in the delightful pictorial biography of Barbara Stanwyck, and also "Popcorn Venus," a book of women, movies and the American dream by Marjorie Hann.

"New Furnishings and Decorating Ideas for Spring" put out by Better Homes and Gardens offers refreshing suggestions to the homemaker.

The National Geographic Society comes up to its customary excellent standard with a presentation of the book "Wilderness, U.S.A." This is a beautiful book that all ages can enjoy.

The library offers a wide range of books and urges all to take advantage of its many services.

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS AND DUBLIN LEAGUE

U.S. Navy Steel Band
Feb. 11 the United States Navy Steel Band performed at Franklin Heights. The men who played in this band were from all over the United States. They played many different popular songs such as "Saturday in the Park," "Frankenstein." All the instruments in this band were made of ordinary steel oil drums except in the rhythm section.

In The Know
The "In The Know" taping was held Feb. 14 at 8 p.m. Franklin Heights was defeated by Reynoldsburg by a score of 195-150. The airing of the program was Feb. 17.

The Journalists I class visited Matelle Memorial Institute last Thursday. The tour guides took the students through different research areas where they saw ceramics, artificial hearts, pollution control and pedestrian impact studies, among the many things done at the Institute.

Battelle is an institution where companies can hire research done in many fields if they don't have their own facilities.

Tech School Open House
Many of the sophomore students visited the Tech School Feb. 12. These students toured the school and then were shown, in depth, some of the different programs offered. An evening open house was also held Feb. 14 for anyone interested in visiting the school.

Student Council

Garry Wiens formed a committee to find out the situation behind high food prices. This committee went to the school authorities in Grove City to ask if there were any possibility for these prices to be lowered. The answer they received was no. They also checked out the suggestions for open lunches. These were turned down, but with a chance that some time in the future open lunches may be permitted.

Wrestling
Franklin Heights hosted Central Feb. 9. The Golden Falcons won with the final score of 64-6. The Falcons had pins by David Joyce, Tony Dingess, Randy Dingess, Tim Hammond, Jeff Spang and Greg Sturgeon. Rick Ransburgh won by decision of 10-2. The following wrestlers won by forfeit: Doug Grant, Tim Baugess, Doug Schwandt and Dan Church.

Freshman Basketball
The Franklin Heights freshmen basketball team closed out their season last week.

Feb. 11 the Falcons hosted Marysville and were defeated by a score of 42-30. Phil Redding was high scorer for the Falcons with 13 points.

The Falcons hosted Dublin Feb. 12 and defeated the Shamrocks by a score of 33-28. High scorers were Jerry Ferst, eight points; Paul Phillips, eight points; and Pat Hoffman with four points.

Feb. 14 the Falcons finished their season by playing Grandview and were defeated by a score of 62-40. High scorers for the Falcons were Phil Redding with 13 points and Paul Thompson with 13 points.

Crucial Corner

There are approximately 19 million persons 65 years of age and older in the United States. In 1970 there in the late adult years comprised 9.5 per cent of the population, and as a result of increased longevity and decreased birth rate, the percentage of individuals to this age group is steadily increasing. Because of its numbers this age group has become increasingly visible and much interest has focused upon the process of aging and the various issues confronting the person in the late adult years.

Like Hippocrates, who said that aging was similar to an illness, many think that aging is synonymous with disability, memory loss, confusion and inability to learn. Some have tended to perpetuate these and other negative connotations associated with aging by limiting their perspectives to the losses incurred through the process of aging.

From a biological viewpoint, it can not be denied that at about 20 to 30 years of age physical loss is accelerated. However, through broadening their perspectives of aging to include the psychological and sociological components, some individuals interested in aging have seen the potential for growth and development throughout the late adult years. Recent research has demonstrated that disability, memory loss, confusion and inability to learn are not inherent in the process of aging.

We at Southwest Community Mental Health Center view aging as a process of change which begins at conception and continues up to and including death. These changes occur at three levels: biological, psychological and social.

While these changes at the biological level are primarily ones of loss, these changes occurring at the psychological and social levels can be ones of further growth and development. Because of his unique experiences throughout life, we see the individual in the late adult years as someone who has much to offer in terms of skills and knowledge. Many of the issues confronting these in the late adult years are not "problems of aging" per se, but are associated with aging in a youth-oriented culture.

Since these in the late adult years are most sensitive to the issues affecting them and the quality of their lives, we at SWCMHC are inviting individuals in this age group to work with us to (1) determine the needs of community residents in the late adult years, (2) determine the community resources which are already available to meet these needs, (3) facilitate use of present resources and/or develop potential community resources and (4) evaluate whether needs are being met as a result of this.

If you are interested in working with us please contact Southwest Community Mental Health Center, 224-4024.

West Wins Freedom Foundation Award

WEST COLUMBUS—Freedom Foundation's Silver Anniversary National Awards Jury has completed its task of selecting persons and organizations to be recognized in the 26th annual national and school awards program. The West High School Band under music director, Brian Bonner, involved parents from the Band-Orchestra-Wedgets Association (BOW), the Civil War Detachment from OSU, the Marine Corps Reserve Unit in a patriotic musical "Symbols of Freedom." The show was performed at the fall time at the Homecoming game, Sept. 28, 1973. They received the George Washington Honor Medal in the School Category. Awards were announced by the Freedom Foundation on George Washington's official birthday, Feb. 22. West is the first school band in this area to receive this award. Columbus area awards will be presented at a noon luncheon, Friday, March 22, at the Defense Construction Supply Center under the auspices of the Armed Forces Community Relations Council. Award recipients were selected by an independent National Awards Jury that convened, Nov. 28-Dec. 1, 1973, at the Freedom Foundation's national headquarters at Valley Forge. The panel consisted of 13 state supreme court justices and 23 national representatives of civic, educational, patriotic and veteran organizations. Dr. Porter L. Fortune, chancellor of the University of Mississippi, was jury chairman.

West Orchestra Receives Superior

West Columbus—The West High Orchestra participated in the District State Orchestra competition at Springfield North High School Saturday, Feb. 16.

Six Columbus high school orchestras competed. West was one of three to receive a superior rating.

There were 34 members under the direction of Brian Bonner.

The orchestra selected two numbers from a required list of music for each class and a third number of their own choosing. Then each orchestra played a sightreading number they had never seen before.

Final rating was determined on a point system by adding together the ratings of four judges.

The required numbers were "The March from Scipio," a Handel arrangement by Woodhouse; "Finale from Symphony No. 3" by Beethoven, arrangement by Woodhouse. The selected number was the "Concerto Grosso in D Major" by Vivaldi, arranged by Matesky.

To Serve Hilltop Community Health Center Contract Signed

By KATHY DEVANEY

West Columbus—The contract to begin establishing a community health center to serve the Hilltop area has been signed between the City of Columbus Health Department and the Association of Physicians and Dentists.

The Association will provide the medical services. The Health Department will administer $190,000 in revenue sharing funds and provide two public health nurses. All equipment purchased with revenue sharing money becomes the property of the city, according to William Myers, health planner for the Health Department.

Initially two physicians for 40 hours per week will be used at the Center, 2504 Sullivan Ave. They will work at the same time so that a patient won't be seeing a different doctor at each visit. The doctor and patient can establish rapport.

Myers hopes the other staff members will come from the community including an outreach worker, receptionist and clerical help.

THE COST OF services will be determined on a sliding fee scale based on the size and income of the family.

According to Myers the health centers are associated with local organizations, like a settlement house, for identification purposes and also because of the availability of other services.

"We didn't have funding to build an independent health center so it had to be an adjunct to other services in the community. We add the health component to the social and recreational services provided by the settlement house."

The Health Department has been working with Roger Germany of the Hilltop Civic Council, which will locate a youth center next to the health center.

"OUR CONTACT WITH the Hilltop was with Germany and the Civic Council. He seemed like the most natural person to work with in establishing a health center on the Hilltop. He has put in a lot of time and effort for the preliminary plans," Myers said.

"Everything was proceeding smoothly until three weeks ago when the Hilltop Community Council said their organization had been left out of the planning process," Myers said.

An advisory board has been established to determine hours of operation and to evaluate the center including the quality of service, he said.

The Health Department hopes to see more community groups represented on the board.

CURRENTLY MEMBERS ARE Valerie Warren, Dick Hardy, Mary Barton, Janet Jones, Estelle Bankerville, Sister Jane Funch, Norretta Breit, Mike Bell, Rosa Foster and Linda Ebricht.

Valerie Warren is a nurse. Dick Hardy is the director of the Hilltop-Lincoln office of Southwest Community Mental Health Center. Mary Barton is also with Southwest Mental Health.

Janet Jones is a member of the Hilltop Civic Council and is a realtor. Estelle Bankerville is health director for the Columbus Urban League. Sister Jane Funch is from St. Aloysius. Norretta Breit and Mike Bell are community representatives. Rosa Foster is from Second Community Church. Linda Ebricht is from the Hilltop Church Council.

"We want the entire community involved so the center is not associated with one person or group. Community-wide support is needed. If the center is not utilized within a year, for whatever reason, we will not recommend renewing the contract and the center will be closed. People will only hurt themselves if they don't support the center," Myers said.

The Health Department didn't want a governmentally operated center so they sent out approximately 1,000 letters to physicians to ask if they wanted to get involved in the health center system or if they had suggestions to offer, Myers said.

The physicians will receive a salary. The contractors, the Association of Physicians and Dentists, will show fiscal responsibility by sending in monthly statements itemizing expenditures before they get a check, Myers said.

The first three months the group will receive a cash advance to get them started.

ANY REVENUE ABOVE expenses will be put in a trust fund and returned to the overall health structure, he said.

The Health Department is working with the Pharmaceutical Academy to set up an open prescription system so the patient can go to whatever pharmacy desired.

Hilltonia Addition Contracts To Be Bid

By SANDY SCHWARTZ

Staff Writer

Columbus—The Columbus School Board approved working drawings and specifications for remodeling and an addition to Hilltonia Junior High School at its Feb. 19 regular meeting.

This now authorizes the Development Office to proceed with the bidding process for the improvements to Hilltonia.

Plans for the west area school located at 2345 W. Mound St. call for an addition of 5,280 square feet to include a 4,500 square foot library-learning center and expanded lunchroom seating.

The proposed addition will be constructed on the east side of the two-story wing and adjacent to a one-story addition built in 1963.

ADDITIONAL REMODELING will convert the present library into a regular classroom and two small-group instructional areas. An audio-visual production area adjacent to the school's auditorium is also in the plans.

Plans for the Hilltonia project were prepared by Deeble, Boyes and Underwood, architects, 2101 S. Hamilton Rd.

And on that subject of building, the board took one more giant step forward when it unanimously voted to authorize the Development Office to proceed with Phase III of the building program.

Three new schools, additions and remodeling to 79 schools and five site acquisitions are included in this new plan.

Development of educational specifications for projects listed for construction in Phase I and Phase II of the building program is now complete. Of the 63 major construction projects in Phase I and Phase II, 12 are at the preliminary drawing stage, 18 at the working drawing stage and 29 in bidding or construction.

Also approved was the reassignment of five Columbus school administrators.

John E. Carter was appointed principal of Mohawk Junior Senior High School succeeding Theodore H. Turner who was recently promoted to assistant superintendent, teacher personnel.

RONALD G. SROUFE was appointed to the principalship of Roosevelt Junior High where Carter had been serving. Sroufe had previously been in his second year as assistant principal of Central High School.

Donald W. Taylor, previously a cadet principal at Central High School was appointed to fill the vacancy at Central. A fourth promotion was that of Norman A. Kushen from cadet principal to assistant principal of South High School.

In addition, a fifth administrator, Robert Browning, assistant principal of Sherwood Junior High School is returning to a classroom teaching assignment at his own request. Browning had served in the post at Sherwood since September, 1966, and will now be teaching mathematics at North High School.

Other board actions were routine professional, finance, civil service and personnel actions.

Brookshire To Rededicate Sanctuary

West Columbus—Brookshire United Methodist Church, 1067 S. Harris Ave., will rededicate its newly remodeled sanctuary Sunday, March 3, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Special music will be presented by the three choirs. The celebration will continue with a carry-in basket dinner at noon in the fellowship hall.

The new chancel is dominated by a large wooden cross suspended over the communion table. The table was brought by the congregation from the Giff Street Church. A new walnut communion rail was added; and the pulpit, baptismal font and clergy chairs were refinished to match. Cushioned pews and choir chairs have been installed to replace folding metal chairs. The walnut furnishings are enhanced by the multi-toned blue carpet and light pine walls.

The Brookshire congregation extends a cordial welcome to all who would like to share in this celebration.

SW Mental Health Elects Head Of Trustee Board

West Columbus—Paul Redmond, 743 S. Eureka Ave., has been elected president of the Board of Trustees of the Southwest Community Mental Health and Retardation Center. He was elected to fill the remainder of the term of office left vacant by the Reverend Robert W. Gish, formerly of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Redmond, who is secretary-treasurer of the Columbus Equipment Company, is a charter member of the Center Board and was instrumental in the Center's establishment. He served as the Board's first treasurer and then as vice president. He has also served on the Board's Planning and Evaluation Committee and the Nominating Committee.

Elected to replace Redmond as vice president is Mrs. Patricia (Gerald T.) Baynes of Mt. Sterling, Ohio. Mrs. Baynes is also a charter member of the Board.

Elected to membership are Dale Ell, 5442 Richlanne Dr., Hilliard and James O'Keefe, 1515 W. Lane Ave. Ell is a Nationwide Insurance agent and O'Keefe is an international representative of the United Auto Workers. Both men will serve three year terms on the Center Board of Trustees.

What Does She Do In Her Spare Time?

West Columbus—Mrs. Mary Etsa Kellhofer, 515 Westmoor Place, is a housewife, mother of two and a Spectator Carrier. She has had a Spectator route for the last year.

She helps her supervisor, Karin Carrier, whenever she needs a new carrier.

Mrs. Kellhofer gives many hours doing volunteer work at Valleyview Elementary School where her daughter Sue attends. She works in the office with teachers and in the library. Her son is a student at Westmoor Junior High School.

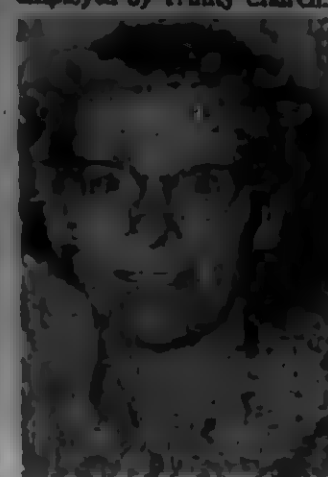

On days when the weather is bad she makes hot chocolate for the safety patrol and when students were given a free trip to the movies by the Kiwanis Club recently, she was out on crutches directing traffic in place of the patrol.

Mrs. Kellhofer is active in Glenwood United Methodist Church in the choir, as a babysitter for Bible study and when the Bloodmobile is scheduled.

She is chairman of the Big Bear coupon collection and the bake sale at the Hilltop Y. She is active with the swim team which her daughter is on.

Mrs. Kellhofer also helps with Cub Scouts and plays volleyball at Valleyview School.

Her husband, Gordon, is employed by Trinity Church.

Big Run Office Park Construction Starts

DEFFET Enterprises, 3556 Sullivant Ave., has started construction on the first phase of Big Run Office Park, a $4.1 million facility at the southeast corner of Georgesville Rd. and I-270.

John Vogel, local branch manager for CFC Capital Corp., a service of Citizens Financial Corp., said that his firm was providing construction and permanent financing for the project.

Big Run Office Park will be a four-building office complex with a total of 113,000 square feet of space. It will front on Parkview Dr., a new street connecting with Georgesville Rd.

The Office Park is part of a $50 million residential, commercial and office community known as Big Run Village which is being developed on 92 acres by Deffet. It has been called the most significant development on the west side in a decade.

Buckeye Federal Expands Services

Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association recently expanded its Home Improvement Loan Service by adding to its Besley-Eastmoor office staff, William L. Rice, a full-time specialist in this particular type of financing, and to its Great Western office staff, Fred E. Mayer, also a full-time specialist in this particular type of financing.

Rice attended Ohio University and the American Institute of Banking.

Rice will be available during office hours at the 3180

Rice

East Broad St. location to home improvement financing and expedite applications while Mayer will be available at the 120 Wilson Rd. location.

Palace Guard New By Rouda Realtors

Harley E. Rouda & Company, Realtors with seven offices in the Central Ohio area, has introduced a unique new warranty program for new and used homes that is an exclusive service for the Columbus area.

The new warranty program is called Palace Guard and is serviced by the nationally known American Homeowners Association of Milwaukee. Local skilled tradesmen, who are on call 24 hours a day, will perform all services which are required in the Columbus area.

Rouda noted "no other real estate firm in Columbus offers the Palace Guard program. Through Palace Guard, we now offer reliable 'no cost' repair for plumbing, electrical, central heating and cooling systems, hot water and duct work, and the built-in appliances including the range, oven, garbage disposal and the dishwasher. There are no deductibles and no limits of liability in the program.

"During the one-year of the contract, which may be renewed at the option of the buyer, Palace Guard will have heating and cooling systems checked, cleaned, adjusted and lubricated. These, in addition to the other major systems in the home will be repaired or replaced, if necessary, at any time during the term of the contract.

"After 18 years in the real estate business, we've found something that makes a used home young again," Rouda concluded.

Park Federal Has Directors Reelected

Park Federal Savings and Loan Association, recently held its Annual Shareholders Meeting and reelected Dr. Charles W. Harding and J.W. Henderson Jr. as directors for a three year term.

Members continuing on the board are Richard C. Addison, Jack W. Chilcote, David J. Fergus, John C. Fergus, Robert K. Levy Jr., and Frank T. Salyers. Carl F. Fergus, retired Board Chairman, is Director Emeritus.

Officers reelected by the Board of Directors are Jack W. Chilcote, President and Managing Officer, James D. MacAulay, Executive Vice President and Secretary, and Kenneth F. Rupp, Jr., Treasurer.

It was also reported that the association's total assets surpassed the $100 million mark and reached $101,350,716 as of year end. This reflects a growth of $18.8 million and a 22.8 percent increase during 1973.

As also announced that Park Federal will relocate its Northland Office in new facilities at Maize and Merion Roads in August and will open an office in Pickerington, in October.

Recent approval of a branch office at State Route 161 and Sawmill Road will bring to seven the number of office locations.

Sophomore Class

The sophomore class officers are President Renne Ruby; Vice President Jeanne Shepard; Secretary Shirley Roush; and Treasurer Linda Hicky. These people held a meeting Feb. 19.

The class made plans for two car washes, a swimming party, a picnic dance and a bake sale. The sophomore class is sponsoring a WOOL basketball game March 7 and also a roller skating party at Skateland March 26.

N.E.D.T. Testing

Forty-four college-minded freshman and sophomore students participated in the N.E.D.T. testing Feb. 20.

This test is similar to the A.C.T. test that seniors take for college. The N.E.D.T. finds the students' strengths and weaknesses before the A.C.T. so that the students may work on them before college. The student is tested in such areas as English, math, science and social studies.

The cost of the test was $1.50 per booklet. Any student getting a point average of 80 per cent or over will receive a certificate at the awards assembly.

Talent Show

The Franklin Heights High School Variety Show will be held Feb. 28 during sixth and seventh periods. A dress rehearsal was held in the auditorium Feb. 21 and personal invitations were sent to parents of the participants for this show.

Some of the acts include Mr. Maurer doing "Trouble in River City" and the "Music Man," The Salt and Pepper Gang, Kim Owen and Tim Pendergast doing Carole King's "It's Too Late," and Mr. LeBeau playing the tenor sax in The Old Man's Band.

The price of the afternoon show is $7.75 per person and the money will be put into the general school fund.

Bowling

Association bowling intramurals started Feb. 21. Hillcrest Lanes. The price is $1 for two games. Bowling begins at 3:45. Intramurals will also be held March 6 and 20. Trophies will be given out.

Varsity Basketball

Franklin Heights finished their regular season schedule Friday night against Grandview. The Falcons played a very hard game, but came up on the short end of the score, 55-55. Larry Forst was high scorer with 23 points. Ron Latham had 10 rebounds.

Wrestling

In the Metro League wrestling meet Feb. 16 Randy Dingess won the 135 pound championship. Pat McNamee was second at 122 and David Joyce, Tim Baugess and Tim Hammond finished third, while Greg Sturgeon and Dan Church placed fourth.

In the Reserve Metro League wrestling meet Mike Alallo and Rodney Baugess finished first, while Doah Grant, John Hamilton, John Vance and John Forbes placed second.

FFA Week

Last week was national FFA Week. Some of the things that the Franklin Heights FFA members did for the week were: flower arrangements, put displays in the display case, fixed up most of the bulletin boards, put up posters, cleaned up the school, painted the back board, plus many other things.

Open house for the public was held Thursday night from 7 to 8:15. Friday the FFA members washed all the windshields of the teachers cars.

In the future the FFA members plan to rejuvenate the football field, plant flower beds around the school, have a plant sale, sell lilies at Easter time and re-landscape the school next fall.

Past Presidents Honored

Forming Tenants Union

West Columbus--The tenants of Westgate Manor, a large apartment complex, between Wedgwood and Sullivan have recently established a Westgate Manor Tenant Union for the purpose of improving living conditions of the complex and keeping the tenants aware of their rights.

Westgate Manor houses several hundred families who will be faced with relocation as the complex undergoes rejuvenation.

Through future negotiations with the management, The Westgate Manor Tenant Union hopes to make relocation as convenient as possible and a one-time affair.

Book Nook

As a service to the public, some (not all) income tax forms, Federal instruction booklets and Ohio individual income tax forms, are available at the Hilltop Library.

Patrons are enjoying the display of wood carvings and unusual paintings loaned by Mrs. Eva Biddison. These may be seen in the display cabinet and around the wall.

A new supply of paper back books has just been received. There are old favorites, new mysteries, chilling science fiction and many others both fiction and non-fiction. These increasingly popular books may be checked out for 28 days.

Persons interested in meeting the ever increasing cost of living will enjoy the novel ideas presented in Duane Newcomb's, "Spare-Time Fortune Guide."

"David the King" by Gladys Schmitt is the newest novel to be added to Biblical fiction and is very interesting reading. The library provides a large supply of books for Lenten reading and reflection.

The pre-school story hour Thursdays has proved so popular that the group is now closed. Anyone interested in having a child's name added to the waiting list may do so by calling the library, 481-6510, or coming in and filling out an application.

The coffee book discussion group will meet Monday, March 4, at 2 p.m. Anyone interested is cordially urged to attend.

Burroughs Honors Teachers, President

West Columbus—The John Burroughs PTA has had a busy year and celebrated with a lot of activities at their Founders' Day program in February.

They gave the school a painting and a check for $3,000 to purchase school equipment.

They also presented three honorary life memberships in the PTA. One was given to Miss Rita Holland who has taught at the school for 27 years. She was one of the first teachers hired who did not have to have previous experience in teaching. She started under Mr. Graham teaching first grade; she now teaches kindergarten.

Miss Minnie Jones received one for her many years of teaching at John Burroughs. She had taught for 40 years in the same room and the same grade level, starting in 1932 and retiring in 1968. She is also very active in her church, the Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene.

The other life member chosen was the president of John Burroughs PTA, Mrs. Ralph Miesse. She started PTA work years ago at Fair Avenue School and Northwood School where she served on the board. Her family moved to the Hilltop in 1962 and she has been very active on the board at John Burroughs since then, holding many different offices. She also finds time to donate many hours as a Red Cross volunteer in the school's nurses office.

Her family attends the Westgate United Methodist Church where they are all active.

YW Announces Spring Program

West Columbus—Create a fabric cloche, beret or turban with matching bag in the spring sewing class with Mrs. Fran MacMinn at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2675 Valleyview Dr. This new six-week class begins the week of March 17 and offers participants an opportunity to make a soft packable hat and bag. The patterns are provided and sewing skill is necessary.

Gymnastics for school age girls is offered in an eight-week class, Mondays 4:30-5 p.m. A great way to physical fitness and aid to sports and cheerleading.

Golf, tennis, and table painting are among the spring classes offered at the Hilltop YWCA Center. Call 276-2945 for a complete schedule of activities.

Registration opens March 4 for all YWCA Centers with the spring term beginning the week of March 17.

The Adult Class program at the Griswold Building, 66 S. 4th St., includes Bishop Sewing for the beginner and the more advanced, Tuesdays 9:45-11:45 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. Mrs. Fran MacMinn, a certified bishop instructor will conduct these classes.

Beginning sewing, including the basics in sewing, pattern and fabric selection, use of the machine and sewing in class is offered Thursdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m. Painting for the beginner and the advanced student, drawing and theory, and print making will be taught by Mrs. Georgia Welch.

Learn to upholster your own furniture and save money. Janet Hampshire will conduct the class in the repair and covering of chairs and foot stools, includes fabric selection, stuffing, spring tying, Thursdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

A survey of the art movements in the 20th century will be taught by Mrs. Jacqueline Hall, art columnist for the Columbus Dispatch, German for the beginner and advanced and traveler's Spanish round out the program.

Take time in the spring to get ready for those "revealing" summer fashions. Join a YWCA Slimnastics class of beneficial conditioning exercises plus a variety of sports activities, a gymnastics class, learning the fundamentals of floor exercise, balance beam and trampoline, a special Thursday workout, including conditioning exercises and informal instructional workout in the Body Shop, or have your own exercise program individualized in the Body Shop (fitness).

There's golf and tennis classes for the beginning "swingers" and Yoga and self-defense, along with a complete schedule of swimming classes for the infant through adult at all levels of ability. Interested in competitive speed swimming or joining a city-wide synchronized swimming club? There's a place for you. All YWCA centers offer child care while mothers are participating in the program. Call the YWCA, 234-8121, for more information or a brochure of activities.

Special Fashion Showing

'IN' fashion
with Tess Stern

KASPER's soft suit in navy and white ribbed tunic, with navy blouse shirt and scarf.

TURQUOISE cotton poplin all-weather coat with matching shirt dress. Red poplin two-piece rain dress with short belted jacket and blue "big" skirt.

SLITHERING snake print clear sequined crepe evening pajama with roomy skirt and easy pants.

ELEGANT coral georgette bias tiered headscarf, evening dress with bare top and coverage.

HOW EXCITING it is to see an entire American Designer's Collection, just as it is shown to the Fashion Press in New York. You'll have this delightful experience on March 1st, when Montaldo's presents a special fashion show of Kasper for Joan Leslie designs... in their beautiful new dress salon on the second floor.

KASPER, one of my very favorites, consistently shines his pretty, wearable collections, however for this Spring and Summer he has outdone even himself. When I chatted with Kasper, after his showing in New York, he remarked, "the whole point of fashion this spring, is to simplify, un-clutter, and eliminate extravagances and excesses and get down to the beauty of clothes... silhouettes, colors, fabrics all reflect a purity that's completely contemporary... essential to spring '74."

THE FASHIONS are very feminine... with flattering necklines and skirts that move in soft fabrics from jersey to chiffon to his newest pongee and the look of tussah silk. For daytime he shows the raincoat dress, the T-shirt dress, the "oversized shirt" with drop shoulder in one and two-piece styles. His soft suits are paired down and unconstructed... with roomy jackets, tiny tank tops and fluid skirts. Another of his big looks is the all-weather, anytime coat costume in a smock silhouette... poplin in Chinese lacquer colors such as turquoise and red.

KASPER'S EVENINGS are the prettiest I've seen... at-home and dancant dresses (ahead of Paris, just 9 inches from the floor)... "lingerie" short evening dresses and flowing evening pajamas... and his romantic chiffons and georgettes in exotic prints and solids... often with bare top and "bed jacket" coverage... included is a group of special occasion gowns that can be worn far mothers of the bride or groom.

This is one collection you won't want to miss. Joan Leslie's New York fashion representative will be at Montaldo's to assist you with your selections... Informal modeling from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Although I attended Kasper's showing in New York, I'm looking forward to seeing it at Montaldo's... so irresistible, it deserves a second loving look!

Miss de Havilland Next 'Lecturer of Note'

Olivia de Havilland will be the fourth lecturer in the "Lectures of Note" Thursday, March 7, sponsored by the Women's Association of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra for the benefit of the orchestra. Her topic will be "From the City of Stars to the City of Lights" at the Ohio Theatre at 10 a.m.

Miss de Havilland will share the highlights of her career. She has won Oscars for "To Each His Own" and "The Heiress."

Among the most memorable of her screen roles are "Anthony Adverse," "Gone With the Wind," "Hold Back the Dawn" and "Charge of the Light Brigade," as well as appearances on the stage. In 1967 she was the first woman president of the Cannes Film Festival.

Since 1955 when she married Pierre Galante, executive editor of "Paris Match" she has been living in France.

Miss de Havilland's several creative interests, aside from acting include painting and writing. She recounted her experiences in France from the viewpoint of an American resident in a book of witty first-person essays, "Every Frenchman Has One," which was a major best-seller, both here and abroad in hardcover and paperback. The title, incidentally refers to the Frenchman's preoccupation with the health of his liver.

Tickets for $2.95 will be available at the Ohio Theatre box office, 489-0039.

844 Pass GED

Retroactively

From 1945

West Columbus-Columbus Superintendent Dr. John Ellis has sent a letter of congratulations to 844 people who previously had failed to qualify for a certificate of high school equivalence.

The good news conveyed in Ellis' letter is that minimum scores for passing General Education Development (GED) tests have been lowered and the 844 who had previously failed the tests are now eligible for a certificate.

Ellis said that recent action by the State Board of Education lowered the passing score from 48 to 46 and a search of the files at the school district's testing center going back to 1946 when the tests began revealed the names of several hundred people who might benefit from the change.

"WE WERE NOT under any mandate to search our files," Ellis noted, "but Ohio has held a higher standard than most other states and we felt there might have been some hardship imposed by the higher score requirement. We have no way of knowing how many of these people are still living in the Columbus area, but we received 20 calls the first day the letter went out," he added.

The GED test is used to establish eligibility for a certificate of high school equivalence to residents of the State of Ohio who are at least 19 years of age and who have not received a high school diploma. The certificate is generally accepted by college officials and by employers in lieu of a high school diploma, Ellis explained.

"Previous standards required an average of at least 48 on a battery of five tests with no single score falling below 40," the superintendent said. "The new rules call for an average score of 46 and a score of at least 35 on each of the five tests. We want to be absolutely certain that no one is denied the opportunity to receive a certificate who meets the criteria."

Questions regarding the rule changes or any other part of the testing program should be sent to the GED office, 32 Sterling St., or by telephone at 225-2867.

Crucial Corner

The Women's Life Movement has been credited with many things, some good and some not so good, but it has thrown into the open thoughts and questions many women for a long time have had about their roles in our culture but were previously hesitant to share or admit with others. One element of the Movement has been instrumental in forcing us to review the traditional concept of what it means to be a mother, with the suggestion that while 'Mother' has been the embodiment of such admirable characteristics as nurturance, protection, compassion, warmth, etc., she has also had the role of the heavy when things have gone wrong, frequently being held responsible for the problems of her children or family. The traditional view of the role of mother in the family has many beautiful components, but one thing must never be forgotten and that is that she is human along with the rest of us.

With these thoughts in mind, I would like to present and comment on what seems to me to be some common expectations about what makes a good mother. These can be called "Ten Traditional Myths about Motherhood."

Myth 1: Good mothers are born with all the necessary knowledge and right equipment—patience, even-temperament, insight into how children develop and think, etc. Aside from the matter of one's personality characteristics, a good mother learns the art of mothering. And there aren't any neat, pat ways of learning until she's on the job and carrying out her role. There are many helpful tools for preparation, such as reading literature or taking courses in parenting, but the real test comes in the doing and practice. Mistakes and misjudgments are bound to happen and a key to good mothering is learning from these rather than feeling guilty or inadequate.

Myth 2: Good mothers don't work but stay home with their children until they've grown up.

Being a good mother is not necessarily dependent on whether or not she works or stays home. Some mothers are very content and prefer to stay home with their children. Some mothers do not have the financial means to do this. For others, staying home all the time is frustrating because of a need to get out and do other things, and if they feel tied to the home and children they can become very unhappy as persons and unhappy as mothers, which can have negative impact in relating to their children. A mother's attitude and outlook on her role are perhaps much more significant than whether or not she works.

Myth 3: Good mothers are reflected by good children. How a child develops is mother's responsibility, and if he displays behavioral or emotional problems this means that mother has made gross mistakes and has been a bad mother.

A mother in many if not most cases is the most significant person in a child's life, particularly during early years, but to discount the extent to which broader situational, environmental circumstances can all interplay in a child's life is a limited perspective. Children are influenced by many factors besides the personality of their parents.

Myth 4: Good mothers don't make mistakes and are always all-loving, all-patient, all-understanding.

A good mother tries to keep these expectations in mind and certainly most mothers want and try to do their best. But mothers are human too, which means that patience, understanding and a warm, loving attitude have their limits.

Myth 5: Good mothers always sacrifice their own interests for those of their children.

Inherent in the role of mother is an element of 'giving' and often this can produce some great feelings of satisfaction. But when a mother puts herself last all of the time, when everything is done for the sake of the children, there is the implied denial that mother is an important person herself. Mothers have certain physical and emotional needs that are just as important as those of her children and one must remember this.

Myth 6: Good mothers by nature are always supportive and understanding and should never express anger with their children.

Again, mothers are human and one of the human emotions is anger. Children have a right to know that mothers are human and that at times they get angry like everybody else. Thus the important point is not to disguise or deny angry feelings when they arise, but to deal and express them constructively. This is one way how children learn to handle and understand their own feelings of anger.

Myth 7: Good mothers have model children who don't scream, get upset or throw temper tantrums.

A child may show any of these behaviors for any number of different reasons. It may be because mother hasn't been sufficiently attentive or responsive to her child's emotional or physical needs, but there may be other reasons also and it's important to explore the possible reasons with the child rather than assume that mother has done something wrong.

Myth 8: Good mothers never spank their children.

Spanking can be an appropriate and useful tool for some children for certain behaviors. Indeed it can create all kinds of negative outcomes, particularly if spanking becomes the primary way of disciplining or becomes the way in which mother expresses her own temper tantrums. The important point then is not necessarily to eliminate spanking completely, but how and when to use it.

Myth 9: Good mothers never say 'no' to their children.

Children first learn what is appropriate or inappropriate behavior by the guidelines, models and rules set for them by parents, and sometimes this means saying 'no' to a request or a demand. Because judging and anticipating the consequences of their behavior is something that children learn, it is important that parents be consistent in enforcing rules and provide the children with the reasons for the rules.

Myth 10: Good mothers never feel that their children are sometimes burdens for them or never admit thinking that just maybe things might be different (or even better) if it weren't for the children.

The important issue is not that such feelings may or may not exist periodically, but rather how these feelings are expressed. It is one thing to yell at the children in a fit of temper and disappointment with saying, "If it weren't for you I wouldn't have this problem," and quite another to simply admit that when matters get really tough and irritating that these feelings can be quite normal and they don't necessarily mean that one is doomed to the realm of poor mothering.

AAUW Hosts Card Party, Style Show

Columbus-The Columbus Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) will sponsor its annual card party and style show Saturday, March 9, at 12:30 p.m. in the Upper Arlington Municipal Services Center.

Proceeds will go to the AAUW Educational Foundation which administers the Centennial Fund endowment project and the fellowships program—the oldest and largest non-university source of financial aid for women at the graduate level.

Established in 1888, the Foundation currently supports 102 American fellows and 69 scholars from 33 countries. Locally, Miss Rosemary Roberts, a fourth-year medical student at The Ohio State University, is a recipient of an AAUW fellowship.

Fashions from Madison's, Inc. will be shown and dessert will be provided by the Branch Fellowship Committee.

Mrs. E. Gardner Jacobs is general chairwoman and her committee includes Mrs. H.R. Gilkerson, Miss Margaret Kropp, Miss Evelyn Buechner and Miss Helen Sartin.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Lawrence Flanagan, 497-0587.

Girl Scouts Launch Balloons

West Columbus—Approximately 400 Girl Scouts were on hand to release helium-filled balloons at Westland Shopping Center Saturday, Feb. 23, in honor of "Thinking Day." Thinking Day is observed each year by Girl Scouts and Guides all over the world in honor of the birthdays of the founder of Scouting and the World Chief Guide, Lord and Lady Baden-Powell. The emphasis is on the worldwide bond forged by the millions of girls who are Girl Scouts or Girl Guides. Similar "balloons in flight" took place in other parts of the Council at the same time. Each balloon contained a postcard with the name of the sender and asking whoever finds the spent balloon to return the postcard with the location it was found. Last year cards were returned from all over southern Ohio and a number from West Virginia where the balloons landed several days later.

Firefighters Graduate Cashier Training

Columbus—An informal graduation ceremony was held Friday, Feb. 15, at 10 a.m. at the Training Academy auditorium for eight recruit firefighters.

The swearing in ceremony was conducted by Assistant Safety Director Charles B. Wenner with Fire Chief Raymond R. Fadley and Executive Officer Donald E. Werner Jr. assisting with the ceremony and the presentation of the Certificates of Achievement and badges.

The program climaxed 10 weeks of intensive training which included 28 subjects as required by the State of Ohio. Graduates from this area

Donald C. Sherrod, 234 N. Eureka Ave.; Michael

Synder, 200 S. Richardson Ave.; and Robert E. Sowers Sr., 61 Valerie Ave., Grove City.

St. Agnes Grade Has Mini-Course Day

West Columbus—Grade eight at St. Agnes School had a new experience this past week.

Under the direction of their teacher, Miss Regina Courey, they had a mini-course day. The 31 students chose one subject from the five that were offered—automotives, typing, sewing, karate and cosmetology.

At the close of the courses instructors and students enjoyed luncheon together.

To Be Offered

Columbus—The Columbus Public Schools, Department of Adult Education, will offer an 80-hour cashier training program for adults 17 years of age or older and not enrolled in a regular school.

The class will be conducted at South High School, 1100 Ann St., beginning March 11. Classes will be held five days per week—Monday through Friday, from 12:30-4:30 p.m.

The class content consists of extensive drills on modern and fully equipped cash registers, as well as mechanics of the cash register.

Information concerning registration may be obtained by calling the Department of Adult Education, 225-2840.

MARRIOTT INN General Manager Theo Wright, on the right, hosted a welcoming dinner recently for Cheryl Ann Yourkitch, Miss Ohio 1974, and Bob Farrell, President of the Farrell's Division of the Marriott Corporation, to mark the opening of the new Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor at Graceland Shopping Center. The dinner and the decorum of the Inn's Showboat Landing Restaurant known for its fine food and atmosphere was happily disrupted by bells, drums, drama, and kazoo as a group of Farrell's Funnies paraded in dessert - a gigantic twenty-pound "Zoo" Sundae.

Let's All Have A Rendezvous

I HAD a ball the other night at the Rendezvous Room listening to the Dick Wolford Show. This is a country and western group that is one of the best to come down the pike in many a moon. I say this, because this outfit is not like so many of the C & W groups that play the local pubs. Dick Wolford and his boys are a bunch of talented musicians who are professionals all the way. For example, Dick and his group is at the Rendezvous Room only on Friday and Saturday nights. When you read this review, Dick will be doing some one nighters in Colorado, then fly back to Columbus for the show at the Rendezvous Room.

BESIDES being a country and western group, they handle all types of music. Wait until you hear the version of, "Froud Mary," a contemporary song. One of the best renditions I've heard in a long time.

Besides Dick Wolford, other members are Gene Rusch at the steel guitar, Doug Falella playing lead guitar, Danny Friedman with the electric bass and Jessie Stewart, drums. All are top-notch in my book.

The musicians play as a unit. No one is fighting another, musically speaking. The sounds produced by these four men are full of happiness. They certainly sound like more than four instruments on stage. The instrumental work is pretty. As I have said in other columns, I am not a great lover of country and western music only because most of it is so botched up. This is one outfit I could sit and listen to the entire evening and enjoy every moment.

SO FAR, I have only told you about the boys in the band. As the old saying goes, "You ain't heard nothing yet," until Dick Wolford begins to perform. He takes a tune and squeezes everything out of it. Dick takes a song and really delivers the words and music to your ears with uncanny feeling.

What a voice Dick has for this delivery. Clear as a cold winters night and just as crisp. His voice is big with full tones which he always has in absolute control. You don't have to be a C & W fan to enjoy the singing of Dick Wolford.

Something else you will enjoy, too, is the Rendezvous Room, itself. I think you'll like the pretty decor of the place. It is one of the nicest rooms in the city. During the week there is always plenty going on at the Rendezvous Room. They have a real live singing bartender, who accompanies himself on guitar while not mixing up your favorite drinks. I love his very intimate style. The food is also good at the Rendezvous Room. They have a large menu for both lunch and dinner.

But, all in all, Friday and Saturday nights are biggest, thanks to the Dick Wolford Show. By the way, the dance floor is packed, because when not presenting a show, Dick and the boys play lots of good dance music. Remember The Rendezvous Room as a place to go for lots of good entertainment, fun and food.

They Sing Up A Storm

APPROACHING Storm is the current entertainment offering at the Ramada Inn-South. This group does remind me of an approaching storm, with all of its vibrant, thunderous music. This quintet has it all pretty much together.

Mike Rice, the leader, is the featured vocalist with the outfit. Besides singing up a storm, Mike plays trumpet and fugehorn. This young fellow is truly a multi-talented individual.

Another mighty man is keyboard master, Rod Lehr. Handling the organ and electric piano with plenty of gusto, Rod contributes a lot of talent and musicianship to the quintet. Larry Burnett is another dark cloud in the Approaching Storm. His abilities with the sax, flute, guitar and vocals adds more dynamics.

and Lynne Schneider handling bass both turn in strong performances. They are solid musicians.

Approaching Storm is a fun group. Presenting a tight, well-paced show with variety is their basic forte. I particularly enjoyed their vocal harmonies. Close and melodious is the best way to describe them. Approaching Storm, as you may guess from the name, is a rather strong contemporary quintet. Yet they keep volume and music sensible. They don't go out into left field, except on some of the instrumental solos, which are done quite well.

So, if you are looking for a swinging group playing and singing music with today's sound that's fine for listening or dancing, then I strongly recommend the Approaching Storm quintet at the Ramada Inn-South. This is the finale week. Make a date with the Approaching Storm. No rain gear needed.

Mannhole Is Groovy Place

STOPPED in at the Mannhole the other evening. Heard some nice, pretty music, played softly so that one could sit and talk with ease as well as do some nice romantic dancing. The Chet Grabel Trio, playing with Boots Carr, at the organ, Chet on tenor sax and the owner of the club, Danny Mana, at the drums and serving up some nice vocal renditions. This group is at Danny's Mannhole, Wednesday and Thursday.

Things swing a little more on weekends with the Counter Revolution on stage. Here you'll find Ralph Craven handling the organ stylings, a fine trumpet player, Bobby Search, who also plays the devil out of the flugelhorn and Jack Barger at the drums. Of course, Danny can't resist getting up and singing a few tunes. And, this columnist as well as a host of others, are glad that Danny is still entertaining, even though he has become a club owner. Danny has an exciting voice and is certainly a very strong stylist.

Sunday nights, you'll find action at the Mannhole, also. This is Country and Western Jamboree Night. Many of the C & W performers Around Town "sit in," which has proven to be very popular at the Mannhole.

So, remember Danny's Mannhole. Give it a try. The atmosphere is not a rip roaring deal. It is a nice, quiet spot, offering good, pretty music. To me, it is one of the most enjoyable places to go in town. This is especially true, if you have that special someone with you, and you want a place with conversation and entertainment combined. They are hard to find. By the way, there is no manhole cover, just open the door and walk right in. Danny's Mannhole is the classiest manhole in Columbus.

Sveden House Has Variety

HERE'S a pleasant way to feed your family or yourself economically, while dining in warm, attractive surroundings. Plan on eating at one of the two Sveden House Smorgasbord Restaurants. One is located at 4056 W. Broad St., near Westland Shopping Center, and the other is at 1345 Morse Rd., near the Northland Shopping Mall.

Entering either of the Sveden Houses in Columbus, you are greeted to all the hand carved roast beef and golden fried chicken you and your family can eat, with entrees such as baked whole salmon, barbecued ribs and many more too numerous to mention. There is always a large selection of steaming hot soups, like hearty French onion or creamy clam chowder.

THERE IS also a delectable selection of 15 cold dishes and tasty relishes, including herring in cream sauce, garden salad with a varied choice of dressings, jello molds and more.

February 27, 1974 The Buckeye

Of course there is a yummy choice of vegetables and a host of other side dishes. Even four different kinds of delicious fritters are available.

Now here is the best part of all, all of this, with as many helpings as you want for only $2.99 for adults and 99 cents for children six through 12. It's free to toddlers five and under. Now, that's what I call a bargain today.

And, like I said, The Sveden House encourages excess. Make as many trips to the table as you want.

The Scandinavian smorgasbord tradition is carried out at the Sveden House. Most of the ingredients used in the preparation of the restaurants tasty food are fresh. Sveden does not compromise for the sake of quality. Besides carrying on the Scandinavian tradition, Sveden House has modernized the smorgasbord with good ole American know-how. Instead of one table crowded with both hot and cold dishes, Sveden House has added gracious friendly dining to the smorgasbord concept by having two heavily laden tables, one holding chilled appetizers and salads, the other steaming main courses and side dishes. Hence, no more standing in long lines.

By the way, the two Sveden Houses also serve a fantastic smorgasbord lunch for only $1.99. Take my advice, and head to one of the Sveden House restaurants. You golden diggers get a special free coupon, too. No, young or old, rich or poor, dine like royalty at the Sveden House.

Around Town

Hey Columbus, here's something you won't want to miss. The Holiday Greece Special at the Imperial House-North. The most famous Greek entertainers will be performing Sunday, March 3 and Friday, March 8. This promises to be a great affair and a unique. Take my advice, make your reservations now. One low price includes dinner and show. Call now at Billy Brown, that great entertainer, has been held over again at Lincoln Lodge. I told you last week, that this was his last week. But, general manager Chuck Anderson, knowing a good thing, has held over Billy for three more weeks... For the best Italian food Around Town, be sure to visit Petty's Restaurant. Their food is out of this world... Donnie Beck and his trio opens at The Composite this week. Scratch has held over Terry Foster, who I can consider to be one of the best male singers in the business.

Remember, Times are Changing. You are Changing and, WE ARE CHANGING. See You Around Town.

West vs Newark

THE HIGHEST jumper got this ball in a rebound play and that was West's Warren Lewis (34) as he got by a backward falling Roger Payne (53) of Newark for a vital grab in the close game won by West.

West vs Newark

YOU CAN'T tell who the players are unless you know them, but this action warranted space to show how West took the

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer
West will face Gahanna at 6:30 tonight and Whitehall and Worthington will follow that act at 8:00 with the winners gaining a berth in the AAA district semi-finals Friday night.

IN TOMORROW night's lower bracket sectional final tournament roundball matchups it'll be East and Reynoldsburg at 6:30 with Eastmoor and surprising Westerville tangling at 8:00.

And for a ticket into those district finals to be held March 9, the West-Gahanna survivor will meet Franklin Heights next Monday while the Whitehall Worthington winner challenges the second seeded Mt. Vernon-Whetstone winner Friday at 6:30.

In the lower bracket the East-Reynoldsburg winner faces Brookhaven while the Eastmoor Westerville victor faces top seeded City League king Northland, these two games Saturday.

measured Newark by its hustle. Newark ended up with this ball. (West vs Newark photos by Craig Weaver.)

WELL, THERE'S the Central District cast and although it seems real simple to label its wow, what difficult routes these daring quintets took in gaining these finalist pairings.

Capsuling AAA tourney action thus far: Wes Redd poured in 20 points in leading West to its slim three-point win over seeded Newark while Warren Lewis helped with 17.

Whitehall had to overcome a Marion Franklin charge with Bill Besalski and Terry Burris supplying the spark, while Worthington was playing a bit of rag tag game according to Coach Pat Manion in its win over North.

Reynoldsburg win over Grove City.

AND IN A tourney clash that will go down as one of the most exciting and one with a tremendous individual performance Eastmoor decided Walnut Ridge 70-68 behind the superlative effort of wonder Warrior Brian Stertzer.

Stertzer was faultless in the fourth period that saw the Warriors overcome an 11 point Ridge lead and also had clever Brian score 11 straight Warrior tallies and 20 points in all in that stanza, 30, the individual tourney high for the game, 20 of 22 from the charity stripe included.

IN AA ACTION first round victors Hamilton Township and strong coming Hartley will tangle Friday at Grove City at 8:00 p.m. for sectional honors while Grandview and Ready will do the same at Westland.

West vs Newark

IT WAS NIP and tuck all the way in the game won by West and one of the nipper-and-tucker was West's Tim Thrush (42) who constantly harassed Newark to edge the Central Ohio League team. That's Newark's Chuck Noble battling Thrush for the ball.

St. Charles opens up its A tourney quest with an 8:00 p.m. scrap with Jonathan Alder Friday at Groveport. And in another tournament surprise Franklin Heights posted an impressive pair of firsts, one being 61-50 upset of third seeded Central Monday, and the other its own Larry Ferst whose 31 points spearheaded the win.

Whetstone vs Westland

REBOUNDING was the strength that enabled Whetstone to take the measure of Westland's Cougars and here's a sample. That's the Braves' Doug Thorley (13) getting this one from Westland's Greg Spellman (12) as Don Stone (56) and Fred Zagaro (33) spot the action.

Westland vs Whetstone

A DETERMINED WHETSTONE Brave five proved too much for Westland's Cougars and eliminated the OCC team from the Class AAA tourney last week. Whetstone's Kurt Carlson (48) matched this rebound away from the Cougar's Don Stone (56) while Whetstone's Jim Chickarella (22) waited for the ball. (Whetstone-Westland photos by Craig Weaver.)

Cards-Rams Go At It Friday

By BRUCE REYNOLDS

CONTINUING their season-long tradition of playing at the level of their competition, the Worthington Cardinals narrowly prevented Columbus North from snapping a 17-game losing streak with a 54-51 win Thursday, Feb. 21, to open the Central District tournament.

The Cards meet league rival Whitehall Feb. 27 for a berth in the district semi-finals.

Worthington was forced to come from behind in the final quarter to keep their tournament hopes alive. North, however, nearly escaped with a victory in the final seconds as Whitehall, Grove City and Reynoldsburg had done already this season.

LEADING SCORER Don Brough saw limited action but still led the Cardinal scoring with 12 points. He didn't start due to a recent case of the flu, but entered the game late in the opening quarter.

Later, adding injury to illness, he suffered a severe ankle bruise and left the game.

North came into the contest with a poor record, but came from the City League where outcrumbled the Cards for rebounds in the first half, and their tenacious press caused many turnovers.

The smaller Bears took a 36-29 lead by halftime, and still held a 44-41 advantage going into the final eight minutes.

Cardinals Mark Kline and Ken Jones then started to hit, and the Cards finally took the lead, 51 to 50 with 2:30 remaining.

A TIM CRANDALL free throw made it a two-point margin and for the next two minutes the teams exchanged missed opportunities.

Doug Burkhardt was fouled with six seconds to play, giving him a chance to clinch the victory.

Coach Pat Manion pulled his other four players to the opposite end of the court to prevent the fast break and avoid fouls.

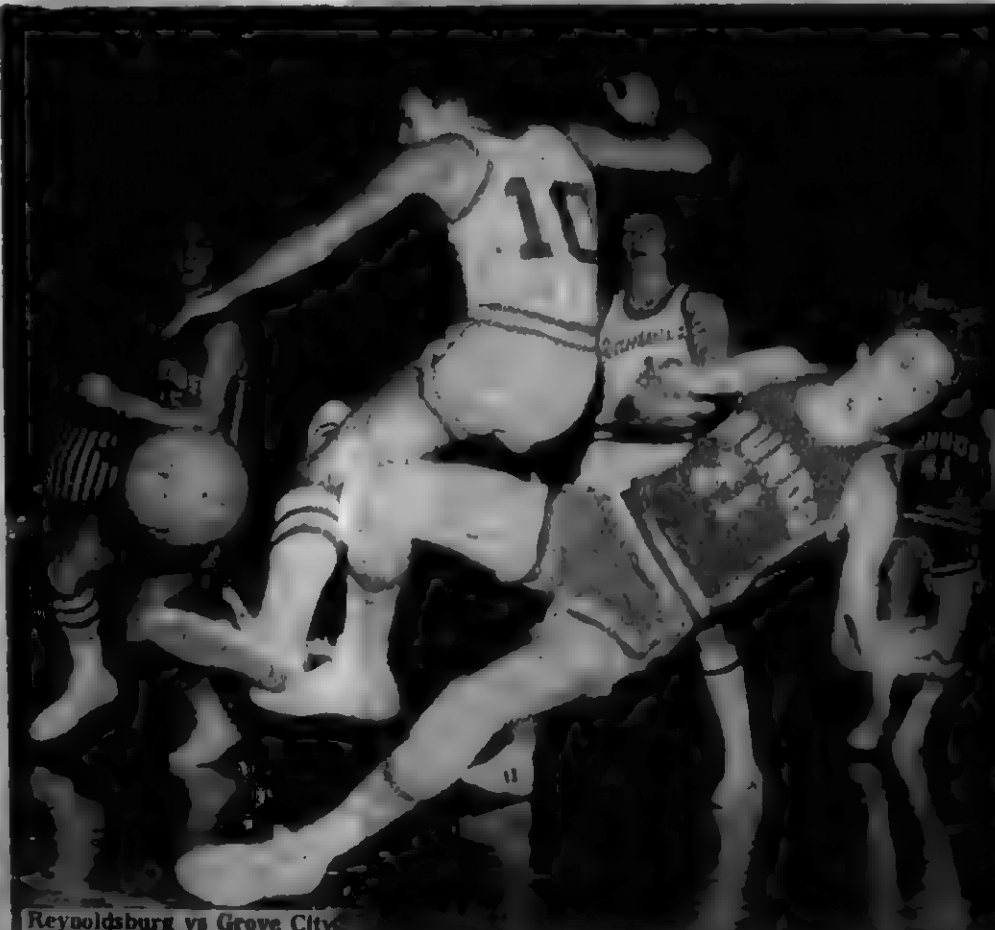

Burkhardt missed the free throw, and committed a foul in the process.

POLAR BEAR center Lyndon Christman now had his big chance. He made his first free throw to pull the score to 52 to 51, then missed the second shot that would have sent the game into overtime.

Jones grabbed the rebound, was fouled, and made two free throws with a second remaining. He finished with 11 points.

At that point, it appeared that the three-point margin would be safe. The final North shot was futile and the buzzer sounded, giving the Cards a shaky win.

A victory over Whitehall puts the Cards into the district finals Friday night against Mt. Vernon or Whetstone. A loss ends the season at 12-4.

Reynoldsburg vs Grove City

YOU COULDN'T get much finer camera action if you posed the players. That's Grove City's Craig Nibert (23) about to hit the deck while Dave Anderson (41) and Steve Funk (45) are in the photo. Using the action to Reynoldsburg's Steve Wolford (10) while Halder Tony Myers (12) coming in to play. (Reynoldsburg-Grove City photos by Ed Kierman.)

Music Festival Will Be International

Songs from around the world will carry out the "Music International" theme of the 13th annual Music Festival, beginning at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 3, at the Ohio Theater.

Seven choruses and instrumental groups from industries in the Columbus Industrial Recreation Association (CIRA) will offer songs from throughout the world.

Companies represented on the program are Rockwell International, Columbia Gas of Ohio, Battelle Memorial Institute, Nationwide Insurance, Western Electric, and Defense Construction Supply Center.

Guest conductor for the evening will be Avon Gillespie, assistant professor of music education at Capital University.

Admission is free.

Open Gym Basketball Scheduled

An open gym basketball program for area high school boys is being offered by the Suburban East Branch YMCA and Brookwood Presbyterian Church at the church gym, 3885 East Livingston Ave.

Boys may play basketball indoors weekday evenings from 4 to 6 p.m. Senior high students play on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Junior high students play on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Membership in the program is required. For further information contact the Suburban East YMCA, 224-1155.

St. Joseph Alumni Has Mass

The Alumnae Association of St. Joseph Academy will hold a general meeting March 16.

The meeting will begin with a Mass at St. Joseph Academy, 331 E. Rich Street, at noon, commemorating deceased Alumnae members. It will be followed by a luncheon.

Alumnae members interested in securing luncheon reservations should contact Mrs. Dan Johnson, 4323 Glenmawr, Columbus, or call Mrs. Johnson, 282-8830.

Reservation deadline for luncheon is March 12.

Delta Theta Will Have 'Food Of India'

Ohio Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi Sorority will hold its next social in the home of Mrs. Pauline Huntzinger, 3137 Westerville Rd. at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 28.

Mrs. Huntzinger and Mrs. Margaret Eberhard will be hostesses for a "special taste of India" evening. Two guests, Mrs. Bly and Mrs. Trichley natives of India, will entertain the sorority with slides of India and model authentic India dress.

The hostesses will serve a typical "food of India" dinner to complement the program.

At The Parks This Week

Blendon Woods - The sugar bush will continue operating through Sunday, March 10.

Methods of collecting sap and boiling it down to maple syrup (from those used in the recent past to those used by Indians hundreds of years ago) will be demonstrated. Various types of equipment will be on display. Genuine Ohio maple syrup will be on sale.

Kidney Walk Chairman Is Named

Mrs. Harold Enerson has been named honorary chairman of the 1974 Kidney Walk, which is scheduled March 1-10.

Mrs. Enerson will participate in various campaign activities to focus attention on the need for funds for research, transplants and trained personnel.

Kidney Foundation is a voluntary health agency dedicated to the prevention and cure of kidney disease. During Kay-Days, an anticipated 5,000 workers will be calling on local residents to accept contributions. Franklin County's goal is $1,000,000.

Hours are noon to 5 p.m. weekends March 2-3 and 9-10 in the Shadblow picnic area. An owl walk will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 9 from the Visitor Center. Following an introductory program the group will walk the trails using recordings to attempt to make the owl answer.

Both barred and screech owls have been seen recently at Blendon Woods.

Blacklick Woods - The National Geographic Society's special film "Journey to the High Arctic" will be shown in Beech-Maple Lodge Sunday, March 3 at 2 p.m.

My Neighbors

"Anybody who tells you he never made a mistake is probably relying on a mighty poor memory—his or yours."

School Seeks Enrollees

The Metropolitan School of Columbus, an independent, accredited, alternative school for boys and girls aged 5 through 12, at 1455 West Fifth Ave. is accepting applications for admission for the 1974-75 school year.

The program emphasizes individualized and personalized instruction with integrated learning activities.

Tuition for the school is $800 per year, with tuition assistance available based on family income.

For further information call 481-8174.

VFW Spring Meeting Set For March 3

Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary will hold its spring meeting at Chief Tarbo Post 1380 Lancaster, March 3.

Sessions will begin at 10 a.m. with memorial services before the sessions.

March 2 there will be dancing at Post starting at 9 p.m. and also advanced registration will be held.

Benson W. Hough, Aux. VFW 3424 will hold its regular meeting at 607 South High Street, March 8 at 8 p.m.

Workshop At Ohio Dominican

A reference workshop for volunteers, teachers, librarians and students will open Wednesday, March 6 at the Ohio Dominican College, 1218 Sunbury Rd., Columbus.

Sessions from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. will be held each Wednesday through March 27, in the ODC Library.

Floyd Dickman, reference librarian of Worthington Public Library, and Miss Margaret G. Fielders, ODC Director of the Workshop, will be instructors.

The program is offered at nominal cost for college credit or non-credit by the Ohio Dominican Division of Continuing Education.

Subject matter will include an introduction to such reference books as general encyclopedias, year-books and almanacs, as well as special encyclopedias and various indexes; tips on using general reference tools in basic subject areas like English, Social Sciences, Fine Arts and others, and an examination of biographical aids available in most public libraries.

To register for the workshop, write Continuing Education at Ohio Dominican, or phone, 283-2741.

ABOUT BARCLAY SQUARE
Barclay Square has many well-planned and well built apartments and townhouses.
They really are quiet. And completely equipped. Air-conditioning. 1 1/2 baths. A very attractive combination of carpeting and hardwood floors.
Even a clothes chute all the way to the full basement that already has a washer and dryer hook-up.
The kitchen is complete with a double door refrigerator, large exhaust hood, dishwasher and disposal.
Of course there is a patio and well maintained grounds. A truly new pool and deck. And a real recreation building with sauna, whirlpool, tennis courts and party lounge.
And whether you want a 1 bedroom apartment or two bedroom townhouse, the rent is less than you'll find almost anywhere else. $145.00 to $160.00.
Barclay Square is located on Gould Rd. just north of Broad St. Office is open 11-5 weekdays and 12-5 weekends. Or call 274-2763 for information or an appointment.

Pointers For Parents Lectures Scheduled

The Children's Mental Health Center Sustaining Board is sponsoring a two part lecture series for parents. The series will feature two nationally recognized authorities in the field of child development. The first lecture Feb. 28, will be given by Dr. Herbert Rie, Head, Section on Child Development and Psychology at Children's Hospital and a professor in the Department of Pediatrics and Psychology at Ohio State University. His topic is entitled "Society and Childhood Problems." The second session March 14, will be presented by Dr. Charles Galloway, Professor, Ohio State University College of Education. His topic will be "Non-Verbal Communication."

The series will be held at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, 700 East Broad St., Columbus, on the given dates from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased for $2.50 per session or $5 for the series. For tickets or other information, please contact Mrs. James Hartlage, 885-5748. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Proceeds will be used to help support the Children's Mental Health Centers.

Spaghetti Dinner To Benefit PIME

Santa Prior and Paul Gidd No. 21 is giving let a 13th annual spaghetti dinner March 1, from noon to 7 p.m. at the Desert Inn.

Tickets are $1.25 for children and $2.75 for adults. In addition to polenta, a specialty of the members, the dinner will include homemade meatballs, sausage, relishes, salad, ice cream and Italian pizza.

The proceeds will benefit the Pime Seminary in Newark, where many young men are studying to work as missionaries with the under privileged people of the world.

VFW To Host

Presidents

Bill Mason, District Eleven Command and May Elizabeth Hines, District Eleven Auxiliary President, will be honored March 16 at a luncheon at the Paul S. Lawrence VFW Post, 2725 Johnston Road, Columbus. Hosts are Paula VFW #794 Whitehall, Post #473 Reynoldsburg, and the Franklin County Council Auxiliary.

Spinning Tackle

When I first began to cast artificial lures for bass, I would sneak in my father's tackle box and borrow a hunk of wood weighing about an ounce.

My father would use this hand carved wood lure plunking it into rivers while I was dunking a live nightcrawler around stumps and logs near the shoreline with a long cane pole.

I STAYED up stream from Dad because I thought the big splash his lure made hitting the water would scare all the fish away. I was wrong. He took his share of big bass with his artificial lure.

You needed a heavy plug in those days because most casting rods were too darn stiff to cast anything lighter than one half to one ounce lures.

Some of the rods were even made out of steel. After World War Two, veterans returning home started a trend using light weight fiberglass rods casting small quarter ounce lures with open face spinning reels they brought home from France.

Anglers who said, "You can't catch big fish with those tiny lures," were soon changing their tune.

IN THE early 50's importers began offering light weight rods and spinning reels on the American market and they became popular.

Even kids and the beginning fisherman can easily learn to cast lures with today's light weight spinning tackle.

WHAT KIND of line do you use on a spinning reel? The two types available are braided and monofilament.

Monofilament line casts light weight lures easier, absorbs less water, is less visible and permits longer casts. Braided line has some advantage because it spools evenly and prevents backlash.

Whichever type you use, keep the spool on closed and open face spinning reels filled to about one eighth to one sixteenth inch below the flange. If the spool is over filled, you can bet that on your first cast your line will tangle.

If underfilled the line dragging over the lip of the spool will shorten your casts. It is important to keep your spool filled to the proper level when casting artificial lures.

Tread Fishing

During the past few weeks, many anglers have reported fine catches of Rainbow trout from the Mad River. Many of these fish have been in the river for six months or longer and have become excellent fighters, as well as providing fine eating.

Cheese, worms and salmon eggs are now the most consistent producers, although spinners also produce well when properly presented. Look for trout to be concentrated under log jams, undercut banks and other obstructions providing good cover.

DON'T forget that a 74 fishing license will be required as of March 1, while the daily bag and possession limit will remain at ten trout per angler.

Fair Weather At The Academy

THE COLUMBUS ACADEMY Mother's Association is sponsoring its annual Lower School Fair Friday, March 1 from 8 to 9 p.m. at the Academy, Cherry Bottom Road, Gahanna. Dinner will be served from 6 to 7 p.m. All proceeds from the Fair are used for school projects. Some of the mothers who are primed to the "Stop, Look and Listen" theme are from - Mrs. W. Byron Ireland and Mrs. Joan Ferriol. Back are Mrs. Richard Ward, Mrs. David McClure, Mrs. Fred Luper, Mrs. Fred Golan and Mrs. David Ford.

Safety Slogan Contest Opens

THE OHIO Department of Highway Safety's ninth annual search for a winning safety slogan has opened. Acting Director Frederick A. Viarow has announced.

Top prize in the adult division of the contest is a year's lease of a luxury compact car, plus free insurance coverage, both provided by the Ohio Association of Insurance Agents, and the No. 1 Ohio license plate usually reserved for Governor John J. Gilligan. Adult winners in each of Ohio's 88 counties will receive transistor radios.

THE GOVERNOR'S Traffic Safety Committee will provide 10-speed bicycles for each of the top three winners in the under-18 age group, and awards of $5 to youth winners in each county.

The top award winner in the adult category, and the first, second and third place winners in the under-18 category, along with their immediate families, will be driven to and from their homes for presentation of their awards by the Governor. After the award presentation, they will be given a tour of the Statehouse and other state capital facilities.

"THE PURPOSE of the contest is to get people thinking about traffic safety," Viarow said. "Even those who don't enter the contest, but hear about it, are inclined to give a few minutes thought to safe driving."

Last year, Mrs. Howard Weldon of Baltimore, O., took adult honors with her slogan, "Slow Up Today, Show Up Tomorrow." Brian Walter of Utica was youth division winner with his phrase, "Buckle Up, Buckeyes."

Deadline for the contest, which is open to all Ohio residents, is April 1.

ENTRY BLANKS are available from the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, 240 Parsons Ave., Columbus, Ohio 43206; from Deputy Registrars of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles throughout the state, and from members of the Ohio Association of Insurance Agents. Contest rules are printed on the entry forms.

Parliamentary Law Workshop Planned

A "Parliamentary Law Workshop" offering six hours of accredited basic parliamentary procedure, will be held Saturday, March 2, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. at Promett's Villa, 1002 W. Fifth Ave.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. The Workshop will begin at 9 a.m. with a break for the luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

The cost of the Workshop is $15 which includes the cost of the luncheon.

The instructor will be Jo Schmidt, registered Parliamentarian and National Association of Parliamentarians approved teacher. She is also a member of both sponsoring groups.

Communication Clinic Continues At Lindbergh

Columbus-In order to provide more comprehensive services to children with communication problems in the areas of speech, hearing and language, the Speech and Hearing Department has established three clinics. The services provided by these clinics are free of charge to any student enrolled in the Columbus Public School System.

The clinics have been established as a result of several on-going research and demonstration programs in the field of speech and hearing therapy supported by the State Department of Education for the past three years.

The Speech and Language Evaluation Clinic at Lindbergh Elementary School, Room 19, 2941 Lindbergh Dr., helps children whose primary problems are in the area of speech and/or language communication. These children may have other perceptual or learning difficulties, but their primary problem is one of Communication

The Clinic has been in operation since November, 1972, and is conducted on Thursdays. The Clinic has a permanent group of 12 therapists who staff the project as well as one psychologist, Dr. Ed Matthews, from the Columbus Public School Psychology Department.

All children from elementary school age through the high school level are eligible for referral. Referral is made through the speech and hearing therapist who is assigned at the building level, or in the case where no therapist is assigned, the referral may be made to the Speech and Hearing Coordination Center at Lindbergh Elementary School, 279-5731. Referrals may be made by school personnel throughout the Columbus Public School system and these children are screened by speech and hearing therapists prior to acceptance in the Clinic.

In conjunction with this Speech and Language Evaluation Clinic, another clinic which is also housed at Lindbergh Elementary School has been conducted in which Dr. J. Bishop, an ear, nose and throat specialist from Ohio State University serves as a volunteer consultant on five one-half days of the school year. Therapists may schedule children for this clinic who are in primary need of examination for voice problems or medical problems associated with the ear, nose or throat.

One other clinic which also serves all Columbus Public School children is held at the Alexander Graham Bell School at Huy Road where children may be referred for more extensive diagnostic hearing work by a full-time clinical audiologist. These clinics have been in operation prior to 1971 and have offered more comprehensive services to children with communication

COTA Meeting Set At Columbia Heights Church

Residents are invited to a public meeting sponsored by the Westland Senior Citizens at the United Methodist Church, Sturbridge and Beacon Hill, at 7:30 p.m. March 12, Tuesday.

This meeting will be with Walter Daggett, director of marketing, and Mike Hobbs, director of research and planning for the Central Ohio Transit Authority (C.O.T.A.).

They will discuss the future of bus service from the Columbus City limits to western Franklin County.

Philip N. Reger of the West Franklin County Kiwanis Club will preside.

At the May 6, 1973 election an .8 mill levy was passed for the support of C.O.T.A. and this along with the energy crisis, which could prevent more and more problems to the traveling public, makes the senior citizens feel it is vitally important to acquaint the community with what it can expect in the way of public transportation in the near future.

Rabies Control

West Columbus-The Columbus Health Department will hold a rabies control clinic at 2510 Sullivan Ave. Friday, March 15, from 1 to 3 p.m.

This service will be for one day only. The charge for services will be: one year shot for $2 or three year shot for $6.

No appointment is necessary. Parking is available in rear of building.

Brookshire Lenten Service

West Columbus - Brookshire United Methodist Church will host the second in a series of Lenten services Sunday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m. The Reverend Steve Herbert of Hilltopia United Methodist Church will be the guest speaker.

Music will be provided by the combined choirs of the several participating churches and by the Brookshire Choir under the direction of Marilyn Maish.

Participating churches include Grove City, Grove City Trinity, Hilltop, Hilltopia, Burgess Avenue and Brookshire. Services are open to the public.

PTA Meeting

The Prairie Norton P.T.A. will have their annual potluck supper Tuesday,

A Tabloid Format Community Times First Issue Mar.13

IT'S YOUR community - and the news of YOUR community will be presented in an entirely new and sparkling format starting Wednesday, March 13.

The all-new, refreshing view of "Community Times" will be on your doorstep.

IT WILL be peered to the very changing times in which we live.

The aim of the entire staff will be to make "Community Times" your individual and complete means of communicating with your neighbors and keeping up with the changing times of your community.

We're doubling our efforts in your behalf and West Editor Kathy Devaney will be in your community exclusively in our efforts to keep on top of the news.

THE TABLOID styled Community Times will be easier to read with its compactness.

New features, new sections and an even wider coverage of community happenings will be coming your way - AND at no increase in cost to the reader.

THE LOCAL news will have an even more direct aim at the little things in life that make your community such a special place in which you want to spend your lifetime.

One thing that won't change will be your opportunity to continue sending us all the news of your household, church, civic group and other items that are the history of YOUR community.

Come to think of it - that's what we really are - the community's historical record.

IN NO OTHER manner is ALL the community history gathered in one place for you to get a day-by-day view of what's happening.

Your "Community Times" is not replacing the Spectator Newspaper that has kept you closely informed. Rather it's a continuation of the fine coverage of your community that will be coming to you starting March 13 in a new format.

And - you'll still be getting that friendly doorstep delivery from your personal carrier who is becoming quite a business expert in learning how to handle money.

There's NO INCREASE, either, in the cost of the "Community Times" and you'll still pay ONLY 50 cents a month for pages of news of YOUR community.

One thing we can't do without is you - our readers and YOU - our contributors.

Address your mail now to Kathy Devaney, West Editor, "Community Times", 3411 South Blvd., Columbus, Ohio 43204. The phone number is still 274-1154.

Medics Bring Fast, Effective Emergency Care

By KATHY DEVANEY

West Columbus-What was good enough for soldiers in battle has become a part of life here. Paramedic training has brought excellent emergency care to the home or to the scene of an accident, saving thousands of lives.

The Franklin Township Fire Department recently put a high trauma unit (HTU) into service which brings such expert emergency care to those who need it within the community.

In June 1971 the initial advanced of four training program for paramedics was begun, sponsored by the Department of Medicine, the Ohio State University College of Medicine and the Central Ohio Chapter of the Ohio Heart Association.

THE INSTRUCTORS for the course were a cardiologist, anesthetist, physiologist, pathologist, registered nurse and medical electronic specialist. In addition to the special training program, the medics have a continuing education program to review problems and introduce new concepts, according to John Bernans, squad supervisor for the township.

Because of the size of the Franklin Township Fire Department, medics and squadsmen are also trained firefighters. Although they specialize in various areas all the men have to be able to do each others jobs, he said.

The township presently has two squads and one medic in service. Nine men are trained in coronary care and 12 are trained in IV therapy and circulatory monitoring, Bernans said. Three paramedics are on the award winning squad team and three are past members, which means they have many hours of additional training, he said.

TWO PARAMEDICS and one squadman ride the HTU.

"We're cutting down on the red lights and sirens because we can stabilize the patient before getting to the hospital. We are also able to give the doctor a preliminary diagnosis so he knows what will be needed when we arrive. The patient gets 100 per cent better care under the paramedic program," Bernans said.

Both the medic and the squad run for heart attacks, overdoses, suicide, difficulty breathing, car accidents and severe trauma (industrial accident, for example), he said.

The HTU has the EKG, to monitor the heart, defibrillator to start the heart, medicine-all that's needed for life threatening situations. The squad is equipped for IV, inhalator (breathing aid equipment) and other equipment for minor injuries. Each can cancel the run of the other if it is not needed, he said.

"THE PARAMEDIC program's purpose is to extend needed immediate care to the seriously ill or critically injured patient," according to Dr. Karl Haacker of Doctors West, who is medical advisor for Franklin Township's HTU.

"We're trying to develop a system of delivering that emergency care right into the home or to the site of injury.

The paramedics are saving the lives of people who used to die from heart attacks or serious internal injuries on the way to the hospital. It's not who delivers care but that proper care be delivered quickly," he said.

"We are trying to weld into a continuous system the paramedics, nurses and hospital based physician so care is not fragmented," Haacker said.

"We are authorized to spend time in intensive care observing and discussing heart problems. There is better communication with the hospital. Because of our training we can solve problems together," Bernans said.

THE FRANKLIN Township paramedics don't just drop victims off at the hospital and forget them. They go back to see how their patient is doing, he said.

Of 166 squad runs in a month and a half 65 were high trauma runs. Industry has recognized their responsibility in helping employees. Westinghouse bought new oxygen and IV equipment and Janitrol bought new oxygen equipment.

"Industry has responded with enthusiasm to the medic program," Bernans said.

Doctors West and Franklin Township have developed a drug exchange program so that medicines used by the paramedics became part of the emergency room bill and the supplies are replaced. Medicines are rotated on the HTU to make sure they don't become outdated, he said.

Bernans has started a public relations program. Speakers are available to schools, PTAs and churches to bring township residents up to date on what the department offers and to train people in general first aid and mouth to mouth resuscitation.

The department has Squad 1 stationed at 4100 Sullivan Ave. and Squad 2 at 2193 Frank Rd. which respond to emergencies within their running limits.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP fire squad members Fred Hoop and Lt. Ronny Temple use portable power tools to pry open the door of a car involved in a serious accident so the paramedics can begin administering care. The fire squad has the tools to extract people from cars and the men are highly trained for emergency victim care. A new training session for 24-hour heavy rescue for volunteers will begin soon. The squad is sent to auto accidents, cave ins, drownings, etc.

Gas Company Replacing Line On Broad

Work is under way on a $25,000 Columbus Gas of Ohio, Inc., pipeline replacement project along West Broad Street to help assure continued natural gas service to Columbus Hilltop area customers of the gas company. It was announced recently.

Robert E. Roll, Columbus, Central District manager for the gas company said about a quarter of a mile of new steel pipeline—eight inches in diameter—is being laid along West Broad Street from Wilson Road to near Florence Avenue to replace a section of an existing pipeline that delivers natural gas to the Hilltop area.

C.J. Hughes Construction Co., Huntington, W. Va., is making the replacement for the gas company with work expected to be completed about March 15. Traffic along West Broad Street will be maintained during construction, Roll said.

Heart Volunteer Thanked

Heart Fund Chairman for this area, Mrs. Arthur Dougherty, 230 Topsfield Rd., wishes to extend her thanks and sincere appreciation to the captain and workers on this important community project.

"Deserving special praise are the Junior High MYF members of the Columbus Heights United Methodist Church for their splendid efforts. This is especially note-worthy in view of all the unpleasant headlines involving the youth of today, that we experienced such wonderful cooperation and consideration from these young people," she said.

Serving as area captain was Pastor James Wagner of Columbus Heights United Methodist Church with Mrs. W. Cassidy Jr., Miss Jan Thurston, Mrs. J.R. Shaw and Mrs. T. Salisbury.

West Hosts Vocal, Instrumental Contest

West Columbus-West High School will host the District 13 contests this Saturday, March 9.

Approximately 3,000 students are registered in competition for vocal and instrumental ratings. The contest draws students from a six-county area surrounding Franklin County, and performances will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. Approximately 75 students from West High School will be competing in all categories.

The West High School Band Orchestra Weekends Association, assisted by Vocal Music Department parents and students, will have a snack bar concession in the school snack bar from 7 a.m.-8 p.m.

Items to be sold include barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs, pizza, potato chips, pop, milk, coffee, cup cakes, candy and cookies. Proceeds will be divided between the Vocal Music Department and the B.O.W.

Persons on the Concession Committee include Virginia Wolfe, Kay Cazan, Joan Fry, Sue Edwards, Lois Rowland, Will Volkmar and Lois Neff. Mr. William Griffin, Vocal Music Director, is the local chairman of the day's activities.

The competition is held under the authority of the Ohio Music Education Association, E. Neil Davis, president, and Leslie Sui, state competition chairman, and with the approval of the Ohio State North Central Committee and the Ohio Association of Secondary School Principals.

Vocational Education Gets Its Own Hotline

GOV. JOHN J. GILLIGAN has announced the start of a comprehensive public information program to encourage youth to consider entering vocational or technical education programs.

At the core of the program, Gilligan said, is a toll-free telephone hotline for persons wanting information about vocational - technical education. The hotline number is 1-800-393-0777.

"THE HOTLINE will enable anyone to tap directly into an information clearinghouse for answers to questions about vocational-technical education programs, which Ohio schools offer such training, and an employment incentive for vocational-technical fields," Gilligan said.

The vocational-technical information (VTI) program, operated by the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development, will provide public speakers, brochures, posters, film and other information to interested parties.

Television and radio public service announcements are planned.

THE GOVERNOR said, "American education systems are not emphasizing adequately vocational or technical training. Too much emphasis is placed on pure academic programs which are four-year college or university oriented.

"If this trend continues, the rising need for skilled workers and technicians will not be met."

Gilligan noted that by 1980 the need for college graduates will have diminished while the need for skilled workers and technicians will have increased greatly.

"SEVENTY-FIVE per cent of all jobs during the next decade will require adequate preparation in vocational or technical schools. Only 20 per cent of the jobs will require a four-year college degree," he said.

ACCORDING to the governor, one of the major strengths of the state in attracting new and expanded industries is its trained labor force.

He said the state "has neglected for too long the necessary emphasis on training a skilled labor force for the future."

"Skilled technicians are an important link in the flow of ideas and theories to a finished product or service. Without trained people to put these ideas to work for the general public, the economy will suffer," Gilligan said.

FROM 1970 TO 1972, enrollment in vocational education programs funded by the Ohio Department of Education increased by 61 per cent. Enrollment in adult vocational education programs increased by 50 per cent.

During that same period enrollment in secondary vocational education increased by 76 per cent, and job training in secondary schools increased by 27 per cent.

MORE THAN $94.5 million was earmarked for vocational classes in secondary schools during the 1973-74 school year. By the 1974-75 school year, funding for vocational education will be a record $103 million—an increase of 114 per cent since 1971.

Gilligan pointed out that a vocational - technical education is available within commuting distance for nearly everyone. He encouraged everyone interested in vocational-technical education to call the toll-free telephone number or write: VTI Program, Department of Economic and Community Development, 8 E. Long St., Rm. 821, Columbus, Ohio 43215.

School Foundation Payments Made To Districts

The State Auditor's office has distributed $41,134,473.99 in School Foundation payments to Ohio's school districts for February.

The money is distributed by the county auditor to the districts within the county. Area districts received the following:

Columbus, $1,573,831.24; South-Western, $316,314.17; and Scioto Darby, $112,923.20.

Kite Sunday At Lincoln Baptist

Lincoln Village—A free kite will be given to everyone who attends Sunday School at Lincoln Baptist Church, 208 Old Village Rd., Sunday, March 10.

Kite Sunday as it is called by Pastor Daniel G. Sommer, minister of Lincoln Baptist Church, is part of the special emphasis upon Sunday School and upon Christian education during the month of March.

During this period the Lincoln Baptist Sunday school is competing in a Sunday school attendance contest with North Baptist Church. The contest runs for six weeks, February 24-March 31. The losing pastor must "eat his hat" and the losing Sunday school teachers will provide a free meal for the winning Sunday school teachers.

North Church and Lincoln Baptist are exchanging lay personnel during the contest. This plan is to increase the fellowship between the two churches and strengthen them both.

Lincoln Baptist is also conducting a School of Christian Education, during the contest, which meets each Wednesday evening. The school is directed by the Pastor and Mrs. Sommer. They are giving teacher training to the Sunday school teachers.

Future special days during the contest at Lincoln Baptist Church will include a Grandparent's Sunday March 17 and Transportation Sunday March 31.

On Grandparent Sunday the children are invited to bring their grandparents to Sunday school or to adopt grandparents for that special day. A banquet will be served to the children and their grandparents immediately following the worship service in the fellowship hall.

On Transportation Sunday the church will welcome the representative from "Transportation for Christ International." These men are former truck drivers who have dedicated their lives to sharing the gospel of Christ with the trucking industry. They will come in their special diesel rig known as a "highway chapel." They will share with the congregation what Christ is doing in the trucking industry.

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. at Lincoln Baptist Church, bus transportation is available to and from church and Sunday school. Please make reservations by calling 878-5595 or 878-6380. All are welcome.

CARE Director Lion's Guest

West Columbus—Juffith A. Johnson, Ohio-Kentucky Regional Director of CARE, the international aid and development agency, will discuss the 1974 Lions-CARE project "Schools for Kenya, Guatemala and Honduras" at the Thursday, March 7, meeting of the Hilltop Lions Club at Lincoln Lodge West, 4950 W. Broad St. at 6:30 p.m.

The Ohio Lions have been given the title of "Master Builders of Schools" because of their remarkable record of building over 45 schools in Central and South America through CARE since beginning the program in 1963.

To help raise the literacy standards of the underdeveloped countries in this region and thereby giving them the opportunity to raise their standards of living through vocational training is one of the major goals of the Lion International Relations project.

These schools range from one to four classrooms with a central kitchen and living quarters for the teacher. They are a three-way cooperative project with the host country paying the warehousing, transportation and administrative cost, in addition to providing a teacher; and the villagers doing the manual labor plus supplying whatever raw construction materials they have.

The Lions, whose officers serve on the Board of Directors of CARE, contribute building material, such as galvanized roofing and carpenter tools, school equipment, such as desks, chairs and blackboards and a school kit for each child.

Hire-A-Youth Needs Jobs

Columbus—The Youth Service Bureau of the Columbus Community Service Department is continuing to operate the Hire-A-Youth program which was established last summer to provide short term employment for youths 13 to 16 years of age. Over 1,400 jobs have been made available to youth through the program.

House cleaning, painting, babysitting, window washing, garage and basement cleaning are some of the jobs that have been done by the youth registered in the program.

Youth are available but jobs are needed. If anyone has at least three hours work of any type and needs help to get it done, Hire-A-Youth by calling 253-7406.

Golden Agers News And Notes

Nutrition, Housing, and Traveling, are made easier and cheaper for Senior Citizens in Franklin County by on-going programs sponsored by the Franklin County Council on Aging, a division of the Columbus Recreation & Parks Department. An update on the three areas follows:

NUTRITION: The hot lunch program begun in early November at three sites, now has expanded to eleven sites. Several new locations are due to be announced in the immediate future when equipment details have been ironed out.

Operated by the Community Health & Nursing Service under a contract with the Council on Aging, the meals are prepared at Bradford Commons, the Ohio State University, and delivered to the locations in insulated trucks.

Because the trucks cannot reach all the places at the same time the serving times vary from 11:30 to 12:45.

LUNCHEONS are free to all those over 60 but anyone able or willing to make a donation may pay 50 cents. Guests under 60 are charged $1.35 a meal. Funded by a federal grant through the Ohio Commission on Aging, the primary idea was to furnish the elderly with at least a part of the basic nutrition needed for daily health.

In practice, the over 600 senior citizens taking advantage of the program have already experienced all sorts of side benefits of the program: eating with other people makes the food taste better; every day there is news and gossip to exchange; if you have a problem like as not someone else has the same problem and they can tell you where to go to get help; when you eat what you should at noon, it means you can indulge yourself at night-maybe.

As a matter of fact, special diets are available for those present with physicians' orders, but as a general practice, salty and sweet foods are in short supply.

LOCATIONS and serving times are: 1100 E. Broad St. Recreation Center, 11:30 a.m.; Sawyer Towers Senior Center, 975 Caldwell Place, and Holy Family Church, 562 W. Broad St., 11:45 a.m.; Linton Gardens Senior Center, 2385 Mock Rd., Aldersgate Methodist Church, 385 Miller Ave., Polindexter Towers, 1253 Mt. Vernon Ave., and First English Lutheran Church, Main & 2nd Sts., 12 noon; St. John's Parish House, 637 S. Ohio Ave., and Union Grove Baptist Church, 206 N. Champion Ave., 12:15 p.m.; Third Ave. Methodist Church, 1066 N. High St., 12:30 p.m.; and First Congregational Church, 444 E. Broad St., 12:45 p.m.

TRAVELING: You can go and have lunch because all the locations are readily accessible by COTA bus at a time in the day when Good as Gold cards entitling Seniors to reduced fares are acceptable.

Speaking of the COTA Good as Gold cards, Seniors who reach their 65th birthday after March 1, must apply for Good as Gold cards at the central COTA Office, 10 W. Lang St. The application desks will be open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Mrs. Phyllis Costes, COTA coordinator for the program, has been spending the month of February with the mobile registration unit visiting outlying neighborhoods. She announces that these visits were discontinued March 1.

As of February 18, this worthwhile program had enrolled 23,000 Senior Citizens for Good as Gold cards. Be sure to take documents for proof of birth date when you apply.

HOUSING: Applications for Homestead exemption on your income tax are now being received at the County Auditor's Office. You are eligible for Homestead Exemption if: You are 65 years of age or older; You own your own home; and Your total income is under $10,000 (up from $8,000 last year).

EVERYONE must file annual applications for this benefit. Income to be counted includes social security, pension and aid for aged. The auditor's office reports that they have already mailed out 14,000 applications to last year's applicants. If you have not already received your application you may obtain one by calling the County Auditor's Office, 462-3240 or 462-3241. They are pleased to answer any questions you may have.

Natural Baits

WITHOUT doubt the old garden worm and the nightcrawler are by far number one on the natural bait list, but even so, don't forget the other natural baits. A good bass bait is crayfish (soft craws).

They're easy to gather at night with a flashlight and dip net along the banks of streams and rivers in shallow water. Keep them in damp moss and use as soon as possible.

TOPS on my list for smallmouth bass is the Dobson fly larva. Maybe you know it as the hellgramite. Kicking up gravel and lifting rocks in ripples of streams while a companion holds a quarter inch mesh screen or net below should give you a quick down.

Keep hellgramites in a closed container of moist leaves. Make sure you punch a few air holes in the container.

CRICKETS caught by hand under boards in fields, and grasshoppers caught in fields by hand or with a net are good panfish and trout baits. Keep them in screened boxes.

One of the most used baits in the spring of the year are minnows, you can sign them for just about every bait dealer has all you need.

WHEN I began to fish I used live bait thinking it was the only way, and really enjoyed using it, but a few years later I became interested in artificial lures and became a real enthusiast.

While I was learning to fool fish with my lures, many times conditions were unfavorable for artificials and I came home skunked.

I finally decided, why not switch back to live bait when my artificials were not working. I forgot that live bait has two advantages, natural order and taste, why not use it.

Well, it improved my luck and it was a welcome change. You know there are times when air pressure will send fish down, and the only way I can reach them is with live bait.

On other occasions when water is five or six feet above normal, you just can't reach them with artificials.

NOW MOST of the time when I head out to a new fishing spot, I'll carry a small supply of live bait, so why be stubborn and stick to any one method of fishing day in and out.

It's a lot more fun testing your skill using all the different ways there are to catch fish.

Have you ever tried casting live bait such as worms or minnows with a fly rod and have your bait fall off, or you're forced to use an extra heavy weight to be able to cast with a casting reel that has a revolving spool.

Using heavy weights to get distance will leave you with a bare hook almost every time.

YOU CAN solve this problem and save a lot of your live bait if you use spinning tackle. Your casting must be more gentle than when casting artificials, but light weight spinning rigs will let you toss that live bait out 30 to 40 feet with very little effort.

For all live bait fishing I use six to ten pound test line and seldom use any weight at all.

If necessary I will clamp B-B size weights on my line to get just enough weight to cast out to a favorite fishing hole.

Try spinning tackle when you're using live bait. It's a hard to beat combination.

Ministering To Aged Topic

By KATHY DEVANEY

The Hilltop Church Council and the Southwest Community Mental Health Center (SWCMHC) is sponsoring seminars for laymen and clergy to help them with their visitations to hospitals, nursing homes and families in crisis. The group is meeting Mondays for eight weeks at Westgate United Methodist Church.

The Rev. James Gebhart, associate director in charge of adult services for SWCMHC, spoke to the group about visiting the aged and shut-ins.

"I thought of visiting the aged as tending the roots of the church. I enjoyed being with them. They have lived in a rich fertile world and telling you about it is a great gift," he said.

"THEY SAW THE coming of the telegraph, radio, cars, television and a man on the moon. To say that's revolutionary change is an understatement," Gebhart said.

The elderly person lives with the restrictions imposed by the body. Their bodies confine them; they feel enslaved by what was once their servant. It has become a source of pain, he said.

"They had the image of themselves as independent. They become more dependent and resent that. The world speeds by. Their values and morals have been disrupted so they feel confused," he said.

"It's a fact that blood vessels deteriorate so they may fish for a long time for a memory or sentence. Give them time to do it. We try to keep our thoughts flowing in some sort of order. The aging person may change thoughts in mid-sentence. Don't draw attention to that fact, it will only make them uncomfortable."

able," Gebhart said.

HE ADVISED the approximately 20 lay visitors present not to mind-set that the aged can't do things.

"Let them get the coffee or set the table. How often do they have the opportunity to do for others? Do what they obviously can't do, like going for a short ride in the country," he said.

The aged recall vividly the first part of their lives but may forget what happened yesterday or last month, he said. "The reason is that that was when they made their emotional investment."

They also have trouble with their feelings. The elderly are told not to get upset, be too happy or sad, so they are constantly battling their feelings. "It's preposterous for anyone to tell someone else how they ought to feel. How you feel and show those feelings is part of being you and that should be accepted."

GEBHART WARNED against acting as a referee or defending anyone they attack, including the minister, church or God. "Let those attacked take care of themselves. Let the person vent their feelings. Listening doesn't mean you agree and you can say so if the person asks," he said.

The elderly have experienced people not coming back when they have promised, he said. "Be sure you return when you say you will. They often build their lives around that visit."

The elderly have significant dates—peak experiences—of births and often anniversaries of death. Lay visitors and ministers can be with them during grey times. If they want to talk about it the lay visitor or minister can help them through the sad time, Gebhart said.

Fraternal Order Of Police Aids Officers, Community

By KATHY DEVANEY

The Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) is the only national organization for police officers. There are approximately 130,000 members in 42 states.

The FOP was started in 1915 in Pennsylvania by officers who wanted to help professionalize police work and upgrade working conditions, according to the recently elected president of the Columbus area lodge, Dewey Stokes, a patrolman for the Columbus Police Department and a west area resident.

The local lodge tried to form March 7, 1920 but was stopped by a court injunction brought by the mayor and chief of police.

Fifteen years later, on June 11, 1935, Capital City Lodge 9 was chartered in the State of Ohio, he said.

THE LODGE HAS 1,440 members representing 16 departments in Franklin County. The FOP includes chiefs to patrolmen.

The FOP has members from the Columbus Police Department, Franklin Township, the Sheriff's Department, Worthington, Bexley, Whitehall, Madison Township, Gahanna, Westerville, Reynoldsburg, Blendon Township, Dublin, The OSU Police Department, Grandview, Upper Arlington and Clinton Township.

The Capital City Lodge is one of the largest of the 120 lodges with 15,000 members in the state.

The FOP was started to professionalize the police officer and upgrade working conditions and has been very successful in that endeavor, according to Stokes.

"The pay and benefits for police officers has increased steadily, and the FOP even benefits suburban departments which aren't members since the other departments must remain competitive or lose officers to the city," he said.

FOR THE $1.50 dues a month paid to the FOP, officers receive someone to handle wage negotiations, a death benefit and a state lobbyist, who recently helped to increase benefits to widows and orphans and a raise for retired officers, Stokes said.

The dues will probably be raised to $3 soon in order to help build a new lodge hall on the 10½ acres the FOP owns near Gahanna. This will still be the lowest dues in the state, he said.

Stokes welcomed and helped in the initial planning for area mental health centers as an important source of help.

know about such places to refer people as it is to carry a gun, blackjack and mace," he said.

WHEN THE POLICE officers walk into a family fight where one party is drunk, by taking the person to jail, the police officer only temporarily removes the problem. If this happens on a regular basis, someone is crying for help. The police officer has to be aware of help in the community.

"The officer makes a note on the back of a statement of fact that this is a recurring situation. The judge could sentence the offender to go to the mental health center for six months instead of to jail and the problem might be worked out," Stokes said.

Stokes thinks the police officer can also use the services of the centers.

"For eight hours a day the police officer is in constant contact with people—people who are usually physically and/or intellectually inferior to him. At the time of contact with the police a person may be intoxicated, on drugs or so emotionally disturbed that he or she isn't responding normally."

THE OFFICER BEGINS to think everybody is like that, which distorts his view of the world. He also sees people (three per cent of the 10 per cent who get involved with the police) returned to society who have institutional minds - who can't live in society. This also causes problems with his thinking," he said.

"Ninety per cent of the people are good, law abiding citizens who don't abuse each other. In order to combat the distorted view of people, the police officer should belong to Kiwanis, Serotoma or other civic groups in the community in which he lives or works."

"This not only puts him in contact with the 90 per cent, but also makes him better able to cope with the problems of the community as he begins to understand them," Stokes said.

Another mind-affecting problem is the constant threat to life the police officer faces.

In other professions there can be safety lectures and safety devices to protect people from dangers on the job, he said.

BUT THE POLICE officer is under constant pressure. When his number is called over the radio his adrenalin shoots up because he doesn't know what he will be getting into. "There's no such thing as routine patrol anymore,"

Stokes said. "Not the way the world is today."

Plainclothes officers are especially upset with seeing the police unjustifiably under attack.

There is mental abuse in the form of a social stigma of being a police officer from an unfriendly neighbor or from liberal groups who give one view or who start false rumors, he said.

"This has an undermining effect on the individual policeman and on all uniformed police. It seems to indicate an undercurrent of discontent on the part of citizens which isn't true."

There are also more recurring moments of frustration as plainclothesman because a case is on your mind constantly. It's not an eight hour job," Stokes said.

"A police officer is a trained doctor at the scene of an auto accident, a peacemaker in a family fight, a psychologist, a psychiatrist, child doctor, priest or rabbi. It's an odd profession. Sometimes you have to be physical, sometimes compassionate. It's tough being flexible," he said.

MRS. BESS Whittington, in-service education director, talks with Bernans about the refresher course they will set up at the fire house. Nurses and doctors will be brought in to update emergency care for heart attacks and high trauma cases.

Stokes said. "There's no such thing as routine patrol anymore,"

Police Institute Complaint Procedure

Police Chief Earl Burden announced the adoption of a new and up-dated general order for the handling of citizen complaints on police conduct.

The two principal objectives of the new general order are:

To establish the procedures for the handling of citizen complaints against members and employees of the Division of Police; and

To assure the prompt and thorough investigation of complaints in order to clear the innocent, establish guilt and facilitate appropriate and suitable corrective action.

The new complaint handling procedure - the second adopted by the Division of Police in the past two years - is the product of a number of recommendations from a police-community relations committee, which was set up by the Community Relations Commission to deal with the task of improving police-community understanding and cooperation in Columbus.

Major features of the new procedure include a provision for the notification to the complainant of the disposition of the case and action taken and a summary report to the general public on a quarterly basis.

The new general order also calls for a special telephone number, giving direct access to persons wishing to make a complaint and spells out in detail the process that is followed from the initial receipt of a complaint to its final disposition and appeal.

AT THE HOSPITAL is the emergency room Bernans assists with artificial respiration of the patient until another hospital staff member arrives. McGinnis checks the IV. Rose Gingerich takes the patient's blood pressure while Dr. Karl Haecher listens to his heart beat. Sandy Sark is ready at the defibrillator in case the patient's heart stops.

THE PATIENT'S HEART has stopped. Dr. Haecher uses the defibrillator to use electric shock to start up the heart. He gives the patient medication IV to reduce the irritability of the heart and to correct chemical imbalances in the system resulting from the heart being stopped. Once the heart was stabilized Haecher evaluated the patient's other injuries and admitted him to the intensive care unit (ICU). Shown are Ruth Maddox, Rose Gingerich, Dr. Haecher and Sandy Sark.

Book Nook

The Hilltop Public Library has a special display of books for Lent. Those interested in spiritual readings or program planning will find this selection most helpful.

A welcome addition is Anita Bryant and Bob Green's book, "Fishers of Men." This latest book by the popular singer and her husband, tell of their deep commitment to personally witness for Christ. They have gained in spiritual growth and closeness to the Lord, according to them. It is their hope that this book will lead many more Christians to the joy and fulfillment of winning souls for Christ.

Readers who have enjoyed, "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory," "Amazing Grace" and "Bless This House" will not want to miss "Fishers of Men," and others who haven't read the above books may find it a unique experience at this Lenten season.

One of the finest new books in the library is the "Hammond Nature Atlas of America" compiled by Roland Clement. This book explains with lucid text, spectacular color photographs and superb new multicolor maps the whole interaction which has created the natural world of North America.

The section on insects was prepared by Dr. Donald J. Borror, professor of entomology at Ohio State University and a resident of Columbus. This book gives the reader an over-all view into the realm of nature; it satisfies initial curiosity and arouses interest in delving more deeply into the subject.

A little bit of magic for everyone came in this week in the children's department. For primary age children, "Dr. Merlin's Magic Shop," written by that favorite author, Scott Corbett, relates a humorous tale of sorcery, with scrambled dogs and magic gumdrops.

For older children, Betty Erwin's, "Who Is Victoria?" revolves around a mysterious visitor from the past, a "Tarzan," who turns a placid Wisconsin town upside down with her mystifying powers. The pre-school story hour will have its regular program at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, March 7. The next coffee book discussion hour will be held Monday, March 18, at 2 p.m.

The members of the Prairie Gardeners will meet Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Horticulture Department of Franklin Heights High School and will have a hanging basket workshop under the supervision of Instructor Monroe Harbage of the Franklin Heights horticulture section.

Instructor Harbage will have available different plant materials for the gardeners to make their selections and will give information regarding propagation.

Serving as hostess will be Mrs. Noah A. Teach. Presiding at a brief business meeting will be group president, Mrs. Wendell Metz.

Mrs. M.A. Howell, 243 Pasadena Ave., and daughter, Mrs. Richard Rasy, flew to Dallas and then changed planes for California this past Tuesday. They were met in Ontario, Calif. by Mr. and Mrs. William Howell and family and drove to their home in Corona.

During their 10 day visit, Mrs. Howell and daughter were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudd Jr. of Riverside (Mrs. Howell's granddaughter, Debbie) and attended a birthday dinner party honoring Rudd. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudd Sr. and Mr. Rudd Jr.'s grandmother, Mrs. Rudd, who was 63 years old. Also visited were Mr. and Mrs. William Zinser of San Francisco (Mrs. Howell's other granddaughter) and Mrs. Howell's grandson, Mike, who came home from USC.

Mrs. Russell Brooks, 947 Buena Vista Ave., is a patient at St. Luke's Convalescent Center.

The New Rome Extension Group will meet Wednesday, March 12, at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 55 Pasadena Ave., and it will be pot luck.

Subject for discussion by the group will be "Why Worry?" Presiding will be group president, Mrs. Elmer Weber.

During an election held recently the following officers were elected to serve:

Mrs. Elmer Weber, president; Mrs. Gerald Ridenaur, vice president; Mrs. Harold Kaderly, secretary-treasurer; Miss

"Blueprint for Happiness" will be the theme for this year's "Show 'N Tell" to be held in the Arts and Crafts Building, Ohio State Fairgrounds sponsored by the Franklin County Home Extension Clubs from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday, March 27. Admission will be 50 cents and will be open to the public; tickets may be purchased at the door. Catered lunch will be available from 11 a.m. to 1

Hostess to the members of the Monday Night Card Club for the Monday night meeting was Mrs. Allan F. Burns, 167 Pasadena Ave. Award winners were Mrs. William G. Lamb, Mrs. Waldo Ison and Mrs. Martha Friedman. Guests were Mrs. Clark Ethridge and Mrs. Floyd J. Armstrong.

An invitation has been extended to the members of the Prairie Gardeners to attend the third annual Home Owners Lawn and Gardeners School sponsored by the Vocational Agriculture Department of Canal Winchester High School which will be held 7:30-9 p.m. Mondays through March 25.

Hostess to the members of the Rome Study Club for the Monday evening March 11 meeting will be Mrs. Leroy Schoonover, 370 Lenox Ave.

Spanish Couture Collections

LINO's striking white suit striped with black inserts ... belted ... the skirt with inverted pleat at the front.

LINO excels in opulent evening clothes, like this multi striped organza with dramatic neckline slashed in the banded waist, set off with full blown rose ... matching shawl.

HERRERA Y OLLERO's favorite evening gown in white and black crepe with horseshoe neckline and short sleeves headed in white and artificial daisy on band circling the neckline.

'IN' fashion with Tess Stern

SPAIN - Madrid and Barcelona

CONTINUING my coverage of the Spanish Couture Collections ... HERRERA Y OLLERO opened his collection with the shortest skirts for day wear ... an inch or two above the knee. Herrera certainly knows what appeals to their young private customers and American buyers, as for many years he showed his clothes exclusively at Bonwit Teller's stores in the United States. His salute to America was, probably, the many red, white and blue pants and T shirts in his ready-to-wear collection.

IN HIS Couture, Herrera loves suits and showed them in every conceivable color and fabric ... his newest look is the sleeveless jacket with extended cap shoulder over a long sleeved silk shirt ... with skirt or pants. He carried the sleeveless extended shoulder into his coats and costumes in 1/4 lengths to show the hem of the coordinated pleated print dress beneath ... and in several evening gowns.

WHIMSICAL is the best word to describe his evening fashions ... tailored or soft feminine ... like his long evening suit, with chiffon shirt topped by a sleeveless vest, or the horseshoe neckline evening dresses with artificial daisy on a band around the model's neck. His most glamorous gown was a satin-striped multi color chiffon caftan over a matching slip dress. Even his bridal party was unique ... the bride in a white ankle length evening suit topped with tiny matching sailor hat ... her maids in similar suits and hats in pink and pale green.

LINO, undoubtedly, Spain's best man with the scissors, opened his collection with the most attractive suits ... with skirt lengths just covering the knee ... a nice safe length right now, however he mentioned that he might drop hems to near-mid for fall. His most striking day suits were the black and white striped jackets over white skirts ... the jackets covering the hip and neatly belted ... the skirts slashed with one center pleat. Other suits had white inserts on navy forming pleats on the skirt ... all worn with large brim Spanish-type hats.

LINO EXCELLED in opulent evening clothes, both long and short. His fabrics are magnificent ... liness, individual prints, chiffon, organza, lined up with beautiful detail ... ribbons, applique, embroideries, beading, sequins and fagotting. Outstanding was the string crocheted with glitter jacket ... printed, satin striped Chinese Kimono over full pants. His crisp pink linen floor length sheath with voluminous matching cape cut in one piece and fagotting around all the hems and edges, drew applause. Lino's bride was charming in a white linen gown entirely diagonally tucked, with matching floor length cape.

I chatted with the Ambassador to the Philippines and his wife and mother who sat directly behind me ... charming people. Following the press showing, the senoras filed into the salons to order gowns for the future wedding of General Franco's second grand-daughter. Thanks to the senoras ... who keep the Alta Costura alive!

Lilliputian Parade Has 'Small, Small World' Theme

"It's A Small, Small World" will be the theme for the 24th annual "Lilliputian Parade" to be presented Friday, March 15, at the Neil House by Brace IV, Franklin County Society For Crippled Children, at noon.

Mrs. Jay W. Albert is chairman of the event assisted by Mrs. James R. Trapp, President of Brace IV is Mrs. George F. Busche. Proceeds will benefit local handicapped children at the Society's treatment center.

Highlight of the event will be the designer spring style show produced by Lazarus under the direction of Nancy Davis, fashion director. Following tradition, children of Brace IV members will model children's spring fashions, also from Lazarus. Prominent contemporary designer, Evelyn de Jongue, will be a special guest at the event.

Master of Ceremonies in Den Imel who will also co-commentate the adult and children's fashion show with Lazarus Fashion Show Manager and Commentator Chris Henry.

Prizes will be awarded for the following categories: Most Complete Spring Ensemble, Most Original Spring Ensemble, Men's Mania, The 1974 Easter Egg and "Imel's Choice." Initial judging is scheduled during the 11 a.m. to noon social hour which will also feature wine-tasting with Walter Knick at the piano.

The panel of expertise judges consist of Gene D'Angelo, Rex Kern, Den Imel, Dave Parr, June Wells Dill, Jane Horrocks, Jane Fitting and Ann Walker.

Hostesses attired in international costumes will greet guests and centerpiece of potted tulips will decorate tables at the noon luncheon. The centerpiece along with a special table prize will be awarded at each table. Each guest will receive a perfume favor from Lazarus. Special gifts including a $200 gift certificate from J.B. Robinson, Company, Jewelers will also be awarded.

A papier mache "Gulliver" is part of special stage decorations. Gulliver is the famous storybook traveler who was shipwrecked on the island of Lilliput which was inhabited by little people six inches tall known as the "Lilliputians."

SHOULDER BELTS

Shoulder belts in a car are important safety features, says the Ohio Department of Highway Safety. They prevent your head and chest from striking the steering wheel, dash or windshield in case of a crash.

CINDY POPE AND MRS. GLEN GODDARD

DO YOU KNOW? Many a Success Story Began with Someone's Small Savings

Many a prosperous business was founded because wise parents taught a son or daughter the good habit of thrift at an early age.

Many a professional man saved, in his formative years, to help pay for the higher education needed to enter his profession.

What you teach your youngsters about money now will have much to do with their future success or failure.

Columbus PTA Council Schedules Two Meets

Columbus--The Columbus Council of PTAs will meet Thursday, March 7, at Central High School. Registration will begin at 12:45 p.m. and the business meeting at 1:15 p.m. The program, "Are You Aware? . . . Progress of the Arts," will be presented under the direction of John Mulherin, chairman. Participating in the program will be students from Central High School. Parent and Family Life Education group of Columbus Council of PTAs will present "Are You Aware? . . . The Quality of Life." The meeting will be held on Monday, March 11, in the Assembly Room of the Board of Education Building, 270 E. State St., at 1 p.m.

Columbus Schools Receive $20,000 Foundation Grant

The Columbus Foundation has given the Columbus schools a $20,000 grant to be used to fund individual projects from $500 to $2,500. Projects emphasizing communication, basic skills, human relations or environmental studies will have priorities for use of the money according to the Columbus Board of Education. School Superintendent Dr. John Ellis said the grant was coming at an opportune time and elaborated by saying, "We have been making extensive curriculum changes in the last few years and are continually trying to develop new programs, particularly in the area of communications and human relations." The grant, according to Richard Oman, director of the Columbus Foundation, is being furnished entirely from the Clarence T. Reinberger Fund. Reinberger, a Cleveland auto parts company executive until his death in 1966, had a long standing interest in the development of Columbus.

Hello To The Community Times

WELL, IT'S goodbye Spectator Newspaper, and hello Community Times Newspaper. As you probably know by now, this is the final issue of the Spectator Newspaper.

Beginning next week, we will be issuing a brand new newspaper named Community Times. Besides a new name, the newspaper will have a new look.

THIS WILL be the final column of Around Town. With the beginning of Community Times, the entertainment section will be expanded, with a new name. Yours Truly will still be writing the reviews.

So, with the last issue of the Spectator, I thought it might be fun for you and I to reflect over these past six years regarding some of the acts, people and events that we have covered in Around Town.

FIRST, during the time I have been with the Spectator, there has been a great increase in the entertainment business Around Town. We have seen about a dozen new hotels-hotels constructed. A host of lounges and restaurants have opened in the area.

People of Columbus and the suburban areas are fortunate to have towns in America for good dining places. According to the trade magazines, a couple of years ago, Columbus had more night life than any other city in the country, except your tourist cities, New York, Miami and such.

I KNOW for a fact that there are more clubs, lounges and restaurants in Columbus than cities such as Cleveland, Cincinnati, Boston, St. Louis and other cities of similar size.

This column has reviewed most of the greats in show business. Bob Hope, Marilyn Maye, Tom Jones, Engelbert Humperdinck, Roy Rogers, and many, many more, plus hundreds and hundreds of top notch lounge acts.

JUST ABOUT every major restaurant in the city has been reviewed in this column.

All kinds of special events have been covered, from beauty contests to the Indianapolis Races.

These past six years have been fun and very interesting. I have sincerely enjoyed bringing to you the news, events and lighthearted gossip of the entertainment business in our area. Beginning next week, there will be even more happenings covered in the entertainment section.

The Community Times and this columnist will constantly endeavor to bring you all of the latest news and reviews regarding the entertainment industry in and around Columbus. Look for our next week, in the all new Community Times.

MEANWHILE, on with this week's business, which includes Peggy Lee, John Byner, Cathy Lee Crosby and Sadie's Stage Door Lounge at the Sheraton Hotel.

Marvelous Is Peggy Lee

GREATNESS prevails this week at the Ohio Theatre in the persons of Peggy Lee and John Byner.

Billed as, "An Evening With Miss Peggy Lee," it's an evening that you will long remember. Peggy Lee is everything you expect of her. Singing as she has for many years, Peggy's silky, smooth sounds remain a joy to hear.

It is an impeccable, flawless performance by Peggy Lee. With a program that contains a beautiful blend of the old and the new, Peggy dashes right along, ending every song with a thunderous ovation. Her show includes works from Cole Porter to the Beatles. With a voice that is adaptable to most every type of song, the Peggy Lee treatment was loved by the audience.

DIPPING way back, Peggy gave the audience what they came to hear, many of her hits, such as, "Is That All There Is?," "Manana," "Big Spender," "I'm A Woman," "Fever," and much, much more. She sang them all with the same enthusiasm and style that has become legend with Peggy Lee.

A twenty-five piece symphonic orchestra playing extremely fine arrangements and a show that was well paced added to the greatness of Peggy Lee.

Adding humor, comedy and just enough variety to the show is another illustrious performer, John Byner. John closes the first half of the show with his wit, humor, impersonations and impressions. A machine gun type of delivery, along with impersonations of many of the famous show biz people as well as President Nixon, kept the Ohio Theatre filled with waves of laughter. Byner's impersonations are accomplished by sounding very much like the people he is impersonating, plus all of their mannerisms. Add these qualities to his own humor and wit and you up with a very funny man. That's John Byner. Of course John is funny just performing as John Byner.

A MULTI talented performer, John does a little singing too. In the second half of the show, John sings a few songs with Peggy Lee. If you were not looking, you may have thought it was Donald Duck, Dean Martin, Elvis Presley singing with Peggy Lee. The audience loved it, and gave John a standing ovation.

With the singing of, "The Party's Over," Peggy Lee closed her show to such loud applause, that it was difficult to hear her. Needless to say that the audience were on their feet at the close and cheering wildly. It took three curtain calls by Peggy Lee before it was all over.

My hats off to Danny Deeds for booking this blockbuster into our town. My personal thanks to Peggy Lee and John Byner for an evening this columnist will long remember. But, don't you feel left out, you still have time to hear the legendary voice of Miss Peggy Lee and to laugh at one of the funniest guys in show business today, John Byner. Today is Wednesday, which gives you today, Thursday, Friday and three performances on Saturday. Tickets are still available.

It has been a long time since I have seen so many people at the Ohio Theatre. They came. They saw. They heard, and were conquered by Peggy and John.

Sadie's Stage Door Is Loaded

WHO and how downtown Columbus is dead, better run down to Sadie's Stage Door Lounge at the Sheraton Motor Hotel. I was amazed at the crowd at Sadie's. It reminded me of the old days in Columbus. All 130 seats were filled. The rope was across the entrance door, with a line of people waiting to get in.

The "people" waiting to get a seat, were not all hotel guests. Many people in the club and restaurant business, try to tell me that most of the patrons of downtown hotel lounges are registered at the hotels.

NOT TRUE. I saw at least 18 customers whom I knew. I could tell that many more of the patrons were Columbus residents. As one high city official stated to me, "this is just like a Vegas Club." Everyone seemed to know somebody. A lot of Columbus' adult swingers appeared to make Sadie's Stage Door their headquarters.

Personally speaking, I had a ball. It was like old home week for me. From talking with some of the customers, I got the impression it is like this most every night of the week.

The entertainment is good. Nothing unusual, just good, strong, solid entertainment that I run across nightly in my rounds Around Town.

LAST WEEK, the Fantastic Purple, an excellent six piece outfit, were appearing. Each member played several instruments. They sounded as if they were a full orchestra. Add first rate vocal work, both solo and harmony, plus top comedy routines, and you ended up with a darn good show group. This is the quality of entertainment booked into Sadie's Stage Door Lounge.

This week's group, and for the next two, is The New Group South. From what I have seen of their publicity, it is another dynamic show group. So, stop in at Sadie's Stage Door of the Sheraton Motor Hotel, be well entertained, and meet all of your friends.

Wonder Woman On The Way

WONDER Woman is coming to television, not as the two dimensional heroine of the comic books, but as a larger than life, adventurous and lighthearted gal who wants more than just a simple conquest over a cadre of criminals.

"Wonder Woman" will be seen this Tuesday, March 12, at 8:30 p.m. over Channel 6, WTVN-TV.

Cathy Lee Crosby is the fun-loving actress who is starring in the Warner Bros. Television's "Wonder Woman," a 90 minute high adventure romp and series pilot for ABC-TV.

"Let's face it," Cathy said, "the American woman is sent out in the world to face the everyday headaches of a woman. She becomes a drudge if she couldn't have a few laughs. "Wonder Woman" is a wonder largely because she has a sense of humor that adds style to her exploits.

TAKE IT from me, the dialogue is humorous, the various scenes and bits are sure fire humor.

Cathy Lee Crosby is a relative newcomer to show business, but she has already made her mark. Her career began only 18 months ago, when she won, by audition, a guest starring role in a "Marcus Welby" episode. She's appeared in five TV series, all guest starring roles, and two movies. Both of the movies were for Fox. The first, "Call Me By My Rightful Name," starring Don Murray and Otis Young, which has been released, but not shown here yet, and the other "The Laughing Policeman," with Walter Matthau and Bruce Dern.

Courage Best Describes '74 Easter Seal Child

WHAT ARE little girls made of?

In the case of Shelley Guerin, the 1974 East Seal Child, it is the traditional sugar and spice and everything nice—plus! When you describe this pretty little child, you have to add some other key words such as: courage, determination and independence.

The four-year-old is the daughter of Mrs. Pamela Kurstedt and Richard Guerin.

SHE WAS chosen by the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children to be the poster child for the 1974 Easter Seal campaign which is scheduled for March 1 to April 14.

Shelley will represent 120 handicapped boys and girls who attend the Society's treatment center at 565 Children's Drive West, for therapy, pre-schooling and more.

THE WORDS courage, determination and independence are necessary to use when describing Shelley for they are part of her personality and her outlook on life.

Shelley was born with spina bifida (a birth defect) which causes damage to the central nervous system and results in a loss of muscle control in her legs. She must wear double long leg braces and use crutches to get around.

BUT SHE really does get around! Shelley's mother reports that her daughter engages in many physical activities. While some of them may be somewhat modified, Shelley can swim, dance, play football, basketball, and even go horseback riding. She has also joined her family in camping and mountain climbing. "Shelley is an example of strength and determination and at the same time is flexible and affectionate," her mother says.

"She does not consider herself 'different' and we do not promote that thought. She does realize that she walks differently but that does not hinder her progress nor does it handicap her.

IT JUST seems she works a little harder to get the job done. She has already overcome many aspects of her handicap at the age of 4. We are very proud of her many accomplishments."

Shelley's condition at birth made several serious operations necessary when she was still very young.

During the many weeks she was in the hospital she made quite a few friends.

"SHELLEY is always glad to see her doctors, therapists and other people who help her achieve greater goals," her mother continued.

WITH THE combined efforts of the physical therapist at the center giving Shelley strengthening exercises and gait training and her mother at home continuing the same therapy treatment, she was walking with a walker at the age of 2 and with Canadian crutches at the age of 3.

Shelley is still receiving physical therapy at the center.

SHE IS perfecting her hand coordination through puzzles and cutting; is learning her numbers and colors, and is engaged in reading readiness activities.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD Shelley Guerin has been chosen to be the 1974 Easter Seal Child for the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children. She will represent all the 120 pre-school handicapped children who attend the Society's treatment center during the March 1 to April 14 fund raising campaign.

Fighting Falcons Will Test Mt. Vernon Jacket's Buzzing

Franklin Heights vs Gahanna

JUMPING JACKS were the rule rather than the exception as Franklin Heights battled Gahanna to the wire while winning the Class AAA tournament game that sent them to the District finals last week. The Lion caught in the Falcons' net is Brad Dunnington (45) while the Falcons are Larry Ferst (12) and Garry Jordan (44).

West vs Gahanna

A JUMPER that eventually found its mark was lofted basketward by West's Tim Thrush (42) as he was defended by Gahanna's Bob Orkis (53) in West's outing from the tourney by the OCC Lions.

By SANDY SCHWARTZ
Spectator Sports Writer

IT'LL BE David and Goliath tangling for the District AAA basketball championship Saturday at high noon at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Mt. Vernon, first seeded in this upset branded Central District will be the favorite while its opponent, the team that is not suppose to be there will be the fighting Falcons from Falcon Heights. A SMACK DAB in the middle finisher in the not so reputable Metro League, these wild and exciting Falcons have made believers out of most and will try to turn the trick one more time when they meet the Ohio Capital Conference co-champions Saturday.

CITY LEAGUERS Brookhaven and Northland clash at 3:30 for the other district crown. Jud Wood will try to lead first seeded Northland while Lamar Daniels and last second hero Jeff Peary will trigger the Bearcat charge. NEVER A tournament victory to its credit, Franklin Heights shocked high riding Central for sectional honors and spilled Gahanna to gain this District berth.

And how does youthful Falcon boss Bruce Brown's d his ball control quintet feel about this tourney shot?

"It's a great thrill but we don't just want to be a spectator. A lot of planning has gone into this season. This has been a goal of ours from the beginning of the year."

LARRY FERST has been the main cog in this now smooth functioning machine but Coach Brown is quick to credit the point work of Cameron Harmon and the inside work of Ron Latham.

Ferst has cracked the 90 point mark in his two tourney appearances and was the main come-through man in the clutch against Central. Brown also lauded the play of Jim Wood, Gary Jordan and Mike Blount the only senior of this crew.

"We've really started to grow," this first year coach said when talking about the contributions of these underclassmen and their lone senior.

SPEAKING ABOUT its early season troubles Brown pointed to the fact that "at least eight of these kids are football players and it takes a while to adjust."

In A action tonight, St. Charles will face Bloom Carroll at the Fairgrounds Coliseum as St. Charles tries to extend its 12 game win skein.

So in this year of the Cinderella, well, who knows?

Franklin Heights vs Gahanna

AGGRESSIVE defensive play paid off for Franklin Heights last Friday in the big win against Gahanna. This ball going toward the basket by Gahanna's Lio Spence Spindel (21) was deflected at the last moment by Falcon Mike Blount (33) as Falcon Larry Ferst (12) comes up on the play with Cameron Harmon (24) in the background. Otterbein AFROTC Honored At Akron

Major John Hokanson, advisor to the Otterbein Arnold Air Society and the college Angel Flight, and the Otterbein Arnold Air Society squadron were honored at the annual Tri-Area Conclave last week in Akron.

Major Hokanson, with the Otterbein unit for three years, was cited following the nomination by the Angel Flight for his support and encouragement to this women's service organization.

The Arnold Air Society, national professional service organization of Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) cadets, was chosen outstanding small squadron from six Central Ohio based units. Criteria for selection included the pledge program, squadron activities such as the military ball, service projects and a well-organized high school visitation program.

The local Arnold Air group is led by Stanley E. Hughes, senior physical education major.

The Otterbein Society has a current active membership of 14 men and women.

Major Hokanson, a graduate of George Washington University, has had tours in Germany, France and Vietnam, and has been stationed at the Pentagon, Colorado Springs and Little Rock, Ark., Commissioned at Allegheny, he was a member of the 17th Air Force Intelligence.

West vs Gahanna

Eastmoor vs Northland

IT WAS TOO MUCH Jud Wood, among others, for Eastmoor's Warriors as they fell in the Class AAA District cage tourney to Columbus city co-champs Northland. The Vikings' outstanding board play and all-around aggressiveness was Eastmoor's downfall. In this rebound under Eastmoor's basket Northland's Jud Wood (15) came up with the ball protected by Doug Smith (43) and Jim Toney (41). That's Eastmoor's Edmund Flood (20) looking on. (Photo by Dan Unkefer.)

Franklin Heights vs Gahanna

THE ACTION in the battle between Franklin Heights' Falcons and Gahanna's Lions was furious throughout the game. This ball belonging to Spence Spindel (21) of Gahanna, was shaken loose by the Falcons' Cameron Harmon (24) while Larry Ferst (12) came to back him up. Other Lions include Terry Hall (25).

Your Gift Will Help Everyone, Including You

HAVE YOU seen a handicapped child recently confined to a wheelchair on wheels with difficulty on crutches and braces? What was your reaction?

Were you anxious to help, but frustrated because you didn't know how?

NO, we hope you remember the incident when you got your Easter Seals in the mail, because they provide one way in which you can help.

Your contribution to the Easter Seal Society will provide important services for crippled children to help them overcome their handicaps.

COMPASSION and the desire to help others are natural human traits. And giving to worthwhile causes such as Easter Seals is one way to fulfill these natural impulses.

You can take personal satisfaction knowing that your donation is doing for handicapped persons what you, yourself, can perhaps not do—helping them to lead more fully normal lives.

HERE ARE some of the ways your dollars will help: The Franklin County Society for Crippled Children helps close to a thousand crippled persons year at its treatment center. Services are designed to meet local needs, treating children with such disabilities as cerebral palsy, spine bifida, amputation, post accident, and other birth defects and handicaps.

In addition to direct treatment, the Society gives pre-school education, operates resident and day camps, provides equipment loans and aids, has referral services and parent and professional education and information.

SO WHEN you open your Easter Seal envelope this year—remember that handicapped child you saw and give generously. You'll feel a lot better the next time you see a handicapped person, because you'll know your donation is helping the Easter Seal Society in its fight against crippling.

Family Counseling Marriage Exploration Classes Scheduled

The Family Counseling Center East, 3901 E. Livingston, has announced the formation of a course for engaged couples called Marriage Exploration.

The program will consist of six sessions designed to help couples approaching marriage learn more about each other and the relationship they are about to encounter.

The classes are scheduled to begin during the third week in March, the exact times and days being established by the preferences of the participants.

The curriculum will include sessions on "Fitting Two Life Styles Into One," "Solving Conflicts the Painless Way" and "Who Does What in Marriage."

Learning to handle sex, communication and other family members will also be a significant part of the course.

Anyone desiring more information can call Family Counseling Center East for further details.

The Family Counseling Center is a United Way Agency.

Capital Regents Approve Tuition, Board Increase

Capital University's Board of Regents has approved an increase in tuition, room and board, effective with the 1974-75 academic year.

Tuition will increase $145 to a total of $2,495 a year; room was increased $15 and board upped $ 50 to a total package of $1,100 for the year.

Capital President Thomas H. Langevin said the increases were necessary in the face of spiraling inflationary costs.

He added that the new fees reflect only a portion of the higher costs resulting from inflation and that the remainder must come from greater economies and controlled spending on a campus-wide basis.

In other action, the board accepted the university's plan for extended intervisitation hours in campus dormitories.

Official hours now are from noon until midnight weekdays, and from noon until 2 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

The regents also were informed of the administrative response to a proposed policy on coed housing which was submitted by students earlier in the school year.

18 Or Over? You Must Register For The Draft

If you're male, 18 or over, I'm sure you know that there's no more draft. But here's something you may not know, you still have to register with the selective service system.

You must register when you're 18. It's required by law. Don't worry, though by law, no one is being inducted. So register, keep your local board advised of any change of address and carry your registration card with you at all times, that's the law.

It's up to you to register. Can't forget it!

Jewish History To Be Documented

The Columbus Jewish Documentation and Publication Advisory Board has engaged Dr. Marc L. Raphael, Associate Professor of History at Ohio State University, to write the history of the Columbus Jewish community.

The 200 to 300 page history, which Dr. Raphael will write, will be the culmination of a three-year project recently launched to document the contributions of the Jewish community in the capital city.

The Columbus Jewish Documentation and Publication Advisory Board is a tripartite composed of the Ohio Historical Society, Ohio State University and Columbus Jewish Federation.

The group is seeking information relating to Jewish History in the Columbus area and encourages individuals with such information to contact the Ohio Historical Society Archives-Library.

Writing Workshop At CTI Mar. 18-19

A financial assistance and proposal writing workshop will be held at Columbus Technical Institute 550 East Spring St., Columbus, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., March 18-19, at a cost of $30 for both days, which will include lunch.

The course will provide basic training for individuals responsible for writing of proposals and the securing of funds for their organizations or institutions.

Among the individuals participating will be: Wiley Clodfelder, Revenue Sharing Coordinator for Columbus Department of Finance.

For further information, call or write the Division of Continuing Education, Columbus Tech, 221-8743.

Blacklick Woods: The color move "Say Goodbye" will be shown in Beech-Maple Lodge Sunday, March 10 at 2 p.m. This film shows the effect of the disappearance of wildlife upon the balance of nature of the remaining wildlife species.

Sheldon Woods: Waterfowl are the first major group of birds to begin their northward spring migration. Already this flight is well underway and the Walden Wildlife Refuge is open daily from 3 to 5 p.m. and weekends from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. so that visitors may see these migrating birds as they rest on the protected waters of Thoreau Lake.

Sharon Woods: Topic of this month's astronomy program will be "The Moon." Mrs. M.C. Markham of the co-sponsoring Columbus Astronomical Society will discuss its features, history, superstitions, and how man has already littered it. Time is 8 p.m. Saturday, March 16 in the Nature Barn. Sky observing will follow.

Convention Bureau Executives To Meet

More than 50 convention bureau executives will attend a two day seminar in Columbus, March 21-22 when midwest regional bureau personnel meet to review operations and programs.

Because of the possible effect of 1974 travel restrictions on conventions, attendance by distant bureaus beyond the midwest will include personnel from Canada, east coast and western convention cities.

A welcoming luncheon at which Columbus Mayor Tom Moody will speak will be a part of the program which will examine the energy crisis, tourism, housing procedures, convention trends, promotion and statistical reporting.

MEETINGS which will be held at the Sheraton-Columbus will include a tour of the Columbus Convention and visitors Bureau offices at 50 West Broad Street.

Robert W. Bashor, President of the local bureau is coordinating the meetings.

ABOUT BARCLAY SQUARE

Barclay Square has roomy, well-planned and well built apartments and townhouses.

They really are quiet. And completely equipped. Air conditioning. 1 1/2 baths. A very attractive combination of carpeting and hardwood floors.

Even a clothes chute, all the way to the full basement that already has a washer and dryer hook-up.

The kitchen is complete with a double door refrigerator, range, exhaust hood, dishwasher and disposal.

Of course there is a patio and well maintained grounds. A truly nice pool and deck. And a real recreation building with sauna, whirlpool bath, exercise room and party lounge.

And whether you want a 1 bedroom apartment or two bedroom townhouse, the rent is less than you'll find almost anywhere else. $145.00 to $180.00.

Barclay Square is located on Gould Rd., just north of Broad St. Office is open 11-5 weekdays and 12-5 weekends. Or call 271-2763 for information or an appointment.

Announce Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Shop, 3219 Mountview Rd., announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna Mae, to Robert LeRoy Kinder Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Kinder Sr., 635 S. Hague Ave.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Upper Arlington High School and will be an April graduate of Franklin University. She is employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Company.

Her fiancé is a graduate of West High School. He is employed by Gold Circle Discount Stores.

Methodist Women To Have

General Meeting

West Columbus--The United Methodist Women will have a general meeting Thursday, March 7, at Glenwood United Methodist Church, Valleyview and Hague.

There will be a social hour at 11 a.m.; luncheon at 11:30 a.m.; business meeting at 12:15 p.m. followed by the program, "Book Review." Devotions will be by the Virginia Smith Circle.

Honey Bears To Elect

The High Priestess of The Ladies Oriental Shrine, Lady Ethel DeVore, will be the honored guest of the Jeanette's Honey Bears Class Monday, March 11, at 6:30 p.m.

Lady Grace Roush will hostess the annual birthday pot luck dinner at her home, 268 Faye Dr., Gahanna. She will be assisted by Lady Lela Thompson and Lady Annabel Windon.

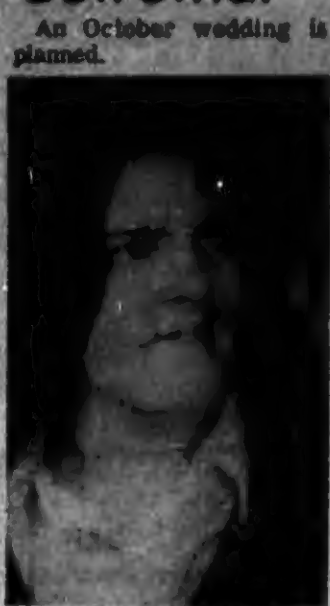

Class President Lady June LeCrone hopes all members will attend; this is election of officers. Members are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service.

Aumiller - Walters Married

Lincoln Village--Vicki Lynn Aumiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Aumiller, 4822 Beacon Hill Dr., became the bride of Richard Lee Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walters of Millbury, Ohio, Feb. 16.

The Rev. Charles Hill officiated at the 1:30 p.m. ceremony at Hilliard United Methodist Church.

The bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza designed with a high dutchess neckline and bishop sleeves. The form fitting bodice featured a sheer hemline with lace border encircling into a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, pink bridal roses and baby's breath.

ANNA MAE SHOP

Celebrated 76th

West Columbus--Mr. and Mrs. Peter Erb, 606 Wrentham Ave., celebrated their 76th wedding anniversary Feb. 20 with the family.

They are the parents of Mrs. Allen (Beatrice) Jellison of Roseville, Ohio; Mrs. Eugene (Opal) Backus; Mrs. John (Vivian) Pummell and Carl Erb, all of Columbus. They have six grandchildren, 18 great grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

The celebrants are former residents of The Plains, Ohio.

Boys Ranch Board To Meet

The regular meeting of Buckeye Boys Ranch Service Board will be held Wednesday, March 13, at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Kennedy, 4500 Dublin Rd. Continuing plans for the tennis program will be discussed. Plans for the Buckeye Ball on May 18 will be finalized and a report will be given on the Ranch Memorial Program.

Woman Boy Scout Commissioner

THE SOUTHWEST DISTRICT, Boy Scouts, has its first woman Boy Scout commissioner. Shown being congratulated by District Commissioner Wayne Beavers, is the new Cub Scout commissioner, Mrs. Pat Swanson. She has served as den mother for Harrisburg Pack 491 for a year. In the fall Cub Scout Pow Wow she demonstrated Indian lore. She won a district Outstanding Achievement Award in November. She and her husband Connor have three children: Michael 8, Erin, 3, and Heather, 1. The older boy is involved in Cubbing. Her father was a Boy Scout and a younger brother is an Eagle Scout; she was a Girl Scout in Grove City, so she says "my family has always been in scouting in some capacity."

Franklin County Retired Teachers To Meet March 13

The Franklin County Chapter of ORTA Inc., (Ohio Retired Teachers Association) will hold its quarterly meeting at Whetstone Recreation Center, 3925 N. High St.

Wednesday, March 13, at 1:30 p.m. Guest speakers are Harrison Bayre, speaking on The Columbus Foundation and David Crowley on "The Function of the Ohio Commission on Aging."

OES 471 Meets

Burma Chapter 471, O.E.S., will hold a stated meeting Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Turner Temple, 259 Valleyview Dr., at which time the stations of Warden and Marshall will be honored. All members of the Order are invited to attend, especially all present and past Wardens and Sentinels.
